

Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Music (Music Therapy)

SUMMARY: Queens University of Charlotte invites applications for a position as an assistant professor in music therapy beginning fall 2010.

Qualified candidates will have an earned doctorate in Music Therapy or a related field and will be a Board-Certified Music Therapist with a minimum of five years of clinical experience beyond the internship.

The successful candidate will have demonstrated excellence in teaching and clinical practice with the ability to provide leadership in clinical supervision and research. Current curriculum is at the undergraduate level with plans to add a graduate degree in 2011. We encourage application from candidates in any area of clinical specialization, although we are particularly interested in applicants with interests in children's populations and with strong piano skills.

The successful candidate will demonstrate the following:

- ability to connect with students at all levels of proficiency
- passion for undergraduate education for both traditional and adult students
- ability to assess and implement treatment plans for group and individual music therapy sessions for persons of all ages encompassing a wide range of needs
- commitment to professional development and maintenance of professional credentials
- interest in student/faculty research

The university is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community. Queens is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from underrepresented groups including minorities, women, and persons with disabilities.
