

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Communication (Ref: SOC-125)

Queens University of Charlotte's new school of Communication invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position to begin August 2010.

Candidates should possess a Ph.D. in communication and take a broad approach to the study of communication within a liberal arts context. We are interested in candidates who approach communication from a generalist perspective.

This position carries a 4/4 teaching load with heavy involvement in the core communication curriculum in both day and evening programs, and the possibility of graduate teaching.

The successful candidate will demonstrate:

- teaching excellence
- commitment to a liberal arts education
- an ability to connect with students at all levels of proficiency
- a passion for undergraduate education for both traditional and adult students
- an ability to make connections across disciplines

Application Process:

Candidates should submit via email to hr@queens.edu all of the following

- (1) a letter of interest,
- (2) current resume or curriculum vitae,
- (3) salary requirements or history, AND
- (4) contact information on three references.

Be sure to include YOUR NAME and "Ref: SOC-125" in your email subject line.

Queens values campus diversity and demonstrates this in campus initiatives; we particularly encourage members of historically under-represented groups to apply.
