LANGUAGE AND CULTURAL IMMERSION PROGRAMS

The four-week language and cultural immersion programs in French or Spanish allow students to have a more in-depth international experience in one location while earning six to nine credit hours. Queens students regularly study in France, Spain and Costa Rica; we have also sent students to Italy and Germany. The schools keep class sizes to a minimum, provide intensive grammar review and emphasize oral proficiency. Outside the classroom, the schools organize cultural activities suited to the students' interests: lectures, museum visits and excursions to regional attractions. Each student takes part in a "home-stay" that allows them to reside and eat many meals with a local family.

SEMESTER OR YEAR LONG EXCHANGE

Students have the option to study abroad at Hong Kong Baptist University (HKBU), Queens University in Belfast, the University of Ulster in Coleraine (both in Northern Ireland) or the University of the Sunshine Coast, located near Brisbane in Queensland, Australia. In these programs, students continue to receive scholarships and other financial aid and may participate for about the same cost as a regular semester at Queens. Admission to any of these programs is through a selective admissions process.

What's it all about?

THE JOHN BELK INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

The John Belk International Program is one of the finest programs of its kind in the United States. Close to 90% of our students (one of the highest percentages in the U.S.) participate in some form of international experience – with almost all of the costs covered by the University.

We believe our graduates need to understand the global context in order to be successful – and they agree – as our recent senior class sighted their international adventure as one of the most transformational experiences of their lives.

Most of our students take part in our international faculty-led study tours which usually last about three weeks and include a semester-long preparatory course. Destinations include Australia, Austria, China and Tibet, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Micronesia and Spain.

The John Belk International Program also offers language and cultural immersion programs as well as semester or year long exchange programs in a variety of locations around the globe. To learn more, visit us on the Web at www.queens.edu/international.
