Queens University of Charlotte

Queens University of Charlotte is a student-centered, comprehensive, private university affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). With a foundation in the liberal arts and a commitment to excellence in education, the university serves the needs of a diverse co-educational student body with a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs.

Queens offers students learning experiences through the College of Arts & Sciences, the McColl School of Business, the James L. Knight School of Communication, the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education, the Presbyterian School of Nursing and the Andrew Blair College of Health. In addition to traditional undergraduate and graduate programs, Queens also offers evening, weekend and online programs for nontraditional and graduate students.

In all of its programs, Queens emphasizes active and collaborative learning, meaningful student-teacher relationships, a creative synthesis of the liberal arts with the world of work, and the value and necessity of lifelong learning.

VISION
Queens will be recognized as a leading comprehensive university, distinguished by its commitment to transforming the lives of its students and enhancing the intellectual and cultural fabric of its community.

MISSION
Queens provides transformative educational experiences that nurture intellectual curiosity, promote global understanding, encourage ethical living and prepare individuals for purposeful and fulfilling lives.

VALUES
To fulfill its mission and its vision, Queens acts upon the following values:

- Focus on Students
  We value the factors which foster student success: an intimate learning environment, excellence in teaching and intellectual curiosity. At Queens, education is also grounded in the liberal arts tradition, that is, one which develops critical thinking, creativity, communication, commitment to ethical behavior and responsible citizenship. This foundation leads to successful and fulfilling lives.

- Integrity and Respect
  We value a sense of caring and community; seek to promote diversity and a respect for all people; and recognize the importance of personal integrity and ethical action.

- Stewardship
  We value, and are committed to, those who learn and work at Queens, and we are proud of our university. We will responsibly manage our heritage, resources and reputation in the community to ensure we remain a source of pride for students, faculty, staff, donors and alumni.

- Creativity and Innovation
  We value creative, as well as innovative thinking and acting, both in the classroom and in the community to advance Queens toward its vision to be a leading comprehensive university and a community asset.

- Service
  We value responsibility and service to the society at large in keeping with our Presbyterian connection and as expressed in our motto, “Not to be served, but to serve.”

Colleges and Schools of the University

Courses leading to associate, baccalaureate and masters degrees are offered by the College of Arts & Sciences, the McColl School of Business, the Knight School of Communication, the Cato School of Education, the Presbyterian School of Nursing and the Blair College of Health.

The College of Arts and Sciences

The mission of the College of Arts & Sciences is to draw on intellectual traditions to cultivate a life of integrity, foster inquiry, spark imagination, nourish the spirit, and prepare students to serve and to lead, embracing the challenges of a complex world. The College of Arts and Sciences is composed of 11 departments, and offers 28 undergraduate majors and 60 minors. At the graduate level the College of Arts and Sciences offers a Master of Fine Arts in creative writing, the Master of Arts in music therapy, and the Master of Arts in interior design. The Cato School of Education is also housed in the College of Arts & Sciences and offers a variety of teacher licensure programs as well as a Master of Arts in Educational Leadership, a Master of Arts in Teaching, and a Master of Education in Literacy.

The McColl School of Business

The mission of the McColl School of Business is to educate students to become successful business and professional leaders who are competent, understand the importance of character and are committed to their communities. The McColl School prepares individuals for careers by providing high quality, innovative undergraduate and graduate business education, and offers a comprehensive set of educational programs and enrichment opportunities which serve as important educational resources for the Charlotte region and beyond. Students have the opportunity to develop business and management abilities in preparation for responsible positions of leadership in the world of commerce and practical affairs. The McColl School of Business offers the undergraduate majors in business administration, accounting and finance leading to the Bachelor of Business Administration degree. At the graduate level the McColl School of Business offers two distinct programs leading to the Master of Business Administration degree: the Professional MBA program and the Executive MBA program, as well as the Master of Science in organization development and the Master of Science in executive coaching.

The James L. Knight School of Communication

The mission of the James L. Knight School of Communication is to prepare consumers and creators of communication messages to become engaged citizens, advocates and leaders in the communities they serve. In its academic programs and community initiatives the Knight School is discovering how universities can shape their local media ecosystems. Graduates serve as leading practitioners in journalism, media industries, advertising, public and community relations, law, human resources, sports enterprise, corporate and organizational communication, and in strategic business, community, civic and governmental leadership. The Knight School of Communication offers an undergraduate major in communication, and an undergraduate major in journalism and digital media. Degree programs provide students with a solid liberal arts education alongside practical training in traditional and emerging media forms, and critical training in communication studies. Courses are designed to help students become more ethical, effective communicators in all contexts. Graduates are trained to be sophisticated information analysts, with the ability to evaluate, reflect, create and act with a range of media forms, and in a variety of applied communication environments. At the graduate level, the Knight School of Communication offers the Master of Arts in Communication in both traditional and fully online formats, integrating multidisciplinary and boundary-breaking conceptions of communication. With the generous support of the Knight Foundation, the School is differentiated by its emphasis on deploying technology to a civically engaged end. By bridging community engagement and new media innovation, its programs are unique among peer institutions.

The Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education

The Cato School of Education is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences. The mission of the Cato School is to prepare culturally responsive educators who are leaders, experts in their fields and facilitators of learning for all students in a “community of respect.” The Cato School of Education offers the major in elementary education, the Master of Education in literacy, the Master of Arts in Teaching, and the Master of Arts in educational leadership which became a fully online program in the Fall of 2013. The Cato School also offers programs leading to teacher licensure both within a baccalaureate program and for post-baccalaureate students. One of the School’s most notable undergraduate elements is the Queens Teaching Fellows Program, dedicated to recruiting talented high school graduates into the teaching profession and helping them develop the leadership qualities needed to succeed in the profession.

The Andrew Blair College of Health

The Andrew Blair College of Health, created in 2010, aspires to be recognized regionally for its healthcare and sport-related programs as models of excellence, for its students as outstanding achievers, and for its faculty as leaders in healthcare and sport science discourse and knowledge dissemination. The Blair College of Health houses the Department of Human Service Studies offering the Human Service Studies major, and the Department of Kinesiology offering majors in Human Service Studies, Allied Health, Exercise and Sport Sciences, Interdisciplinary Health Services, and Sport Management. The Kinesiology Department also offers courses meeting the Traditional Undergraduate Program's physical education requirement. In addition, the Blair College of Health houses the Presbyterian School of Nursing.

The Presbyterian School of Nursing

The mission of the Presbyterian School of Nursing is to educate individuals to practice professional nursing in a variety of roles and settings with the commitment to nursing scholarship, leadership and service to diverse populations within a global context. The Presbyterian School of Nursing aspires to be recognized regionally for its undergraduate and graduate programs in nursing as models of academic excellence, for its students as caring and competent professionals, and for its faculty as leaders and scholars in the discipline of nursing. Nursing has a rich history at Queens dating to 1963 when Queens offered a bachelor's degree completion program to graduates of Presbyterian Hospital’s School of Nursing. In 1979 Queens established its BSN program, which achieved national accreditation and graduated its first class in 1984. In 2004 Queens created the Presbyterian School of Nursing to house all nursing degree programs at Queens. Today the school offers a variety of options for nursing education including the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree with multiple delivery options, and the Master of Science in Nursing with tracks in Nurse Educator Practice, Health Systems Management and the Clinical Nurse Leader. The MSN is with the Clinical Nurse Leader track is also offered in a full online format.

The School of Graduate and Continuing Studies

The School of Graduate and Continuing Studies (SGCS) provides oversight and coordination of the University’s online programs, graduate programs and baccalaureate continuing education programs including the Summer Term. The office consists of the Hayworth College Admission and Student Services, and Graduate Admissions and Student Services. For more information please see Hayworth College or Graduate Studies or Online Programs.
Academic Programs

Undergraduate Programs

The Traditional Undergraduate Program
The University offers undergraduates in its traditional undergraduate program a vibrant residential student life experience and dynamic academic program with 39 majors, 74 minors, 5 pre-professional programs and many unique opportunities for engagement, including the Core Program in the Liberal Arts, Study Abroad Programs, the Honors Program and the Internship Program.

The Hayworth College Undergraduate Program
Through the Pauline Lewis Hayworth College the University also offers a baccalaureate degree with degree requirements and services designed for the adult learner. A Hayworth student may apply to any major offered by the University, but the University offers all requirements for 8 majors and 11 minors in the evenings, on weekends for those working adults unable to take courses during the day.

The Associate of Science in Nursing Program
The Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) degree program prepares an entry level nurse with essential knowledge and skills that facilitate critical thinking and a holistic, caring approach to the healthcare needs of society. Completion of the ASN program qualifies the graduate to sit for the NCLEX-RN® licensing exam. The curriculum also provides excellent preparation for subsequent completion of the BSN degree, especially through the RN-to-BSN program.

Graduate Programs

The University’s graduate programs provide advanced, specialized education which prepares students for professional careers. They also seek to develop personal and professional values that are necessary for responsible citizenship. The university offers the following graduate degree programs:

The History of Queens University of Charlotte

Queens University of Charlotte is a co-educational, comprehensive university that has served Charlotte and the Southeast for more than 150 years. The university prides itself on a strong foundation including a Presbyterian heritage, outstanding faculty, innovative curricula and creative programs.

Early History

Founded in 1857 as the Charlotte Female Institute, the university was originally located at the intersection of College Street and 9th Street near the center of the city. From 1891-1896, it was called the Seminary for Girls. In 1896, chartered by Concord and Mecklenburg Presbyteries, the seminary merged with the Presbyterian Female College. In 1912, it became Queens College, and in 1914 the college relocated to its present campus in Myers Park. In 1930, Queens College became related to the Presbyterian Synod of South Carolina through a merger with Chicora College in Columbia, S.C. The motto from Chicora College, Non ministrari sed ministrare - Not to be served, but to serve - was adopted as the motto of Queens College. In 2002, Queens College became Queens University of Charlotte.

Co-Educational University

In the aftermath of World War II, Queens admitted its first male students in a non-residential status. In addition, a co-educational evening college was established in 1948 that provided instruction for adults. This was the forerunner of the Hayworth College undergraduate program for adult learners, inaugurated in 1979 as New College. In 1987, Queens College became fully co-educational and began admitting men into residence.

Queens has been providing graduate education since 1980 when the inaugural graduate program, the Master of Business Administration, admitted its first class. Over the years, other graduate programs have been added.

- 1981 Master of Business Administration (MBA) followed by an Executive MBA program
- 1983 Master of Education (MEd) in literacy
- 1992 Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)
- 1998 Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)
- 1999 Master of Arts (MA) in Communications
- 2001 Master of Fine Arts (MFA) in Creative Writing
- 2008 Master of Science (MS) in Organizational Development
- 2009 Master of Arts (MA) in Educational Leadership
- 2011 Master of Science (MS) in Executive Coaching
- 2012 Master of Arts (MA) in Music Therapy
- 2013 Master of Arts (MA) in Interior Design

Queens' growing graduate education programs led to its reclassification by the Carnegie Foundation as a masters-level university, and on June 1, 2002, the Board of Trustees changed its name from Queens College to Queens University of Charlotte.

Colleges and Schools

In 1993, the McColl School of Business was created to join the original traditional undergraduate program which was then known as the College of Arts and Sciences. In 2004, Queens merged its nursing program with Presbyterian Hospital’s program to create its second school, the Presbyterian School of Nursing. This merger expanded the Queens’ campus to include a nursing facility on 5th Street near Presbyterian Hospital. In 2007, the Board of Trustees approved the creation of the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education. In 2008, the School of Communication was created which was re-named the James L. Knight School of Communication in 2010. That same year, the Andrew Blair College of Health was created to expand the university’s offerings in the growing field of healthcare. It houses Human Service Studies, Kinesiology, and the School of Nursing. The School of Graduate and Continuing Studies (2013) oversees graduate, online, and adult baccalaureate student services at the University.

Online Degrees

The University has offered online courses since 2008 when the upper division nursing courses were first offered online for a RN-to-BSN degree. Beginning in 2013, Queens began offering fully online programs including the Master of Arts in communication; the Master of Science in Nursing with a clinical nurse leader track; the Master of Arts in educational leadership.

Our Future

Queens has provided transforming educational experiences to students from all walks of life for more than a century. We are committed to continuing our tradition of excellence in education while becoming a leading university of the Southeast and the world at large.
The Campus

The main campus of Queens University of Charlotte is nestled among the signature oak trees of historic Myers Park in Charlotte, N.C. Its Georgian buildings, five of which were constructed in 1914 when the University was moved to this site, have been extensively remodeled. The architectural motif of red brick with white trim has been incorporated in the more modern buildings. Principal buildings include the following:

Belk Chapel (1950) was a gift to Queens by the families and associates of William Henry Belk and Dr. John M. Belk, in their honor. Greek revival in architecture, it is equipped with a 39-rank organ and seats 500. It is used for chapel and for other religious services and meetings. The Belk families have been loyal and generous supporters of the University.

Blair House (1935), named for Dr. Elizabeth H. Blair, former dean of instruction, houses the Career and Internship Programs Office.

Burwell Hall (1914), the focal point of the campus, faces Selwyn Avenue. In addition to administrative offices, the building houses the McInnes Parlors which provide a spacious reception area for guests and social events. Robert Burwell served as president of the Charlotte Female Institute from 1857 to 1872, and his wife, Margaret Anna Burwell, was a teacher and principal.

Coffee House (2010), located at the center of the campus in the Everett Library, this full service coffee house offers coffee and breakfast items as well as sandwich and soup service. The coffee house also offers fireside seating, six computer work stations and two study rooms. Outside patio seating is also available. Meal plans, cash and credit cards are all accepted.

Dana Building (1961) honors Charles A. Dana, a generous benefactor of Queens University of Charlotte. The Dana Building contains the Center for Academic Success, the Student Disability Services Office, the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning, classrooms, the James L. Knight School of Communication Office, the DeWitt Computer Classroom, the Knight Crane Convergence Laboratory and faculty offices.

Diana Courtyard (1924) at the south side of Burwell Hall contains the sculpture, Young Diana, Goddess of the Hunt. The Diana statue is one of only a few castings of Mrs. Anna Hyatt Huntington's Young Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Everett Library (1960), located at the center of the campus, was built through the generosity of Herschel Hill Everett, chairman of the Board of Trustees from 1952 to 1967, and his wife, Cornelia Nisbett Everett. A new Georgian-style facade was constructed in 2000, thanks to a gift from Mr. John H. Sykes, a member of the Board of Trustees, and named for his wife, Susan W. Sykes.

Fifth Street Campus (1993), located 1.8 miles from the main campus at 1901 East Fifth Street near Presbyterian Hospital, provides classrooms, laboratories, offices for the nursing program and houses the Presbyterian School of Nursing's Patient Simulation laboratories. A satellite Queens bookstore is also housed on this campus.

The Hadley Theater (2002), named in honor of Dr. Charles Hadley and Professor Jane Hadley for their outstanding dedication and service to Queens, was built in collaboration with Charlotte Mecklenburg Schools and is located inside Myers Park Traditional School adjacent to the Queens campus. The Hadley Theater is a state-of-the-art Black Box facility seating approximately 150. Students interact with theatrical lighting and sound equipment in this hands-on learning environment. The Hadley Theatre functions as a performance venue, rehearsal space, classroom, laboratory, storage facility, workshop and scene shop.

Harris Welcome Center (1915), named in honor of James J. Harris, was built by NC Governor Cameron Morrison (1869-1953) and is home to the Traditional Undergraduate Admissions Offices and the Harris Meeting Center for the Traditional Undergraduate Program.

Jernigan Hall (1914) houses the Registrar’s Office, the Student Financial Services Office, the student bank, and the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education. The building was named for Dr. Charlton Coney Jernigan who was president of Queens from 1951-53.
The Levine Center for Wellness & Recreation (2013) is a 145,000 square-foot three-level facility named for Leon and Sandra Levine through a generous donation from The Leon Levine Foundation. It houses the Curry Arena with three side-by-side basketball/volleyball courts and moveable walls and retractable bleachers. The main level also features a student lounge and food area, a ballroom, the Kinesiology Department, an exercise and sports science lab and two classrooms. On the lower level are the aquatic center, locker rooms and a specialized area for sports performance and sports medicine. The upper level houses the Royals Athletics Department, studios for dance and exercise, a walking/jogging track and a fully-equipped fitness center with cardiovascular machines, strength equipment, free weights and a functional training area.

The Lion’s Den Grille & Game Room (2007) is an alternative dining facility on the Queens campus. Located in lower level of Morrison Hall. The Lion’s Den boasts 2,000 square feet, a grill for snacks and meals, an Internet jukebox, wide screen televisions and a pool table. The 24-foot grill offers fare that appeals to everyone. Meal plans, Lion Dollars, cash and credit cards are all accepted.

E.H. Little Fine Arts Center (1966) contains the Charles A. Dana Auditorium, which seats 1,000 for concerts, recitals, plays and lectures. The center also contains the Suzanne T. Little Recital Hall, an exhibition gallery, studios, practice rooms, classrooms for music and drama, and music offices that include a library of music, miniature scores and recordings. Major donors of this facility were prominent philanthropists E.H. Little and Charles A. Dana.

Morrison Hall (1927) has three levels. The lower level includes the Copy and Mail Service Center, Dining Services offices and the Lion’s Den Grille and Game Room. The Frances Young Dining Room is located on the second level. Student Life, Student Organizations, and Residence Life are located on the third level.

McEwen Hall (1914) was named in honor of Dr. Mildred Morse McEwen, alumna and Professor of Chemistry (1924 - 1971). It houses the administrative offices of the College of Arts and Sciences as well as classrooms, faculty offices, and the John Belk International Program Office.

The President’s House (1928) located on Roswell Avenue was originally built by William H. Peeps for Frank and Mary Lethco, who were drawn to the new Myers Park suburb planned by landscape architect John Nolen and architect Earle Sumner Draper. The shift in upper and middle class families from the center of Charlotte to the "highly desirable" suburb is historically significant for Charlotte. The Lethco house has been described as one of Charlotte’s finest Tudor Revivals.

Rogers Hall (2012) opened in January 2013. This 56,500 square foot building features a unique Green Wall made possible by Otis and Christy Crowder, and houses Queens’ science and mathematics programs as well as the administrative offices for the Andrew Blair College of Health and the Presbyterian School of Nursing. The building consists of state-of-the-art classrooms, science laboratories, a greenhouse, practicum areas and faculty offices. The Duke Energy Auditorium, the Bank of American Reading Room, and the Robert Haywood Morrison Lobby are also located in Rogers Hall. In keeping with the environmental philosophy of Queens, this Platinum LEED-certified building demonstrates conservation while teaching conservation.

The Sports Complex at Marion Diehl Park (2006) covers 65-acres and is a joint partnership between Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation Department and Queens. The facility features a championship field, adaptive field and practice field/running track. A new Field House and Conference Center opened in 2009. Additional projects are scheduled to be completed by 2015.
The Student Health & Wellness Center (1935) houses the undergraduate student health and counseling treatment areas as well as professional staff offices.

Stultz Building (1952), named for Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Stultz, houses the Campus Police Department and Office of Campus Safety and Security.

John H. Sykes Learning Center (2000) is named in honor of Mr. John H. Sykes, a member of the Board of Trustees and a generous benefactor of the University. The building is home to the McColl School of Business and is used by the entire campus for classroom, meeting and event space. The building contains the 214-seat Ralph Ketner Auditorium, classrooms, meeting rooms, faculty offices and a student lounge.

Tillett Building (1949), named for Miss Laura A. Tillett, professor emeritus of English, is used by the Art Department for ceramics, sculpture, woodworking and metalworking.

Trexler Student Center (1993) honors longtime Queens trustee Charles B. Trexler and his children. Designed to be the “living room” of the University, the Trexler Center is located at the geographic center of the campus. It offers a living room, the Student Store and a private dining facility – The Claudia Belk Dining Room. A stairway connects the Trexler Center with the Service Center on the lower level of Morrison Hall.

Walker Hall (1966) was named for Dr. Edwin R. Walker, former president of the University, and houses Queens’ Information Technology Center. The second and third floors are currently closed for renovations.

Watkins Hall (1914) was named for Miss Mildred C. Watkins, a member of the faculty from 1895-1909. It houses the art department, the Max Jackson Gallery and faculty offices.

Withers House (1904) was originally built in 1904 for Benjamin Withers and located on East Trade Street but was moved piece by piece to Selwyn Avenue in 1926. It houses offices for Hayworth College admissions and student services and admissions offices for graduate programs in education and communication. The Withers House is also home to the Center for Lifelong Learning (CLL). The Withers House provides amenities for Hayworth College and CLL students, including a student lounge with WiFi, a conference room, a small computer lab, a multi-purpose room, and a break room with vending machines and a microwave.

RESIDENCE HALLS

Albright Residence Hall (1964) Albright Hall, named in honor of Miss Thelma Albright, former dean of students and a long-time faculty member at Queen, is a corridor style building with shared community bathrooms that can house approximately 140 students. Renovated in 2009, Albright consists of mostly double occupancy rooms.

Barnhardt Residence Hall (1965) honors Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barnhardt. Mr. Barnhardt, a prominent and devoted supporter of the University, was a member of the Board of Trustees. Barnhardt is a corridor style building with shared community bathrooms, consisting of mostly double occupancy rooms and some single rooms. Used to house both first year students and returning students, Barnhardt can house nearly 100 students and was renovated in 2010. The first floor of Barnhardt Hall also houses some faculty/staff offices, classrooms, meeting space and the Queens Chronicle offices.

Belk Residence Hall (1954) honors the late Mrs. William Henry Belk, alumna, trustee and benefactor. The building, which was a gift to Queens from Mrs. Belk’s sons and daughter, was renovated in 2009. Belk is a corridor style building with community bathrooms and double occupancy rooms that can house approximately 80 students. Belk Hall is used to house both new and returning students. There is a Student Fitness Center located on the lower level that is available for students, faculty and staff.

Hayes Residence Hall (1914), one of the original five buildings on the Queens campus, is named for Queens alumna and Board Trustee Miriam Cannon Hayes ’37. The Lily Long Lobby in Hayes Hall is named for Miss Lily W. Long, who served the University for half a century and was president from 1891 to 1899. Hayes is a suite style building accommodating nearly 70 students. With two double rooms with an adjoining bathroom, Hayes is primarily used to house returning students. Hayes Hall was fitted with all new furniture throughout the building in 2009.

North Residence Hall (1967) was purchased in 2008 and renovated to provide apartment residences for juniors and seniors at Queens. Though not contiguous with the main campus, North is located approximately a half a mile from the center of campus on the "Queens Corridor." North can accommodate approximately 70 students in one, two, and three bedroom apartments.

Wireman Residence Hall (2001) is Queens’ largest residence hall named for the late Billy O. Wireman, President of Queens from 1978-2002. Wireman is a suite style building accommodating 225 students in both single rooms and double rooms with adjoining bathrooms. Wireman is primarily used to house returning students. The Greek Village is located on the lower level of Wireman and includes seven lodges for sororities and fraternities.

Hall Brown Overcash Residence Hall (1962) was renovated in 2008 and is used to house both first year and returning students. Hall Brown Overcash can accommodate approximately 120 students in a corridor style building with community bathrooms, mostly double residence rooms and a limited number of triple rooms. Rex’s Lair, a popular meeting and programming space open to the entire Queens community, is located on the first floor of Hall Brown Overcash. With its grand columns, Hall Brown Overcash Residence Hall anchors the west end of the residential quad.

Centers and Institutes

The Center for Advancement of Faculty Excellence (CAFE) is a resource-rich environment for faculty that focuses on best practices in teaching and learning. It offers technological resources and expert consultation to support diverse teaching strategies, and training in innovative pedagogical techniques, experiential learning, and classroom strategies. The CAFÉ sponsors a variety of professional development programs, training and activities for faculty to help faculty explore and exploit opportunities and resources to enhance learning, research, and other aspects of academic life.

The Center for Active Citizenship
The Center for Active Citizenship engages students, faculty, and staff around service to the larger community. The Center unifies existing service programs under one umbrella and initiates new initiatives that bring together students, faculty, staff, and local community organizations focusing on issues of access, equity, and inclusion.

The Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership
The Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership, established in 2009, fosters entrepreneurial scholarship and dialogue between the University and the Charlotte business community, and offers a tremendous network of resources to students and small business owners. It is housed in the McColl School of Business.

The Center for Ethics and Religion
The mission of the Center for Ethics & Religion is to educate the Queens community and the broader community on ethics and religion through dialogue, paying particular attention to the intersection of those two aspects of our lives.

The Center for International Education
The Center for International Education administers study abroad opportunities including the John Belk International Program which includes options for students to study abroad on short-term faculty-led programs, semester-and year-long exchanges, language immersion programs, and international internships. The Center for International Education also offers services to the Queens' international student population including immigration support for F-1 visa holders.

THE CENTER FOR LATINO STUDIES
The Center for Latino Studies supports multidisciplinary and multifaceted projects with the common mission of promoting understanding of the Latino experience in the southeastern United States. The Center creates an intellectual and physical space in which scholars, local leaders, students, and the wider community can engage in research, cultural exploration and dialog about what the “Hispanization” of the southeastern United States and especially North Carolina’s piedmont region means for our communities and future.

THE CENTER FOR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
The Professional Development Center of the McColl School of Business delivers non-credit one-day, certificate programs and other short course offerings directed toward business professionals.

THE EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE
The Executive Leadership Institute of the McColl School of Business provides customized executive education and brings the quality, relevance, and expertise of the McColl School to the business community of Charlotte.

QUEENS LEARNING INSTITUTE
The Queens Learning Institute offers cultural and intellectual programming to members of the Charlotte community. We bring distinguished faculty, highly-acclaimed local experts and world-renowned speakers to campus to discuss topics that are intellectually stimulating or take participants on a cultural journey. The Queens Learning Institute produces annual conferences in the fields of estate planning and human resources, partners with other university departments to provide community lectures and events and manages the Queens Learning Society speaker series.

Queens’ School Executive Leadership Academy (SELA)
The School Executive Leadership Academy (SELA) is an innovative partnership of the Cato School of Education and the McColl School of Business designed to accelerate the flow of qualified leaders for our schools. SELA is open to teachers in Mecklenburg and all surrounding counties. Admission is by nomination by any North Carolina school district and assessment by the university. Successful participants are eligible for the North Carolina school executive license.

Undergraduate Student Life

Queens University of Charlotte realizes that, as important as academic activities are, much of a student's education occurs outside the classroom. Day-to-day living experiences and campus activities are valuable components of a well-rounded education and central to what makes Queens so special. Students learn and grow by becoming active participants in the life of the campus community. This participation can take many forms, including student government, Greek life, our honor code system, residential living, multicultural programming, health & wellness services and our wide array of student organizations and campus traditions.

With over 60 clubs and organizations, four national sororities, two national fraternities, one national historically African-American sorority, three different residential living style options (room, suite and apartment), and over 150 years of traditions to draw from, the out of class experience at Queens can rival that of any institution of its size. Our Student Government Association is well funded and positioned to distribute resources to clubs and organizations for the purpose of engaging students in the traditional undergraduate experience. The Department of Student Life works closely with all branches of SGA to make sure those funds are being utilized in ways to enhance the quality of student life at Queens University of Charlotte. Our students consistently rate their undergraduate experience among one of the most engaging in the country.

Athletics

As an NCAA Division II affiliate and a member of the South Atlantic Conference, Queens University of Charlotte seeks highly skilled and competitive student athletes and offers athletic opportunities in 18 intercollegiate sports and cheerleading. The women's teams compete in basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track and field and volleyball, while the men field teams in basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming, tennis and track and field. The Royals soccer and lacrosse teams compete at the Queens Sports Complex at Marion Diehl Park, a 65 acre complex featuring a field turf surface, a grass field, a future tennis center, a field house and Welcome Center. Basketball and volleyball will compete in the new Levine Center for Health and Wellness. For more information about Royals Athletics, please see Athletics on the Queens web site.

Honor Associations and Awards

Several organizations have been established at Queens to recognize high achievement, both in scholarship and in campus leadership. Janusian Order is an honorary organization that was established at Queens in 1937. Janusian Order includes students selected from the junior class on the basis of outstanding leadership, citizenship and scholarship exhibited during their sophomore year at Queens. Mortar Board is a national senior honor society. Mortar Board recognizes those students who have demonstrated not only outstanding scholarship but who have made significant contributions as leaders. Student Marshals are students who have achieved academic excellence. Students are selected as Student Marshals each year following fall term on the basis of class rank from a list of eligible degree candidates who are taking a fulltime course load. They serve as ushers in academic processions at official University events. Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges recognizes noteworthy student leaders on campuses throughout the country and registers them in a national collegiate publication. The students are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, participation in co-curricular activities and the promise of future contributions to those areas.

IN ACADEMIC DISCIPLINES

- Alpha Psi Omega is the largest dramatic honor society in the country and began a chapter at Queens in spring 1994. Membership is based on points accrued by working in either the performing or technical aspects of theater. Work may be done at Queens or in professional community theaters.

- Beta Beta Beta, the National Honorary Biological Society, promotes interest in the biological sciences and keeps students aware of new developments in the field. The Tau Tau chapter is affiliated with the N.C. Academy of Sciences. Membership eligibility is based on academic achievement.

- Beta Gamma Sigma, an international honor society, recognizes the outstanding academic achievements of students enrolled in collegiate business and management programs accredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

- Lambda Pi Eta, the national communication honor society, recognizes outstanding students for excellence in communication studies and promotes professional development among students in the Knight School of Communication.

- Phi Beta Delta is the first honor society dedicated to recognizing scholarly achievement in international education. The Eta Chi chapter of Phi Beta Delta at Queens (2012) is an academic and professional society, unique because it is resolutely interdisciplinary and international. Its goals include the recognition of scholarly achievement of international students and scholars who have studied abroad and faculty and staff involved in international activities, and creation of a network of those involved in international endeavors.

- Phi Theta Kappa is the national honor society for associate degree students in all disciplines. This organization recognizes scholastic achievement by the students and promotes leadership, scholarship and academic excellence among its members. Students who meet the academic requirements may apply for induction.

- Pi Sigma Alpha, the National Political Science Honor Society, is the only honor society for college students of political science and government in the United States. The goal of this organization is to stimulate scholarship and interest in the subject of government by providing tangible recognition to students who have excelled in the field.

- Psi Chi is a national honor society whose purpose is to encourage, stimulate and maintain excellence in scholarship of the individual members in all fields, particularly in psychology, and to advance the science of psychology.

- Sigma Delta Pi, the National Collegiate Hispanic Honor Society (Sociedad Nacional Honoraria Hispánica), founded in 1919 is the largest foreign-language honor society and the only honor society devoted exclusively to students of Spanish in four-year colleges and universities. The Omega Epsilon chapter at Queens supports the society’s mission to honor high academic achievement in the study of Spanish and other college-level subjects and to promote a greater interest in and a deeper understanding of the Spanish language and Hispanic cultures. Students may contact the department to apply for membership.

- Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society founded in 1924, recognizes high achievement in the discipline of English, including language, literature, and writing. The Queens chapter, Alpha Pi Kappa, was organized in 2008 to provide cultural stimulation on the campus and promote interest in literature and the English language in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg community. To be eligible for membership, a student must have reached second-semester sophomore status, have a minimum 3.0 GPA overall, and have completed at least two English classes at the 200-level with at least a 3.2 GPA in all English courses.

- Sigma Theta Tau International, the Honor Society of Nursing, was founded in 1922. The Mu Psi Chapter-at-Large, co-sponsored by the Presbyterian School of Nursing at Queens, recognizes students who have demonstrated superior academic achievement and leadership potential. Undergraduate students meeting these criteria are invited to be inducted after they have completed at least half the nursing component of the Bachelor’s of Science in Nursing program.

- Tau Upsilon Alpha is the national honor society for human services whose purposes are to honor academic excellence, to foster lifelong learning, leadership and development and to promote excellence in service to humanity.

AWARDS

In addition to membership in campus honor associations, Queens University of Charlotte recognizes a number of other honors and awards, including the Dean’s List, graduation with honors, creative writing awards, various other academic awards and athletic citations and the Diana Award.

The Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award is presented to those who exemplify high standards of service. Since 1948, the New York Southern Society has granted to Queens University of Charlotte the privilege of bestowing two Algernon Sydney Sullivan awards each year, one to an outstanding graduate and a second to a member of the community.

Mr. Sullivan, a distinguished lawyer and the first president of the Society, had such outstanding qualities of moral courage and personal inspiration that the Society created these awards to honor him and to commend others who might exemplify similar qualities.

Student Services

THE CENTER FOR STUDENT SUCCESS

The Center for Student Success provides integrated services fostering the personal development and academic growth of undergraduate students at Queens. Assisting students to achieve success academically and to reach their educational goals is our purpose and priority. The Center for Student Success is comprised of the Academic Advising Office, University Tutoring Services, the Writing Center, and Student Disability Services. There is no charge for the services provided in the Center for Student Success. The Center is on the lower level of Dana Building.

The Academic Advising Office provides support to the faculty advisors at Queens University. Each new undergraduate student at Queens is assigned a faculty advisor upon entering the University. Once a student officially declares their major, the student is assigned a faculty advisor in their major department. The advisors in the Center for Student Success Advising Office complement the work of faculty advisors by providing clarification on academic policies and procedures and assisting first year and undeclared students in following a plan of study that emphasizes their interests, skills, and abilities.

University Tutoring Services provides peer tutoring in introductory level courses and small group tutoring sessions for high demand course. In addition, specifically identified tutors provide consultations to enhance students learning skills in time management, note-taking, test-taking, and reading compression, etc. Tutors are Queens students who have done well in the courses for which they tutor and who have been recommended by a faculty member to provide this level of learning support for their peers. University Tutoring Services is a College Reading and Learning Association (CRLA) certified peer tutoring program.

The Writing Resource Program is staffed by faculty and peer writing consultants. The purpose of the program is to facilitate student participation in all aspects of the writing process by refining key skills and developing habits of success as well as writing proficiency. Writing consultants have been selected based on the recommendation of faculty in intensive writing courses and an evaluation of their ability to write effectively by the Writing Resource Coordinator, herself a composition and CORE faculty member.

Student Disability Services The Office of Student Disability Services at Queens University of Charlotte provides accommodations and auxiliary aids/assistive technology to students with a documented disability under the American with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Office of Student Disability Services believes that students can be their own best advocate and works with students to develop their advocacy skills. SDS serves qualified students with disabilities of all varieties: learning disabilities, ADHD, psychiatric/emotional disabilities, physical disabilities, vision impairment, hearing impairment, and medical conditions.

In order to access the rights provided through the ADA (amended 2008) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, it is the responsibility of a student with a disability to self-identify by registering with the Office of Student Disability Services and by providing current documentation. Reasonable accommodations cannot be granted until documentation is reviewed and the student is deemed a qualified person with a disability. Letters of Accommodation will be provided to the student, listing reasonable accommodations, which are determined on a case-by-case basis. It is also the responsibility of the student to provide the Letter of Accommodation to his/her professors and to advocate for him/herself if these accommodations are not being met satisfactorily. Students requiring auxiliary services (interpreter, alternative text format) need to request this accommodation at least one month in advance so that arrangements can be made in a timely manner.

The Office of Student Disability Services is located in the Center for Student Success in Dana 011. To inquire about receiving accommodations, please contact:
Director of Student Disability Services
Phone: 704 337-2508
Fax: 704 688-2764

For information visit the Office of Student Disability Services

Appeal and Formal Grievance Procedure for Students with Disabilities
Queens University of Charlotte strives to maintain the highest standards of integrity of upholding the rights of persons with disabilities provided by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (amended 2008). Queens University of Charlotte has adopted an internal appeal and grievance procedure to provide an expeditious and equitable resolution of complaints to students who disagree with provision of accommodations or students/applicants who believe they have been subject to discrimination. Students may file a complaint as described on the Student Disability Services web site. Faculty and/or staff who disagree with accommodations as specified in the letter of accommodation may also follow this procedure. In addition to grievance procedures the Student Disability Services page also provides information about eligibility, rights and responsibilities, requesting accommodations, documentation requirements.

THE INTERNSHIP AND CAREER PROGRAMS OFFICE

The Internships and Career Programs Office is a comprehensive career center offering a variety of services including individual career counseling, job/internship search and resume writing assistance, campus interviews, workshops, networking events and career fairs. Students are also encouraged to use convenient online services such as the College Central Network and the weekly Jobs List. Private appointments are available. The Internships and Career Programs Office is located in the Blair House.

International Partnerships
In addition to domestic internships for academic credit, Queens University of Charlotte allows students the opportunity to gain real-world work experiences in international settings. The Internships & Career Programs Office, in partnership with organizations such as World Endeavors, can create affordable, professionally immersive opportunities, allowing students to work with local workers in countries and even live with local families. These partner organizations specialize in culturally immersive programs and their goal is to have a direct, positive impact on participants and their host communities by providing the opportunity for life-changing experiences.

HEALTH SERVICES AND COUNSELING

The Student Health and Wellness Center provides medical and mental health services to fulltime traditional undergraduate students enrolled at the University. While many services are free of charge, any costs incurred can be paid at the time of service with cash or check or may be billed to the student's account. Appointments are encouraged but walk-in visits are accommodated when possible. Visits to the Health and Wellness Center are confidential. Medical information is not shared or discussed by phone without specific written consent from the student. The HWC is open Monday through Friday 9am-5pm Wednesday 11am-5pm and is located on Wellesley Avenue next to Barnhardt Hall. (Days and hours may vary during academic breaks.)

Medical Services
In addition to general medical care for acutely ill or injured students, available services include chronic disease management, routine physical or gynecological examinations (fee for service), confidential STI and HIV testing, routine immunizations (fee for service), international travel consultation and immunizations, laboratory testing on-site or through LabCorp, and referrals to network physicians and care facilities in the Charlotte area. Appointments may be made by calling 704 337-2220.

Counseling Services
Queens has professional counseling services available to students for individual and group counseling and community referrals. Counseling services are provided in the Health & Wellness Center and appointments may be made by calling 704 337-2220. Up to ten sessions per year are available at no charge to each student paying the comprehensive fee. Arrangements can be made for students needing additional sessions. Referrals to off-campus psychologists and psychiatrists may be made by the counseling center staff when necessary. The cost of all off-campus therapy is the responsibility of the individual student. The relationship between student and counselor is professional and is fully confidential within the confines of safety of self and others. The Health & Wellness Center Counseling Services is open weekdays 9am-5pm.

LEVINE CENTER FOR WELLNESS & RECREATION

The Levine Center provides facilities for student wellness, recreation and athletics including basketball and volleyball courts, an aquatic center, locker rooms, sports-performance and sports medicine facilities, a student lounge and food area, and a ballroom. There are also studios for dance and exercise, a walking/jogging track, and a fully-equipped fitness center with cardiovascular machines, strength equipment, free weights and a functional training area with both wall-mounted and machine-mounted TVs.

STUDENT STORE

The Student Store sells books, academic supplies, accessories and apparel as well as software and hardware for students. The Student Store is located in the Trexler Student Center.

CHILD CARE OPTIONS

Queens University of Charlotte recognizes that many of our students who attend classes are parents or care givers of children. Queens’ policy prohibits students from bringing children to campus, taking them to class or leaving them unattended on Queens’ property. Several options are available for childcare services: Through the Child Development Center at Presbyterian Hospital, students may enroll children in evening childcare from 5:45 – 9:00pm. If you would like additional information on this service, please contact Hayworth College at 704.337.2314. Another child care option is available through the Department of Student Life at Queens.

The Queens Service Referral List provides names and contact information for undergraduates seeking part-time employment, their availability, area of expertise (childcare, house care/sitting, pet care/sitting, lawn care, tutoring with specific content area), and access to transportation. New lists are generated each fall, spring, and summer and are available for $25 each. To obtain a list, send a self-addressed, stamped #10 envelope along with a check for $25 made payable to Queens University of Charlotte, 1900 Selwyn Avenue, Morrison 214 - SRL, Charlotte, NC 28274. Additional information is available at 704-688-2794.

CAMPUS POLICE

The Queens Campus Police Department is comprised of professionally trained men and women whose purpose is assist the campus community in providing for a safe environment in which live, learn, and work. The professionally trained departments consist of sworn police officers, security officers, and civilian support personnel. Members of the department are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Information Technology Services

Information Technology Services for all users is coordinated by the staff of the Queens IT Services Department, located in the lower level of the Walker Science Building. IT Services manages hardware, software and network services to support the academic and administrative mission of the University. Among services provided are:

Email

All enrolled Queens students receive web-based email accounts that include a personal calendar. Email is the official form of electronic communications to Queens Students. The link to access the student email login page can be found on the myQueens Portal.

MyQueens Online Portal

The university’s intranet portal is known as myQueens. Current students can securely access information about university events, administrative offices, student life and academics. There are links to enable students to:

- access Email
- access student schedule and academic calendar information
- perform online registration
- request an unofficial transcript
- review course history
- access a grade report and GPA Projection
- make account balance inquiries
- make payments against an account balance, and
- access the online learning portal powered by MOODLE.

Wireless Internet Access

Wireless Internet access is available in most areas of campus including residence halls, Everett Library and Coffee Shop, Morrison Dining Hall, the Trexler Courtyard and Student Center and many other areas. The Queens secure WiFi connection, known as Qu-WiFi is accessed by entering a pass code into the device’s WiFi connection settings and then logging into an online web portal using the same username and password used for email and other online services. The university also offers free unsecured guest wireless access for campus visitors. For a complete listing of university Wi-Fi coverage areas and for information on how to connect, current students can refer to the Wi-Fi information posted on the IT Services myQueens site at http://myqueens.queens.edu/depts/itspublic.

Residence Halls
In addition to secure Wi-Fi, all residence hall rooms are equipped so that each occupant has access to a wired data port. Off-campus residential apartments at North Hall are also wired for data access. To make use of the wired data port for Internet access, an Ethernet-ready computer is required.

Print Management
A print management system is in place to help manage and track printing and photocopying in student labs and classrooms. This system was implemented as part of the university’s Green initiative to encourage the responsible use of resources. Each semester students are granted a free quota for printing and photocopying. To print beyond the allotted free quota requires students to add funds to their “print balance”. Students use their ID cards to release their print jobs at the printing devices.

Classroom and Lab Computing
Computer equipped labs and classrooms are available in several locations throughout campus. Among these are

Dickson Computing Lab
Located in the basement of Walker Science building, this lab is available during extended hours with the use of a card access key.

Everett Library
The Everett Library contains multiple open-use lab areas designated for student research activities. Several Computer workstations are also available in the Coffee Shop on the first floor of the Library. Wired and wireless Internet access is available throughout the Library for student use. Computing resources are available during the Everett Library hours of operation.

Presbyterian School of Nursing Lab (5th Street Campus)
Located on the second floor of the 5th Street nursing campus, this lab is available to nursing students. Hours correspond to those maintained by the School of Nursing at the 5th Street campus.

Mac Teaching Labs
The Mac Lab in Everett Library contains Apple iMac computers featuring the latest Mac operating system and graphic design applications. A network printer is available in the lab. The Dana 110 teaching classroom also contains Apple iMac computers. Both labs offer Mac OSX/ Windows 7 dual boot capability.

Education Discounts
Students are eligible for educational discounts on computer hardware and software from several different vendors including Dell, Apple, Varsity Buys, and others. Details are available on the IT Services myQueens site at http://myqueens.queens.edu/depts/itspublic.

Support Requests
IT Support is provided for all University-owned and managed computer systems. Limited support for wired and wireless connectivity issues is provided as a courtesy in order to help students gain access to university resources. Students are responsible for support of their personally-owned computer hardware and software. For support requests please contact the IT Services Helpdesk at (704)-337-2323 or helpdesk@queens.edu

Responsibilities
All users of Queen’s electronic resources must abide by the terms of the Queens Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) for Information Technology Systems, the University Copyright Compliance Guidelines and all other university technology policies. These policies are available to current faculty, staff and students on the IT Services myQueens site.

The approval of the IT Services department is required before adding any network equipment (such as routers) that might alter or degrade the University network. All computers connecting to the Queens network must run an approved antivirus software client with current virus definitions. Microsoft Windows users are required to have automatic Windows Updates configured. Student-owned computers connecting to the university residential or wireless networks are prompted to install a software agent called SafeConnect that checks for the presence of current antivirus software on the student’s computer and verifies that security updates are installed before a connection is established. Computers that don’t meet these basic requirements are shown a web page describing the necessary steps to correct the problem. Failure to correct the problem within a specified period of time may result in the computer being denied access to the Internet until the problem is resolved. These requirements have been established for the protection of the network and its connecting users and are enforced by IT Services.

For more information about Information Technology at Queens University visit the IT Services myQueens site at http://myqueens.queens.edu/depts/itpublic/defaul t.aspx or contact the Help Desk at (704) 337-2323/helpdesk@queens.edu

Everett Library is located at the center of the campus and was built in 1960 through the generosity of Herschel Hill Everett, Chairman of the Board of Trustees from 1952 to 1967, and his wife, Cornelia Nisbett Everett. A new Georgian-style portico was constructed in 2000, thanks to a gift from Mr. John H. Sykes, a member of the Board of Trustees, and named for his wife, Susan W. Sykes.

The library collection is designed to support all programs of the University. More than 60,000 books, videos, and bound periodicals are available in open stacks for student use. In addition, the library currently subscribes to over 100 periodicals in print and several thousand full-text periodicals available online through the library’s participation in the NC LIVE consortium and other online services. The print collection receives additional support from endowments. The library’s online catalog and electronic databases are available 24/7 on- and off-campus along with up-to-date hours and services information through the library’s website at http://library.queens.edu.

The library offers additional services such as information literacy instruction, academic reserves, interlibrary loan and reference assistance. Alumni, Friends of the Library, Union-PSCE students, and ministers of the supporting presbyteries have access to selected library services. Everett Library offers an information technology commons for student and faculty research. Three computing labs are available to students for research and preparing classroom assignments including one lab outfitted with Macintosh computers. Four group study rooms offer students the opportunity for collaborative learning through group study.

Rena Harrell Special Collections Room

The Rena Harrell Special Collections Room, named for Queens’ first librarian, houses Charlotte imprints, books on the history of Mecklenburg County, and North Carolina author titles.

Friends of the Library

Everett Library has been enriched by the members of the Friends of the Library organization since its founding in 1971. This 700+ member community group provides year round literary and cultural activities and events. Their gifts to Everett Library support funds for books, technology and equipment, and special projects.

Everett Library Coffee House

The Everett Library Coffee House offers a social and cultural gathering place for the Queens University of Charlotte community and also provides computers with Internet access.
Student Rights and Responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the student to know and follow these policies as well as other policies in this Catalog and in other University print and online publications.

The Honor Code

Queens University of Charlotte is firmly committed to principles of honor and prides itself on the spirit of trust that exists among all of its members. At the very heart of Queens University of Charlotte is the Honor Code. The Honor Code is based on the principle that a spirit of trust should pervade all aspects of student life. Its essence is that any violation of the Honor Code is an offense against the community.

The Honor Code at Queens University of Charlotte is the keystone of the University’s belief that its students should act honorably and responsibly in all aspects of life, both on and off campus. The Honor Code incorporates the high principles of honor and integrity in both personal conduct and academic work. The purpose of the Honor Code is to assist in the development of mature women and men who act responsibly at all times and to promote a community based on the principles of responsible citizenship, mutual trust and respect. The Honor Code is binding on all members of the University community and applies to all phases of life at the University.

An effective Honor Code depends upon each student adhering to the spirit and letter of its principles. It demands accountability on the part of each student for his or her actions. Queens’ students are responsible for their personal conduct at all times and shall be subject to review, including possible suspension, for behavior that discredits themselves or the University.

As a commitment to this system of honor, students are asked to sign the Honor Code as part of their application for admission. The Honor Code incorporates two different pledges of student conduct: the academic pledge and the community pledge. In addition, it embodies the individual’s commitment to developing a community of honor, including taking action against those who violate the Code:

As a member of the Queens community, I will endeavor to create a spirit of integrity and honor for its own sake at Queens University of Charlotte.

Academic Pledge: I pledge truthfulness and absolute honesty in the performance of all academic work.

Community Pledge: I pledge to be truthful at all times, to treat others with respect, to respect the property of others and to adhere to University policies.

Accepting both the privileges and responsibilities of living by this code of honor, I resolve to uphold this code and not to tolerate any violations of its spirit or principles.

Violations of the Honor Code include, but are not limited to, cheating, lying, theft, unprofessional or inappropriate behavior and academic dishonesty. Two examples of the latter are plagiarism, the use of another’s words or ideas without giving credit to the source, and computer misuse, including accessing, transferring, or altering information without authorization.

The Judicial Process

Suspected violations of the academic portion of the Honor Code should be reported to the office of the Associate Provost and Dean of University Programs. Suspected community violations should be reported to the Dean of Students’ office. Reported violations of the Honor Code can be adjudicated by the Honor Council or Traditional Undergraduate Judicial Board. Full information on the process is available in the University Honor Code Booklet.
Student Complaint Policy

Queens University of Charlotte is committed to providing an educational climate that is conducive to the personal and professional development of each individual. In order to ensure that commitment, the University has developed procedures for students to pursue grievances within the university community, should such action become necessary. A student who has an unresolved disagreement or dissatisfaction with a faculty or staff member, another student, student group or administrator has the right to file a written complaint without prejudicing his or her status with the University.

Definition

A complaint involves a concern, problem or issue other than a disciplinary measure. (The appropriate response to a disciplinary measure which is deemed unfair or excessive, or dissatisfaction with a grade, or progression, probation, or dismissal from a program, is an appeal, not a complaint. Appeals are made through established university procedures.) Complaints may be academic or nonacademic.

An academic complaint may be brought by a student regarding the University’s provision of education and academic services affecting his/her role as a student. Academic grievances can include but are not limited to the following types of allegations: discriminatory action toward students within the classroom by a faculty member, e.g., by singling out specific students for either preferential or adverse treatment; failure of a faculty member to follow university policies in the conduct of classes or examinations; or capricious or unreasonable arbitrary actions by a faculty member that adversely affects student performance. The student must have first attempted to resolve the issue by approaching the faculty member, and then the faculty member’s dean, before filing a written complaint.

A nonacademic complaint may be brought by a student regarding a disagreement or unresolved dissatisfaction with a faculty or staff member, another student, student group or administrator. Nonacademic grievances may include discrimination or an alleged infringement upon the rights of an individual by a university employee, student or student organization, but are not limited to that type of allegation.

The student must first have attempted to resolve the issue by approaching the person(s) involved, and then the appropriate dean or supervisor, before filing a written complaint.

Disability Discrimination

Any student who believes that a University employee has discriminated against him/her due to a disability should file a grievance with the Director of Student Disability Services within ten days from the date of the alleged incident. For the complete process and policy information see Student Disability Services.

Process

The student is encouraged to attempt and resolve all grievances at the lowest possible level. The student first discusses the problem or complaint with the person whose decision or action is being contested and then the person’s dean or supervisor. If the grievance cannot be resolved at that level the student can submit a formal complaint in writing.

A complaint must be based on a claimed violation of a university rule or policy that has not resolved through ordinary processes. Any student who brings a complaint has the burden of proof and must provide documentation and evidence to support the allegation. A complaint should normally be filed within 10 working days of the incident or incidents. (Note: This policy does not limit the University’s right to change rules, policies or practices.) The student should put his or her grievance in writing according to the following guidelines: What is the grievance? Identify it. What are the grounds for the grievance? Explain the basic justification for it based on a claimed violation of a university rule or policy. How would you like to see it resolved? What do you want done?

• For academic grievances (other than disability issues) the student will submit the complaint in writing to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs will ensure that the complaint receives a timely response. The results of complaints appealed to this level are final and may not be further appealed. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs will keep on file a record of each complaint, its nature and resolution.

- For non-academic grievances (other than disability issues), the student will submit the complaints in writing to the Dean of Students. The Dean of Students will ensure that the complaint receives a timely response. A record of each complaint, its nature, and resolution, will be forwarded to the Academic Affairs office. Students should also see the Student Handbook.

Student Disability Services

The Office of Student Disability Services at Queens University of Charlotte provides accommodations and auxiliary aids/assistive technology to students with a documented disability under the American with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Office of Student Disability Services believes that students can be their own best advocate and works with students to develop their advocacy skills. SDS serves qualified students with disabilities of all varieties: learning disabilities, ADHD, psychiatric/emotional disabilities, physical disabilities, vision impairment, hearing impairment, and medical conditions.

In order to access the rights provided through the ADA (amended 2008) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, it is the responsibility of a student with a disability to self-identify by registering with the Office of Student Disability Services and by providing current documentation. Reasonable accommodations cannot be granted until documentation is reviewed and the student is deemed a qualified person with a disability. Letters of Accommodation will be provided to the student, listing reasonable accommodations, which are determined on a case-by-case basis. It is also the responsibility of the student to provide the Letter of Accommodation to his/her professors and to advocate for him/herself if these accommodations are not being met satisfactorily. Students requiring auxiliary services (interpreter, alternative text format) need to request this accommodation at least one month in advance so that arrangements can be made in a timely manner.

Appeal and Formal Grievance Procedure for Students with Disabilities

Queens University of Charlotte strives to maintain the highest standards of integrity of upholding the rights of persons with disabilities provided by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (amended 2008). Queens University of Charlotte has adopted an internal appeal and grievance procedure to provide an expeditious and equitable resolution of complaints to students who disagree with provision of accommodations or students/applicants who believe they have been subject to discrimination. Students may file a complaint as described on the Student Disability Services web site. Faculty and/or staff who disagree with accommodations as specified in the letter of accommodation may also follow this procedure. In addition to grievance procedures the Student Disability Services page also provides information about eligibility, rights and responsibilities, requesting accommodations, documentation requirements.
I. Purpose of the Policy
Queens University of Charlotte encourages the production of creative and scholarly works known broadly as intellectual property. These works may create rights and interests on behalf of the creator, Queens University of Charlotte, and others. The purpose of this policy is to support research and scholarship and to help administer intellectual property matters and the rights and responsibilities of all involved.

II. Application of the Policy
This policy applies to works created by all classifications of faculty, staff, and students of the university and to non-employees such as consultants and independent contractors who create works on behalf of the university, unless a written agreement exists to the contrary.

Queens does not assert a property interest in materials that result from the creator’s pursuit of traditional teaching, research, creative, and scholarly activities. However, in those cases where substantial institutional resources are provided to support the faculty project or teaching, Queens may assert ownership or other property interests; these situations should be addressed through specific agreements with the producers of the works. Queens desires its employees to have ownership in their works to the greatest extent possible without detriment to the university.

III. Definitions
A. Intellectual property includes, but is not limited to, the following, whether or not patentable or register able under statute:

(1) Copyrightable material produced from creative and scholarly activity, such as texts (manuscripts, manuals, books, articles); videos and motion pictures; music (sound recordings, lyrics, scores); images (print, photographs, electronic); art (painting, sculpture, theatrical work, literary work); and computer or electronic software (programs, databases, web pages, courseware); and

(2) Patenable works such as processes, machines, manufactures, compositions of matter, devices, formula, inventions, designs, and software excluded from copyright; and

(3) Trademarked materials, such as words, names, symbols or logos, domain names, trade dress, and slogans or any combination of words, including those adopted by the university to identify itself and to distinguish itself and its sponsor from others; and

(4) Trade secrets.

B. Faculty refers to full-time and part-time faculty, including adjunct faculty. Staff refers to classified employees, administrative staff, and students who are hired for or assigned specific creative work by the university. Students may be staff members for some purposes and not for others. If they are paid as student assistants, for example, or given grants to do specific research, they are staff. Students receiving general scholarship or stipend funds would not normally be considered staff.

C. Assigned Duty refers to a task or project undertaken as a result of a specific request or direction or as part of expected job responsibilities. Such a task would in most cases include specific instructions, approval of work product, and general oversight. A faculty member’s general obligation to teach a class, research a topic, or produce scholarly writing on a subject would not fall into this category. Work produced as an assigned duty of a staff member is considered a work for hire and will be owned by the university. If copyrightable work-for-hire materials are marketed, a staff member will not ordinarily share in the royalties from sales of the work. Faculty may be engaged in work for hire by special agreement.

D. Teaching materials, including online and distance learning materials, created by faculty without substantial use of university resources or special agreement remain the property of the faculty member. If the development of the course materials has made substantial use of university resources and absent a provision in the special agreement, the university and the faculty member will co-own the property rights and both will retain a non-exclusive license to use these materials in educational settings, even if the faculty member leaves the university. Should there be any commercial potential for the materials developed with substantial use of university resources, the faculty member and university shall share in any revenues.

E. Intellectual Property Committee refers to the committee composed of two faculty representatives appointed by Faculty Council and one representative appointed by the Office of Academic Affairs or Office of the President, charged with administering this policy and with resolving disputes over the ownership of intellectual property.

IV. Ownership and Use
In keeping with the view that one of the university’s primary benefits to society is the production of original works by its faculty, staff, and students, and in order to best encourage such activity, it is the general policy of Queens that intellectual property shall be the property of the author or creator. Except as set forth below, the creator of intellectual property shall retain his/her rights, and the university shall not assert ownership rights. For students and others who develop creative works collaboratively, ownership will be joint unless the parties have a prior written agreement.

The university may assert ownership rights to intellectual property under the following circumstances:

- Development was funded as part of an externally sponsored research program under an agreement that allocates rights to the university.
- A faculty member or student was assigned, directed, or specifically funded by the university to develop the material, and the university has negotiated an agreement with the creator providing funds, release time, or other agreed-upon consideration.
- Material was developed by staff members in the course of employment duties and constitutes work for hire under U.S. law.
- Development required substantial use of university resources (e.g., facilities, equipment, funding) or more than ordinary use of university resources for that discipline. “Substantial resources” requires use of resources of a degree or nature not routinely made available to all faculty or faculty in that discipline.
- The intellectual property created is more integral to, and reflects more directly on, the identity of Queens University of Charlotte than on the identity of the individual who created it. Examples of this kind of material are alumni bulletins, newsletters, fundraising materials, and any material that prominently uses the trademarks or logos of the university. Queens owns or has a proprietary interest in any trademark, service mark, design, or logo registered or unregistered, that represents or identifies Queens, its programs, or services. Unauthorized use is strictly prohibited. All authorized use inures solely to the benefit of Queens University of Charlotte.

V. Applicability of the Policy
This policy applies to all faculty, staff, students, visiting faculty and researchers, and employees and visitors covered by sponsored program agreements or other contractual agreements. This policy sets forth the rights and obligations of Queens with respect to all intellectual property, including intellectual property created prior to the effectiveness of this policy.

The overriding principle underlying this Intellectual Property Policy is to encourage creativity and inventiveness, so Queens reserves the right to allow some flexibility in applying this policy on a case-by-case basis. Ownership and use of materials developed pursuant to a special agreement between the university and the creator will be governed by the provisions of that agreement.

VI. Administration of the Policy
The administration of this policy shall reside with the Intellectual Property Committee.

VII. Dispute Resolution
Questions about application of this policy may be referred to the Intellectual Property Committee. Should any disputes arise as to the ownership of intellectual property, the parties shall be entitled to appear before the Intellectual Property Committee and to present evidence with respect to the disputed ownership. The committee’s written determination shall contain the basis for its decision and recommendation. The university president, on his/her own motion or at the request of any interested party, may review the committee’s determination. The president may affirm, modify, or reject any determination of the committee. The decision of the president is final.
University Technology Policies

The Queens University of Charlotte network is provided as a service to students, faculty, staff, and other members of the Queens community. Maintained by the university’s Information Technology Services Department (ITS), the Network supports the educational and service mission of the University. It is the responsibility of everyone (employees and students) who uses the Queens Network to know these guidelines and to act appropriately and responsibly when utilizing these resources. Furthermore, users must keep in mind that networks or systems outside of this University (including those in other countries) may have their own distinctive policies and procedures. Users are advised to learn and abide by the policies and procedures of these external networks.

The approval of the IT Services department is required before adding any network equipment (such as routers) that might impact the University network. All computers connecting to the Queens network must run up-to-date antivirus software.

For more information. Please contact the IT Services helpdesk at helpdesk.queens.edu, helpdesk@queens.edu or by calling (704) 337-2323

Responsibilities

All users of Queens electronic resources must abide by the terms of the Queens Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) for Information Technology Systems, the University Copyright Compliance Guidelines and all other university technology policies. These policies are available to current faculty, staff and students on the IT Services intranet portal site. After logging in to the intranet the following policies are found under the POLICIES section located in the left-hand menu:

- Acceptable Use Policy
- Anti-Spam Policy
- Campus Downloading Policy
- Computer Labs Policy
- Copyright Compliance Policy
- E-Mail Policy

Q-Alert Emergency Notification System

Queens University of Charlotte requires all students, faculty and staff to register for the QAlert emergency notification system each year by September 30th or by the first day of classes in the first term of enrollment. QAlert is an essential tool for communication with the campus community in the case of an emergency, inclement weather or class closures. The system enables you to chose how you are notified. Sign up for QAlert to receive the latest information via text, email, phone or all three. All students, faculty and staff are required to register for QAlert.
Student Records

Directory Information
The following information on individual students is considered Directory Information and is public: full name, addresses (home, local), telephone numbers, email address, date of birth, major field of study, dates of attendance at Queens University of Charlotte, enrollment status (undergraduate or graduate; full-time or part-time); class year (senior, junior, etc), date of graduation, degrees, honors and awards received, participation in officially recognized University activities, student organizations, and sports, photographic, video and electronic images of students taken and maintained by the University, height and weight of student athletes. This public information may be released or published without the student’s consent. However, it is the policy of Queens University of Charlotte to refuse to release information to private firms or mailing lists.

Directory Hold
Students who do not wish this information made public must inform the Registrar’s Office, requesting a "Directory Hold" in writing within 10 days of the start of the term. The Registrar will notify other University offices of such requests. Students should understand that if they withhold directory information, it will not be released to anyone unless the health or safety of an individual is involved. Requests for student data from agencies such as HEW, OEO and research agencies may be honored without prior approval of the student, ordinarily in anonymous form.

Confidential Records
All personally identifiable material on particular students used to make decisions about students or used for transmittal to others outside the University and which is other than public material, as defined above, is considered confidential. Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, the following items: academic evaluations, advising records, disciplinary records, financial aid records, letters of recommendation, medical or health records, clinical counseling records, transcripts, test scores and other academic work.

Official Records
Official records are released only with the written permission of the student. Official records include material on students relating to their status as students held by any office of the University and intended for the use of the University or available to parties outside the University. Official records do not include the following: letters of recommendation for which the student has waived the right of access, public safety records, medical and clinical counseling records, financial records of parents, private records kept by individual faculty or administrators as aids to memory but not intended for transmittal to others.

Access to Official Records
Queens University of Charlotte, in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 permits students to inspect their records whenever appropriate and to challenge specific parts of them as necessary. Each enrolled or former student of Queens University of Charlotte has the right to inspect and review official educational records or files of the University directly relating to that student. (Note: Files on individual students are retained for seven (7) years after the student leaves the University. Only the Queens academic transcript is kept indefinitely.)

Student access to official educational records or files directly relating to the student is provided in the presence of a staff member. The right to access does not extend to applicants, those denied admission, or those admitted who do not enroll. Offices may require that requests for access be submitted in writing and may ask for, but not require, the reason for the request. A copy of a student’s transcript and/or other recorded data will be made available to University officials who show legitimate educational needs without written permission of the student. Records will be kept in offices whose functions require such information.

A student is entitled to an explanation of relevant information contained in official records. The student has the right to a hearing to challenge the content of an official record to ensure that it does not contain information which is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of privacy or other rights, and to correct or delete inaccurate, misleading, or inappropriate material. Queens University of Charlotte recognizes that the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, does not intend to exclude release of information regarding dependent students’ academic progress/grades to their parent or guardian if such information is requested. Queens also recognizes the student's right to specify that information regarding academic progress/grades not be released to parent(s)/guardian(s). Written notification must be made to the Registrar.

Record of Immunization Law

Students enrolled in more than four credit hours and who are taking any classes which begin before 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, are required to provide valid documentation of immunizations to be compliant with North Carolina state law. The statute applies to all students except for students residing off-campus and registering for any combination of:

- Off-campus courses
- Evening courses
- Weekend courses
- No more than four day credit hours in on-campus courses

If at any time the above student status changes to: on-campus courses, course load of more than four (4) credit hours, on-campus residence and/or enrollment in day-time courses, a Certificate of Immunization or record of immunization must be presented on or before the date the person first registers for the semester.

The following immunizations are required:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Vaccine Requirements and Number of Doses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Diphtheria, Tetanus and/or Pertussis¹</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Nursing Students: All nursing students have specific immunization requirements. For more information consult the Presbyterian School of Nursing.

² Polio: Students age 18 or older are not required to receive polio vaccine.

⁴ Mumps: One dose on or after 12 months of age. Mumps vaccine is not required if any of the following occur: An individual who has been documented by serological testing to have a protective antibody titer against mumps; an individual born prior to 1957; or Enrolled in college or University for the first time before July 1, 1994. An individual entering college or University prior to July 1, 2008 is not required to receive a second dose of mumps vaccine.

⁵ Rubella: One dose on or after 12 months of age. Rubella vaccine is not required if any of the following occur: 50 years of age or older; Enrolled in college or University before February 1, 1989 and after their 30th birthday; an individual who has been documented by serological testing to have a protective antibody titer against rubella.

⁶ Hepatitis B vaccine is not required if any of the following occur: Born before July 1, 1994.
Class Behavior Policy

In order to foster a positive learning environment, students are expected to behave and participate in class in a civil and respectful manner. A faculty member has the right and responsibility to remove any student from his or her class who, by the student’s disruptive, demeaning, or discourteous behavior, impedes the class.

When a student is removed from class, the faculty member will communicate the length of time of removal to that student. The faculty member will at that time notify his or her Dean and the Associate Provost and Dean of University Programs, in writing, that the student has been removed from class, the length of time of the removal, and the reason why.

A student removed for one calendar week or less may not appeal the removal. A student removed for a period of time beyond one calendar week, including up to the balance of the semester, may appeal in writing to the Dean of the class involved within seven calendar days after being removed from class. Should the Dean deem it appropriate, he or she may seek an informal resolution to the matter. Should the Dean not seek an informal resolution, or should such informal resolution fail, the matter will be formally considered by a committee appointed by the Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs consisting of two faculty members and the Dean. The committee will give a written recommendation to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will make the final decision.

A student may be subject to appropriate grade sanctions for work missed and absences during the time of removal from class. A student removed from class for the remainder of the semester because of his or her behavior will receive a failing grade for the course. A student removed from more than one class because of his or her behavior may also be suspended or expelled from the university.

University-Recognized Absences From Class

Students are expected to attend class. However, the university recognizes that students must occasionally miss class for university-recognized activities (e.g., performances, academic conferences and competitions, athletic conferences and competitions, etc.) or for unavoidable and sometimes unanticipated personal reasons (e.g., illness, personal injury, death in the family, jury duty, religious holidays, and duties associated with military service). While individual instructors set specific attendance policies and penalties in each class, the following policy applies to both absences for university-recognized activities, as described above, and unavoidable personal absences, as described above.

University-recognized and unavoidable personal absences will typically count towards the maximum number of allowed absences in the course; therefore, students should be careful not to use their allotted absences for other reasons.

The university does not require faculty members to distinguish between “excused” and “unexcused” absences. Consequently, individual faculty members may request corroboration for the reason for a specific absence in order to decide how to weigh absences in the grading scale or to make exceptions to their written attendance policy.

The university is committed to fair, non-discriminatory treatment of all students in all matters. Faculty should reasonably accommodate students who must be absent for university-recognized absences.

Student Responsibilities:

Students should recognize that excessive absences from class for any reason will be detrimental to the student’s performance and that it may be necessary to decline a university-sponsored activity in order to ensure consistent class attendance and high academic achievement. Missing classes for university-sponsored activities may ultimately lower the student’s grade.
For non-emergency absences that can be anticipated in advance, students must inform the faculty member no later than one week before the anticipated absence in order to receive consideration for make-up work or other accommodations, and preferably at the beginning of the semester after the course syllabus has been distributed.

Students should consult their university-sponsored obligations, religious, and other calendars when registering for a course to avoid class times and days that will cause conflicts. For absences related to sudden personal illness or injury, students must inform the faculty member before the class meeting if at possible and no later than three days after the onset of illness or injury in order to receive the privilege of make-up work or other accommodation. Exceptions can be made at the discretion of the faculty member.

Students must adhere to deadlines for the make-up work and any other stipulations connected to the make-up work or accommodation. When possible, assignments should be completed in advance of the absence.

Students who miss classes for an extended period of time (generally, more than the equivalent of 25% of the course) should consider withdrawal from the university.

Faculty Responsibilities:
Faculty must not discriminate against any student in the application of this policy and must apply the policy consistently. Faculty will provide students with a syllabus in each course before the drop/add deadline, clearly showing scheduled major assignments and exams and stating the attendance policy for that class. Faculty will avoid changing the date of a major examination; if the date must be changed, faculty will notify students no less than one week in advance. If the class meets at a time other than the designated course time for service or enrichment activities or other reasons, faculty must accommodate all students who cannot attend for university-recognized reasons. Typical accommodations for students who have been absent for university-recognized reasons include but are not limited to the following: rescheduling of a quiz or exam, allowing make-up work, creating alternative assignments, meeting with the instructor, and allowing late work.

Scheduler Responsibilities
University officials responsible for scheduling activities and events for students at which their attendance is required will make every effort to avoid conflicts with classes. Students should not be pressured to miss class to attend events at which their presence is not absolutely required. For athletic events generally, students should only miss classes when they will participate in those events. In working out a student’s class schedule, her or his advisor should make every effort to avoid potential conflicts with university-recognized activities.

Student ID Cards
Student ID cards are required for all Queens students. The Service Center on the lower level of Morrison Hall prepares photo ID cards valid for the academic year. ID cards are required to check out books in Everett Library, enter the Dickson Microcomputer Lab after hours, access meal plans in our dining facilities, enter residence halls for residential students, and to use the athletic facilities.

Parking
A parking permit is required to park on Queens properties and is arranged through the Campus Police Department using an online registration site. The registration form must be taken to the Campus Police Office with your vehicle registration to receive your sticker. See the Campus Police Department for current parking rules and regulations.
Undergraduate Programs

Queens University of Charlotte offers two different undergraduate programs leading to baccalaureate degrees: the Traditional Undergraduate Program and the Hayworth College Adult Studies Undergraduate Program.

- The Traditional Undergraduate Program has degree requirements and services designed for the 18-22 year old student. Most traditional undergraduates live in residence halls and are enrolled full-time. A full range of student life activities and student services are available to students in this program, including the Core Program in the Liberal Arts, International Study Programs, the Honors Program, and athletics programs and Greek life.

- The Hayworth College Undergraduate Program has degree requirements and services designed for the adult learner. Most Hayworth undergraduates are employed full-time and enrolled part-time. Hayworth College also admits those persons wishing to take undergraduate courses at the university as a non-degree candidate. Classes meeting Hayworth degree requirements and several majors and minors are scheduled in the evenings for the convenience of students employed during the day.

- Queens also offers the Associate of Science in Nursing degree program.

The following information applies to all undergraduates admitted to the Traditional Undergraduate Program and the Hayworth College Program.

DEGREES

All candidates for the baccalaureate degree are required to meet all degree requirements as well as the requirements for a major. Each major leads to either a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree, a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree, a Bachelor of Music (BM) degree, or a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree.

The Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree is a liberal arts degree. The primary goal of a BA degree is to develop an educated citizen and to prepare the student for a wide range of career options. A student pursuing a major leading to a BA degree should have more freedom to explore disciplines outside the major field. A major for the Bachelor of Arts degree shall consist of no fewer than 30 credit hours. The following majors lead to the BA degree: Art History, Arts Leadership & Administration, Biology, Communication, Creative Writing, Drama, Elementary Education, English-Literature, Environmental Studies, French, History, Human Service Studies, Interior Design, International Studies, Journalism & Digital Media, Mathematics, Music, New Media Design, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religion, Sociology, Spanish, and Studio Art. (A distinct biology major also leads to the Bachelor of Science degree.)

The Bachelor of Science (BS) degree is more specialized, emphasizing mathematics, social or natural sciences, or computer skills. Majors in Allied Health, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Science, Exercise and Sport Sciences, Interdisciplinary Health Services, and Sport Management lead to the Bachelor of Science degree. A major for the Bachelor of Science shall consist of no fewer than 32 credit hours. (A distinct biology major also leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.)

The Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA), Bachelor of Music (BM) and Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degrees are more specialized. A major in Accounting, Business Administration or Finance leads to the BBA degree; a major in Music Therapy leads to a BM degree; and a major in Nursing leads to the BSN degree.

3-Year Degree Completion

Queens University of Charlotte offers the highly motivated and self-disciplined full-time student the opportunity to complete a bachelor’s degree in three years instead of the traditional four. The interested student should contact his or her academic advisor to determine if all requirements for the major and degree of interest can be completed within 3 years. If so, then with the advisor’s approval the student and advisor should then complete a plan of study for the student, listing all degree requirements (major, minor, general education, etc.) to be completed and the specific terms, including summers, in which they should be taken.

MAJORS
A bachelor’s degree requires the satisfactory completion of a major. The purpose of a major is twofold: to give the student an opportunity to achieve an appropriate level of mastery in a field of study and to enable the student to acquire knowledge, skills and perspectives which may help to make him or her effective in a career. A student will work with his or her faculty advisor to make a wise choice of a major.

At least 50 percent of the credit hours required for the major must be earned at Queens. In addition, the University requires a minimum grade point average in the major of 2.000 for graduation. Some majors may require a higher minimum GPA.

The following majors are available to all undergraduates in either program-of-entry:

Declaration of a Major and Admission to the Major
Each full-time student is required to make application to a major no later than the pre-registration period of the second term of the sophomore year. Typically after the student is admitted to a major a faculty member in the major field will be assigned as the student’s academic advisor.

The student must submit a formal application using the process defined by the department or school in which the major resides. Admission to a major is not automatic and prerequisites may be required. Students interested in a major which requires prerequisites prior to application should declare intention as early as possible so that an advisor can help select the appropriate prerequisite courses.

When a student is admitted to a major offered by the McColl School of Business, Knight School of Communication, Cato School of Education or Presbyterian School of Nursing, the student will be simultaneously admitted to that School.

Students should be aware that major programs may have additional policies that apply to that major, including admission requirements and retention policies. Students are required to complete all requirements and follow all policies of their major.

Minors
A minor consists of a minimum number of hours and a prescribed program of courses. A minor (or second major) is a graduation requirement only in the Traditional Undergraduate Program. Only one course may be used to complete both a minor requirement and another graduation requirement. Minors must be approved by the faculty advisor for the student’s major. See also Double Dipping Policy

Self Designed Minor
A student, in consultation with the faculty advisor and other faculty members, may design his or her own minor. Forms to request a self designed minor are available in the Office of the Registrar. The student must submit the completed form, signed by the faculty advisor and the heads of all schools or departments involved, to the Registrar. The Registrar will obtain final approval from the advisor’s Curriculum Committee and will then notify the student.

Elective courses
In consultation with the faculty advisor, a student chooses elective courses to complete the minimum number of hours required for graduation. Electives offer the student the opportunity to augment the major field of study with collateral areas of knowledge or to explore areas or skills quite distinct from the major.

Independent Study/Directed Reading
The Independent Study or Directed Reading offers motivated students an opportunity to work with a faculty member on a specialized academic project in the major. Students should be in the junior or senior year, have completed all necessary prerequisites, and be in good academic standing to apply. An Independent Study/Directed Reading must be approved by the faculty member who has agreed to supervise the work, his/her department chair and dean. Students requesting Independent Study/Directed Reading must complete appropriate approval documentation, available from the Registrar’s Office. Completed forms should be submitted to the Registrar’s Office during the appropriate add/drop period.. Course credit hours and prerequisites may vary – see the Catalog course descriptions.

Independent Coursework
A student is expected to take requirements when they are normally offered. Normally a student who has failed to take a course as scheduled will be expected to wait until it is offered again. In extraordinary circumstances a student may petition the university to offer a requirement for a single student. Approval of the faculty member, his/her department chair if applicable, and dean are required. The student will be expected to work independently following the course syllabus and meet as required by the supervising faculty member. A student who wishes to request that a requirement be offered as Independent Coursework must complete the appropriate approval form, available from the Registrar’s
Office, including all required signatures. Completed forms should be submitted to the Registrar’s Office during the appropriate add/drop period.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Teacher Education
A student may earn a teaching license at the elementary or secondary level as part of the baccalaureate program of study. Students must apply to the Cato School of Education for admission by the end of the sophomore year. For more information, see the Cato School of Education. A student who has already earned a bachelor’s degree and wishes to become licensed at the elementary or secondary level may pursue licensure through the Cato School of Education’s post baccalaureate teacher licensure program. See Graduate Programs – Cato School of Education

Admission of Undergraduates to Graduate Study
The following policies apply unless a student has been admitted to a special program:
Seniors at the university with a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better may seek approval to enroll in a graduate course at Queens. Written approval by the department or school offering the course is required prior to registration. Approval is not automatic. A full-time student who is approved to take a graduate course should take no more than 18 credit hours in any semester which includes a graduate course. A part-time student should take no more than 6 credit hours in any semester which includes a graduate course. All students will be charged the graduate program rate. These graduate credit hours may be counted toward the credit hours required for the baccalaureate degree, and toward the residency requirement (6 hours max). The student who is subsequently admitted to a graduate program may request that these credit hours be included as part of the graduate program.

Summer Study
The University offers a summer semester. Summer classes may be offered in the day, in the evening, on the weekend or online.

Charlotte Area Educational Consortium
Full-time degree-seeking undergraduates paying the University’s comprehensive fee may register on a space-available basis with no additional charge for a course at any of the 24 institutions in the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium. A student interested in the consortium should contact the Registrar’s Office.

Consortium members include: Belmont Abbey College, Cabarrus College of Health Sciences, Carolinas College of Health Sciences, Catawba College, Catawba Valley Community College, Central Piedmont Community College, Cleveland Community College, Davidson College, Gardner-Webb University, Gaston College, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, Johnson C. Smith University, Lenoir-Rhyne University, Livingstone College, Mitchell Community College, Pfeiffer University, Queens University of Charlotte, South Piedmont Community College, Stanly Community College, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, University of South Carolina at Lancaster, Wingate University, Winthrop University, York Technical College
The Traditional Undergraduate Program

The Traditional Undergraduate Program offers curriculum and services designed for the 18-22 year old student. Most traditional undergraduates live in residence halls and are enrolled full-time. A full range of student life activities and student services are available to students in this program, including the Core Program in the Liberal Arts, the Center for International Education, the internship program, the Honors Program, and Pre-Professional Programs.

Admission

Non-traditional age prospective students (age 23 or older) are served by the Hayworth College Program.

Graduating high school seniors and transfers students under the age of 23 seeking an undergraduate degree should apply to the Traditional Undergraduate Program through the Undergraduate Office of Admissions.

High School Preparation

Students considering application to Queens should follow a college-preparatory program in an accredited or approved high school. Four units of English, three units of Mathematics, two units of History/Social Studies, two units of science, which must include one laboratory science and two units of a foreign language are recommended basic preparation.

Freshmen Admission

All prospective students apply for admission to the Traditional Undergraduate Program through the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. Admission is initially offered to the College of Arts and Sciences. By the end of their sophomore year, students will apply for admission to a major within the College of Arts and Sciences, McColl School of Business, Knight School of Communication, Cato School of Education or Blair College of Health, which houses the Presbyterian School of Nursing.

Application

Application forms may be obtained from the Undergraduate Office of Admissions or by calling 800-849-0202. Applications submitted in hard copy should be accompanied by a $40 non-refundable application fee. There is no application fee if a student applies online.

To be considered for admission, candidates must provide a completed application for admission, official high school transcript and official standardized test scores from the College Board and/or the ACT. The admissions office reserves the right to request additional information in the form of essays, letters of recommendation or personal interviews in order to better understand an applicant’s goals and match for the university.

In evaluating an application, the Admissions Committee considers the applicant's high school record, with special emphasis placed on the quality and amount of college preparatory work; recommendations from the secondary school; scores from the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT); the student's own stated objectives; and community service or co-curricular activities.

SAT and advanced placement test applications and information about testing dates may be obtained from secondary school counselors or from The College Board, Suite 250, 2970 Clairmont Road, Atlanta, GA 30329-1639. The College Board's Web site is www.collegeboard.com. The College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) code number for Queens University of Charlotte is 5560. ACT applications and information about testing dates may also be obtained from secondary school counselors or from ACT Records, P.O. Box 451, Iowa City, Iowa 52240. The ACT code number for Queens University of Charlotte is 3148. The ACT Web site is www.act.org.

Admission Deadlines

The university operates within three admissions decision plans: Early Action (non-binding), Regular Decision and then on Rolling Admissions plan, depending upon space availability.

Early Action Admissions Plan (non-binding) — Students who apply by the November 1 Early Action application deadline and complete their application by submitting all requested information, receive an admissions response to their application, no later than December 1. These students do not have to commit to the university.
until the National Candidates Reply Date of May 1. Students are considered for all financial aid programs and the competition for admission is the same as in the Regular Decision Application Plan.

Early Action

- Application Deadline: November 1
- Decision Notification: (no later than) December 1
- Decision Deadline: May 1

Regular Decision Admissions Plan – Students who apply by the Regular Decision application deadline and complete their application by submitting all requested information, receive an admissions response no later than March 1. These students do not have to commit to the university until the National Candidates Reply Date of May 1. Students are considered for all financial aid programs and the competition for admission is the same as in Early Action Admissions Plan.

- Application Deadline: February 1
- Decision Notification: (no later than) March 1
- Decision Deadline: May 1

Rolling Admissions Plan – The university will continue to accept applications for admission depending upon space availability after the February 1 Regular Decision application deadline. Once an application is completed, the student can expect to receive a notification within 5 business days from that completion date.

- Rolling Admissions Plan (After February 1)
  - Regular Decision Application Deadline
  - Decision Notification: (within 48 hours from the date of completion)
  - Decision Deadline: (Enrollment deposits will continue to be accepted until the class is full)

Students who are accepted to the university are requested to notify the Office of Admissions of their decision to attend as soon as their plans are firm or by May 1. Students reserve their place in the incoming class by sending an enrollment deposit of $300 and submitting the Statement of Intent. This deposit is applied toward tuition for the applicable term and is refundable until May 1.

Campus visits

Prospective students and their families are encouraged to visit Queens. They are welcome at any time, but will find visits more beneficial if they are scheduled when the university is in session. The Undergraduate Office of Admissions is open from 8:30am-5pm on weekdays throughout the year and on selected Saturdays each month. Each year a series of visitation days are scheduled for prospective students and parents. Interested students should visit www.queens.edu for more information.

Transfers

Queens welcomes transfer students from other regionally accredited colleges and universities. They may apply for admission for fall, spring or summer term. Applicants must provide an official transcript from each high school they have attended and they must forward official transcripts from each college they have attended to the Queens University of Charlotte Undergraduate Office of Admissions. Transfer applicants must also submit a Statement of Good Standing form from the Dean of Students at the last college or university in which they were enrolled.

- Priority Transfer Application
  - Deadline for fall semester: July 1
  - Deadline for spring semester: November 1

If a student is transferring to Queens with fewer than 24 transferable credit hours, they must provide an official copy of their SAT or ACT scores. Transfer students are expected to have followed the recommended high school curriculum and to have maintained a minimum 2.00 average on a 4.000 scale in previous college work. For liberal arts and sciences courses completed at other accredited institutions, credit usually will be transferred if the grade earned is C or better. Courses transferred from two-year institutions are classified as either 100- or 200-level courses. Queens University of Charlotte participates in the comprehensive articulation agreement between the University of North Carolina and the North Carolina Community College System.

Alumni Admissions Representatives

Local alumni representatives are available to talk with prospective students in a number of cities throughout the country. Their names and addresses may be obtained from the Undergraduate Office of Admissions.
International Student Admission

International students who are age 22 and younger apply through the Traditional Undergraduate Admissions Office and those who are 23 and older apply to the Hayworth College Program. Both applications for admission can be found on-line at www.queens.edu.

All International students must submit the following in order to be considered for admission to Queens University of Charlotte:

1. Application Fee
   a. Hayworth College applicants - $100
   b. Traditional Undergraduate Applicants – application fee waived

2. Transcripts: Secondary school transcripts in a language other than English are to be translated into English by an official at the school issuing the transcript, or by a certified translator. If transferring credit from a college or university outside the U.S., you must submit a course-by-course evaluation from World Education Services (WES) www.wes.org.

3. Standardized Test Scores:
   SAT or ACT or TOEFL is required with a minimum score of:
   a. 550 (written test)
   b. 213 (electronic test), or
   c. 79 (internet based test)
   A minimum composite score of 6.0 on the IELTS is also required. In lieu of the TOEFL, Queens will accept successful completion (level 12) of the ELS Language Centers English language program www.els.com.

4. Certificate of Finances: A certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

5. Personal Essay explaining why a student would like to attend Queens and to verify their ability to write and communicate in the English language.

Application deadlines for international students are July 1 for fall enrollment and November 1 for spring enrollment. To indicate their intent to enroll, international students who have been accepted to the University are asked to send a non-refundable enrollment deposit of $1,000.

Full acceptance into the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. International undergraduate students must be enrolled in at least 12 credits in order to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Non-Traditional Age Students

Non-traditional age students (age 23 and older) interested in earning their degree or taking selected courses in non-degree status should see the Hayworth College section of this Catalog.

Non-Degree students

Traditional age students (ages 18-22) who are not seeking a degree, but who wish to enroll for credit may apply for admission as non-degree students. A non-degree student who wishes to become a degree candidate must apply through the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. They must supply a transcript from all previous institutions in which they were enrolled. See Undergraduate Policies for policies on non-degree student enrollment.

Visiting students

Regularly enrolled students in good standing at other colleges and universities may apply as visiting (transient) students at Queens. Generally, a visiting student is admitted for only one term; however, visiting students may re-apply for additional terms. Application materials may be obtained from the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. Students must have an official from the parent institution submit a letter stating that the student is enrolled in the institution, is in good standing, and has permission to enroll in courses at Queens to be transferred back to the parent institution.

Accelerated Admissions

Students with superior academic records may apply for admission during their junior year in high school. They must submit transcripts, recommendations and SAT scores or ACT scores and schedule an interview with an admissions counselor. In some states, local school authorities will grant a high school diploma after a year of college work; any such agreement is the responsibility of the student and the local authorities. A student also may obtain a high school equivalency certificate by examination. For students who have made plans for graduate school or professional study, accelerated admissions is one way of shortening the time before they can begin their careers.
High School Dual Enrollment
Any student who is a junior or a senior in a Charlotte-Mecklenburg area secondary school may enroll for courses at Queens during any term when recommended by the secondary school. Credit earned under the dual-enrollment program may be used at Queens or another institution as college credit when the student enrolls as a degree candidate. A high school student who wishes to dual enroll must apply through the Undergraduate Office of Admissions.

Home Schooled Students
Students who have followed a home school curriculum must follow all guidelines for freshmen admission. Evidence that the home school program is registered with the home state is also required. Particular consideration will be given to co-curricular involvement, test scores and any writing samples the student may wish to share.

Medical History
All applicants who accept the University's offer of admission must submit a complete medical History, including a physician's certified record of immunizations prior to the start of classes. Medical forms can be obtained on the Web site at http://www.queens.edu/Admissions-and-Financial-Aid/Undergraduate-Admissions.html

Readmission
A student who has withdrawn in good academic standing and who wishes to return to Queens may apply for readmission by submitting a Readmit Application to the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. If the student has taken classes at another institution, the student should provide a Statement of Good Standing from the Dean of Students' office. In addition, original transcripts of any work attempted at other institutions must be sent to the Office of Admissions.
See Transfer Credit Policies

A student who wishes to be admitted following dismissal from the University must apply through the Readmission Committee of the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. A student who has medically withdrawn from the University must provide a letter from their attending physician describing the medical condition and providing clearance for the student to return to Queens. All readmission applicants must supply a personal statement to the Office of Admissions clearly outlining the reasons why the wish to re-enroll and how they plan to contribute in a valuable manner to the Queens community.
The Traditional Undergraduate Program

Degree Requirements

Queens University of Charlotte offers programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Science in Nursing degrees. While these programs differ from each other in significant ways, each is rooted in the tradition of the liberal arts, and each provides students with an integrated and coherent program of study including the skills, competencies and knowledge necessary for a meaningful and successful life. Accordingly, in order to earn a baccalaureate degree a student must meet the following requirements:

Minimum Hours for the degree
Students in the Traditional Undergraduate Program must earn a minimum of 122 hours for a baccalaureate degree.

Generally no more than 60 academic credit hours transferred from two year institutions may be applied to the minimum 122 hours required for graduation. However, transfer students holding an associate degree from the North Carolina Community College system may transfer up to 64 credit hours.

No more than four credit hours in physical education may be applied towards the 122 hours required for graduation.

General Education Requirements
Students are required to satisfactorily complete all General Education requirements described below.

Major Requirement
Students are required to satisfactorily complete all requirements for a major with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 in all work in the major. The major GPA is calculated using the grades of all courses specifically required for the major including any required electives. Where the major allows a student to choose from a group of courses and the student takes more than the minimum required, the course(s) in that group with the highest grade will be used in the calculation.

Minor Requirement
Students are required to complete all requirements for a minor, or a second major, with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 in all work in the minor.

Upper Level Hours Requirement
Students are required to earn at least 36 credit hours at the 300 level or above.

Minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average
Students are required to have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 in all work at Queens.

Last 30 Hours
Students must complete the last 30 hours at Queens or in a Queens approved program.

Honor Code
Students must be in good standing with the Honor Code at the time the degree is awarded.

Residency Requirements
Every student earning a first baccalaureate degree must complete at least 45 credit hours of the degree at Queens University of Charlotte. However, the residency is reduced for second degree candidates and students in the RN-to-BSN program.
RN-to-BSN Candidates
RN-to-BSN candidates must complete at Queens at least 36 of the 122 credit hours required for graduation.

Second Degree Candidates
Degree candidates who already hold an undergraduate baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution must complete at Queens at least 31 of the 122 credit hours required for graduation. For Queens’ graduates pursuing a second degree from Queens, these hours must be in addition to the hours earned for the first degree.

Residency for Graduation with Honors
Students must complete at least 60 hours at Queens to be eligible for graduation with honors.

Convocation Requirement
Students must attend all Convocations held annually.

Assessment Requirement
Students are required to participate in a program of evaluation and assessment administered by the University to assess the effectiveness of a Queens education.

General Education Requirements

Core Program in the Liberal Arts
The Queens Core Program is a three-year interdisciplinary and interactive common experience organized developmentally and devoted to helping students examine the nature and direction of their lives. Its mission is to engage all traditional undergraduates in a shared experience of thinking critically about perennial human concerns and their diverse cultural and historical expressions, thereby educating students so that they may lead noble lives, pursue productive careers, and become responsibly active citizens in a global context. It relies especially on the opportunities for experiential learning afforded by Queens’ location in a large city.

All full-time students in the traditional undergraduate program must successfully complete the four courses in the Core program in the liberal arts: Core 112, 122, 222 and 412.

Freshmen
Students who enter Queens as freshmen take Core 112 in the fall semester and Core 122 in the spring semester. Sophomores take Core 222 in either the fall or the spring semester. There are no Core program courses in the third, or junior, year. Seniors take Core 412 in either the fall or spring semester. The Core courses should be taken in sequence and must always be taken for a letter grade.

Transfer Students
When a student transfers to Queens the Registrar determines the student's class status. Full-time students are required to begin the Core Program sequence at the point appropriate for their class status. The Registrar will also determine whether the student has transferred acceptable substitutes for any Core requirements. Students who lack acceptable substitutes may either take the Core Program course(s) lacking, or the appropriate course substitution(s).
(See Core Program Regulations)

Part-Time Students
Part-time students are encouraged but not required to participate in the Core program. Should part-time students elect not to complete the courses in the Core sequence, they must complete approved Core program substitutions. (See Core Program – Substitutions) A student whose status changes from part-time to full-time must begin the Core Program sequence at the point appropriate to his or her class status at that time.
Writing Proficiency Requirement
A student must successfully complete ENGL 110 and ENGL 120 in order to graduate.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirement
All students must successfully complete one writing-intensive course in their major. Where several courses have been identified, students must take one, but may take others if they desire.

Mathematics Proficiency Requirement
Upon entry into the traditional undergraduate program all students must demonstrate proficiency in college level mathematics. Typically, proficiency is established by successfully completing one 3-credit mathematics course at the 100-level or above.

Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement
All students whose native language is English must demonstrate competency in a foreign language through the 102 level in order to earn the bachelor's degree. Competency may be demonstrated through a placement examination administered by the foreign language department or by successfully completing a three-hour course in that language at the 102 level or above.

Natural Science Requirement
All students must successfully complete at least one laboratory-science course carrying a minimum of four credit hours. Courses that satisfy this requirement are BIOL 100, 208, 209, ENVR 101, CHEM 101/101L, CHEM 111, CHEM 102/102L, ENVR 102, ENVR 201 and PHYS 101. BIOL 120, 211 or 212 will fulfill the natural science requirement for Nursing and Music Therapy majors only.

Cultural Arts and Appreciation Requirement
All students must successfully complete three credit hours in cultural arts selected from a list of either performance/studio or appreciation courses in art, music, literature, drama and dance. Courses designated as fulfilling the cultural arts and appreciation requirement will be indicated in each semester's course schedule. The hours may be taken within the student's minor but not within the student's major. A student should check with the academic advisor about courses that meet this requirement.

Liberal Arts Elective Requirement
All students must successfully complete an additional 3 credit hour elective course in the liberal arts. This credit may not be applied to the major.

Physical Education Requirement
A student must complete two physical education courses, each carrying one credit hour. The required two hours should be completed by the end of sophomore year. Participation in varsity sports does not satisfy the physical education graduation requirement. Non-swimmers are encouraged to take PHED 151 Beginning Swimming in the fall semester of freshman year. All students are encouraged to take additional courses beyond those which are required. All physical education courses are graded on a Pass/No Record basis. A student may enroll in any number of physical education courses, but only four credits may be counted toward the 122 hours required for a bachelor's degree.

The Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences may exempt a student from the physical education requirement for medical or other appropriate reasons. Such requests should be submitted in writing, normally with a supporting recommendation from a physician or the chair of the physical education department. A student exempted from the physical education requirement must still earn 122 semester hours in order to graduate.

Minor Requirement
An undergraduate program of study must include a minor. However, students who complete a second major will not be required to complete a minor. A minor consists of a minimum number of hours and a prescribed program of courses. There are three different types of minors: Departmental, Multi-Disciplinary/Interdisciplinary, and Restricted. Some majors specify the minor that students in that major must complete. If a major does not specify a particular minor, a minor from a different area than the major must be selected. Minors must be approved by the faculty advisor for the student's major. Only one course may be used to complete both a minor requirement and another graduation requirement. See also Double Dipping Policy and List of Minors

Internship Requirement
All full-time students are required to participate in a two credit-hour preparation course (INTE 297) and four credit hour internship experience (INTE 498 and INTE 499) before graduation. Students are encouraged to complete their internship experiences with external organizations. However, if a student wishes to complete an internship at Queens, they may request approval from the Internships & Career Programs office. Students with 36 hours or more of transfer credit and students majoring in music therapy, elementary education or nursing are exempt from this requirement but are still eligible for internship credit, if desired. No more than 12 hours of internship credit (including 2 INTE 297) shall be counted towards the 122 hours required for a bachelor's degree. See also About The Internship Program

Core Program Regulations
When a student transfers to Queens as a full-time student, the Registrar will determine the student’s class status. The student will then begin the Core Program sequence at the point appropriate for that status. In addition, however, the Registrar will determine whether or not the incoming student’s transcript includes sufficient courses as measured by the list of substitutes for the Core Program courses not taken. Students who lack sufficient substitutes may either take the Core Program courses lacking or make up the past deficiencies with appropriate substitute courses.

Part-time, degree-seeking students who have not previously earned a baccalaureate degree are encouraged but not required to participate in the program. If part-time students elect not to complete the courses in the Core sequence, they must complete approved Core Program Substitutions in order to receive a bachelor’s degree. Students who change from part-time to full-time must begin the Core Program sequence at the point appropriate to class status at that time.

Substitutions for Core Courses for Transfer Students
Based on the Registrar's evaluation of any transferred credits, a transfer student who cannot complete the Core program may be allowed to substitute other courses. Also, if a student fails a 100 or 200 level Core course or is unable to complete a Core course for sound reasons beyond the student’s control, the student normally has the option of taking the course over or taking appropriate substitutes. There are no substitutions for CORE 412. The listing of Core program substitutions for 100- or 200-level Core courses follows:

CORE 100 Courses: 3 Courses (9-10 semester hours), one each from three areas:
Area One: one survey course in western or world civilization, art or literature; or an introductory religion or philosophy course.
Area Two: one survey course from the following: sociology, anthropology, macroeconomics, American history or American political science.
Area Three: one course dealing with critical thinking, e.g., laboratory science, mathematics, economics, research methods, or logic.

If a student has NO course in any of the areas listed, the student would complete three courses (one from each area) or CORE 112 and 122 OR a combination of CORE 122 and one substitute depending on the total number of credit hours transferred.

If a student has completed ONE course from one of the areas, the student would complete two additional courses (one from each of the remaining areas) OR would complete CORE 122 depending on the total number of credit hours transferred.
If a student has completed TWO courses from two areas, the student would complete one additional course from the remaining area OR take CORE 122.

Examples of Queens Courses (but not limited to the following):
Area One:  ART 215, HIST 110, HIST 111, PHIL 203, RELG 205, RELG 206
Area Two:  SOCI 203, PSYC 303, ECON 203, POLS 101, POLS 201, HIST 203, HIST 204.
Area Three: BIOL 100, CHEM 101, ENVR 101, ENVR 102, PHYS 101, PHIL 204, MATH 104, MATH 106, HIST 299, PSYC 201L with PSYC 201, ENGL 207, ECON 204.

CORE 222: One course (3 semester hours), which is “international” in scope, e.g., World Religion, Anthropology, Macroeconomics, world-focused Political Science or History or equivalents to Queens’ offerings in the International Studies major. A student takes CORE 222 OR one of the course substitutes listed depending on the total number of credit hours transferred.

Examples of Queens Courses (but not limited to the following): RELG 210, ANTH 201, ECON 203, POLS 250, POLS 299, POLS 270, HIST 291, HIST 370, HIST 364, HIST 337. See International Studies Major.

CORE 412 There are no substitutions for CORE 412.

About The Internship Program

Queens University of Charlotte places special emphasis on internships. An internship is a planned and supervised out-of-class work experience where a student uses the skills, knowledge, and theories developed in the classroom setting in a real-world professional work environment. Queens University of Charlotte pays special attention to the integration of the work experience in order to form a strong connection between theory and practice, study and work and academics and experience.

Typically during the sophomore year, prior to the internship experience, students complete a preparation course, INTE 297 The World of Work, which prepares the students for their internships. After successful completion of INTE 297, students seek out internships in coordination with the Manager of Internships.

Students are encouraged to complete their internship experiences with external organizations. However, if a student wishes to complete an internship at Queens, they may request approval from the Internships & Career Programs office. An on-campus internship may be approved for either INTE 498 or 499, but not both.

To receive academic credit for an internship, the student must enroll in INTE 498 or 499 and also submit an internship contract to the Manager of Internships.

- Students majoring in education, music therapy and nursing will fulfill the internship requirement (INTE 297, INTE 498 and INTE 499) through practicum experiences in their major.
- A Professional Golf Management internship may fulfill the internship requirement if the student first registers for INTE 498 or 499 and also submits an internship contract to the Manager of Internships.
- Participation in a 4 credit hour international internship will also satisfy the internship requirement.

INTE 297 is a graded course, while INTE 498 and 499 are taken on a Pass-Fail basis. INTE 497 allows students to gain 1-6 credit hours of additional internship experience beyond the INTE 498 and INTE 499 courses. INTE 497 is graded Pass-Fail.
Programs for Academic Enrichment

The Honors Program

The Queens Honors Program provides a high degree of freedom for academically talented and motivated students. It is open to all students regardless of the major program of study and provides qualified students with an opportunity to work at an advanced level on topics of interest in seminars and in individually guided studies with faculty, leading ultimately to an Honors Thesis or Project completed under the direction of a faculty member.

The work in honors courses is designed to challenge gifted students and help them improve their critical thinking skills, their research methods, and their ability to argue a claim persuasively. This enriching experience is also excellent preparation for further study at the graduate level. The Honors experience begins with interdisciplinary seminars in the freshman and sophomore years, followed by a group seminar/workshop on planning an honors project and then by the Honors project itself. Usually begun in the junior year, the Honors project is an opportunity for students to pursue a question or topic more deeply than otherwise possible in a normal four year curriculum. The topic may be in the student’s major area or in some other area of special interest. Each Honors student chooses a faculty mentor to venture beyond the confines of a standardized curriculum.

The final step is for the Honors student to share what was learned by giving back to a community (campus, civic or academic), and is often the most rewarding element of the program. This could involve publishing work in a peer-reviewed journal, presenting at a regional or national conference, displaying works of art in a gallery show, or reading poetry in a campus or Charlotte venue. Upon completion of the Honors Program requirements, the words "With Honors" are added to the diploma.

Admission to the Honors Program

A limited number of incoming students are invited each year to experience honors level work by enrolling in HONR 110 – History’s Mysteries. Any student who has a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.25 after any semester, including the first, can join the Honors Program by simply enrolling in one of the Honors Seminars (HONR 210, HONR 220). To remain in the program, students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.25 for courses taken at Queens. Students with grades of Incomplete and transfer students in their first semester at Queens are ineligible to participate in honors classes unless granted special permission from their advisor and the Honors Director.

Retention in the Honors Program

A student in the Honors Program must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours and maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. If a student drops below the required cumulative 3.25 GPA after registering for an Honors course, the Registrar will drop the student from the Honors course at the beginning of the term.

Requirements

The requirements for completion of the Honors Program and graduation with honors thesis are:

Completion of any three (3) honors seminars (a total of 9 credit hours) chosen from
- HONR 110 Freshman Honors Seminar,
- HONR 210 Honors Seminar,
- HONR 220 Honors Conversations

Plus
- HONR 310 Intro to Honors Project (2 credit hours)
- HONR 320 Honors Project (2 credit hours)
- HONR 410 Honors Project (2 credit hours)
- HONR 420 Honors Service (1 credit hour)
The John Belk International Program

The John Belk International Program, administered by the Center for International Education, offers students the chance to broaden their global perspective, experience another culture, and discover another part of the world. All full-time students in the Traditional Undergraduate Program who are in good standing with the University, have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.000 and have third-year status are eligible to participate in the John Belk International Program.

The John Belk International Program covers the major expenses for most program options for students who meet eligibility requirements. Juniors who have been fulltime students in the Traditional Undergraduate Program at Queens for fewer than four semesters at the time of the program may participate fully by paying a prorated supplement. Others - part-time students, Hayworth College students, and students who wish to have a JBIP experience before they are eligible to do so, or those that wish to have multiple JBIP experiences - may participate at their own expense on a space-available basis.

Each spring rising juniors identify the programs that best fit their interests and academic needs and apply for their programs. The Center for International Education provides four options for students to see the world:

- Short Term Faculty-Led Programs: These courses, led by Queens faculty, generally last two to three weeks. Some are “traditional JBIP” programs which begin with a semester-long preparation class on-campus to learn about the location they will visit. Others are curricularly-integrated courses where most instruction is done while abroad. A variety of options are available each year.
- Semester or Year Long Programs: Queens is a partner of International Student Exchange Programs (ISEP) and has several other exchange partnerships, allowing Queens students to study for a semester or year in over 50 countries around the world.
- International Internships: The Center for International Education has internship options available around the world and can work with students interested in creating their own international internship. These internships can fulfill Queens’ internship requirement.
- Language Immersion: Students who have taken the equivalent of four semesters of foreign language classes may participate in a language immersion for four weeks in a variety of locations around the world. Language immersion options are also available for semester long programs.

Each spring, rising juniors identify the programs that best fit their interests and academic needs and apply for their programs. Many programs are competitive for space. Students normally participate following completion of the spring semester of their junior year.

Requirements and Qualifications for JBIP Programs

At the time of application all applicants must:

- be sophomores in no less than their fourth regular semester of University study or be on track to have Junior standing at the time of participation;
- have a minimum of 52 earned hours at the beginning of the Fall Term or a minimum of 65 earned hours by the end of the Fall Term;
- have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.000;
- be in good standing with the University.

In order to participate in the John Belk International Program all applicants must also:

- have a minimum of 52 earned hours at the beginning of the Fall Term or a minimum of 65 earned hours by the end of the Fall Term of the year of participation;
- maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.000 through the term immediately preceding their experience abroad;
- successfully complete the semester's work immediately prior to the program, including the required JBIP 210 “Preparation Course” for traditional JBIP study tour participants;
- remain currently enrolled students at Queens;
- remain in good standing with the Honor Code;
• remain in good financial standing with the University; and
• agree to abide by all University rules and regulations governing the John Belk International Program.

Queens’ policy is that students in traditional undergraduate programs are not normally eligible to participate in a JBIP Short Term Faculty-Led Program until the end of their junior year. The only exception is for students who participate in winter term faculty-led programs during their junior year, or students who participate at their own expense if space is available.

Students in traditional JBIP short-term faculty-led courses must enroll in JBIP 210 Study Tour Preparation Course (2 credit hours) the semester before their short term program and earn a grade of C- or better. Any student who earns a grade below a C- will not be eligible for the short term program. Students will enroll in JBIP 220 Study Tour (2-3 credit hours) for the term of their program.

Important JBIP Notes:
• Any requests for exceptions to JBIP policies must be directed to the Director of the Center for International Education. Exceptions may incur additional fees.
• All short term faculty lead programs are planned and arranged by the Center for International Education and led by Queens faculty.
• All short term programs are offered contingent upon sufficient enrollment and have a limited number of places.
• All other offerings — language immersion, semester abroad programs and international internships scholarships — are also overseen by the Center for International Education.
• The JBIP Program covers the major expenses for most program options for students who meet the eligibility requirements. There are moderate supplements for the more extensive faculty-led programs, some language immersion and international internship programs. Students participating in a semester or year abroad pay Queens comprehensive tuition, with scholarships and loans still in effect.

For more information visit the Center for International Education in McEwen 103 or the John Belk International Program Portal Site https://queens.abroadoffice.net
Pre-Professional Advising Programs

Students who wish to prepare for post-baccalaureate professional education in a number of fields are served at Queens by special faculty advisors and by the faculty in the Internships and Career Programs Office. Students are encouraged to consult the appropriate advisor in planning their course work. Such students should, in combination with an individual major, structure a program of study which is recommended as suitable preparation by the faculties and admissions committees of graduate and professional programs.

Law schools do not require or recommend specific majors. They do advise, however, that students examine a wide variety of subjects and ideas which lead to a broad understanding of the political, economic, social and cultural forces affecting our body of law and the society it orders. They also recommend that students develop the skills of logical reasoning, problem solving and effective written and oral communication. Such areas of knowledge are comprehensively addressed in the Core Program in the Liberal Arts at Queens as well as in individual majors. A Pre-Law Minor is housed in the Political Science and International Studies Department. Students interested in preparation for legal studies are encouraged to consult the pre-law advisor. Information concerning the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) is available at the Internships and Career Programs Office.

Seminaries and divinity schools do not require a specific major, but a background in religion and work experience in religious settings offer helpful preparation for study of the ministry. Study and training in communication, psychology, and sociology provide further foundational skills for range of ministerial professions. A Pre-Ministry Minor is housed in the Philosophy and Religion Department. Department faculty will work to facilitate excellent pre-professional internships for interested students. Students interested in preparation for study of the ministry are encouraged to consult the pre-ministry advisor.

Health professions schools generally do not require a specific major but do have prerequisite courses in mathematics, the natural sciences and in some cases the social sciences. Students interested in the four areas of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or other health related professions should complete a sound liberal arts program in any major while making sure that sufficient and appropriate courses that constitute pre-requisites in their area of professional interest are included.

Students who plan to apply to professional programs should consult with the faculty advisor and should check the admissions requirements for each school to which they might apply. Information about required entrance exams for professional or graduate schools such as the MCAT, DAT and GRE is available from the Internships and Career Programs Office.

Recommended courses for students in any major who wish to pursue health professional studies after graduation are listed below. These programs are not intended to meet the minor requirement for graduation, but courses may be selected within a program that will fulfill a specific minor.

PRE-MEDICAL/PRE-DENTAL PROGRAM
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 402 Genetics
CHEM 111, 111L Chemical Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemical Principles II & Lab
CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
PHYS 101 General Physics I
PHYS 102 General Physics II
ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences

In addition to the above, the following courses are recommended:
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 400 Cell Biology
BIOL 401 Comparative Physiology
CHEM 403, 403L Biochemistry I and Lab
CHEM 404, 404L Biochemistry II and Lab
MATH 121 Calculus
Total: 36 Hrs.

A pre-medical/pre-dental program of study may contain all of the requirements for the minor
Physical Sciences III: CHEM 111,111L, CHEM 112,112L, PHYS 101, 102.

PRE-OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY PROGRAM
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 313 Anatomy & Physiology I
BIOL 314 Anatomy & Physiology II
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
PHYS 101 General Physics
PHYS 102 General Physics
PSYC 201 General Psychology
PSYC 304 Abnormal Psychology
Total: 37 Hrs.

A pre-occupational therapy program of study may contain all of the requirements for the minor
Physical Sciences III: CHEM 111,111L, CHEM 112,112L, PHYS 101, 102.

PRE-PHYSICAL THERAPY PROGRAM
Prerequisites for entry to graduate physical therapy programs vary widely. Students should explore the prerequisites to PT programs that they may apply to as early as possible during their undergraduate studies.

Choose one:
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 402 Genetics
BIOL 403 Developmental Biology
Plus:
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 313 Anatomy & Physiology I
BIOL 314 Anatomy & Physiology II
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
PHYS 101 General Physics
PHYS 102 General Physics
PSYC 201 General Psychology
PSYC 304 Abnormal Psychology
PSYC 320 Developmental Psychology
Total: 44 Hrs.

A pre-physical therapy program of study may contain all of the requirements for the following minors:
Physical Sciences III: CHEM 111,111L, CHEM 112,112L, PHYS 101, 102.
Human Biology: BIOL 209, BIOL 313, BIOL 314, BIOL 402 Genetics.
PRE-VETERINARY MEDICINE PROGRAM

BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 402 Genetics
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
CHEM 401, 401L Biochemistry and Lab or Chemistry 403, 403L Biochemistry I and Lab
MATH 121 Calculus I
ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
PHYS 101 General Physics
PHYS 102 General Physics

Total: 50 Hrs.

Note: BIOL 400, Cell Biology, and BIOL 401, Comparative Physiology, are strongly recommended.

A pre-veterinary medicine program of study may contain all of the requirements for the minor

Physical Sciences III: CHEM 111,111L, CHEM 112,112L, PHYS 101, 102.

Professional Golf Management (PGM) Program

The Professional Golf Management (PGM) program is a non-credit specialty certification that students may choose in conjunction with any academic major. Simply, the PGM program is a designated series of non-credit classes, seminars and internships allowing students to enter into golf or related career fields. Students wishing to complete the PGM program must successfully pass one non-credit PGM class per semester, attend 4 out of 6 seminars per year and complete 800 hours of internships in golf or related career fields. Typically classes meet once a week for 1-2 hours. These classes are taught by PGA Professionals and meet during afternoon or evening class periods. This PGM specialty certification program does not convey academic credit and does not meet the minor requirement.

The following non-credit PGM classes are taken on a pass/no record basis:

PGM 101 Introduction to Professional Golf Management & History of Golf/Rules
PGM 102 Personal Game & Player Development
PGM 103 Golf Fitness & Mental Prep
PGM 201 Teaching Methodology/The Swing
PGM 202 Tournament Operations/Events & Rules
PGM 301 Golf Operations Management
PGM 302 Marketing & Merchandising
PGM 401 Customer Service & Employee Relations
PGM 402 Golf Management Capstone & Employment Prep

Interested students should contact the PGM Program at pgm@queens.edu for additional information or visit the program’s web site.
The School of Graduate and Continuing Studies

The School of Graduate and Continuing Studies (SGCS) provides oversight and coordination of the University’s baccalaureate and graduate programs for adult learners, including the Summer Term. On-ground classes are offered along with evening, hybrid and online classes.

The SGCS consists of the Hayworth College Admissions and Student Services, and Graduate Admissions and Student Services, and is located in Withers House, 2025 Selwyn Avenue, Charlotte NC 28274. For information, please call 704-337-2314.

Undergraduate Programs for Non-Traditional Students
Queens University of Charlotte offers baccalaureate degrees to non-traditional age students through the Hayworth College for Adult Studies. Hayworth College welcomes those who wish to begin college for the first time, complete a first or second bachelor’s degree, or to take courses for personal or professional development.

Evening Majors
Those students working during the day can complete all requirements for the following majors by taking classes offered in the evenings or on the weekends or online: Business Administration, Communication, Elementary Education, English-Creative Writing, English-Literature, Human Service Studies, Interior Design, and Psychology. In addition the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Radiologic Technology is available to the student who is already certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

For more information, please continue to Hayworth College.

Graduate Programs
Queens University of Charlotte offers masters degree programs and non-degree graduate programs. Graduate programs offered by the University include:

The College of Arts and Sciences
- Master of Fine Arts (MFA) in Creative Writing
- Master of Arts (MA) in Interior Design
- Master of Arts (MA) in Music Therapy

The McColl School of Business
- Master of Business Administration (MBA) Professional and Executive programs
- Master of Science (MS) in Executive Coaching
- Master of Science (MS) in Organization Development
- Non-Degree Program: Graduate Coaching Certificate

The Knight School of Communication
- Master of Arts (MA) in Communication - Traditional and Online Option

The Wayland H. Cato, Jr., School of Education
- Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) in Elementary Education
- Master of Education (MED) in Literacy (K-12)
- Master of Arts (MA) in Educational Leadership - Online Program
- Post Baccalaureate Teacher Licensure

The Presbyterian School of Nursing
- Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) - Traditional and Online Options
- Post Graduate Certificates in Health Systems, Clinical Nurse Leader®
- Post Masters Certificate in Nurse Educator Practices

For more information please continue to Graduate Studies.
The Pauline Lewis Hayworth College Undergraduate Program

Admission

Traditional age prospective students (age 22 or younger) should see the section of the Catalog on Admission to the Traditional Undergraduate Program.

Hayworth College for Adult Studies welcomes adult learners who wish to begin college for the first time, complete a first or second bachelor’s degree, or just take a particular course. Hayworth College requires that a prospective student provide academic transcripts from all colleges or universities previously attended. A student’s academic record will be evaluated based on cumulative high school and or college GPA and a personal statement. Standardized testing scores have been waived for adult student applicants to Hayworth College.

Prospective students are encouraged to complete an online application by visiting the web site to apply now.

Campus Visits

Students seeking information about the University are encouraged to visit the campus and the Hayworth Admissions Office. The office is open from 9am-6pm, Monday through Thursday, and 9am-4:30pm on Fridays. Appointments can be made outside of regular office hours by calling 704 337-2314 or email Hayworth@queens.edu. Prospective students are encouraged to make an appointment so that adequate time is provided to cover general admissions procedures.

Application Deadline

While there are no deadlines for application, prospective students should apply for admission as early as possible. The Admissions Office will act on an application as soon as all required information has been received.

Requirements for Admission

To be considered for admission as a degree candidate, prospective students must submit the following:

- one official high school transcript OR official evidence of a high school diploma or the equivalent
- a written statement describing your reasons for attending Queens University of Charlotte
- one official academic transcript(s) from all colleges or universities previously attended
- a completed application form and a $50 application fee
- a medical record may be required if the student will be enrolled as a full-time student.

Admission to Hayworth College does not require SAT scores. Students admitted to Hayworth College are not required to take foreign language or mathematics placement tests. A resume can be provided to demonstrate a minimum of three years work experience if college credit has never been earned or you are entering college for the first time.

International Student Admission

International students who are age 22 and younger apply through the Traditional Undergraduate Admissions Office and for those who are 23 and older, they apply to the Hayworth College Program. Both applications for admission can be found on-line at www.queens.edu. All International students must submit the following in order to be considered for admission to Queens University of Charlotte:

1. Application Fee
   a. Hayworth College applicants - $100
   b. Traditional Undergraduate Applicants – application fee waived
2. Transcripts: Secondary school transcripts in a language other than English are to be translated into English by an official at the school issuing the transcript, or by a certified translator. If transferring credit from a college or university outside the U.S., you must submit a course-by-course evaluation from World Education Services (WES) www.wes.org.

3. Standardized Test Scores:
   SAT or ACT or TOEFL is required with a minimum score of:
   a. 550 (written test)
   b. 213 (electronic test), or
   c. 79 (internet based test)
   A minimum composite score of 6.0 on the IELTS is also required. In lieu of the TOEFL, Queens will accept successful completion (level 12) of the ELS Language Centers English language program www.els.com.

4. Certificate of Finances: A certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

5. Personal Essay explaining why a student would like to attend Queens and to verify their ability to write and communicate in the English language.

Application deadlines for international students are July 1 for fall enrollment and November 1 for spring enrollment. To indicate their intent to enroll, international students who have been accepted to the University are asked to send a non-refundable enrollment deposit of $1,000.

Full acceptance into the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. International undergraduate students must be enrolled in at least 12 credits in order to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Probational Admission
Students accepted on probation must meet the requirements as outlined in their acceptance letter in order to continue enrollment at Queens.

Conditional Admission
Students who are conditionally admitted to the University must meet the requirements for full acceptance in order to continue taking courses at Queens. Conditionally admitted students are not eligible to receive financial aid until their file is complete and they are fully accepted.

Admission to Pursue a Second Baccalaureate Degree
Students who hold an undergraduate degree, either from Queens or from another accredited institution, may obtain a second baccalaureate degree from Queens, provided the major is different from that of the original degree. Such students must meet all degree requirements stipulated for transfer students except the residency requirement is reduced to 30 semester hours. Queens alumni who wish to add a second major within the same baccalaureate degree may do so by fulfilling the requirements for that major as stipulated in the catalog for the year of re-entry to Queens.

Evaluation of Transferred Credit
The Registrar will evaluate the transcripts of accepted candidates only after all college transcripts have been received and a candidate has been fully accepted. When a student enters Queens with prior academic credit from a regionally accredited institution, the Registrar evaluates those credits for transfer and determines the student’s class status. The Registrar’s evaluation of transferred credits will also determine whether or not any transferred courses are equivalent to any courses at Queens. For additional information see Prior Learning Assessment.

Non-Degree Students
A non-degree student is a student who is admitted to the University without the expectation that he or she will earn a degree. (See Undergraduate Policies for policies on non-degree student enrollment.)
Application
To apply as a non-degree student, the following materials are required:

- evidence of a high school diploma or the equivalent, or proof of most recently awarded degree
- a completed application form and a $50 application fee
- any additional documentation requested by the admissions office.

Transient Students
Degree candidates at another college or University taking courses at Queens by special arrangement, with the intention of transferring those courses back to their home school are considered “transient students.” Transient students must comply with all college regulations and must maintain a “C” average to continue enrollment.

To apply as a transient student, the following materials are required:

- a letter from the Registrar of the student’s home institution verifying that the student is in good standing and has permission to take courses at Queens University of Charlotte
- a completed application form and a $50 application fee.
The Pauline Lewis Hayworth College
Undergraduate Program

Degree Requirements

The degree requirements for a bachelor’s degree for students admitted to Hayworth College are different from the degree requirements for students admitted to the Traditional Undergraduate Program.

Queens University of Charlotte offers programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Science in Nursing degrees. While these programs differ from each other in significant ways, each is rooted in the tradition of the liberal arts, and each provides students with an integrated and coherent program of study including the skills, competencies and knowledge necessary for a meaningful and successful life. Accordingly, in order to earn a baccalaureate degree a student must meet the following requirements:

Minimum Hours for the degree
Students in the Hayworth College program must earn a minimum of 120 credit hours for a baccalaureate degree. Generally no more than 60 academic credit hours transferred from two year institutions may be applied to the minimum hours required for graduation. However, transfer students holding an associate degree from the North Carolina Community College system may transfer up to 64 credit hours.

General Education requirements
Students in the Hayworth College program are required to satisfactorily complete all general education requirements described below.

Major Requirement
Students are required to satisfactorily complete all requirements for a major with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 in all work in the major. The major GPA is calculated using the grades of all courses specifically required for the major including any required electives. Where the major allows a student to choose from a group of courses and the student takes more than the minimum required, the course(s) in that group with the highest grade will be used in the calculation.

Upper Level Hours Requirement
Students are required to earn at least 36 credit hours at the 300 level or above. (Credits transferred from a two-year college, regardless of the course equivalency or requirement satisfied, do not apply to the 36 credit hour requirement.)

Minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average
Students are required to have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 in all work at Queens.

Last 30 Hours
Students must complete the last 30 hours at Queens or in a Queens approved program.

Honor Code
Students must be in good standing with the Honor Code at the time the degree is awarded.

Residency Requirements
Every student earning a first baccalaureate degree must complete at least 45 credit hours of the degree at Queens University of Charlotte. However, the residency is reduced for second degree candidates and students in the RN-to-BSN program.

RN-to-BSN Candidates
RN-to-BSN candidates must complete at Queens at least 36 of the 120 credit hours required for graduation.
Second Degree Candidates
Degree candidates who already hold an undergraduate baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution must complete at Queens at least 31 of the 120 credit hours required for graduation. For Queens' graduates pursuing a second degree from Queens, these hours must be in addition to the hours earned for the first degree.

Residency for Graduation with Honors
Students must complete at least 60 hours at Queens to be eligible for graduation with honors.

Assessment Requirement
Students are required to participate in a program of evaluation and assessment administered by the University to assess the effectiveness of a Queens education.

General Education Requirements

PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENTS

Writing Proficiency
A student must enroll in and successfully complete two composition courses, ENGL110 and ENGL120, in order to graduate. These courses must be completed in the first year at Queens.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirement
All students must successfully complete one writing-intensive course in their major. Where several courses have been identified, students must take one, but may take others if they desire.

Mathematics Proficiency
A student must successfully complete one 3-credit hour college level mathematics course or place into Calculus I. A mathematics placement test is not required for Hayworth College students.

Computer Proficiency
A student must successfully complete CIS110, or test out of CIS110, or transfer comparable course credit.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Civics Requirements
A student must earn 3 credit hours from a course designated as an American Civics course. A student must earn 3 credit hours from a course designated as an International or Global issues course.

Ethics Requirement
A student must earn 3 credit hours from a course at the 300 or 400 level designated as an Ethics course.

FOUNDATION REQUIREMENTS
A minimum of 22 credit hours of foundation courses from the areas below must be earned for a bachelor’s degree in Hayworth College. A course which satisfies a personal and social responsibility requirement may not also be used to satisfy a foundation requirement. However, prerequisite courses to a major may be used to satisfy foundation requirements.

Area I: Natural Sciences
A student must earn at least seven credit hours in two approved science courses, at least one of which must be a laboratory science course carrying a minimum of four semester hours of credit.
Area II: Fine Arts
A student must earn at least three credit hours in the fine arts chosen from art or music. Studio courses will not meet the fine arts requirement.

Area III: Humanities
A student must earn at least six credit hours in humanities chosen from two of the following disciplines: History, Literature and Philosophy-Religion.

Area IV: Social and Behavioral Sciences
A student must earn at least six credit hours in the social or behavioral sciences, chosen from two of the following disciplines: Psychology, Sociology, Political Science or Macroeconomics.

ABOUT THE MAJOR PROGRAM OF STUDY
Each student must complete the requirements for a major in addition to completing the Proficiency and Foundation requirements. A Hayworth College student who is able to take the required courses during the day may apply to any major offered by the university.

Evening Majors
Requirements for the following majors are offered in the evenings or on the weekends or online for the convenience of the student who prefers non-traditional class times:

- Business Administration Major (BBA)
- Communication Major
- Elementary Education Major
- English-Creative Writing Major
- English-Literature Major
- Human Service Studies Major
- Interior Design Major
- Psychology Major

In addition the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Radiologic Technology is available through the Blair College of Health to the student who is already certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Admission to the Major
Application and admission to some major is required. See Declaration of a Major and Admission to the Major.

MINORS
A minor consists of a minimum number of hours and a prescribed program of courses described in detail under the discipline offering the minor. A minor is not required for students in the Hayworth College program, however, an undergraduate program of study may include one or more minors. Unless the major requires that a particular minor be completed, a minor from a different area than the major must be selected.

The following minors may be completed taking courses in the evenings, on weekends, or online:

- Business Administration Minor
- Creative Writing Minor
- English Minor
- Health Sciences Minor
- Human Service Studies Minor
- Interior Design Minor
- Organizational Communication Minor
Elective Courses
In consultation with the advisor a student chooses elective courses to complete the number of hours required for graduation. Electives offer the student the opportunity to augment the major field of study with collateral areas of knowledge or to explore areas or skills quite distinct from the major.

The Honor Code

The Honor Code of Queens University of Charlotte is at the heart of our commitment to integrity and academic freedom. The Honor Code is binding on all members of the University community and applies to all phases of life at the University. Queens students are responsible for their personal conduct at all times and shall be subject to discipline, including possible suspension, for behavior that discredits themselves or the University. As a commitment to this system of honor, students are asked to sign the Honor Code as part of their application for admission. The Honor Code incorporates two different pledges of student conduct: the academic pledge and the community pledge. In addition, it embodies the individual's commitment to developing a community of honor, including taking action against those who violate the Honor Code: As a member of the Queens University of Charlotte community, I will endeavor to create a spirit of integrity and honor for its own sake at Queens University of Charlotte.

Academic Pledge: I pledge truthfulness and absolute honesty in the performance of all academic work.

Community Pledge: I pledge to be truthful at all times, to treat others with respect, to respect the property of others, and to adhere to University policies. Accepting both the privileges and responsibilities of living by this code of honor, I resolve to uphold this code and not to tolerate any violations of its spirit or principles.

Violations of the Honor Code
Violations of the Honor Code include, but are not limited to, cheating, lying, theft, unprofessional behavior and academic dishonesty. Two examples of the latter are plagiarism, the use of another's words or ideas without giving credit to the source, and computer misuse, including accessing, transferring or altering information without authorization.

See also The University: The Honor Code.

Honors and Awards

The Hayworth College Dean’s List is described in Undergraduate Academic Policies.

For a complete list of the University’s honor societies specific to academic fields, see The University section on Honor Associations and Awards.

Alpha Sigma Lambda
The Theta Chi chapter of the Alpha Sigma Lambda National Honor Society, the national honor society for students in continuing higher education, was installed in 1998. Alpha Sigma Lambda is dedicated to the advancement of scholarship and recognizes high scholastic achievement in an adult student's career. Students must meet the following minimum requirements to be considered for membership: have earned a minimum of 30 semester hours in Hayworth College, with at least half of these credits in courses outside the student’s major field. Members shall be elected only from the highest ten percent of those students who meet these requirements. Those selected must have a minimum GPA of 3.2.

Awards Ceremony
A major ceremony is held for Hayworth College students at the end of each academic year to honor academic excellence and service to the University. Each academic department presents an award to an outstanding graduating senior in the major. The University also recognizes those who have made the Dean’s List in the prior year, those who have received Fellowships and Scholarships, nominees to Who’s Who in American Universities and Colleges and other honors and awards.

Academic Policies

Hayworth students are responsible for all policies published in this Catalog or in other university documents published in print or online.

See also Student Rights and Responsibilities

See also Undergraduate Academic Policies.

Student Services

See Also The University: Student Services

Hayworth Student Government Association (SGA) The Hayworth College SGA, organized in 1981, is the formal means of student involvement in the operations and activities of Hayworth College. Representatives are elected each fall by the student body and serve as liaisons between students, faculty and administration. Officers of the SGA may be asked to serve on Hayworth College Judicial Committees.

Withers House The Hayworth College offices are located in Withers House and provide academic advising and amenities for students including a student lounge with WIFI; a conference room; a small computer lab; a multi-purpose room, and a break room with vending machines and a microwave.

Emergency Telephones are located in each of the parking areas and buildings on campus. These should be used by persons requesting assistance or in need of help from Campus Police.

Escorts Persons may call 704-337-2306 or come by the Campus Police Office and request an escort to or from the parking lots. This service is available 24 hours a day. Please keep in mind that it might take a few minutes to give you the assistance because of other duties or emergencies that may arise.

Pre-Professional Programs

The University also has suggested programs of study for students who wish to prepare for post-baccalaureate study in legal studies, the ministry, and medical, dental, occupational therapy, physical therapy, or veterinary medicine. The pre-law and pre-ministry programs are minors (see list above). While the medical programs of study are not intended to meet the minor requirement for graduation, courses may be selected within each program to fulfill a specific minor. See Pre-Professional Programs.

ART DEPARTMENT

The majors in Art History, Arts Leadership and Administration, Interior Design, New Media Design and Studio Art provide students with both the technical ability for expression as well as an understanding of the history of art. Art students relate to historical and contemporary cultures outside of themselves and thereby obtain a deeper understanding of their own communities. In making art, defending their work and studying the creative process, students develop critical and creative thinking and master a theoretical and practical understanding of aesthetic judgments. This could lead to productive careers in academia, museums, galleries, art dealing, art conservation, art criticism, publishing, education, new media design, interior design, broadcast design, interactive design, art and design entrepreneurship, arts and non-profit leadership and administration, arts advocacy and as independent artists.

Degree
The majors in Art History, Arts Leadership and Administration, Interior Design, New Media Design and Studio Art lead to a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with ART 216.

Evening Programs
All courses required for completion of the major in Interior Design are offered in the evenings.

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

To serve the needs of the liberal arts student, the department offers introductory work to enhance students’ understanding of biology from the ecosystem level to the molecular level. An emphasis is given to the importance of this knowledge for everyday living and decision making in a complex world. See also Pre-Professional Programs

Degrees
The Biology Department offers two majors in biology, one leading to the Bachelor of Science degree and the second leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

The major leading to the Bachelor of Science degree consists of a group of five core courses and the choice of one of three possible tracks in general biology, ecology or pre-professional studies. The general track is suited for students who wish to explore within the major, have interest in graduate school or desire to teach at the secondary level. The ecology track will allow students to focus on ecological studies, environmental issues or organismal biology. The pre-professional track is designed for students interested in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or allied health fields such as physician assistant, physical therapy or other clinically related professions.

Careers
Major study in biology provides basic preparation leading to work in research and medical laboratories, government positions, related businesses, teaching, graduate study in biology and related disciplines, and studies in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or other allied health professions.

Teacher licensure
Students majoring in biology may earn licensure to teach on the secondary level (grades 9-12). For more information see the Cato School of Education.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with BIOL 360.

Prerequisites
BIOL 208 or 209 are prerequisite to all BIOL courses numbered 300 or above.

Biology Major (BS)

Requirements: For the major in biology leading to the Bachelor of Science degree, students are required to complete 67 hours in the major, which include specified courses in math and other natural sciences.

Requirements for a major in biology leading to the BS degree are:

Core courses:
- BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
- BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
- BIOL 360 Biology Seminar
- BIOL 402 Genetics
- BIOL 470 Biological Investigation (may be repeated once)

Plus one of the following tracks

General Track
- BIOL 311 Botany
- BIOL 320 Zoology
- Plus an additional 10 hours in the major chosen from courses numbered 300 or above.
- Plus:
  - CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
  - CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
  - CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
  - CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
  - PHYS 101 General Physics I
  - PHYS 102 General Physics II
  - MATH 121 Calculus I
  - MATH 220 Calculus II
  - or ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences

Ecology Track
- BIOL 304 Ecology
- BIOL 311 Botany
- BIOL 320 Zoology
- Plus an additional 10 hours in the major chosen from courses numbered 300 or above.

Note: BIOL 330 Field Studies (recommended)
Additional courses:
- CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
- CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
- ENVR 102 Geology
- ENVR 202 Conservation Biology
- MATH 121 Calculus I
- ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
- Plus an additional 4 hours in Biology or Chemistry at the 300 level or above, Environmental Science at the 200 level or above or Physics.
THE UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM:
MAJORS AND MINORS

Health Professions Track
BIOL 304 or BIOL 311
Choose 2 of the following 4 courses
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 320 Zoology
BIOL 400 Cell Biology
BIOL 401 Comparative Physiology
Plus an additional 6 hours in the major chosen from courses numbered 300 or above.
Plus:
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
PHYS 101 General Physics I
PHYS 102 General Physics II
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II
or ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences

Biology Major (BA)

Requirements: For the major in biology leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree students are required to complete 36 hours in biology plus 15 hours in chemistry, environmental science and mathematics as specified.

Requirements for a major in Biology leading to the BA degree are:

Core courses:
BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 360 Biology Seminar
BIOL 402 Genetics
BIOL 470 Biological Investigation (may be repeated once)

General Track
BIOL 320 Zoology
BIOL 311 Botany
Plus an additional 10 hours in the major chosen from courses numbered 300 or above.

Additional courses:
CHEM 111, 111L Chem Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chem Principles II & Lab
ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
Plus one additional mathematics course

Minors

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES MINOR
BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 320 Zoology or BIOL 311 Botany
Plus one additional Biology course numbered 300 or above.
Total: 15-16 Hrs.

ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY MINOR
(Interdisciplinary minor housed in the Biology Department)
BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
BIOL 304 Ecology
ENVR 201 Physical Geography
POLS 340 Environmental Politics
Choose one:
BIOL 320 Zoology
BIOL 311 Botany
Total: 19 Hrs.
Note: This minor is not available for Biology majors.

HUMAN BIOLOGY MINOR
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
BIOL 313 Anatomy & Physiology I
BIOL 314 Anatomy & Physiology II
BIOL 402 Genetics
Total: 16 Hrs.
CHEMISTRY & ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

CHEMISTRY

The Chemistry program is designed to provide an educational experience with considerable depth in science and mathematics.

Majors
Majors are offered in chemistry and in biochemistry, both leading to the Bachelor of Science degree.

Careers
A Bachelor of Science in chemistry or biochemistry prepares students for a wide variety of careers. These careers include research, medicine, pharmacy, pharmacology, forensic science, laboratory technology, medical technology, dental technology, physical therapy and veterinary medicine.

Natural science requirement
The natural science requirement is met with CHEM 101 with 101L, or CHEM 111 with 111L.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with CHEM 305.

Biochemistry Major
Requirements: Students are required to complete 55 hours in the biochemistry major.

Course requirements for the major in biochemistry are:
Core:
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
CHEM 305, 305L Quantitative Analysis & Lab
CHEM 307, 307L Instrumental Analysis & Lab
CHEM 308, 308L Physical Chemistry & Lab
CHEM 403, 403L Advanced Biochemistry I & Lab
CHEM 404 Advanced Biochemistry II
CHEM 350 Biotechnology Techniques
CHEM 300 Research Methods
CHEM 470 Senior Project
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II

Plus choose two of the following:
BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 313 Human Anatomy & Physiology II
BIOL 322 Intro to Immunology
BIOL 400 Cell Biology
BIOL 402 Genetics
BIOL 403 Developmental Biology

Plus Physical Sciences II Minor:
PHYS 101 General Physics I
PHYS 102 General Physics II
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II

Chemistry Major
The major in Chemistry leading to the Bachelor of Science degree consists of a group of core courses covering the five areas of chemistry (organic chemistry, inorganic chemistry, analytical chemistry, physical chemistry and biochemistry) and the choice of one of two possible tracks in general chemistry or environmental chemistry. The general track is suited for students who wish to seek employment as a chemist in the public or private sector or intend to work in basic or applied research in chemistry. The environmental chemistry track is suited for students who wish to apply training and knowledge in chemistry to solving environmental problems. Both tracks prepare students for graduate studies in chemistry or in closely related fields.

Requirements: Students are required to complete 36 hours of core requirements plus either 12 hours in the Chemistry track or 17 hours in the Environmental Chemistry track for the Chemistry major.

Requirements for the major in Chemistry are:
Core:
CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
CHEM 305, 305L Quantitative Analysis & Lab
CHEM 307, 307L Instrumental Analysis & Lab
CHEM 308, 308L Physical Chemistry & Lab
CHEM 404 Advanced Biochemistry II
CHEM 350 Biotechnology Techniques
CHEM 300 Research Methods
CHEM 470 Senior Project
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II

CHEM 308, 308L Physical Chemistry I & Lab
CHEM 320 Inorganic Chemistry
CHEM 320 Research Methods
CHEM 470 Senior Project
Plus either
CHEM 401, 401L – Biochemistry & Lab or
CHEM 403, 403L – Advanced Biochemistry I & Lab

Plus one of the following tracks

Requirements for the track in General Chemistry are:
CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
CHEM 309, 309L Physical Chemistry II & Lab
BIOL 209 Principles of Biology

Requirements for the track in Physical Sciences II Concentration/Minor
PHYS 101 General Physics I & Lab
PHYS 102 General Physics II & Lab
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II

Requirements for the track in Environmental Chemistry are:
BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I OR BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
CHEM 406, 406L Environmental Chemistry & Lab
ENVR 101, 101L Environmental Science & Lab
ENVR 460 Environmental Science Seminar

Plus One of the following Courses
BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
BIOL 309 Marine Biology I
ENVR 302, 302L Soil and Water Science & Lab
CHEM 430 Topics in Chemistry

Requirements
Students are required to complete 70-73 hours in the major, including 16 hours in the required Physical Science III minor.

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

The Environmental Science offers majors and minors allow students to prepare for careers in environmentally related fields. The major in Environmental Science prepares students for laboratory or field-based careers in both the public and private sector. The major in Environmental Studies provides students the flexibility to apply basic skills and knowledge in environmental science to other areas of interest including business, communications, education, and political science. Both majors prepare students for graduate school in the natural sciences, humanities, social sciences, and law.

Environmental Science Major
This major consists of core courses in environmental science, chemistry, biology, and physics, complemented by electives in these disciplines plus political science, communication and other fields. Scientific theory is blended with technical training, especially through field laboratory exercises and research projects. Skills in critical thinking, problem solving, and effective communication culminate in a senior project.

Degree
The Environmental Science major leads to the Bachelor of Science degree.

Careers
Students graduating with this degree will be well prepared for either graduate-level study or for careers with local, state, and federal agencies like the EPA, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Geological Survey, Forest Service, environmental consulting firms, environmental law, nonprofit agencies and science and nature writing.

Natural Science Requirement
The natural science requirement is met with ENVR101, ENVR102, ENVR201, and ENVR302

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing intensive course requirement is met with ENVR 300.

Requirements
Students are required to complete 70-73 hours in the major, including 16 hours in the required Physical Science III minor.
Requirements for a major in Environmental Science are:

Core:
- ENVR 101 Environmental Science
- ENVR 102 Intro to Geology
- ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
- ENVR 300 Research Methods
- ENVR 301 Geographic Information Systems
- ENVR 460 Environmental Science Seminar
- ENVR 490 Senior Project
- MATH 121 Calculus I
- BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
- BIOL 304 Ecology
- BIOL 311 Botany
- POLS 340 Environmental Politics

Plus the Physical Sciences Minor III:
- PHYS 101, 101L General Physics I & Lab
- PHYS 102, 102L General Physics II & Lab
- CHEM 111, 111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
- CHEM 112, 112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab

Plus choose nine hours from the following:
- ENVR 201 Physical Geography
- ENVR 202 Conservation Biology
- ENVR 204 Tropical Island Systems
- ENVR 250 Topics in Environmental Science
- ENVR 302 Soil and Water Science

Plus choose two courses from the following:
- BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
- BIOL 309 Marine Biology
- BIOL 320 Zoology
- BIOL 330 Field Studies in Biology
- BIOL 402 Genetics
- CHEM 303, 303L Organic Chemistry I & Lab
- CHEM 304, 304L Organic Chemistry II & Lab
- CHEM 305, 305L Quantitative Analysis & Lab
- CHEM 307, 307L Instrument Analysis & Lab
- CHEM 308, 308L Physical Chemistry & Lab
- CHEM 403, 403L Biochemistry I & Lab
- CHEM 404, 404L Biochemistry II & Lab
- CHEM 406, 406L Environmental Chemistry & Lab
- ENVR 320 Environmental Economics
- ENVR 325 Environmental Philosophy
- ENVR 450 Independent Study
- COMM 200 Public Speaking
- ECON 203 Macroeconomics
- ECON 204 Microeconomics
- PHIL 204 Introductory Logic
- SOCI 305 Urban Sociology

Environmental Studies Major
The Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Environmental Studies provides students with a solid interdisciplinary foundation in environmental issues. The program emphasizes the interconnections between physical, biological, and social processes as they affect the environment. As such, students will develop a strong capacity for understanding the scientific basis for environmental topics, and will take courses from Political Science, Philosophy and Religion, Biology, and other departments. Skills in critical thinking, problem solving, and effective communication will culminate in a senior project.

Degree
The Environmental Studies major leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Careers
Students with an Environmental Studies degree will be well prepared for a range of careers, including those in environmental education, environmental advocacy, environmental field work, and with consulting firms and local and state government agencies. Students will also be well prepared for graduate school in the natural sciences, humanities, social sciences, and law.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with ENVR 300 Research Methods.

Requirements:
- ENVR 101 Introduction to Environmental Science
- ENVR 202 Conservation Biology
- ENST 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
- ENST 300 Research Methods
- ENST 301 Geographic Information Systems
- ENST 460 Environmental Science Seminar
- ENST 490 Senior Project
- BIOL 208 Principles of Biology
- POLS 340 Environmental Politics

Plus choose one of the following:
- ENVR 201 Physical Geography
- ENVR 302 Soil and Water Science

Plus choose two courses from the following:
- ANTH 201 Cultural Anthropology
- BIOL 304 Ecology
- BIOL 311 Botany
- BIOL 320 Zoology
- ENVR 102 Introduction to Geology
- ENVR 204 Tropical Island Systems
- SOCI 203 Principles of Sociology

Total: 43-45 credit hours

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH AND CREATIVE WRITING

The Department of English and Creative Writing offers two majors leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree: English-Literature and Creative Writing.

English-Literature and Creative Writing focus on the various ways that human beings try to understand their lives and the world through the writing of stories, poems, essays, plays, and novels. In the English-Literature major, students survey the historical development of literature, study different forms and genres, and explore ideas from critical theory and cultural studies. In Creative Writing, students advance through a sequence of workshops and seminars, as they explore different genres and develop their own individual voices as writers; the Creative Writing major culminates with a capstone course, in which each student must complete a senior portfolio and give a public reading from her or his work.

Both the English-Literature major and the Creative Writing major are designed to allow students to easily double-major (see below for details). Critics and scholars will understand literature more deeply if they try to write it, and creative writers will deepen their abilities and ambitions through a more intensive study of literature. The department also offers a number of minors, including American Literature, British Literature, and Creative Writing.

Because the abilities to read critically, synthesize information, and write well are valued skills in many professions, Literature and Creative Writing prepare students for a broad range of careers, including professional writing, secondary education, law, and arts administration. Students can also go on to graduate study in Literature or to careers in the academic world.

The English Department also houses the university’s nationally ranked Low-Residency MFA Program in Creative Writing. Through the MFA program, undergraduate students regularly have opportunities to attend readings and presentations by award-winning and acclaimed authors—including recipients of the National Book Critics Circle Award and nominees for the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award—and by literary professionals, including literary agents and editors from Tin House; The Gettysburg Review; The New Yorker; Farrar, Straus, and Giroux; Riverhead Books; and other magazines and presses.

In addition, the department sponsors other readings with visiting writers and with Queens faculty and students. Creative Writing and Literature students also edit and staff the university literary magazine, Signet, and are eligible for membership in Sigma Tau Delta, the international English honor society.

Evening Majors
Requirements for the English-Literature Major and the Creative Writing major may be completed taking courses only in the evening, weekend or online.

Teacher Licensure
A student who majors in English-Literature may obtain a teaching license at the secondary level within the baccalaureate program. See the Cato School of Education for more information.

Double Majors

Double Majors in English-Literature and Creative Writing
Students wishing to double-major in English-Literature and Creative Writing must take three additional 300 or 400 level courses, at least two of which must be in literature, to satisfy requirements for the two majors.

Double Majoring in Creative Writing and Arts Leadership & Administration
Creative Writing students interested in careers in arts administration can easily double-major in Creative Writing and in Arts Leadership & Administration. Double majors in Creative Writing and in Arts Leadership & Administration must complete all requirements for the Creative Writing major including ENGL 319, and one additional 300-level course in Creative Writing or Literature, as well as completing the following Arts Leadership & Administration major requirements:

- ART 250 Intro to Arts Leadership & Administration
- ART 350 Arts in the World
- BUSN 207 Financial Accounting
- BUSN 303 Introduction to Entrepreneurship or BUSN 403 Innovation & Creativity
- BUSN 333 Principles of Management
- BUSN 340 Principles of Marketing
- IDST 201 Arts in Action
- IDST 301 Arts Development
- IDST 305 Leadership
- IDST 498 Professional Internship I
Students interested in this double major should carefully review all requirements for the Arts Leadership & Administration major as found under the Art Department.

Double Majoring in English-Literature and Arts Leadership & Administration

English-Literature majors interested in careers in arts administration can also double-major in Arts Leadership & Administration, but they must also complete an additional 9 hours in one of the arts tracks (including, among other options, “Writing and Publishing”) in the Art Leadership major.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirement

For Creative Writing and English-Literature majors the writing-intensive course requirement is met with ENGL 205 Introduction to Literary Studies.

Course Prerequisites

ENGL 110 and 120 (or the equivalent) are prerequisite to all other courses in the Department of English and Creative Writing. Creative Writing and English-Literature majors are encouraged to take ENGL 205 Introduction to Literary Studies as soon as possible after declaring their major.

First Year Writing

As the center of writing instruction on campus, the English Department also houses the First Year Writing Program. Because writing well is essential for any major, all Queens undergraduates must complete ENGL 110 and ENGL 120 as part of their general education requirements. The First Year Writing Program aims to introduce students to college-level writing by focusing on analysis in English 110 and argument in English 120, with both courses including conducting and evaluating research and providing appropriate documentation of sources. In both courses, students complete formal assignments in a process that emphasizes revision, using workshops and conferences to gather feedback.

Creative Writing Major

Core Requirements:

- ENGL 205 Intro to Literary Studies
- ENGL 206 Intro to Creative Writing
- ENGL 210 British Literature to 1660
- ENGL 220 British Literature 1660 to Present
- ENGL 230 American Literature 1620-1865
- ENGL 240 American Literature 1865-Present
- ENGL 311 Seminar in Creative Writing
- ENGL 420 Creative Writing Capstone

Plus two of the following:

- ENGL 307 Writing of Creative Nonfiction
- ENGL 308 Writing of Poetry
- ENGL 310 Writing of Fiction

Plus one of the following:

- ENGL 344 Advanced Workshop in Poetry
- ENGL 347 Advanced Workshop in Prose

Plus a minimum of two from the following period courses:

- ENGL 309 Chaucer & Medieval Literature
- ENGL 313 Shakespeare
- ENGL 318 The 17th Century
- ENGL 322 19th Century British Literature
- ENGL 324 19th Century American Literature
- ENGL 329 Literature of Modernism

Plus a minimum of one from the following special area courses:

- ENGL 300 World Literature
- ENGL 319 Literary Publishing/Editing: Signet
- ENGL 320 Linguistics
- ENGL 325 The Novel
- ENGL 332 African American Literature
- ENGL 333 Southern Literature
- ENGL 335 Women Writers
- ENGL 336 Tragedy
- ENGL 337 Comedy
- ENGL 350 Contemporary Literature
- ENGL 351 Literature and Film
- ENGL 460 Studies in Literature & Criticism
English-Literature Major

Core Requirements:
ENGL 205 Introduction to Literary Studies
ENGL 210 British Literature to 1660
ENGL 220 British Literature 1660 to Present
ENGL 230 American Literature 1620-1865
ENGL 240 American Literature 1865-Present
ENGL 460 Literary Criticism

Choose a minimum of one of the following World courses:
ENGL 300 World Literature
ENGL 303 World Drama: Ancient to Renaissance
ENGL 304 World Drama: Renaissance to Modern
ENGL 335 Women Writers
ENGL 355 Special Studies (with a world focus)

Choose a minimum of two of the following Medieval/Renaissance courses:
ENGL 309 Chaucer & Medieval Literature
ENGL 313 Shakespeare
ENGL 318 The 17th Century

Choose a minimum of one of the following 19th century courses:
ENGL 322 19th Century British Literature
ENGL 324 19th Century American Literature
ENGL 355 Special Studies (with a 19th century focus)

Choose a minimum of one of the following Modern courses:
ENGL 329 Literature of Modernism
ENGL 332 African American Literature
ENGL 333 Southern Literature
ENGL 350 Contemporary Literature
ENGL 355 Special Studies (with a modern focus)

Choose a minimum of one of the following Genre courses:
ENGL 311 Seminar in Creative Writing
ENGL 320 Linguistics
ENGL 325 The Novel
ENGL 336 Tragedy
ENGL 337 Comedy
ENGL 351 Literature and Film

Minors

AMERICAN LITERATURE MINOR
ENGL 230 American Literature 1620-1865
ENGL 240 American Literature 1865-Present
ENGL 324 19th Century American Literature
ENGL 333 Southern Literature
ENGL 332 African American Literature
Total: 15 Hrs.

BRITISH LITERATURE MINOR
ENGL 210 British Literature to 1660
ENGL 220 British Literature 1660 to Present
Plus three courses from:
ENGL 309 Chaucer and Medieval Literature
ENGL 313 Shakespeare
ENGL 318 The 17th Century
ENGL 322 19th Century British Literature
Total: 15 Hrs.

CREATIVE WRITING MINOR
ENGL 206 Introduction to Creative Writing
Plus two of the following courses:
ENGL 307 Writing of Creative Nonfiction
ENGL 308 Writing of Poetry
ENGL 310 Writing of Fiction
Plus one of the following courses:
ENGL 344 Advanced Workshop in Poetry
ENGL 347 Advanced Workshop in Prose
Plus three literature courses, at least two of which must be 300 level or above.
Total: 21 Hrs.

ENGLISH MINOR
ENGL 205 Introduction to Literary Studies
Plus choose one of the following (3 hours)
ENGL 210 British Literature to 1660
ENGL 220 British Literature 1660 to the Present
Plus choose one of the following: (3 hours)
ENGL 230 American Literature 1620 to 1865
ENGL 240 American Literature 1865 to Present
Plus 12 additional hours in Literature or Writing.
These courses must be 300-400 level.
TOTAL: 21 Hrs.
Certificate Program

Certificate in Creative Writing
The Department of English and Creative Writing also offers a certificate in Creative Writing for non-degree candidates seeking to develop knowledge and skills in one or more of the creative writing genres: fiction, poetry, and creative nonfiction.

Admission to the Certificate Program
Individuals interested in obtaining a Certificate in Creative Writing should contact the School of Graduate and Continuing Studies at 704-337-2314.

Admission Requirements
To be considered for admission as a non-degree student in the certificate program, an applicant must:
1. Hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution or meet the requirements for admission to a Queens undergraduate program.
2. Submit a completed application form, including the application fee.
3. Submit official transcript(s) of all post-secondary academic course work.

Certificate Requirements
The following courses are required for the certificate:
ENGL 206 Introduction to Creative Writing
Plus two of the following courses:
ENGL 307 Writing of Creative Nonfiction
ENGL 308 Writing of Poetry
ENGL 310 Writing of Fiction
Plus one of the following courses:
ENGL 344 Advanced Workshop in Poetry
ENGL 347 Advanced Workshop in Prose
Plus three literature courses, at least two of which must be 300 level or above.

Total: 21 Hrs.

Students who have experience in creative writing beyond the introductory level may, with the permission of the Department, substitute ENGL 311- Seminar in Creative Writing for ENGL 206.

To obtain the certificate, a student must complete the seven courses with no grade below C. All courses for the certificate must be taken at Queens University of Charlotte.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

The history department offers a learning environment that features small class sizes, an award-winning faculty, a low student-faculty ratio and a caring, close-knit community of scholars. During their academic career, history students explore a multitude of human pasts. If your imagination is hearty and your sense of curiosity is strong, you can debate with the American founders, reign over a great empire with Queen Elizabeth, ride through the American West with Jesse James, fight alongside Napoleon, march with Cortez through Mexico, and witness the turmoil of war in the 20th century.

Above all, you can begin to comprehend the many ways in which the present has been inescapably shaped by the past. Through the study of history, students develop, refine and master the skills required to succeed in an ever-changing modern world. Students learn to read critically and write and communicate clearly, two skills demanded by employers in every field. Students are also encouraged to think independently, but are required to support their claims with evidence. By their senior year, students have acquired a deeper understanding of the forces that influence individuals and why diverse peoples different from themselves organized their lives in unfamiliar ways.

Careers
A major in History is an excellent general foundation for many occupations, professional careers and graduate study. Our graduates have found employment in the business world as communication and human resource specialists; in banking and finance as accountants, sales representatives, marketing analysts and researchers; in logistics as operations specialists, managers and researchers; in public service as lawyers, policy analysts and foreign service agents; in education as teachers both domestically and abroad; in publishing as editors and acquisitions specialists; and as researchers and librarians in museums, libraries and archives.

Teacher licensure
Students majoring in History may earn licensure to teach History or Social Studies on the secondary level (grades 9-12).

See the Cato School of Education for more information.
Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with HIST 311.

Degree
The major in History leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Requirements
Students are required to complete 39 hours in the major.

History Major
Requirements for the major in History are:

Choose at least two of the following:
HIST 103 United States History to 1877
HIST 104 United States History since 1877
HIST 110 Emergence of the West
HIST 111 West in the World

Plus choose at least one of the following:
HIST 107 Latin American History
HIST 108 Perspectives in Global History
HIST 113 East Asian Civilizations, 1400-Present

Plus take:
HIST 289 Seminar in US History
HIST 291 Seminar in World History
HIST 311 Research Seminar
HIST 495 Masterworks

Plus one 300-level European history elective chosen from:
HIST 329 French Revolution & Napoleon
HIST 354 Dragons & Dungeons: Medieval Britain
HIST 355 The Russian Revolution: Lenin to Stalin
HIST 356 Nazi Germany
HIST 391 Topics in World History

Plus one 300-level US history elective chosen from:
HIST 320 Invent the American Economy
HIST 324 Immigration and the Making of America
HIST 335 The American Revolution
HIST 337 Invasion of the Americas
HIST 340 African-American History
HIST 341 The Civil Rights Movement
HIST 349 The Civil War America
HIST 389 Topics in US History
HIST 392 American Women

Plus one 300-level non-US/non-European elective chosen from:
HIST 370 Youth Revolution in China
HIST 364 ¡Viva Mexico! Roots of the Mexican Nation
HIST 391 Topics in World History

Plus at least three additional 300-level history electives

MATHEMATICS & PHYSICS DEPARTMENT
The Department of Mathematics & Physics offers a variety of programs to help prepare students for a wide assortment of careers as well as for graduate studies. Each program is crafted to give students the proper balance of theoretical knowledge and concrete application required for future endeavors. The programs are further enhanced by the Queens liberal arts program and internship experience, arming the mathematics student with the tools needed for success.

Majors
The department offers the Mathematics major leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

MATHEMATICS
It is the nature of Mathematics to examine concepts from nearly all areas of thought using a uniquely abstract and deductive approach. Although mathematical investigation often involves the use of expressions which represent numbers, many of the discoveries of the discipline extend beyond the quantitative.

Careers
The Department offers courses which reflect the general nature of Mathematics. The student majoring in Mathematics can choose a program which provides preparation for teaching at the secondary school level preparation for a career in actuarial science, continuing the study of Mathematics in graduate school or pursuing the many opportunities in interdisciplinary areas such as Sociology, Psychology and Biology. In addition, a rigorous training in Mathematics or applied Mathematics is excellent intellectual training for a wide variety of careers.

Teacher licensure
Students majoring in Mathematics may prepare for licensure to teach on the secondary level (grades 9-12). See the Cato School of Education for more information.
Mathematics Major

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with MATH 401 or MATH 490.

Degree
A major in Mathematics leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Requirements
Students are required to complete at least 36 hours in the major.

The Requirements for the Mathematics major are:
Core:
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II
MATH 221 Calculus III
MATH 303 Linear Algebra
Plus completion of either the Mathematical Sciences track or the Actuarial Sciences track.

Mathematical Sciences track
MATH 320 Probability & Statistics
MATH 401 Modern Algebra I
MATH 415 Intro to Real Variable Theory
MATH 496 Senior Thesis Preparation
MATH 497 Senior Thesis
Plus three mathematics courses numbered 200-450 with at least two at or above the 300 level

Actuarial Sciences track
MATH 320 Probability & Statistics
MATH 380 Mathematical Finance
MATH 410 Mathematical Probability
MATH 420 Mathematical Statistics
MATH 490 Actuarial Science
BUSN 207 Financial Accounting
ECON 203 Macroeconomics
ECON 204 Microeconomics

Minors

ACTUARIAL SCIENCE MINOR
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II
MATH 221 Calculus III
MATH 303 Linear Algebra
MATH 320 Probability & Statistics
Total: 20 Hrs.

MATHEMATICS MINOR
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II
Plus three other mathematics courses numbered from 200 to 450 with at least two at or above the 300 level
Total: 17-18 Hrs.

MATHEMATICS-CHEMISTRY MINOR
(Interdisciplinary minor housed in the Mathematics Department)
Required for Biology B.A. major; also open to other majors
CHEM 111,111L Chemistry Principles I & Lab
CHEM 112,112L Chemistry Principles II & Lab
Choose two of the following courses:
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
MATH 111 Precalculus
MATH 121 Calculus I
MATH 220 Calculus II
Total: 14 Hrs.
MUSIC, THEATRE & DANCE DEPARTMENT

The Music, Theatre and Dance Department provides superior training for students interested in pursuing a professional music or theatre career, including preparation for such positions as performer, music therapist, technical theatre specialist, teacher, or research scholar. It also provides opportunities for persons choosing music or theatre as a minor or majoring in other fields to develop special creative abilities in an atmosphere that focuses upon the individual student's skills, needs and interests.

The Department also provides opportunities to experience a variety of live performances of superior quality by University ensembles and individual majors, as well as groups from the community and professional performing world. Through its contacts with local professional groups, arrangements can be made for music students to study any standard orchestral instrument, including those not listed specifically in course titles, and for theatre students to broaden their technical theatre or acting skills in a variety of settings.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement for Drama majors is met with Drama 200 Introduction to Dramatic Studies, for Music majors with MUSC 322 Music History and Literature II, and for Music Therapy majors with MUTH 402 Psychology of Music II as well as MUSC 322.

Double-Majoring in Music or Drama and Arts Leadership and Administration
Music and Drama students interested in careers in arts administration are encouraged to double-major in Music or Drama and in Arts Leadership & Administration.

Students who major in Music or Drama do not have to complete an arts track, but they must complete all other requirements for the Arts Leadership & Administration major as found in the Art Department section of the Catalog.

Drama Major

Degree The major in Drama leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Course Prerequisites
Two courses at the 200 level are prerequisite to all Drama courses numbered 300 or above unless special permission is obtained from the department. Drama majors should take DRAM 200 Introduction to Dramatic Studies as soon as possible after declaring their major.

Core Requirements:
DRAM 200 Introduction to Dramatic Studies
DRAM 215 Stagecraft Practicum (1-3 hrs)
DRAM 250 Beginning Acting
DRAM 253 Directing for the Theater
DRAM/ENGL 303 World Drama: Ancient to Renaissance
ENGL 313 Shakespeare
DRAM 451 Senior Project (3-6 hrs)
Plus at least 2 of the following dramatic literature & criticism courses:
DRAM 231 Film History & Criticism or DRAM 233 Television History & Criticism
DRAM/ENGL 304 World Drama: Renaissance to Modern
DRAM/ENGL 336 Tragedy or DRAM/ENGL 337 Comedy
DRAM 355 Topics in Dramatic Literature
Plus at least 2 of the following performance courses:
DRAM 350 Advanced Acting
DRAM 351 Acting for the Camera
DRAM 353 Advanced Directing for the Theater
DRAM 360 Stage Combat
Plus at least 2 of the following design courses:
DRAM 321 Lighting and Sound Design
DRAM 330 Costuming and Makeup Design
DRAM 340 Scenic Design
DRAM 356 Topics in Experiential Theater
Requirements for Music and Music Therapy Majors

Admissions Criteria
All students must demonstrate suitable proficiency on a primary instrument through a live audition prior to beginning a degree program in music in order that the faculty may consider the potential success of this academic track. All Music Therapy students will be required to pass a background check and a drug screening. These security measures are required for clinical placements.

Transfer Students
Transfer students at the junior or senior level and second degree students whose first degree was not in music will be asked to complete the Sophomore Qualifying Exam. This includes testing in the areas of music history, music theory, sight-singing and applied performance. These tests will help students identify any needs to refresh their skills in any tested area and will demonstrate sufficient preparation in their musical abilities.

Second degree or equivalency certificate students in Music Therapy who already have an undergraduate degree in music must audition for the Music faculty, and complete all of the required courses in the undergraduate Music Therapy curriculum, including the professional internship. These students are exempted from the Sophomore Qualifying Exam requirement.

Sophomore Qualifying Exam
After completing four semesters of course work, all Music and Music Therapy majors will be required to demonstrate suitable proficiency and progress in their major. This will include a review of academic progress, a jury exam which will include an oral examination as well as performance, and an assessment of theory, history and other music skill development. Students must pass this exam in order to remain in good standing in their degree program.

Major Field Exam
During the spring of the senior year, all Music and Music Therapy majors will be required to take a major field exam in music history and music theory. This exam is for assessment purposes only.

Recitals
Music and Music Therapy majors must obtain departmental approval a year in advance to schedule a half or full recital. All students preparing recitals must be approved to present their recital as a result of a recital preview no less than one month prior to the scheduled recital date. The jury for this recital preview must include the applied instructor, the department chair and one additional music faculty member.

Proficiency Requirement
All candidates for music degrees must be able to demonstrate basic piano proficiency to include scales, chords, prepared pieces, and if appropriate, accompaniment patterns and sight reading. Upon entering the degree program, those students unable to demonstrate such skills will be expected to fulfill specific piano requirements for their degree program as listed in the Catalog. Music Therapy degree candidates must also pass proficiencies in voice and guitar. All Music and Music therapy majors must enroll in class studies or applied lessons in the appropriate area(s) until proficiency has been achieved.

Ensemble Requirement
Music and Music Therapy majors are required to be enrolled in one ensemble every semester, and may elect to be enrolled in more than one ensemble per semester. Large ensembles are Chorale (MUSC 187,188), Orchestra (MUSC 179,180) and Band (MUSC 177,178); small ensembles are Chamber Singers (MUSC197,198) and Small Ensemble (MUSC 185,186) for instruments and vocalists (including Wind, Guitar, Piano, Flute, Voice and others). Ensemble requirements for each of the degree programs are listed below. Regardless of when the requirements are met, students must continue to be enrolled in one ensemble each semester. Specific requirements, additional fees, information and changes not listed below are contained in the Music Majors Handbook. Any requirements that are part of NASM guidelines will need to be followed regardless of requirements stated in a student's freshman year Catalog.

Concert attendance
All Music degree programs require 8 semesters of concert attendance, MUSC 10, 11, 20, 21, 30, 31, 40, and 41. All Music Therapy transfer students and second degree students must enroll in concert attendance every semester they are enrolled, up to eight semesters.

Certificate Program

Music Therapy Equivalency Certificate

The curriculum for the music therapy equivalency certificate meets the entry level standards of the American Music Therapy Association. All students must pass proficiency examinations in applied piano, voice, and guitar. Entering students who do not meet these standards or who do not transfer in a conducting or percussion techniques course should consider the second degree option. Upon completion of the certificate program, students will be eligible to sit for the national board certification examination in Music Therapy. The certificate may be earned only by non-degree candidates.

Admission to the Certificate Program

Individuals interested in obtaining a Music Therapy Equivalency Certificate should contact the Hayworth College Admissions Office at 704.337.2314. Direct questions about program requirements to the Music Therapy Program Director at 704.337.2570.

Admission Requirements

To be considered for admission as a non-degree student in the certificate program, an applicant must:

1. Hold a bachelor’s degree in Music from an accredited institution.
2. Transfer enough credits in the courses outlined below such that fewer than 30 credits remain to complete the certificate program. Applicants who have more than thirty remaining credits for completion of the program should instead consider entry into the second degree program in Music Therapy.
3. Submit a completed application form, including the application fee.
4. Submit official transcript(s) of all post-secondary academic course work.
5. Consent to and pass a background check and drug screen prior to admission.
THE UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM:
MAJORS AND MINORS

The requirements for completion of the music therapy equivalency certificate are as follows:

PHILOSOPHY and RELIGION DEPARTMENT

The study of philosophy and religion engages students in a rich, comprehensive and critical investigation of religious and philosophical perspectives. The major is especially strong in strengthening the critical-thinking and communication abilities of our students. A broad inquiry into patterns of thought and lives helps cultivate a depth of thought that is invaluable for a wide variety of graduate studies and careers. Queens offers a study of philosophy and religion that is both broad and deep, with classes studying thought and practice from a global perspective.

The Department offer two majors: a Philosophy major and a Religion major, as well as five minors: pre-ministry (a pre-professional program that offers the possibility of an intensive internship), ethics, peace studies and conflict resolution, philosophy, and religion.

The programs in philosophy and religion are closely linked to the Center for Ethics and Religion. Students may attend the Center’s programs with nationally and internationally known speakers. Past speakers have included Dr. Francis Collins, past director of the Human Genome Project and author of The Language of God; Dr. Cornel West, philosopher, author, professor of African-American studies and frequent speaker in the media; Dr. Patricia Churchland, professor and author who argues that ethics can be traced back to factors such as oxytocin, the bonding hormone; and Krista Tippett, author of Einstein’s God and host of American Public Radio’s “On Being.”

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with PHIL 400 or RELG 400.

Degree
The department offers two majors, in philosophy and in religion, each leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Evening Programs
All requirements for the Religion minor are available in the evening, weekends or online.
Philosophy Major
The philosophy major emphasizes an approach to thinking and understanding through both the imagination and logic. Topics such as environmental philosophy, Chinese philosophy, the philosophy of religion, and a historical understanding of thought from the classical Greeks to today are offered. Close attention is given to critical thinking, communication, and problem-solving.

Requirements
Students must complete 33 hours in the Philosophy major, of which at least 21 hours must be at 300-level or above.

Requirements for the Philosophy major:

Core courses
PHIL 203 Introduction to Philosophy
PHIL 320 Philosophy of Religion (may be taken as RELG 320)
PHIL 400 Major Thinkers and Issues (senior capstone)
RELG 204 Introductory Logic

PHIL 240 Philosophy Through Film
PHIL 349 Topics in Philosophy

Religion Major
The religion major emphasizes a critical and sympathetic study of the practices and doctrines of the world’s great religions. In keeping with Queens’ Presbyterian tradition, the importance of “thinking the faith” is recognized. Through careful study of traditions, scripture, ethics, and culture, students grow in their capacity for critical thinking, as well as their ability to communicate effectively.

Requirements
Students must complete 33 hours in the Religion major, of which at least 21 hours must be at 300-level or above.

POLITICAL SCIENCE, INTERNATIONAL STUDIES & SOCIOLOGY

DEPARTMENT

The department offers three majors leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree: International Studies, Political Science and Sociology.

International Studies Major
The major in International Studies emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach to global issues and geographical regions of the world, and encourages an appreciation of other cultures. Courses provide analytical, critical thinking, normative and linguistic development. Specialization in various areas are offered. A residency requirement allows the student to study the language and culture of their choice.

Careers
A major in International Studies provides a basis for graduate study and a foundation for careers in foreign and government service, international business, international law, private and non-profit organizations involved in international issues, public health, the Peace Corps, consulting and teaching abroad, and many other fields.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with POLS 460 Major Issues in Politics.

Requirements
Students must complete 39 hours in the International Studies major including 6 hours in a foreign language.

Requirements for the International Studies Major are:
Core (21 hrs):
HIST 202 West in the World
RELG 210 Introduction to World Religions
POLS 250 Introduction Comparative Politics or
POLS 270 Introduction to World Politics
SOCI 203 Principles of Sociology ANTH 201
Cultural Anthropology
POLS 346 International Political Economy BUSN
420 International Business
POLS 370 Research Methods in Political Science
POLS 460 Major issues in Politics

Language requirement
Six credit hours in a non-native language beyond English. For Western European languages, these six credit hours need to be at the 200-level or above. All other languages need to be at the 200-level or above. In addition to courses offered through the Foreign Languages department, this requirement may be fulfilled by taking courses at another university approved by Queens University of Charlotte or through a foreign residency that focuses upon language immersion. Completing a concentration/major in a foreign language will satisfy the language requirement.

Area study
Every student will complete a contract identifying an individualized area of focus, with the assistance of the International Studies program advisor. The area of focus will consist of a coherent combination of coursework equivalent to a minimum of 12 credit hours, and should be integrated with the student’s language study, and overseas residency. Students must demonstrate a rationale for combining the courses selected, as well as specific and realistic plans if a student intends to study a language not routinely offered by Queens, or seeks to complete a residency in an unusual location. Ideally, the area of focus will be negotiated after the core requirements are satisfied. Courses must be drawn from at least two departments – including both the humanities and the social sciences.

Residency
A student majoring in International Studies fulfills a residency requirement in a location appropriate to their chosen program of study. This residency should consist of a summer or semester abroad, and may include an international internship or a language immersion program through JBIP. The program coordinator assists majors in planning for the residency and must approve all proposed residency programs. Further, the program coordinator will consult with the student during the residency, and in conjunction with the Registrar, will determine the academic credit to be transferred or awarded for the residency when the student returns. Academic credit earned in a foreign residency program may be used to satisfy other requirements in the major. Students currently resident in a country other than the U.S. are not required to fulfill a residency requirement, nor are student veterans that have served an overseas deployment.
Political Science Major
The major in Political Science emphasizes the empirical, analytical, comparative and normative investigation of contemporary political issues facing the United States and the global community. Attention is given to critical thinking, problem-solving, research and writing skills. Introductory courses present basic ideas, issues and concepts of Political Science. Upper-level courses provide in-depth investigation of introductory material and focus on specialized areas.

Careers
A major in Political Science provides a basis for graduate study in all the subfields of the discipline and a foundation for careers in government, politics, law, journalism, education, business or any of the many areas in which a liberal arts background is desirable.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with POLS 460 Major Issues in Politics.

Requirements
- Students must complete 39 hours in the Political Science major
- Students must have at least 24 hours of courses at the 300-level or above, from the courses listed below, to complete the major.
- Courses CANNOT be counted towards TWO different elective groups nor can they be counted towards both an elective group and the major core.

Sociology Major
Sociology is the systematic analysis of social behavior. Sociologists seek to understand social and cultural processes such as cohesion, conflict, and change by studying human interactions and social institutions. Sociology students learn to use empirical evidence, public policy, and social theory to address social issues and practices that challenge our society.

Careers
A major in Sociology provides a basis for graduate study in the areas of sociology, social work, law, and counseling, as well as a foundation for careers in social services, business, and government. The analytical skills acquired in the major prepare students for applied research and program evaluation careers.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing intensive course requirement is met with SOCI 307 and SOCI 307L.

Degree
A major in Sociology leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

The Psychology Department offers a major in Psychology.

Psychology Major
Psychology emphasizes the development of an understanding of factors important in determining behavior. Introductory courses present basic psychological principles; upper-level courses provide opportunities for further work in areas of special interest. Independent study allows the student to design and carry out original research. Internships in community settings enable the student to make practical application of psychological principles.

Evening Programs
All courses required for completion of the major in Psychology are offered in the evenings or on the weekend or online. Some requirements may be offered only in a summer term. The Psychology major is also offered during the day.

Careers
A major in Psychology provides a basis for graduate study in areas of psychology, education, social sciences, social work and law as well as a foundation for careers in personnel, social work, mental health, health care and similar areas.

Writing-intensive course requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with PSYC 306.

WORLD LANGUAGES DEPARTMENT

The Department of World Languages offers three majors leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree: a Spanish major, a French major, and Two Languages - the option to major in two languages.

Teacher Licensure
Students majoring in Foreign Language-French or Foreign Language-Spanish may earn licensure to teach K-12. See the Cato School of Education for more information.

Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement may be met with one course chosen from FREN 310, FREN 320, SPAN 315, 325 or 415. Substitutions for these courses may be made with department approval.

German
Non-major courses in German are also offered.

Language
Non-major courses in languages other than French, German and Spanish are also offered depending upon student interest.

French Major
Requirements for a major in French
Thirty credit hours of courses in French above the 100-level as approved by the major advisor are required. Core requirements: FREN 362 or 363, and one writing intensive class.

The University-wide requirement of an internship may be in an environment related to French and may contribute up to six credits toward the major. Fulfillment of the internship requirement may be achieved either in a foreign placement or in an approved local placement.

It is strongly recommended that at least six hours of credit be earned in foreign residency through participation in an international experience immersion program, foreign internship or other approved foreign study program.

Spanish Major
Requirements for a major in Spanish
Thirty credit hours of courses in Spanish above the 100-level as approved by the major advisor are required. Core requirements: SPAN 362, at least one literature class, and one writing intensive class. In addition, students should take no more than two 200-level classes.

The University-wide requirement of an internship may be in an environment related to Spanish and may contribute up to six credits toward the major. Fulfillment of the internship requirement may be achieved either in a foreign placement or in an approved local placement.

It is strongly recommended that at least six hours of credit be earned in foreign residency through participation in an international experience immersion program, foreign internship or other approved foreign study program.

CATO SCHOOL of EDUCATION

Teacher Education
At Queens University of Charlotte, the education of teachers is the joint responsibility of the faculty of the content area departments and the faculty of the Cato School of Education. The Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education’s objectives state that the education of teachers is threefold: they receive liberal education, they pursue their teaching specialties in-depth and they acquire the necessary professional knowledge and skills needed in teaching. Objectives for each area of licensure are listed in the Teacher Education Handbook, available in the Cato School of Education. Students may obtain a teaching license at the elementary or secondary level within a baccalaureate program.

Licensure Areas: Elementary Education K-6; Secondary 9-12 in Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics, Social Studies; K-12 in French and Spanish

CATO SCHOOL OF EDUCATION’S CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK: INDEPENDENT LEARNER
The goal of Queens University of Charlotte’s teacher preparation program is to ensure candidates demonstrate the characteristics of a Queens graduate. Thus, the conceptual framework of the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education is fully aligned with the University’s mission to nurture intellectual curiosity, promote global understanding, encourage ethical living and prepare individuals for purposeful and fulfilling lives.

Our conceptual framework reflects a social constructivist view of learning. This is often conceptualized as a spiral in which learners continuously reflect on their experiences and develop increasingly stronger abilities to integrate new information at more complex levels. We believe that the education of teachers is multifaceted and should reflect the social context of learning as individuals create meaning through their interactions with each other and with the environment in which they live.

North Carolina Teacher Licensure
Obtaining a North Carolina Class A initial teaching license is possible through programs in Elementary Education (K-6); content areas in French and Spanish (grades K-12); and content areas in Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics and Social Studies (grades 9-12). All programs are approved by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), allowing the possibility of licensure reciprocity with other states.

• Students pursuing licensure in Elementary Education (K-6) should major in Elementary Education and can obtain licensure by completing all additional requirements.
• Students pursuing licensure in French or Spanish (K-12) should major in French and/or Spanish and can obtain licensure by completing all additional requirements.
• Students pursuing Secondary Licensure (9-12) must complete the appropriate major and can obtain licensure by completing a minor in secondary education and all additional requirements.

Field Experiences
In conjunction with course requirements, the program requires field experiences in a variety of grade levels in CMS in diverse K-6 settings. Field experiences related to methods courses will be arranged with the course instructor. Each candidate is responsible for completing the field hours required in the methods courses.

Each field experience placement consists of opportunities for candidates to:
• Observe students and teachers in a learning environment
• Assist teachers with professional responsibilities
• Provide direct teaching and management experience in one-on-one, small group and whole class settings
TRANSITION POINTS IN THE TEACHER LICENSURE PROGRAM

Application to the Teacher Education Program
Students must apply to the Cato School of Education for admission to the Teacher Education Program prior to completing five education courses for the Elementary Education Program or two education courses for the Secondary Education Program. A student will be applying to either the Elementary Education major or to another Education program.

Requirements for TEP admission:
- completed TEP application and essay
- positive Disposition Assessments by two Queens faculty members
- completed Disposition Self Assessment Form
- overall grade point average of 2.500 and major grade point average of 2.75
- acceptable scores on the ACT, the SAT, or Praxis I
- registration/payment in Foliotek (5 year subscription)
- approval of the Teacher Education Committee

Retention in the Program
Retention in the program is based on the expectation that students demonstrate the characteristics and dispositions of and conduct themselves as members of the teaching profession. Students may be removed from the program upon receiving a negative Disposition Assessment from a faculty member or showing professional incompetence. A deficiency in one or more of the following areas is evidence of professional incompetence:
- knowledge of subjects taught
- ability to impart that knowledge
- grades of C or better in all education courses
- the manner and efficacy of discipline in the classroom
- rapport with students, as well as parents, faculty, administration and staff
- physical and mental ability to perform the essential functions of a teacher
- positive Disposition Assessments from faculty members

Professional incompetence or negative Disposition Assessments are grounds for program dismissal and failure to recommend for licensure.

Application for Student Teaching
Students must apply for student teaching in the term preceding their planned student teaching semester (EDUC499). All course work required for the Education major must be completed before the student teaching semester. (Major and minor course work must be completed for Secondary students.)

Requirements for Student Teaching:
- Student Teaching Application and essays
- cumulative grade point average of 2.500
- grades of C or better in all education courses
- have a major grade point average of 2.75
- acceptable scores on the ACT, the SAT or Praxis I
- positive Disposition Assessments from faculty
- good standing with the University
- approval of the Teacher Education Committee

STATE-MANDATED TESTS

Elementary Education
To be licensed in North Carolina, candidates must pass the Elementary Education specialty area of the PRAXIS II Examination. Information and registration bulletins are available in the Cato School of Education. Currently in North Carolina, the required test for elementary education is:
Elementary Education: Curriculum, Instructional Practices and Applications (Test Code 0015 or 5015)
Technology Portfolio (Elementary and Secondary Licensure)
To meet Queens licensure requirements, candidates must demonstrate computer competencies through portfolios. Information about the portfolio is distributed in EDUC 270 Educational Technology. This is required for initial licensure only.

The McColl School of Business

The McColl School of Business educates students to become successful business and professional leaders who are competent, understand the importance of character, and are committed to their communities. The McColl School seeks to prepare individuals for careers by providing high quality, innovative undergraduate and graduate business education which provides students the opportunity to develop business and management abilities.

The McColl School offers a comprehensive set of educational programs and enrichment opportunities which serve as important educational resources for the Charlotte region and beyond, identifying the McColl School name with “leadership.” Organizations need leaders with integrity at all levels and that leadership can be learned. Beyond mastering basic business skills, students need to understand their own values and draw on their knowledge and values to influence people within their organizations and communities. The McColl School’s focus is on leadership when recruiting faculty, developing curricular content and structure, connecting with the business community and conveying to students the concepts of leadership in association with competence, character, and community.

The McColl School of Business offices are located in the Sykes Learning Center on the Queens campus. Applications and further information can be obtained at www.mccollschool.edu or by calling 704 337-2525. To contact the school by mail, write to The McColl School, Queens University of Charlotte, 1900 Selwyn Avenue, Charlotte, NC 28274.

Graduate Programs
The McColl School offers graduate degrees in business administration (MBA), organization development (MS) and executive coaching (MS). For more information see Graduate Studies.

Undergraduate Programs
The McColl School offers undergraduate majors in accounting, business administration, and finance leading to a Bachelor in Business Administration (BBA). The requirements for the Business Administration major are 57 credit hours. The requirements for the Accounting and Finance major are both 72 credit hours. Students may also minor in Business Administration.

Evening Baccalaureate Programs
All requirements for both the major and minor in Business Administration are offered in the evenings, weekends or online. However, specific electives may need to be taken during the day in order to complete a specific specialization. All requirements for a major in Accounting or in Finance are not offered in the evening.

ADMISSION TO THE McCOLL SCHOOL
A student must make formal application and be admitted to the McColl School in order to major in accounting, business administration or finance. The application is available on the Queens Web site at http://mccoll.queens.edu/ug, and is also available through the student’s business faculty advisor. The McColl Undergraduate Admissions Committee reviews and approves applications to the major.

Requirements for admission to the McColl School
- Cumulative grade point average of 2.0
- Prerequisite grade point average of 2.5 with no grade below C-
- All prerequisite courses completed.
- A completed application.

Accounting Major
The accounting major combines theory and practice to prepare students for analysis of, and reporting on, the economic activities of organizations and communication of that information to decision makers. Students majoring in accounting develop skills in managerial accounting, budgeting, accounting systems, internal controls, financial analysis, financial reporting, internal and external auditing, and taxation. The major also prepares students for a range of accounting careers in profit, not-for-profit, and government organizations. No minor is required with this major.

Academic Policies
Undergraduate academic policies apply to all undergraduate students whether they are degree or non-degree students.
James L. Knight School of Communication

The James L. Knight School of Communication prepares consumers and creators of communication messages to become engaged citizens, advocates and leaders in the communities they serve.

The Knight School of Communication offers two majors leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree: Communication and Journalism and Digital Media. Majors in the Knight School provide students with a solid liberal arts education, enabling them to become better consumers, critics, and creators of communication in a variety of settings.

The Knight School of Communication’s variety of minors allows students to supplement their major studies with a minor in the communication field. Students from all disciplines outside the Knight School of Communication are invited to minor in organizational communication or sports communication. All students, including communication majors, may elect to complete a minor in popular culture—an interdisciplinary minor housed in the Knight School of Communication.

Admission to the Knight School of Communication

Students wishing to major in Communication or Journalism and Digital Media must apply to the Knight School of Communication. Applications are available online and through the Knight School of Communication Dean’s office. The Knight School of Communication’s Student Qualifications Committee reviews applications to the majors and approves students for the majors.

Acceptance to the Knight School of Communication major programs requires a minimum GPA of 2.2 with no grades below C- in the foundation courses.

Evening Programs

The Knight School of Communication offers all requirements for the major in Communication in the evening, on weekends or online, including many of the elective course options. Students who can also take daytime classes will have a wider choice of electives. The minor in organizational communication can also be completed by taking classes in the evenings, on weekends or online.

Communication Major

Communication majors choose to focus their studies through courses in organizational, interpersonal, intercultural, sports, health and mass communication. Each of these areas of communication are supported by advanced coursework that combines theory and practice in a variety of distinct but interrelated communication contexts.

Innovative combinations of communication studies flourish in the communication major as students investigate the development, analysis, and critique of compositions in various media forms; the role of communication within organizations or between organizations and their publics; sports, health and business settings as both industries and sites for communication practices; and the varied roles of interpersonal, intercultural, nonverbal, and gender communication as they play out across public and private contexts. As part of the degree program, students are encouraged to pursue unique research projects that explore creative intersections across the field of communication studies.

Required Hours

The major in Communication requires the completion of at least 44 credit hours.

Journalism and Digital Media Major

The Bachelor of Arts in Journalism and Digital Media is a comprehensive curriculum that includes courses in journalism, digital media production, media studies and criticism, and studies and practices in multimedia, with a focus on community engagement.

As a multimedia program, the degree prepares students to work in a convergent media environment. Students are expected to develop strong basic writing, visualization, and analytical skills and then to become adept at writing and producing for multiple media platforms simultaneously, exhibiting the versatility necessary to succeed in a quickly evolving and growing digital media economy. The goal of the degree program is to provide a broad liberal arts education as well as developing professional skills so that graduates are able to fully exercise the civic responsibilities of journalists, media practitioners, media handlers, and media theorists for the lively functioning of democratic institutions. Students are encouraged to choose a minor emphasis in another discipline that will help them fulfill the important role of information provider in today’s global, technological and information-based society.

Required Hours
The major in Journalism and Digital Media requires the completion of at least 48 credit hours.

ANDREW BLAIR
COLLEGE of HEALTH

The Blair College of Health includes the Human Service Studies Department, the Kinesiology Department and the Presbyterian School of Nursing, and offers the following undergraduate majors:

Human Service Studies Department
- Human Service Studies (BA)

Kinesiology Department
- Allied Health (BS)
- Exercise and Sport Sciences (BS)
- Interdisciplinary Health Services (BS)
- Sport Management (BS)

Presbyterian School of Nursing
- Nursing (BSN)

HUMAN SERVICE STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The Human Service Studies Department offers a major and a minor in Human Service Studies.

The National Organization for Human Services defines Human Services as a field which seeks “to meet human needs through an interdisciplinary knowledge base, focusing on prevention as well as remediation of problems, and maintaining a commitment to improving the overall quality of life of service populations. The Human Services profession is one which promotes improved service delivery systems by addressing not only the quality of direct services, but also by seeking to improve accessibility, accountability, and coordination among professionals and agencies in service delivery.”

Students will study the social systems and conditions which affect the need for services, and gain skills in working both directly with individuals and groups, as well as advocating for policy change and social justice.

Each student enrolled in the Human Service Studies major at Queens is also required to participate in professional internships and complete a capstone project with a human services agency in the Charlotte community as approved by the major advisor. This essential component of the major will enable students to make strong connections between theory and practice as well as study and work.

Careers
A major in Human Service Studies provides the basis for graduate study in the areas of social work, counseling, school guidance, family therapy and other service related fields. Students with a bachelor’s level degree in Human Service Studies are prepared for professional and paraprofessional careers providing direct social services to clients and advocacy for clients in the areas of basic needs services, mental and physical health and applied research.

Human Service Studies Major

Evening Programs
All courses required for the Human Service Studies major and the Human Service Studies minor are available in the evening, on weekends, or online.

Degree
The major in Human Service Studies leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Requirements
A minimum of 40 credit hours are required for the degree. Requirements for the Human Service Studies major are:

Core Requirements: (28 credit hours)
- HSS 101 Introduction to Human Service Studies
- HSS 301 Writing for Human Service
- HSS 306 or SOCI 307 Social Research Methods *
- HSS 306L or SOCI 307L Social Research Methods Lab *
- HSS 318 Working with Individuals in Need
- HSS 322 Generalist Case Management
- HSS 338 Cross-Cultural Issues in Human Service Studies
- HSS 342 Ethical Issues in Human Service Studies
- HSS 400 Senior Seminar in Human Service Studies
- MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
- INTE 496 Professional Internship (3 hrs, Hayworth students only)

* PSYC 306 and 306L may be substituted for HSS 306 and 306L with permission of advisor.
THE UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM: MAJORS AND MINORS

Kinesiology Department

Kinesiology is an integrative science focusing on multi-dimensional study and application of physical activity, health and wellness, human movement, exercise, performance, and sport. The Kinesiology Department provides superior educational opportunities within a liberal arts environment.

The Kinesiology Department also offers physical education courses for undergraduates that encourage students to develop movement awareness, physical skill development, and ethical behaviors. All students are empowered to sustain consistent, lifelong physical activity as a foundation for healthy, productive, and fulfilling lives.

Physical Education Requirement

The physical education requirement may be met by successfully completing any two physical education (PHED) courses, which are graded on a pass/no record basis. Participation in varsity sports does not satisfy the physical education graduation requirement.

Careers

Students graduating with a major from the Kinesiology Department will have an array of opportunities in sports or health-related fields. Graduates may pursue graduate school, or seek careers in areas such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, cardiac and/or exercise rehabilitation, fitness and wellness, strength and conditioning, coaching, pharmacy, pharmaceutical sales, public health, health agencies or departments, sport/athletic administration, sport physiology, sport psychology, sport sociology, sport management, or sport marketing.

Majors

The Kinesiology Department offers four majors: Allied Health, Exercise and Sport Sciences, Interdisciplinary Health Services, and Sport Management.

MINORS

THE UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM:
MAJORS AND MINORS

Degree
The majors in Allied Health, Exercise and Sport Sciences, Interdisciplinary Health Services, and Sport Management all lead to a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree.

Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement may be met with HLTH 320 Introduction to Allied Health, or KINS 466 Legal Issues in Sport, or HLTH 300 Introduction to Epidemiology.

Allied Health Major (BS)
The major in Allied Health prepares students for graduate study in a variety of areas such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, or the exercise sciences, as well as for careers in related health areas. Allied Health professions are support professions that work together to assist in the delivery of health services. This undergraduate program emphasizes a comprehensive foundation in the physical sciences to assist students seeking careers in physical therapy, occupational therapy, cardiac and/or exercise rehabilitation, or other associated health occupations.

Allied Health graduates may seek leadership positions in communication, education, or research. Allied Health graduates may also pursue graduate study in areas such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, or the exercise sciences.

Degree: The major in Allied Health leads to a Bachelor of Science degree.

Requirements: Students are required to complete at least 59 hours in the major.

Requirements for the major in Allied Health are:
Core Requirements
- BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
- BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
- BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I w/ lab
- BIOL 214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II w/ lab
- CHEM 111 Chemistry Principles I
- CHEM 111L Chemistry Principles I Lab
- CHEM 112 Chemistry Principles II
- CHEM 112L Chemistry Principles II Lab
- HLTH 320 Introduction to Allied Health
- HLTH 488 Ind Study in Allied Health (1-6 hrs.)
- INTE 297, 498, & 499 Internships (in Allied Health) (6 hrs. total)

KINS 432 Exercise and Sport Physiology
or KINS 346 Fitness Training Principles & App
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
PHYS 101 General Physics
PHYS 102 General Physics II
PSYC 201 General Psychology
PSYC 320 Developmental Psychology

Plus 3 credit hours in HLTH courses chosen from:
- HLTH 300 Introduction to Epidemiology
- HLTH 328 Structure and Function

Students are encouraged to complete a minor in one of the following: Human Services Studies, Chemistry, Biological Sciences, Psychology I or II, Sociology, or Business Administration

Additional electives should be carefully selected so the student has met the university’s requirement of at least 36 credit hours at the 300-400 level.

Students wishing to pursue advanced studies must take in consideration the admission requirements of those degree granting universities. Students have the opportunity to tailor their course work to assist in satisfying admission requirements.

Exercise and Sport Sciences Major (BS)
The major in Exercise and Sport Sciences is the application of scientific principles to better understand and improve the outcomes of exercise and sport performance. The liberal arts curriculum ensures a holistic foundation for students interested in the scientific aspects of exercise and sport.

An interdisciplinary field of study, students are prepared to examine human movement from the perspective of a performer (e.g., gymnast, soccer athlete, runner, etc.), practitioner (e.g., fitness leader, exercise rehabilitation specialist, coach, etc.), and scientist. Graduates may find employment opportunities in fitness and wellness (corporate, hospital, university), cardiac rehabilitation, strength and conditioning instruction, and coaching, or may pursue further advanced study in physical therapy, sports (i.e., sport psychology, sport physiology, sport sociology), or exercise (exercise physiology).

Degree: The major in Exercise and Sport Sciences leads to a Bachelor of Science degree.

Requirements: Students are required to complete 58 hours in the major.
Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with KINS 466 Legal Issues in Sport

Exercise and Sport Sciences Major Requirements
BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I w/ lab
BIOL 214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II w/ lab
CHEM 111 Chemistry Principles I
CHEM 111L Chemistry Principles I Lab
INTE 297, 498, & 499 Internships
  (in Exercise and Sport Sciences) (6 hrs. total)
KINS 220 Found of Exercise & Sport Sciences
KINS 432 Exercise and Sport Physiology
KINS 446 Nutrition for Exercise and Sport
KINS 450 Exercise and Sport Psychology
KINS 466 Legal Issues in Sport
KINS 472 Senior Seminar in Exercise & Sport Sciences
  & Health Professions
KINS 491 Research in Exercise & Sport Sciences
KINS 492 Ind. Study in Exercise & Sport Sciences
  (1-6 hrs.)
MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
PHYS 101 General Physics
PSYC 201 General Psychology
PSYC 303 Social Psychology
  or PSYC 320 Developmental Psychology
Plus, 9 hours of KINS courses chosen from the following:
KINS 340 Sport History
KINS 346 Fitness Training Principles & App
KINS 452 Sport in Film
KINS 460 Sport Governance & Administration
KINS 470 Sport Sociology
KINS 489 Ind. Study in Exercise & Sport Sciences

Interdisciplinary Health Services Major (BS)
The major in Interdisciplinary Health Services (IHS) is an innovative program designed to prepare students for non-clinical careers in health education and promotion, health services management, and health-related research. Due to the interdisciplinary nature of the Queens IHS major, this unique program provides a comprehensive foundation in sciences, public health, the health care system, health issues, sociocultural influences on health promotion, health behavior and management, nutrition, mental health, epidemiology, legal and ethical issues.

This distinctive major provides students with the flexibility to design an individual program of study based upon interests and career goals and to complete the prerequisites needed for advanced study in medical and health-related fields. Students receive preparation for an extensive range of health care positions in a variety of settings, including public, private, for-profit and not-for-profit organizations.

Graduates may seek employment in health care organizations, health insurance, marketing and public relations, pharmaceuticals, health communication and media, community healthcare organizations, worksite wellness, research facilities, policy and government, state and county health departments, physician offices and clinics, healthcare recruiting, disability claim management, and healthcare advocacy. Many graduates continue to clinical or graduate school to study health-associated fields such as occupational therapy, speech therapy, physician assistant, pharmacy, public health, business administration and communication.

Degree: The major in Interdisciplinary Health Services leads to a Bachelor of Science degree.

Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with HLTH 300 Introduction to Epidemiology

Requirements: Students are required to complete 51-55 hours in the major.
Interdisciplinary Health Services Requirements for the Major:
BIOL 120 Microbiology for Health Professions
BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I w/ lab
BIOL 214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II w/ lab

Students are encouraged to complete a minor in one of the following: Human Services Studies, Chemistry, Biological Sciences, Psychology I or II, Sociology, or Business Administration

Additional electives should be carefully selected so the student has met the university's requirement of at least 36 credit hours at the 300-400 level.

Students wishing to pursue advanced studies must take in consideration the admission requirements of those degree granting universities. Students have the opportunity to tailor their course work to assist in satisfying admission requirements.

Sport Management Major (BS)
The major in Sport Management prepares students for a variety of exciting sport-related careers. Students learn to plan, organize, establish, lead, and appraise within an organization or sector whose primary product and/or service is connected to sport. The curriculum examines all levels of sport: youth, high school, collegiate, amateur, and professional.

Students are prepared for entry-level sport management career opportunities and further study at the graduate level. An emphasis of this Queens major is to become an effective leader positively influencing others through sport and sport-related programming. The career opportunities within sport management are essentially limitless and include, but are not limited to, athletic director, sports marketing director, private facility management, promotions coordinator, sporting goods, media relations, sales and event management. The Liberal Arts curriculum ensures a holistic foundation for students interested in the management aspects of sport.

Degree: The major in Sport Management leads to a Bachelor of Science degree.

Requirements: Students are required to complete 55 credit hours in the major.

Writing Intensive Requirement
The writing-intensive course requirement is met with KINS 466 Legal Issues in Sport.

The Presbyterian School of Nursing

The Presbyterian School of Nursing offers a major in nursing leading to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, a major in Nursing leading to the Associate of Science in Nursing degree (see ASN Program) and a Master of Science in Nursing degree (see MSN Program).

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree
The Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program provides a learning environment in which the individual can develop a personal and professional value system. The BSN curriculum is built upon a strong liberal arts foundation that includes study in the arts and sciences. At Queens, this foundation is achieved through general education courses, the Core Program for traditional undergraduate students, and foundation requirements for Hayworth student. High priority is given to academic excellence and clinical experience.

Major emphasis is placed on clinical nursing practice in combination with classroom and laboratory instruction. All graduates are prepared to practice professional nursing in a generalist role. The curriculum also prepares students for graduate studies in nursing. Pre-licensure graduates are eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

There are three options available to students: the traditional pre-licensure; accelerated pre-licensure and RN-BSN.
Traditional Pre-Licensure Option

The traditional four-year baccalaureate degree option is a full-time, upper division, pre-licensure pathway to the BSN degree. This option designed for students who may or may not have previous degrees. Following selection through a competitive admission process, students complete the upper division coursework in 4 academic semesters. All students in this option pay the Comprehensive Tuition rate.

Admission Information

Admission to Queens does not guarantee admission to the nursing major. Acceptance to the nursing major is competitive and selective. Emphasis in the admissions decision is placed on the academic history of the applicant. The intent is to offer admission to those whose academic history indicate a strong likelihood for success in the bachelor degree curriculum. Queens selects the best qualified candidates from those completing the application process and meeting the minimum admission requirements. Applicants are encouraged to complete the application process well in advance of the respective deadline. Applications that are incomplete or not received by the deadline are not reviewed.

Admission Requirements*

- Students may apply to the upper division BSN major after being fully admitted into Queens University of Charlotte through either Hayworth College or the Traditional Undergraduate Program.
- A complete application to the nursing major.
- A minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA on all previous course work and in prerequisites. ENGL 110, ENGL 120 and CHEM 101 are not factored in pre-requisite GPA calculation.
- Completion of all prerequisites with a grade of C- or higher (prior to enrollment).
- No more than two prerequisite courses may be in progress at the time of application submission.
  - Only one of the two courses in progress may be a science course.
  - All prerequisites must be completed prior to the first day of nursing classes.
- Applicants must have a minimum of 45 semester hours completed toward the degree prior to application submission.
- Upon admission students will be required to submit various items such as a physical exam, TB test, and current immunizations, as well as a satisfactory criminal background check, fingerprint check and urine drug screen. Forms and instructions will be provided.
- Students must meet all technical standards as stated in the PSON Student Handbook prior to enrollment.

*Updates and revisions to admissions requirements will be posted on the Bachelor of Science Admissions website.

Nursing Specific Policies and Procedures

Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details on the specific policies and procedures for BSN students.

Grading

Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details and grading scale. A final grade of "Unsatisfactory" in the clinical portion of any nursing course automatically results in a course grade of F.

Degree Requirements

Candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree are required to fulfill all university graduation requirements as well as the requirements for the Nursing major.

Requirements for the Nursing Major for pre-licensure students are:

Prerequisite courses to the major with credit hours:
- BIOL 120 Microbiology for Health Professions (with lab) (4)
- BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I (with lab) (4)
- BIOL 214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II (with lab) (4)
- CHEM 101 General Chemistry I (with lab) or High School Chemistry
- ENGL 110 Composition I
- ENGL 120 Composition II
- MATH 106 Introductory Statistics (3)
- NURS 205 Nutrition (3)
- PSYC 201 General Psychology (3)
- PSYC 320 Developmental Psychology (3)
- SOCI 203 Principles of Sociology (3) or ANTH 201 Cultural Anthropology (3)

Nursing major requirements for pre-licensure students:
- NURS 301 Health Assessment across the Lifespan (4)
- NURS 305 Pathophysiology (3)
- NURS 307 Concepts of Mental Health Nursing (3)
NURS 309 Pharmacological Interventions (3)
NURS 370 Concepts of Professional Nursing (3)
NURS 375 Health Informatics (3)
NURS 391 The Art & Science of Nursing I (6)
NURS 396 The Art & Science of Nursing II (6)
NURS 470 Gerontological Nursing (3)
NURS 474 Research and Evidence (3)
NURS 475 Leadership Development (3)
NURS 491 The Art & Science of Nursing III (6)
NURS 495 The Art & Science of Nursing IV (7)
NURS 496 The Art & Science of Nursing V (4)
NURS 497 The Art & Science of Nursing VI (1)
Total program nursing major requirements: 58 hrs

Accelerated Pre-Licensure Option
The Accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing (ABSN) option offers high-achieving adults who already hold a bachelor’s degree the opportunity to complete the BSN curriculum in 3 consecutive semesters, beginning in May each year. Student in the ABSN option are admitted to Queens through Hayworth College.

Admission Information
Applications are accepted for full time enrollment and with a summer admission only. The option is completed in three consecutive semesters. Emphasis in the admissions decision is placed on the academic history of the applicant. The intent is to offer admission to those whose credentials indicate a strong likelihood for success in the bachelor degree curriculum. Queens selects the best qualified candidates from those completing the application process and meeting the minimum admission requirements. Applicants are encouraged to complete the application process well in advance of the respective deadline. Generally, applications that are incomplete or not received by the deadline are not reviewed.

Admission Requirements*

- A bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university
- A minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA on all previous course work and in course prerequisites. (ENGL 110, ENGL 120, and CHEM 101 are not factored in prerequisite GPA calculations)
- Completion of all prerequisites with a grade of C- or higher (prior to enrollment).
- No more than two prerequisite courses may be in progress at the time of application
- Only one of two prerequisite courses in progress may be a science course
- Upon admission students will be required to submit various items such as a physical exam, TB test, and current immunizations, as well as a satisfactory criminal background check, fingerprint check and urine drug screen. Forms and instructions will be provided.
- Students must meet all technical standards as stated in the PSON Student Handbook prior to enrollment.

*Admission requirements are currently under review. Revisions will be posted on the Bachelor of Science Admissions website.

Nursing Specific Policies and Procedures
Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details on the specific policies and procedures for BSN students.

Grading
Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details and grading scale. A final grade of “Unsatisfactory” in the clinical portion of any nursing course automatically results in a course grade of F.

Degree Requirements
A student who has earned a bachelor’s degree from an accredited university and who has been admitted to pursue a second bachelor’s degree from Queens University of Charlotte is not required to complete the General Education requirements of Queens University of Charlotte. However, a second degree candidate must meet the university’s residency requirements and all requirements for the major leading to the second degree.

Requirements for the Nursing Major for pre-licensure students are:

Prerequisite courses to the major with credit hours:
BIOL 120 Microbiology for Health Professions (with lab) (4)
BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I (with lab) (4)

RN-BSN Option

The RN-BSN option at Queens offers a curriculum designed to facilitate career advancement while meeting the diverse learning needs of Registered Nurses who have completed an associate degree or diploma program in nursing. The length of the program will vary, depending upon prior academic preparation and individual course plans. Students in the RN-BSN option are admitted to Queens through Hayworth College and pay the Hayworth tuition rate.

Admission Information

Emphasis in the admissions decision is placed on the academic history of the applicant. The intent is to offer admission to those whose credentials indicate a strong likelihood for success in the bachelor degree curriculum. Queens selects the best qualified candidates from those completing the application process and meeting the minimum admission requirements.

Admission to the RN-BSN Option is a two-step process. The first step is to apply to Queens through the Hayworth College (see Hayworth College Admissions). Applicants may complete remaining course prerequisites and degree requirements through Hayworth College. The second step is to apply to the RN-BSN Option. Applicants may contact the Admissions Office with questions about the application process.

During enrollment, RN-BSN students are required to meet all compliance criteria, including the submission of professional liability insurance (in amounts of not less than $1,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 aggregate).

Admission Requirements*

- Admission to Queens through Hayworth College Admissions
- Completion of all prerequisites with a grade of C- or higher (prior to enrollment)
- May have no more than 4 credit hours of the prerequisite courses remaining
- Students may take up to 9 credit hours prior to earning an unrestricted RN license

*Admission requirements are currently under review. Revisions will be posted on the Bachelor of Science Admissions website.

Transfer Credit

See the Hayworth College "Evaluation of Transfer Credit" policy.

Nursing Specific Policies and Procedures

Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details on the specific policies and procedures for BSN students.

Grading

Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details and grading scale. A final grade of "Unsatisfactory" in the clinical portion of any nursing course automatically results in a course grade of F.

Degree Requirements, Including General Education Requirements

RN-BSN option candidates for the BSN degree must meet all Hayworth College degree requirements as well as the requirements for the Nursing Major. Several of the nursing prerequisites also meet Hayworth requirements. The number of courses each student is required to take is dependent on the student's previous academic achievement. For lists of courses meeting these requirements see Hayworth College General Education requirements. Depending on the number of hours transferred, electives may be needed in order to achieve the required 120 credit hours for the degree.
Requirements for the RN-BSN Option:
The RN-BSN curriculum is currently under review. Revisions will be posted on the RN-BSN website following faculty approval.

Prerequisite courses for the option with credit hours:

PSYC 320 Developmental Psychology (3)
SOCI 203 Principles of Sociology (3) or ANTH 201 Cultural Anthropology (3)

Nursing major courses for RN-BSN students:
NURS 302 Health Assessment Across the Lifespan (4)
NURS 310 Nursing: A Practice Discipline* (3)
NURS 360 Topics in Nursing (Topic varies)
NURS 375 Health Informatics (3)
NURS 402 Community Health Nursing (6)
NURS 442 Complex Nursing Situations (6)
NURS 454 Nursing Perspectives (3)
NURS 470 Gerontological Nursing (3)
NURS 474 Research & Evidence (3)
NURS 475 Leadership Development (3)

Total program nursing major requirements: 36 Hrs

*Upon completion of NURS 310 as validation, RNs will be awarded 36 credits toward the degree for previous academic work.
Clinical courses are competency based.

RN-MSN Option
Students admitted to the RN-BSN option are eligible for the RN-MSN option, allowing for an easy transition into the MSN program at Queens. This allows students to take graduate coursework (applicable to their MSN) while working on their BSN degree.

Step one: Admission to the RN-BSN Option
Students must first be accepted into the RN-BSN option before they are eligible to utilize the RN-MSN option. Please refer to the RN-BSN admissions requirements and information for more details.

Students pursuing the RN-MSN option may take three courses (9 credit hours) at the graduate level in place of three courses normally taken at the undergraduate level for the BSN:
NURS 612 Theoretical Foundations may be substituted for NURS 454 Nursing Perspectives
NURS 628 Informatics in Health Care may be substituted for NURS 375 Health Informatics
NURS 632 Research Methods may be substituted for NURS 474 Research and Evidence

Step Two: Application to the MSN program
Students in the RN-MSN option who are interested in continuing to the MSN program after conferral of their BSN, must apply to the MSN program during their last semester in the RN-MSN option. Applicants must meet all MSN Admission requirements.

MSN Admission requirements:
See the MSN section of the Catalog for current requirements.

Residency Requirement
Normally a student earning their first baccalaureate degree must complete at least 45 credit hours for the degree at Queens. However, the residency is reduced to 36 hours for students in the RN-BSN program.
Undergraduate Academic Policies
See also Student Rights and Responsibilities and The Honor Code

The following policies apply to all undergraduates enrolled in the traditional Undergraduate Program or in the Hayworth College program.

Abandoning a Class
A student who simply stops attending class after the drop and add period will receive a grade of “F” for the course and will be financially responsible for all charges associated with the class.

Academic Responsibility
While Queens University of Charlotte makes every effort to advise and counsel students on their academic programs and academic requirements, it is the student who is ultimately responsible for fulfilling all requirements for a degree.

Academic Advising
To assist the student with this responsibility, each student is assigned an academic advisor. It is the student’s responsibility to schedule appointments with his or her academic advisor as often as necessary in order to plan course schedules for each term, and to discuss current academic questions and problems.

Adding a Second Major After Graduation
Queens alumni who wish to return to add a second major may do so by fulfilling only the major requirements as stipulated in the catalog for the year of re-entry to Queens, so long as the second major leads to the same degree already earned.

Auditing Courses
The student receives no credit for an audited course, but the grade “AU” will appear on the student’s transcript. Drop/Add and course withdrawal policies apply to audited courses and auditors are expected to attend class regularly. Some courses may be closed to auditors. Regular tuition charges apply. A student in the Traditional Undergraduate Program who is enrolled in 12 to 16 credit hours and maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.000 or better may audit a course with the prior approval of the advisor and the Registrar. A Hayworth College student may audit a course with the consent of the dean.

Catalog of Entry
In general, a student must fulfill the degree and major requirements set forth in the Catalog which was current when the student matriculated. Other academic policies amended while a student is enrolled at Queens may well be deemed to apply regardless of the policies stated in the Catalog of entry. Further, curricular exigencies or other circumstances may require the University to modify degree or major requirements from those at entry and that right is reserved. Should a student leave the University and be readmitted, their catalog of entry will change to the catalog in effect at the time of their return.

Class Attendance
In general, students are expected to attend all class sessions. Specific policies are set for each course by individual faculty members and should be printed in the syllabus and announced at the beginning of the term. It is the student’s responsibility to know the attendance policy in a particular course.

A faculty member will, if possible, allow a student to make up or complete academic assignments when the student misses class because of illness or for other justifiable reasons. A faculty member will, if possible, allow one additional absence beyond the number normally permitted to a student who misses class while representing the University at official University functions and will, if possible, allow a student to make up missed quizzes or make other arrangements for missed quizzes or tests. It is the student’s responsibility to notify the professor of such absences in advance and in writing.
It is expected that a student will only use other absences for legitimate purposes such as personal or family illness or crises. It is a violation of the Honor Code for a student to be untruthful about a class absence. The student is always responsible for notifying faculty of anticipated absences. University offices may not excuse students for class absences. They may, however, notify faculty members upon request when illness or grave circumstances beyond the student’s control necessitate a class absence.

Diplomas

Students who complete their requirements during a summer or fall term will receive their diplomas by mail. Students who complete their requirements in a spring term and have been cleared by the Student Financial Services Office can receive their diploma after the May commencement ceremony. All students, including those who complete a degree in a preceding summer or fall term, are encouraged to attend the May commencement ceremony.

Course Load

- Course load for students admitted to the Traditional Undergraduate Program

The University considers 12-16 hours as a normal full-time course load during fall or spring semesters, but recognizes that some majors or programs could require up to 18 hours in some semesters. Should a student wish to enroll for more than 18 hours, he or she may do so but must have a 3.000 grade point average and permission of his or her advisor. A student who wishes to enroll for more than 18 hours, but does not have at least a 3.000 grade point average, must have the permission of his or her advisor as well as the advisor’s department chair. Exceptions for music therapy majors will be made by the director of the music therapy program.

- Course load for students admitted to the Hayworth College Program

  Adult students attending Queens in the evening while working full time typically carry from six to nine credit hours per term. A student who wishes to take more than 12 hours should consult the academic advisor.

Dean’s Lists

- Traditional Undergraduate Program: Degree candidates who achieve a term average of 3.500 in at least 12 hours of graded academic work are named to the Dean’s List. A student with an incomplete grade will not be considered for the Dean’s List. Courses in which the grade of "P" is earned, and courses numbered 099, will not count towards the 12-hour minimum.

- Hayworth College Undergraduate Program: An annual Dean’s List is also compiled for Hayworth College students. Each spring a Hayworth College Dean’s List is compiled naming those Hayworth College undergraduate degree candidates who qualified during the previous calendar year. For this purpose, the year begins in the spring term, and continues through the summer term, and concludes with the fall term. Degree candidates who have no outstanding incomplete grades and who have completed, during this time period, a minimum of 12 hours of college-level credit on a graded basis with a grade point average of 3.500 or better in the hours during this time period, are eligible for the Hayworth College Dean’s List.

Double Dipping: Using One Course to Meet Two Requirements

Students may use no more than two courses to satisfy at most two separate graduation requirements each. Proficiency Requirements are exempt from this double dipping policy. See also related policy under Minors.

Dropping or Adding a Course - See also Withdrawal and Financial Obligations.

The drop and add period is limited. The deadline is designated for each term by the Registrar on the official academic calendar. The official academic calendars are published on the Registrar's Office web site. When a course is dropped during the Drop/Add period that course is not reflected on the student’s
Eligibility to Represent the University
Students who are on academic probation, on social probation for six weeks or longer, or suspended from a class or from the University, are not eligible to represent the University in off campus extracurricular activities, to participate in varsity athletics, to hold campus office or to run for campus office until the probation or sanction is lifted.

Earning Double Majors
A student may double major by completing all requirements in two different majors that lead to the same baccalaureate degree. Departmental restrictions may apply. The student who wishes to double major should check with his or her advisor.

Earning Dual Degrees Simultaneously
A student may earn two different bachelors degrees simultaneously provided that he or she completes different majors leading to different degrees, and earns at Queens at least 30 additional credit hours beyond the minimum hours required for a single bachelor's degree.

Earning a Second Bachelors Degree
A student who has earned a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited university and who has been admitted to pursue a second bachelors degree from Queens University of Charlotte is not required to complete the General Education requirements of Queens University of Charlotte. However, a second degree candidate must meet the university’s residency requirements and all requirements for the major leading to the second degree. The residency requirement for second degree candidates is reduced from 45 credit hours to 31 credit hours. For Queens' graduates pursuing a second degree from Queens, these hours must be in addition to the hours earned for the first degree.

Grade Point Average
A student’s cumulative grade point average at Queens is based solely on academic work at Queens and is not affected by course credit earned at another institution. The grade point average is used to determine eligibility for graduation. It is calculated by dividing the total number of points by the total number of graded credit hours attempted.

Grading
Queens uses the following system of grades and grade point values per credit hour for undergraduate classes:

Grade Appeals
The substantive judgment of a faculty member about a student’s work (grades or other evaluation of assignments) is not within the scope of hearings regarding academic grievances. A student may challenge only the actual and objective elements of the content of student records (discrepancies in computation and transcription of grades), not the qualitative and subjective elements of grading.

Students who believe they have detected an error in the computation or transcription of a grade should initiate the challenge process by the end of the first month in the following term in which the disputed grade was given, by consulting with the faculty member concerned. If a satisfactory agreement is not reached, the student should consult with the chair of the department in which the dispute occurred. If a satisfactory agreement is still not reached, the student should consult with the faculty member’s dean.

Grades
Students can obtain final course grades on-line through MyQueens. Midterm reports are issued to students in the traditional undergraduate program in the fall and spring terms to indicate special difficulties in course work in progress. Only final course grades are permanently recorded.

Pass/No Record
Pass/No Record (P/NR) is a grading system designed to encourage students to explore new areas. The grade of “P” is recorded when a student earns a grade of C- or better in the course. If a student earns a D+, D or F, the “Z” designation is used on the student’s grade report, but is not recorded on the student’s permanent academic record and does not affect the student’s cumulative grade point average.

Some courses are designated P/N for all students. Other courses may not be taken P/N by any students. A student may take up to two elective courses per academic year, but no more than one course per term, on a P/N basis. Only elective courses may be taken on a P/N basis. A course that will meet a specific degree requirement, such as a general education requirement or major requirement, may be taken on a P/N basis only with special permission.

A student must request the P/N grade status at registration or during the drop/add period. However, the student who has begun a course with the P/N grade status can change to a regular graded basis until the date on the term calendar designated “last day to withdraw from a course.” The student is responsible for requesting this change in writing from the Registrar’s Office prior to this deadline.

Pass/Fail
Pass/Fail is the grading system used for specially designated courses. The grade of “P” is recorded when a student earns a grade of C– or better in the course. An F is recorded when the work is unsatisfactory. “P/F” differs from “P/NR” in that Fs are recorded on the student’s permanent academic record, while NRs are not.

Incomplete Status
The grade of Incomplete (I) is given at the discretion of the instructor and only when unusual circumstances make it impossible for the student to complete the course work by the end of the term. The instructor is responsible for completing the appropriate form from the Office of the Registrar. The student is responsible for arranging to complete incomplete work. A grade of “I” received during fall term must be changed to a regular letter grade by the end of the fourth full week of regular classes of spring term; an “I” received during spring term or summer term must be changed to a regular letter grade by the end of the fourth full week of regular classes of fall term. However, a student on academic probation who receives an “I” must complete the course work and receive a regular letter grade at least 72 hours prior to the first day of class for the subsequent term. A grade “I” automatically becomes an “F” if the student fails to make up incomplete work satisfactorily by the above deadlines. Conversion of an “I” to a regular grade may affect financial aid.

The Undergraduate Student Qualifications Committee (U-SQC) will review end-of-term transcripts of students who receive an “I.” The U-SQC will regard the Incomplete as grade neutral; therefore, the “I” will not affect the student’s grade point average until the “I” is converted to a regular grade. Nor will the “I” impact the potential of academic sanctions resulting from a student’s term and/or cumulative grade point average.

Repeated Courses
Some courses are specifically listed “may be repeated for credit.” The following policies refer to repeating any other course. If a student fails a course, the student may repeat that course only once, either at Queens, or at another regionally accredited institution with prior approval of the appropriate department chair or dean. The F grade will remain on the student’s record. If the course is repeated at Queens, both the F and the second grade will be figured into the student’s cumulative grade point average. If a course is repeated at another institution, the credit (but not the grade) will transfer; thus the original F only will be figured into the cumulative average. A student also may elect to repeat a course at Queens in order to demonstrate mastery of the material. In this case, both the original and the second grade will be figured into the student’s grade-point average; no additional credit hours will be awarded. In either case, a course may be repeated only once, either at Queens or at another institution. No more than two courses in the student’s major field may be repeated. Tuition is charged for all repeated courses.

Graduation
A student may receive a degree only after meeting all degree requirements.

Graduation Application
It is the student’s responsibility to be aware of progress toward the degree and to submit a completed Application for Graduation form to the Registrar’s Office by the deadline posted on the Registrar’s web site. Students should apply on-line through the Registrar’s Office web site.

Graduation with Honors
Summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude honors are awarded by the University for academic excellence. Summa cum laude is awarded to students who have a grade point average of 3.850; magna cum laude is awarded to students who have a grade point average of 3.650; and cum laude to students who have a grade point average of 3.500. The grade point average will be determined only by work taken at Queens, and a student must have completed at least 60 hours at Queens to be eligible for graduation with honors.

Commencement Exercises
Commencement exercises are held in May of each year for all graduates who have completed degree requirements in the previous summer and fall terms and in the current spring term. The degree awarded is posted on the student’s transcript at the end of the term in which all requirements have been completed.

Leave of Absence
With the endorsement of the academic advisor, a student in good standing (with a cumulative GPA of 2.000 or above) may request a leave of absence from Queens. A student in the traditional undergraduate program may be granted a leave of absence for up to two consecutive terms. A student in the Hayworth College program may be granted a leave of absence for up to three terms including the summer term. Approval for a leave of absence may be granted for medical or personal reasons, or to enroll in an off-campus academic program or experience that supports the student’s program of study. If the student plans to take courses away while on leave, prior approval must be received for all courses to be taken at other institutions to ensure those credits will transfer and apply to the degree program at Queens. Contact the Registrar’s Office for more information.

Returning from a Leave of Absence
A student returning from an approved leave of absence should contact the Office of the Registrar prior to his/her return to Queens. If returning within the approved timeframe (two academic terms) the student may simply resume the degree and major programs in effect at the time leave was granted (their original catalog of entry). In addition, if the student was given prior approval to enroll in another institution while absent from Queens, the student must request a copy of the transcript be sent to the Queens Registrar for review of the transfer credit. A student who does not return within the allotted timeframe will be considered an inactive student and must apply for readmission in order to return.

Non-Degree Student Policies
Non-degree students may attempt no more than a cumulative total of 15 credit hours unless admitted to a specific non-degree program of study requiring more than 15 hours. After attempting 15 credit hours the non-degree student must either apply for admission as a degree candidate or request special permission to continue. Non-degree students must maintain a grade point average of 2.000 comply with all University policies and regulations.

Program-of-Entry

Admission and Dismissal from the Program-of-Entry
A student is admitted to one University program: the Traditional Undergraduate Program, the Hayworth College program, the ASN program, or a graduate program. The student who wishes to move his/her program-of-entry to another program must apply through the appropriate Admissions Office. A student who has been dismissed from their program-of-entry is dismissed from Queens University of Charlotte and must apply for readmission.

Transfer Between Programs
A student who has been admitted into a Queens undergraduate program who has and completed at least one term, and who then wishes to transfer to a different program, may make formal application through the appropriate Office of Admissions provided that the student has earned a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 at Queens University of Charlotte, is not on any type of academic or social probation, and is in good standing with the University. A form requesting permission to apply to transfer is available from the offices of admissions must be submitted prior to application for admission. A student who transfers to a different program must then complete all of that program’s degree requirements, follow that program’s policies, pay that program’s tuition and fees, and will be eligible only for that program’s services and financial aid options.

Readmission
A student who has withdrawn in good academic standing and wishes to return to Queens may apply for readmission by submitting an application to the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. If the student has taken classes at another institution, the student should provide a statement of good standing from the Dean of Students office. In addition, two original transcripts of any work attempted at other institutions must be sent to the Office of Admissions. A student who wishes to be admitted following dismissal from the University must apply through the Readmission Committee of the Undergraduate Office of Admissions. A student who has medically withdrawn from the University must provide a letter from their attending physician describing the medical condition and providing clearance for the student to return to Queens.

Registration
A student should confer with his/her academic advisor prior to registration. All students are expected to register each term at the time and in the manner specified by the Registrar. An undergraduate may register for any undergraduate course for which they have the prerequisites as long as space is available and there are no special restrictions on the course. A student who registers for a course outside of their program of entry must follow that program’s calendar and policies. See also Dropping or Adding a Course and Withdrawing from a Course.

Student Qualifications—Probation and Dismissal

Student Qualifications
The faculty has established standards of satisfactory academic progress which are administered by the University’s Undergraduate Student Qualifications Committee (U-SQC).

Academic Probation and Dismissal

Admission on Probation
A student admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of probation set in his/her admission letter, which may vary, in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

Determining Probation or Dismissal
At the end of each term the U-SQC reviews the record of each student in academic difficulty. The record of any undergraduate student (degree or non-degree; part-time or full-time) will be reviewed after attempting a minimum of nine (9) credit hours at Queens University of Charlotte.

Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average (cumulative GPA) for classes completed at Queens University that meets or exceeds a minimum cumulative GPA requirement. The minimum cumulative GPA is based on credit hours used for evaluation purposes. The number of credit hours used for evaluation purposes is equal to the number of earned credit hours plus credit hours for courses taken at Queens for which a student receives a grade of F. A student whose cumulative GPA at Queens falls below the following levels is placed on academic probation.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>GPA Hours Used for Evaluation</th>
<th>Min. Cumulative GPA Required</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0-12</td>
<td>1.500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13-37</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>38-70</td>
<td>1.900</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>71 or more</td>
<td>2.000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The First Review to Determine Academic Probation or Dismissal
A student whose cumulative GPA falls below the minimum cumulative GPA requirement, but whose term GPA is above 1.000 is placed on academic probation. A student whose term GPA falls below 1.000 and whose cumulative GPA falls below the minimum cumulative GPA requirement will be academically dismissed from the University.

Subsequent Reviews
The committee will review a student previously placed on probation, or admitted/readmitted on probation, after the full-time student has attempted nine (9) or more credit hours since being placed on probation, or the part-time student has attempted six (6) or more credit hours since being placed on probation. The student must have earned a term GPA of 2.000. If not, regardless of the cumulative GPA, the student will be academically dismissed from the University. If the term GPA is 2.000 or above, but the cumulative GPA is below the minimum cumulative GPA requirement, the committee may choose to continue the student on probation for one more term or to academically dismiss the student from the University. If the term GPA is 2.000 or above, and the cumulative GPA meets the minimum cumulative GPA requirement, the committee will remove the probation.
Appeal
A student has the right to present a written appeal with additional information concerning U-SQC decisions to the U-SQC. The appeal must be submitted electronically to the Dean or Dean’s designate in the School or College in which the student is housed. The deadline for appeals to academic dismissal will be provided in the letter from the committee notifying the student about the student’s ineligibility to return. The student will receive written notice of the decision. The decision of the committee in regard to the appeal is final.

Restrictions While on Probation
A student on probation may not enroll in more than 15 credit hours in any one term; must complete the course work for all courses with an incomplete grade (grade of “I”) and receive a letter grade at least 72 hours prior to the first day of class for the next term; may not represent the University in off-campus extracurricular activities, compete in varsity athletics, hold campus office or run for campus office, until the probation or sanction is lifted. If a student on probation wishes to continue as a student at Queens he/she must meet with an academic advisor within the first month of classes.

Probation and Federal Financial Aid
A student admitted or placed on probation by U-SQC may receive federal financial aid only for one term.

Readmission Following Academic Dismissal
A student who has been academically dismissed from the University may apply for readmission. The student should attempt and successfully complete nine (9) or more graded credit hours in a single semester at a regionally accredited institution (A student must earn a C or better in all courses taken); submit an application for readmission; submit official transcripts showing the successful completion of these courses; submit a personal statement stating their goals and accomplishments since leaving Queens; and submit a memo to the University Student Qualifications Committee stating why they want to return to Queens.

A student readmitted to the University is normally admitted on probation and reviewed after the first term based on the guidelines above for Subsequent Reviews. Readmitted students are subject to the academic requirements in effect at the time of readmission (catalog of entry of the term readmitted).

Student Status

Class Status
Students are assigned class status according to the number of credit hours earned. A freshman has earned from 0 to 23 credit hours. A sophomore has earned 24 to 51 credit hours. A junior has earned 52 to 89 credit hours. A senior has earned 90 or more credit hours.

Full-Time / Part-Time Status
Undergraduates enrolled in 12 or more credit hours per term are considered full-time students. Undergraduates enrolled in 1-11 credit hours per term are considered part-time students.

Transfer Students
The student who enters Queens with prior academic credit from another regionally accredited institution is considered a transfer student. The Registrar will audit the transcripts to determine the transfer student’s class status, the credit hours awarded and their applicability to Queens’ graduation requirements. Transfer students must meet all degree requirements in their catalog of entry including the residency requirements.

Non-Degree Student Status
A student who applies to Queens without the intent to earn a bachelor’s degree is admitted as non-degree student.
Visiting Student Status
A degree candidate at another college or University who is taking courses at Queens by special arrangement is considered a visiting student.

Charlotte Area Educational Consortium (CAEC) Student Status
Degree-seeking students at the area colleges which make up the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium may enroll in a course at Queens during the fall or spring terms. Special policies apply.

Taking Courses at Charlotte Area Educational Consortium Institutions
Students paying the comprehensive fee may enroll in a course at one of the 23 CAEC institutions with no additional charge if the course is not offered at Queens. Arrangements for registration at another CAEC institution are made through the Registrar's Office. See the Registrar for additional information.

Taking Courses at Other Institutions
After admission to Queens a student must receive prior approval to take a course at another institution in order for the credit to be transferred back to Queens. Generally the course must be equivalent to or supplemental to a course offered at Queens. In order to transfer credit to Queens for a course taken at another institution a Queens student must (1) complete the Undergraduate Transfer Credit Approval form and secure all required signatures of approval, (2) earn a grade of "C-" or better in the course, and (3) have the other institution send an official transcript of the coursework to the Registrar at Queens University of Charlotte. The form is available on the web site of the Registrar’s Office.

Transfer Credit and Prior Learning Assessment Policies
Information on transferred credit and course equivalencies can be found on the Queens web site at www.queens.edu.

Advanced Placement Credit (AP)
Students who have completed college-level work in their secondary schools should take the appropriate Advanced Placement (AP) test administered by the CEEB. In most subjects Queens grants advanced placement and course credit automatically if the student scores either 4 or 5 on such tests.

International Baccalaureate (IB)
Queens will grant six semester hours of elective credit in each area in which a student has achieved a score of 5, 6 or 7 in a higher level examination. Assignment of specific course credit will be determined at the student’s request and the discretion of the individual department. Students who earn a 5, 6 or 7 on the English portion of the IB examination (or 4, 5 on the AP English examination) will receive credit for English 110 and will be required to take English 120 in the spring semester of the freshman year.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)
Queens awards credit and advanced placement to students who score satisfactorily on approved subject level tests of the CLEP.

Foreign Language Placement
All entering freshmen take a foreign language placement test during new student orientation. The score earned may allow students to place out of one or both years of the foreign language requirement. Tests are given in Spanish, French, Latin and German. Please note that credit is not awarded for these placement examinations.

Credits from Two-Year Institutions
Courses transferred from two-year institutions are classified as either 100- or 200-level courses. No more than 60 academic credit hours will be accepted in transfer from two year institutions.* Credits transferred from a two-year college may not be used to meet the 36 credit hour requirement, regardless of the level of comparable Queens courses.
Queens University of Charlotte does participate in a comprehensive articulation agreement between the University of North Carolina and the North Carolina Community College System, and will accept 64 credit hours will be accepted in transfer from graduates of North Carolina public two-year institutions.

Physical Education Credits  No more than four (4) credit hours in physical education may be applied to the hours required for graduation.

Duplicate Credit  Duplicate credit will not be awarded in the event AP and/or IB examination credit is accepted or if the scores duplicate credit already earned.

Limits on AP, IB and CLEP Credit Awarded  Total combined AP, IB and CLEP credit awarded will not exceed 38 semester hours. Neither grades nor quality points will be awarded, nor may AP, IB or CLEP credits satisfy the final 30 hours required for graduation from Queens. Official AP, IB and CLEP scores should be submitted to the Queens Registrar. Information on transferred credit and course credit equivalencies can be found on the Queens Web site at www.queens.edu.

Radiologic Technologist Certification
Thirty credit hours are accepted for those persons certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists. A copy of the student’s certification or proof of certification is required.

Transfer Credits
When a student enters Queens with prior academic credit from a regionally accredited institution, the Registrar evaluates those credits for transfer, and determines the student’s class status. In order to transfer credit to Queens from another institution the student must have earned a grade of “C-” or better in the course. The Registrar’s evaluation of transferred credits will also determine whether or not any transferred courses are equivalent to any courses at Queens.

Withdrawing from a Course  See also Withdrawal and Financial Obligations.

Withdrawal from a Course
After the drop/add period has ended the student who does not wish to continue in a course must withdraw from the course. The withdrawal period is limited, and is designated for each term by the Registrar on the official academic calendar. The official academic calendars are published on the Registrar’s Office web site. A status of "W" will be recorded if the student withdraws during the withdrawal period.

Withdrawal from the University  See also Withdrawal and Financial Obligations.

Withdrawal by the Student
A student in the traditional undergraduate program who chooses to drop or withdraw from all courses in which he or she is enrolled must withdraw from the University.

A Hayworth College student who chooses to drop or withdraw from all courses in which he or she is enrolled may either withdraw from the courses, or withdraw from the University. To withdraw from the University a student must complete the Official Withdrawal Form available in the Office of the Registrar.

Upon withdrawal from the University, the Registrar will drop (during add/drop period) or withdraw (after the drop/add period) the student from all classes enrolled. The student will receive written confirmation that the courses have been dropped/withdrawn. The effective official withdrawal date will be the date the form is received by the Registrar. The date of withdrawal will affect tuition refunds and/or financial aid funding. A student who simply stops attending class after the drop and add period will receive a grade of “F” for the course and will be financially responsible for all charges associated with the class. In that case the Registrar, in consultation with the faculty involved, will determine the last date of class attendance.

 Withdrawal by the University
 A student in the traditional undergraduate program must maintain continuous enrollment at Queens (excluding the summer term) to remain an active student. If the student does not maintain continuous enrollment (is absent either fall or spring term without appropriate approval), he/she will become an inactive student and must apply for readmission in order to return.

 A student in the Hayworth College program does not have to maintain continuous enrollment to remain an active student, but may be absent for one term if the student returns in the following term. If the student is absent for two consecutive terms, including summer term, he/she will become an inactive student and must apply for readmission in order to return.

 In addition, the University reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of any student whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

 Readmission after Withdrawal
 A student who has withdrawn from the University, been dismissed from the University, or become inactive must apply for readmission in order to return.
Associate of Science in Nursing Program

ANDREW BLAIR COLLEGE OF HEALTH
The Presbyterian School of Nursing

The Associate of Science in Nursing program evolved from the historic nursing diploma program of the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, which opened in 1903 with three students. Since 2004, the Associate of Science in Nursing program, like the diploma program before it, has offered a nursing education program that prepares knowledgeable, competent and caring nurses.

The ASN Nursing curriculum is designed to prepare graduates to function in a variety of health care settings with client populations of all ages and diverse cultural backgrounds. General education courses provide a knowledge base foundational to entry-level nursing. Faculty academically qualified and experienced in the practice of nursing teach the nursing courses. Clinical experiences coincide with classroom theory.

Personal and professional development are also important aspects of the educational process. Students have the opportunity to participate in School of Nursing committees and student organizations. Students may also participate in professional and volunteer activities in the community.

Students who successfully complete all courses in the nursing curriculum plan are awarded an Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) degree. Graduates are eligible to take the National Council Licensing Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN) and to apply for licensure as a registered nurse. Graduates are encouraged to continue their education through earning the BSN or MSN degree.

ADMISSION
Effective January 2013 the ASN program is no longer accepting applicants.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS*
Applications will be reviewed based on the following minimum requirements:

- Graduation from an accredited high school or the equivalent
- Evidence of course completion for Chemistry (high school equivalent or higher) with a grade of C- or higher.
- Evidence of course completion for Algebra I & II (high school equivalent) or college Algebra with a grade of C- or higher.
- Students must provide evidence of successful completion of a state approved Nurse Aide I (NAI) course with a minimum of 28 direct patient care hours and must have a current listing on an NAI Registry prior to enrollment. Additional documentation may be requested at a later date.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) in all previous college work, if applicable
- Successful completion of preadmission testing, as required before the application deadline.
- Completion of preadmission essay on campus.
- Satisfactory scores on the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT), if no college coursework has been completed
- A complete application packet (including all official transcripts).
- Students must meet all technical standards as stated in the PSON Student Handbook prior to enrollment.

The following courses are co-requisites for students admitted to the major. Each nursing course description lists the specific co-requisites for the course. If these courses are taken prior to admission to the nursing program, the following evaluation applies.
The average GPA on all of the following courses completed prior to application must be a 2.5 or higher, whether they were completed at Queens University of Charlotte or whether equivalent courses were completed at a regionally accredited institution. Courses must meet criteria stated by the Registrar’s Office to receive transfer credit.

ACADEMIC POLICIES
In addition to being held responsible to the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook, students in the ASN program follow all policies as described in the sections Undergraduate Academic Policies section of this catalog with the following additions:

Residency Requirement
At least 27 of the 71 credit hours required for the associate degree must be completed at Queens University of Charlotte.
Transfer Out of the ASN Program
A student who has been admitted to the ASN program and completed at least one term, and who then wishes to transfer to either the Traditional Undergraduate Program or the Hayworth College Program, must make formal application through the appropriate Office of Admissions. To be considered for admission the student must have earned a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.000 at Queens University of Charlotte, may not be on any type of academic or social probation, and be in good standing with the University. A pre-application form for internal transfer students is available from the Admission Offices must be submitted prior to application for admission. The ASN student who is admitted into a baccalaureate program must complete all of that program’s degree requirements, follow that program’s policies, pay that program’s tuition and fees, and will be eligible only for that program’s services and financial aid options.

NURSING SPECIFIC POLICIES & PROCEDURES
Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details on the specific policies and procedures for ASN students.

Grading
Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details and grading scale. A final grade of “Unsatisfactory” in the clinical portion of any nursing course automatically results in a course grade of F.

Dismissal from the ASN Program
A student dismissed from the ASN program is dismissed from the University and must apply for admission to the University and a different academic program in order to return.

Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing

The low-residency Master of Fine Arts Program in Creative Writing is housed in the Department of English and Creative Writing.

The Master of Fine Arts degree is the terminal degree for students of creative writing. Though the MFA degree provides students with the necessary academic credentials for careers teaching creative writing at the college level, it should not be regarded solely as a pre-professional degree. Generally, students choose to pursue an MFA first and foremost in order to develop their skills as publishable writers. They are drawn to such programs out of a commitment to their art, a desire for self-enrichment, and the prestige of achieving the degree itself. MFA programs provide students with an opportunity for immersion in a community of writers as they hone their craft through a curriculum of writing workshops in their respective genres (generally fiction, poetry and creative nonfiction) and academic seminars on the form and theory of those genres. After completing all required classes, an MFA student will submit a creative thesis, a book-length manuscript that is the culmination of the work the student has done over his or her course of study.

The low-residency MFA program at Queens involves four semesters of coursework. Each semester begins with a seven-day on-campus residency, which includes daily workshops, seminars on the craft and profession of writing, and readings. Following the completion of the residency, the students continue their work for the semester through distance learning, which is conducted in online workshops that are limited to no more than four students and a faculty mentor. In the online workshops, each student must complete four required submissions of new work that are circulated to the other students in the workshop and to the instructor; each student is also required to compose formal comments on the work submitted by his or her fellow students.

As a requirement for graduation, under the direction of a thesis advisor, the student will prepare and submit a collection of prose pieces, a collection of poetry, a screenplay or theatrical script, or a novel or nonfiction book for evaluation by the thesis advisor and two other faculty in the candidate’s field of writing. The student will offer a public reading excerpted from the thesis during a fifth graduating residency. In preparation for the craft seminar and under the direction of the craft seminar advisor, the candidate will prepare a 6-8 page critical paper exploring the topic of the seminar. After the completion of the paper and upon consultation with the craft seminar advisor, the candidate should send via email a description of the craft seminar, including all recommended reading for the seminar, to the MFA coordinator no later than 30 days prior to the graduating residency. Under the direction of a craft advisor, the candidate must also prepare and submit a proposal for a thirty-minute craft seminar, to be offered during the graduating residency period. The proposal should include an outline of the presentation for the seminar, an attached bibliography, and a required reading list. The candidate will then teach this seminar during the graduating residency.

For additional information visit the MFA Program web site.

ADMISSION

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
In order to be considered for admission to the MFA program in creative writing, an applicant must meet the following criteria:

1. Hold a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university or have equivalent experience practicing creative writing as that experience is reflected in the quality of the prospective student’s application portfolio.
2. Submit a completed graduate application form, including a nonrefundable application fee.
3. Submit official transcripts from the college or university from which their highest degree was awarded.
4. Submit two copies of a portfolio of creative writing, consisting of approximately 25 pages of fiction or creative nonfiction or 10 pages of poetry.
5. Submit two copies of a one-page, typed, single-spaced essay on the prospective student's reasons for applying to the MFA program and expectations for the program.

6. Provide one letter of academic or professional reference.

International Student Admission
Queens University of Charlotte welcomes international students. An applicant must ask the institution from which he or she earned his or her highest degree to forward his or her transcript to the MFA Program Office. All international students applying to the MFA program must demonstrate proficiency in English in the work submitted in their application portfolios.

Because the Queens MFA Program is a low-residency program, in which students travel to campus for the seven-day residency that begins each semester before completing the remainder of the semester through distance learning procedures, international students will not be issued an I-20 and will not be eligible for an F-1 student visa. Typically, an international student in the MFA program will use a visitor visa to travel to Queens for the MFA residency.

International students are also required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

Full admission to the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Curriculum and Instruction
In order to complete the degree, students in the low-residency MFA program will be required to attend five on-campus residencies, complete four semesters of course work and complete a Master's Thesis comprised of a collection of works written and revised over the course of the program.

Residencies are seven days in length and mark the outset of each semester. Each student must participate in four such residencies and then return for a graduating residency, in which the student leads a craft seminar, submits a final thesis draft and offers a public reading. The specific components of the curriculum are described in more detail below.

MFA students may combine their fourth residency with a graduating residency, but it should be noted that this configuration is especially arduous and that all fees apply. Students must submit in writing to the Program Director and the On-Campus Director, within one week after the third residency, an email letter stating their preference and justification for this option in order to be considered for this combined fourth residency/graduating residency. An altered thesis submission schedule will be followed in such a configuration.

Residencies
Students will attend one writing workshop daily during the on-campus residency, led by a variety of instructors. Each workshop will typically offer students the opportunity to work closely with an established writer and to receive constructive feedback from a group of peers over the course of an intensive week dedicated to creative work. Most workshops are revision-based and are designed to help students improve their existing work. Faculty will lead in-class discussions of student work and suggest suitable exercises and additional reading to help further advance the students' creative development. Students must make two submissions per residency for critical response by workshop and be on hand to respond critically to all other student work submitted in their workshop. Students will attend craft or gateway seminars daily during the on-campus residency, offered by a variety of instructors. In addition, students must submit two brief response papers for a craft seminar and a gateway seminar of their choice at the residency. During each residency, all students in a particular graduating cycle will take one gateway seminar offered on alternate days throughout the course of the week. The topics of these gateway seminars, in order of the first through fourth residencies, will be as follows:

- Reading as a Writer
- Literary Reviewing
- Shaping a Book
- Teaching Creative Writing

On each of the other days of the residency, the students will attend craft seminars on technical and aesthetic issues within their respective genres. Sample topics for these seminars might include the following:

- Thinking the Novel
- Prosody
- Postmodern American Fiction: Craft and Theory
- The Nonfiction Novel
- Memoir and Personal Essay: Distinctions and Commonalities
- Embracing the Difficult: Writing Beyond What Is Comfortable

Distance Learning Workshops

In the interim periods between the on-campus residencies, students will be required to produce four submissions per semester, to be made via electronic mail, at stipulated dates to both the instructor and the other 2 to 3 students in the workshop. In poetry, the submissions should be 5 to 10 pages; in prose, the submissions should be 8 to 25 pages (double-spaced).

The students in the workshop will also be required to compose formal responses, of 300 to 500 words in length, to all work submitted by the other students and to send those responses via electronic mail to all members of the distance learning group by a stipulated deadline.

Graduating Residency

Under the direction of a thesis advisor, the candidate for graduation will prepare and submit a collection of prose pieces, a collection of poetry, a theatrical script or screenplay, or a novel or nonfiction book for evaluation by the thesis advisor and two other faculty members. The candidate will offer a public reading excerpted from the thesis during the graduating residency. In preparation for the craft seminar and under the direction of the craft seminar advisor, the candidate will prepare 6-8 page critical paper exploring the topic of the seminar. After the completion of the paper and upon consultation with the craft seminar advisor, the candidate should send via email a description of the craft seminar, including all recommended reading for the seminar, to the MFA coordinator no later than 30 days prior to the graduating residency. Under the direction of a craft advisor, the candidate must also prepare and submit a proposal for a thirty-minute craft seminar, to be offered during the graduating residency period. The proposal should include an outline of the presentation for the seminar, an attached bibliography and required reading list. The candidate will then teach this seminar during the graduating residency.

Completion of Requirements and Deferrals

Candidates are strongly encouraged to complete the requirements for graduation from the program in five consecutive residencies. If the candidate is unable to complete these requirements, a deferral or leave of absence may be granted and is subject to approval of both the Program Director and the On-Campus Director. All requests for deferral must be submitted no later than four weeks prior to that semester. While the first such deferral is gratis, any additional deferrals are subject to a deferral fee of $250 per semester deferred. Credit hours expire after four years. The candidate’s intent to complete a graduating residency must be declared within 16 weeks of the graduating residency date. In addition, candidates may combine their fourth residency with a graduating residency, but it should be noted that this configuration is especially arduous and that all fees apply. Candidates must submit in writing to the Program Director and the On-Campus Director, within one week after the third residency, an email letter stating their preference and justification for this option in order to be considered for this combined fourth residency/graduating residency. An altered thesis submission schedule will be followed in such a configuration.

Postgraduate Options

Because a writer's development is always ongoing and always subject to change, the program offers several options beyond the four semesters and graduating residency scenario.

First, any MFA candidate in good standing may prolong their study one full semester prior to embarking on preparation for the graduating residency. In this semester, the MFA candidate can choose which gateway and craft seminars to take and the candidate will respond to them as other candidates and will also participate accordingly in writing workshops.

Second, any MFA degree recipient in good standing may enroll in a postgraduate semester in the same genre, or can apply for admission and be admitted to a postgraduate semester in another genre.

Postgraduate Certificate of Study
In addition, any MFA degree recipient in good standing may apply for admission and be admitted to a postgraduate program of two or more semesters in another genre, in order to earn a postgraduate certificate of study. In two or more semesters, the candidate will be required to enroll at Queens and participate in all relevant gateway and craft seminars and writing workshops and then will embark on preparation for a graduating residency. Upon completion of the thesis in the new genre and the presentation of a craft seminar related to the genre, the MFA degree recipient will earn a postgraduate certificate of study in that genre.

The fees for post-graduate work, both per-semester and for the graduating residency will be the same as the fees for all MFA students.

POLICIES
See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities

GRADING
Because of the inherent difficulty and inevitable subjectivity involved in the evaluation of creative work, all work for the MFA program will be graded on a pass-fail basis. Any student who does not satisfactorily complete the required number of submissions and formal critiques during a workshop or the required number of response papers during a seminar will receive a failing grade for that part of the program.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS
In order to successfully meet the requirements for graduation, students must complete 48 hours of course work. These requirements are broken down as follows:

1. Four workshops in the student's chosen literary genre, worth three credit hours each, with one taken each semester.
2. Four gateway seminars, worth three credit hours each, with one taken during the on-campus residency at the onset of each semester.
3. Twelve craft seminars, worth one credit hour each, with three taken during the on-campus residency at the onset of each semester.
4. Six hours of thesis hours, earned during the third and fourth semesters of the program.
5. Six hours of craft seminar preparation, earned during the third and fourth semesters of the program.
6. These course requirements are supplemented by the following other graduation requirements:
   a. The successful completion of a Master's thesis comprised of work written and revised over the course of the program.
   b. A public reading of work from the thesis.
   c. Developing and then successfully teaching a craft seminar for other students in the program.

The MFA Faculty
Because the MFA program is a low-residency program, distinguished authors from all over the country are able to serve as faculty in the program. While most are not full-time Queens faculty members, all are committed to the goals of the MFA program and to the mission of the University. Some of their individual achievements are listed below.

Jane Alison is the author of the memoir Sisters Antipodes and of the novels Natives and Exotics (Harcourt 2005); The Marriage of the Sea (FSG 2003), which was a New York Times Notable Book; and The Love-Artist (FSG 2001), which has been translated into seven languages. Her short fiction and critical writings have appeared in Five Points, Seed and The Germanic Review, among others.

Hal Ackerman has been on the faculty of the UCLA School of Theater, Film and Television for the past twenty-four years and is currently co-area head of the screenwriting program. His book, Write Screenplays That Sell...The Ackerman Way, is in its third printing, and is the text of choice in a growing number of screenwriting programs around the country. His play, Testosterone: How Prostate Cancer Made A Man of Me won the William Saroyan Centennial Prize for drama and enjoyed a successful run in Los Angeles.
Kris Baxter has optioned five screenplays to major Hollywood studios over the past 12 years, including Voyage, produced by USA Pictures. His latest screenplay, Outrider, begins production soon (produced by and starring, Robert Redford).

Pinckney Benedict has published three collections of short fiction, Miracle Boy, Town Smokes and The Wrecking Yard and a novel Dogs of God. His stories have appeared in, among other magazines and anthologies, Esquire, Zoetrope All-Story, the O. Henry Award series, the New Stories from the South series, Ontario Review, the Pushcart Prize series and The Oxford Book of American Short Stories.

Morri Creech is the author of two collections of poetry Paper Cathedrals and Field Knowledge. His work has appeared in many publications, including Poetry, The New Republic, The New Criterion, The Yale Review, The Hudson Review and The Sewanee Review. Field Knowledge was awarded the first annual Anthony Hecht Prize and was nominated for The Los Angeles Times Book Award. He has been a recipient of a National Endowment for the Arts Poetry Fellowship and a Ruth Lilly Fellowship for Young Poets awarded by Poetry magazine. He teaches full-time at Queens University of Charlotte.

Ann Cummins is the author of the story collection Red Ant House and novel, Yellowcake. Her stories have appeared in The New Yorker, McSweeney’s, Antioch Review and elsewhere.

Jonathan Dee is the author of the novels The Privileges, Palladio, St. Famous, The Liberty Campaign and The Lover of History. He is a staff writer for The New York Times Magazine, a frequent literary critic for Harper's and a former Senior Editor of The Paris Review.

Elizabeth Evans is the author of five books of fiction. Her short story collections are Suicide’s Girlfriend (Harper Collins) and Locomotion (New Rivers Press). Her novels are The Blue Hour (Algonquin), Rowing in Eden (HarperCollins) and Carter Clay (HarperCollins), which was selected by The Los Angeles Times for “The Best Books of 1999.”

Lauren Groff is the author of the acclaimed 2012 novel Arcadia. Her first novel, The Monsters of Templeton, was a New York Times and Booksense bestseller, shortlisted for the Orange Prize for New Writers, and translated into nine languages. Stories from her second book, Delicate Edible Birds, were published in journals and anthologies including the Atlantic Monthly, Ploughshares, Glimmer Train, One Story, Best American Short Stories and Best New American Writers. She is the recipient of a Pushcart prize and the Axton Fellowship in Fiction from the University of Louisville, and has received other fellowships from Yaddo, the Vermont Studio Center, and Ragdale. She lives with her family in Gainesville, Florida.

Bob Hicok’s fifth book of poems, This Clumsy Living, was published by Pitt in 2007. He is the author of Insomnia Diary (Pitt, 2004), Animal Soul (Invisible Cities Press, 2001), which was a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award, Plus Shipping (BOA Editions, 1998) and The Legend of Light (University of Wisconsin Press, 1995), which won the 1995 Felix Pollak Prize in Poetry and was named a 1997 ALA Booklist Notable Book of the Year. A recipient of two Pushcart Prizes and an NEA Fellowship, his poetry has been published in The Yorker, APR, Poetry and The Paris Review, as well as three volumes of Best American Poetry.

Cathy Park Hong’s second book, Dance Dance Revolution, was chosen for the Barnard New Women Poets Prize and was published by W.W. Norton in 2007. She is the recipient of a Fulbright Fellowship, a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship and a New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowship. Her work has appeared in Volt, Denver Quarterly, American Letters and Commentary, Chain, Field and she has also received a Pushcart Prize.

Branden Jacobs-Jenkins's plays include Appropriate, The Change, Neighbors, Zoo, and Heart!!!. He is a former playwriting fellow at the New York Theatre Workshop, an alum of the Soho Rep Writer/Director Lab and Public Theatre Emerging Writers Group, and a proud member of the ArsNova Playgroup. He has written on theater for The New Yorker, served as an editor in its fiction department, and holds an M.A. in Performance Studies from NYU.

Daniel Jones is a contributing editor at The New York Times, where he edits the weekly “Modern Love” column in Sunday Styles. He’s also the editor of The Bastard on the Couch: 27 Men Try Really Hard to Explain Their Feelings About Love, Loss, Fatherhood and Freedom and the author of the novel After Lucy, which was a finalist for the Barnes & Noble Discover Award.
Sally Keith’s first book, Design (University Press of Colorado, 2001), won the 2000 Colorado Prize, judged by Allen Grossman. Her second manuscript Dwelling Song was chosen by Bin Ramke and Fanny Howe for the University of Georgia’s Contemporary Poetry Series.

Natalie Kusz is the author of the memoir Road Song and has published essays in Harper's, Three Penny Review, McCall's, Real Simple and other periodicals. Her work has earned, among other honors, a Whiting Writer’s Award, a Pushcart Prize and fellowships from the NEA, the Bush Foundation and the Bunting Institute of Radcliffe College.

Nick Lantz is the author of two recent collections of poetry. The first, We “Don’t Know We Don’t Know” (Graywolf 2010), on the Bread Loaf Writers’ Conference Bakeless Prize, the Great Lakes Colleges Association New Writers Award, and the Council for Wisconsin Writers Posner Award. Master of Arts (MA) in Interior Design

The focus of the Masters of Art in Interior Design program is on the technical aspects of designing for commercial environments such as healthcare, restaurants and educational facilities. The program’s emphases on the health, safety and welfare fundamentals of the profession are practiced within the program and expanded upon with emphasis on the global community. This master’s degree is coupled with the foundation of a liberal arts undergraduate education. Employers find our graduates to be not only skilled practitioners, but well-rounded persons and critical thinkers.

The goals of the program are for graduates to be able to demonstrate critical thinking, core design and technical knowledge on a global level; to be able to exercise and integrate practical knowledge and professional values and processes; to be able to demonstrate compliance with all assessment measures; and to be in compliance with all accrediting bodies (CIDA, NCIDQ.)

ADMISSION

To be considered for admittance to the MA in Interior Design program applicants must:

- Hold a baccalaureate degree in Interior Design or a related field from an accredited college or university
- Have a grade point average of at least 2.500 on a scale of 4.0 on all undergraduate courses.
- Provide official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the Queens Graduate Admissions Office
- Submit a portfolio of past work in interior design
- Submit two letters of recommendation
- Submit a completed graduate application form.
- Provide a non-refundable $60 application fee.

In addition a successful admissions interview is required for admission.

International Students

International students are required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States. Full admission to the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

For More Information
Those interested in the graduate program should contact the Director of Interior Design for information or an application.

Student Status

Full Graduate Status
Full graduate status is given to students who are pursuing a master’s degree and who have met all admission requirements, including the satisfactory undergraduate grade point average. Those without a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above must provide an acceptable GRE score from within the past five years before they will be admitted.

Admission on Probation
Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of probation set by their admission letter to be allowed to continue in the program. Terms may vary from student to student depending upon academic and work experience.

Provisional Admission
Students admitted provisionally must meet the terms of full admission in order to continue in the program.

Non-Degree Graduate Status
Non-degree status is assigned to students who wish to take graduate courses for personal satisfaction, but who may not wish to work toward a master’s degree. Non-degree graduate students generally may not take more than nine credit hours. To be admitted as a non-degree graduate student, an individual must complete the same admissions procedures and standards as other graduate applicants, and must have an undergraduate overall grade point average of 3.0.

Transient Status
Transient status is assigned to students who wish to take a graduate course for transfer to another institution. Generally, a transient student is admitted for one term only. Transient students must complete an application form, submit copies of all post-secondary transcripts and submit a copy of their GRE scores and a letter of good standing from their home institution.

Requirements for the M.A. in Interior Design
All requirements for the MA in Interior Design must be completed to earn the degree. Requirements can be completed in as little as two years with part-time attendance or in one year with full-time attendance. Students must follow the recommended course sequence and take two courses per semester, including summer terms, in order to complete the degree in a timely manner.

Master of Arts (MA) in Music Therapy

The Master of Arts (MA) in Music Therapy is designed for students with the MT-BC credential (Music Therapist-Board Certified) from the national Certification Board for Music Therapists (CBMT).

Students with an undergraduate degree in music, but not in music therapy, who qualify for the Certificate Program in Music Therapy (requiring less than 30 hours to be eligible for the Certification Exam) may be accepted into the program with prerequisites to earn board certification before taking any of the graduate level music therapy courses other than MUTH 620 Philosophy of Music Therapy. Graduate courses in the chosen concentration of business, education, or healthcare, may be taken concurrently with the prerequisites in music therapy.

Students desiring a Master of Arts in Music Therapy from Queens who have an undergraduate degree in music requiring more than 30 credits to be eligible for the certification exam, as well as students with an undergraduate degree in an area other than music, should register as second degree students to earn a Bachelor of Music with a major in Music Therapy, and must pass the certification exam prior to applying to the graduate program. These students may take graduate level courses in their chosen area of specialization as electives while in the second degree program. Those graduate credits will count toward the MA in Music Therapy at Queens if the student returns and completes the MA program within 7 years.

An audition is required for admission unless the application immediately follows completion of a certificate or BM in Music Therapy at Queens. The audition consists of an interview and a demonstration of musical competencies.

ADMISSION

In order to be considered for admission as a degree candidate to the Master of Arts in Music Therapy program, an applicant must meet the following criteria:

1. Submit a completed graduate application form, including the nonrefundable $45 application fee.
2. Submit official transcripts of all post-secondary academic coursework.
3. Provide one letter of academic recommendation and, if an MT-BC, one letter of professional recommendation.
4. Hold a baccalaureate degree in music or music therapy from an accredited institution.
5. Provide evidence of MT-BC status from the Certification Board for Music Therapists (CBMT) or require fewer than 30 credits to be eligible for the CBMT Board Certification Exam and be willing to take the courses necessary for certification.

For More Information
Those interested in the graduate program should contact the Director of Music Therapy at 704 337-2570 for information or an application.

International Student Admission
International students applying to the traditional undergraduate program must provide the following information to be considered for admission:

Transcripts: Secondary school transcripts in a language other than English are to be translated into English by an official at the school issuing the transcript, or by a certified translator. If transferring credit from a college or university outside the U.S., you must submit a course-by-course evaluation from World Education Services (WES) www.wes.org.

Standardized Test Score: It is recommended that international students take the SAT or ACT. Queens accepts the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) in place of the SAT. A minimum score of 550 (written test), 213 (electronic test), or 79 (internet based test) on the TOEFL is required for admission. A minimum composite score of 6.0 on the IELTS is required for admission. Also, in lieu of the TOEFL, Queens will accept successful completion (level 12) of the ELS Language Centers English language program www.els.com.

Personal Essay explaining why a student would like to attend Queens and to verify their ability to write and communicate in the English language.

Letter of Recommendation from a past teacher or counselor that speaks on the students study skills and ability in a classroom setting.
Application deadlines for international students are July 1 for fall enrollment and November 1 for spring enrollment. To indicate their intent to enroll, international students who have been accepted to the University are asked to send a non-refundable enrollment deposit of $1,000.

International students are also required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

Full admission to the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Requirements for the Master of Arts in Music Therapy

Once accepted into the program, students will choose a desired concentration in business, education, or healthcare. A minimum of 18 credit hours, or one-half of the credit hours required for the degree, will be in music therapy; a minimum of 12 credit hours will be in the chosen area of specialization, and the remaining electives may be in either music therapy or the area of specialization.

Students will conduct original research, either qualitative or quantitative in nature. The resulting paper must be suitable for submission to a major peer-reviewed journal. The students will work with the thesis advisor on revisions. Additionally, students are required to present their research findings at a regional or national conference in music therapy or for an appropriate related discipline.

In the final semester of study students will participate in oral and written comprehensive examinations encompassing both the core curriculum and representative material from the area of specialization. Failure to pass these exams with a “B” or better will preclude confirmation of the degree. A student may retake either portion of the comprehensive exams one time, as long as the earned grade was a C or better.

The McColl School of Business Graduate Programs

The McColl School of Business educates students to become successful business and professional leaders who are competent, understand the importance of character and are committed to their communities. We seek to prepare individuals for careers by providing high quality, innovative undergraduate and graduate business education which provides students the opportunity to develop business and management abilities. The McColl School offers a comprehensive set of educational programs and enrichment opportunities which serve as important educational resources for the Charlotte region and beyond. Our vision is to build a brand that identifies the McColl School name with “leadership.” We believe that organizations need leaders with integrity at all levels and that leadership can be learned. We also believe that beyond mastering basic business skills, students need to understand their own values and draw on their knowledge and values to influence people within their organizations and communities. We focus on leadership when recruiting faculty, developing curricular content and structure, connecting with our business community and conveying to our students the concepts of leadership in association with competence, character, and community.

Graduate Programs

There are two distinct programs leading to the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree. The Professional MBA program allows flexibility in scheduling classes most of which are offered on weekday evenings. Depending on the number of credit hours completed each term, the PMBA program can be completed in two to three years. The Executive MBA program meets on alternating Fridays and Saturdays for twenty months. It is an intensive, integrated program in general management designed for people with substantial experience in managing people, assets or data.

The Master of Science (MS) in organization development is intended for working professionals who are interested in designing and leading organizational change. The program provides students with an understanding of the dynamics of organizational culture change in organizational systems.

The Master of Science (MS) in executive coaching is designed to meet the needs of working professionals and provides a low residency schedule in a cohort experience planned for the adult learner. The non-degree graduate Coaching Certificate program designed for those seeking to develop knowledge, skills and abilities in coaching. The certificate courses are offered through the organization development, executive coaching, or professional MBA programs.

The McColl School also offers undergraduate majors in accounting, business administration, and finance leading to a Bachelor in Business Administration (BBA) as well as graduate degrees in business administration (MBA), organization development (MS) and executive coaching (MS).

The McColl School of Business offices are located in the Sykes Learning Center on the Queens campus. Applications and further information for either program can be obtained at www.mccollschool.edu or by calling 704 337-2525. To contact the school by mail, write to The McColl School Graduate Admissions, Queens University of Charlotte, 1900 Selwyn Avenue, Charlotte, NC 28274.
Professional Master of Business Administration (MBA) Program

The Professional MBA program (PMBA) prepares students to be skilled managers. The curriculum stresses the interaction of the functional areas of business within the broader social and international context and emphasizes high standards of ethical and social responsibility. The curriculum is developed, taught and regularly updated by a faculty with strong academic and business experience. The faculty stress the need to develop communication and writing skills, international and cultural awareness and a comprehensive managerial perspective.

ADMISSION

In order to be considered for admission as a degree candidate to the PMBA program, an applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and have a strong undergraduate academic record. Applications must include:

- a completed graduate application form including essays
- a resume
- an official score report from the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) or Graduate Record Examination (GRE) taken within the last five years
- two letters of reference
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Applications are reviewed on a rolling admissions basis. Applications are accepted and reviewed year-round.

International Student Admission

The McColl School of Business welcomes international students. Applicants must ask each college or university they attended to forward their transcripts to the McColl School Graduate Admissions Office. Students transferring from a foreign college or university must have their transcripts evaluated independently by a certified transcript evaluation service such as World Education Services (www.wes.org). Applicants should request the course-by-course report. In addition, secondary school transcripts in a language other than English must be translated into English by an official at the institution issuing the transcript.

Applicants for whom English is not the first language must satisfactorily complete the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) with a minimum score of 550 on the paper version, 213 on the computer version, or 80 on the internet version, and have the score sent to the Office of Admissions. Information may be obtained by writing to the TOEFL Program, Educational Testing Service, Box 899, Princeton, N.J. 08541. The TOEFL code number for Queens University of Charlotte is 5560. Registration arrangements should be made at least two months before the testing date. Queens will also accept the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) exam. The minimum IELTS composite score required is a 6.0 for applicants. In lieu of TOEFL or IELTS scores Queens University of Charlotte will accept, prior to admission, successful completion of the ELS Language Centers’ English language program at level 112.

International students also are required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

Full acceptance into the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Student Status

Full Degree status

Full degree status is assigned to students who are pursuing a degree and who have met all admissions requirements, including a satisfactory undergraduate grade point average and an acceptable GMAT/GRE score.

Post-baccalaureate status

Post-baccalaureate status is accorded for one term only to those who have not yet submitted an acceptable GMAT or GRE score. A post-baccalaureate student is subject to the following policies:

- A post-baccalaureate student must complete the same admissions procedures as other graduate applicants and must meet the standards for general admission into the PMBA program except for submission of the GMAT/GRE score. Post-baccalaureate students are subject to the academic regulations and standards required of full degree students.
- An acceptable GMAT or GRE score must be submitted in order to be changed to full degree status and continue in the program.
- The post-baccalaureate classification is a non-degree status which carries with it no implication that a student will be admitted to the PMBA degree program.

Non-degree graduate status
Non-degree graduate status is assigned to students not pursuing a degree who are normally admitted for one term only. Non-degree graduate applicants are not required to submit essays, test scores or references. If a non-degree student later applies for, and is admitted to full degree status, courses taken in non-degree status may be applied to the degree program to which the student is admitted.

Applications must include:
- a completed graduate application form
- a resume
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Transient status
Transient status is assigned to a student who wishes to take a graduate course for transfer to another institution. Generally, a transient student is admitted for one term only.

Applications must include:
- a completed graduate application form
- an official transcript from the home institution sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a letter of good standing from the home institution including permission to take a specific course or courses and evidence of completion of any prerequisites needed
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Admission on Academic Probation
When an applicant to a program presents a marginal undergraduate record or test score, the admissions committee may admit that person on academic probation. A student admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of probation set by his/her admission letter in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

CURRICULUM

Foundation courses
The foundation courses are designed to provide preparation in, and an understanding of quantitative and behavioral skills. In addition, the need for computer knowledge will vary with each course within the program. There is an expectation that all PMBA students are comfortable with current applicable computer technology. The contents of the core courses are based on the assumption that students have mastered the knowledge and skills included in the foundation courses and have some computer literacy.

The foundation courses also provide an introduction to expectations of study and rigor needed for the core courses. However, the grades and the credit hours for foundation courses are not included in the grade point average for the MBA degree. These courses are graded on a Pass/No Record basis with Pass being at the level of B or better. A Pass is recorded on the transcript. A No Record does not appear on the transcript but is maintained internally. After receiving a grade of No Record in a foundation course (and provided the student is otherwise in good standing), a student may retake/repeat the course only once. If the PMBA student does not pass the foundation course the second time, he/she will be ineligible to continue in the program.

Degree Requirements
Degree requirements for the Professional MBA program include 30 credit hours in core courses and 9 credit hours of electives.

The core courses focus on the functional areas of business. The curriculum underscores the complexity and diversity of managerial decisions in national and international economies. Instruction is presented through various methods including extensive use of case studies.

Three electives are required to complete the degree. A Student may either take three unrelated elective courses, or may choose to complete a specific concentration. Concentrations are available in Marketing, Finance, Entrepreneurship, Executive Coaching, International Perspectives, and Health Care Leadership. A concentration is not required.

Course Sequence for the PMBA Program
A student generally should meet with his/her advisor to develop a plan of study. This will insure that the courses are taken in proper sequence.

BUSN 650 Strategic Management is the capstone course of the PMBA program and thus is taken after all other core courses are completed. It may be scheduled with an elective, but it may not be taken with any other required course.

ACADEMIC POLICIES
The section Graduate Academic Policies applies to all graduate students. The following policies supplement or modify those policies for students in the PMBA program whether degree or non-degree.

See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities

Grade Appeals
The substantive judgment of a faculty member about a student’s work (grades or other evaluation of assignments) is not within the scope of hearings regarding academic grievances. A student may challenge only the actual and objective elements of the content of student records (discrepancies in computation and the transcription of grades, not the qualitative and subjective elements of grading. If there is a possible error in the computation or transcription of a grade and satisfactory agreement between the student and the instructor cannot be reached, the student should ask to meet with the Director of the PMBA program. If a satisfactory agreement is still not reached, a meeting with the Dean of the McColl School should be scheduled.

Undergraduate enrollment in the PMBA Courses
Seniors at Queens with a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better may request approval of the student's undergraduate advisor and the PMBA student advisor to take a PMBA course. Approval must be granted prior to registration. Approval is not automatic. See also undergraduate policies on admission of undergraduates to graduate study. Students who wish to complete the PMBA program must first be admitted to the program to continue taking courses.

Pass/Fail
Some PMBA classes may be offered on a Pass/Fail basis. Pass in a graduate course is equivalent to a B or better. Course work evaluated below the equivalent of a B receives a grade of F.

Pass / No Record
The Foundation courses, BUSN 542 and 543, are offered only on a Pass/No Record basis. A Pass is equivalent to a B or better. Course work evaluated below B is considered "No Record" and there is no notation on the transcript that the course was taken. The grades and the credit hours for foundation courses are not included in the grade point average for the MBA degree. Unless specified, a graduate (600 level) course may not be taken on a Pass/No Record basis.

Satisfactory Academic Progress
Students must show progress toward completion of degree requirements

Graduation Requirements
PMBA students may receive a degree only after meeting all of the program requirements. A grade point average of 3.00 or better is required. At the discretion of the McColl School of Business Student Qualifications Committee (MSB SQC), a student may be allowed to take additional course work to increase his/her grade point average. However, in no case will more than six extra hours (two courses) be allowed for the purpose of increasing the student's grade point average to the required level. The MSB SQC will determine the course work that is to be taken. No course with an assigned grade below C may apply toward degree requirements.

MSB Student Qualifications Committee (SQC)
The McColl School faculty has established standards of satisfactory academic progress which are administered by its Student Qualifications Committees (MSB SQC). At the end of each term, the committee reviews the academic record of each student who is in academic difficulty.

Admission on Probation
Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of their letter of admission in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

Academic Probation and Dismissal
A PMBA student who earns an "F" in any course or three (3) Cs will be subject to dismissal from the program and from the University.

A student will be placed on probation if his/her grade point average falls below 3.000. The records of students placed on academic probation will be reviewed by the SQC at the end of each term. To be removed from probation the student must meet the requirements stated in the notice of probation. If the student cannot be removed from probation the student is subject to dismissal from the program. Extension of probation is by special permission and only due to extenuating circumstances.

Variation in Degree Requirements
Any change in degree requirements must be approved by the McColl Student Qualifications Committee.
Executive Master of Business Administration (MBA) Program

The Executive MBA program (EMBA) at the McColl School of Business is a twenty-month learning experience rich in opportunities for personal and professional growth. Program participants are experienced managers who refine and extend their skills and aptitudes to enhance their continued career development.

The McColl School of Business offices are located in the Sykes Learning Center on the Queens campus. Applications and further information can be obtained at www.mccollschool.edu or by calling 704-337-2525. To contact the school by mail, write to McColl School Graduate Admissions, McColl School of Business, Queens University of Charlotte, 1900 Selwyn Avenue, Charlotte, NC 28274.

ADMISSION

The Admissions Committee seeks highly motivated applicants who have demonstrated success in management and who have the potential for significant additional responsibility. The Executive MBA program begins in September each year. Applications must include:

- a completed graduate application form including essays
- a resume
- an official score report from the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) or Graduate Record Examination (GRE) taken within the last five years
- two letters of reference
- a statement of corporate support
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Applications are reviewed on a rolling admissions basis. Applications are accepted and reviewed year-round and admission can be granted until the week prior to the first day of class.

International Student Admission

The McColl School of Business welcomes international students. Applicants must ask each college or university they attended to forward their transcripts to the McColl School Graduate Admissions Office. Students transferring from a foreign college or university must have their transcripts evaluated independently by a certified transcript evaluation service such as World Education Services (www.wes.org). Applicants should request the course-by-course report. In addition, secondary school transcripts in a language other than English must be translated into English by an official at the institution issuing the transcript.

Applicants for whom English is not the first language must satisfactorily complete the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) with a minimum score of 550 on the paper version, 213 on the computer version, or 80 on the internet version, and have the score sent to the Office of Admissions. Information may be obtained by writing to the TOEFL Program, Educational Testing Service, Box 899, Princeton, N.J. 08541. The TOEFL code number for Queens University of Charlotte is 5560. Registration arrangements should be made at least two months before the testing date. Queens will also accept the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) exam. The minimum IELTS composite score required is a 6.0 for applicants. In lieu of TOEFL or IELTS scores Queens University of Charlotte will accept, prior to admission, successful completion of the ELS Language Centers’ English language program at level 112.

International students also are required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States. Full acceptance into the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

Student Status

All EMBA students are admitted with full degree status.
DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
The Executive MBA is a 54 credit hour program comprised of four academic terms of classroom and experiential learning and one summer with a consulting project and an international experience. The Executive MBA academic terms are highly integrated, emphasizing the interconnectedness of business processes and management concepts.

Required Courses
EMBA 610 The Big Picture
EMBA 620 Anatomy of the Enterprise
EMBA 630 Control and Development
EMBA 640 Managing Strategically
EMBA 671 International Experience
EMBA 672 Consulting Project

ACADEMIC POLICIES
The section Graduate Academic Policies applies to all graduate students. The following policies supplement or modify those policies for students in the EMBA program.

See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities

Registration
The Executive MBA office processes the registration for participants each term.

Evaluation System
Segments within each term are graded on a Pass/Fail basis, and one grade, Pass or Fail, is posted for each term on the transcript. In addition, the McColl Executive MBA faculty, at the conclusion of each term, provides written evaluative feedback on a participant's performance. Participants also receive substantial additional performance feedback from faculty and classmates. The written faculty commentary regarding performance is the primary vehicle used to judge overall participant performance.

Incomplete Status
A faculty member may assign a status Incomplete (I) for a compelling reason. An I status automatically becomes a grade of F if the participant fails to satisfactorily make up incomplete work within one term.

Withdrawal from the Program
A participant who wishes to withdraw from the program should notify the Executive MBA office in writing. Upon withdrawal from the program, the status for the term in progress will be recorded as W (withdrawal). At the discretion of the McColl Student Qualifications Committee, a participant who withdraws may be permitted to return to the program within one calendar year.

Administrative Withdrawal
If a participant fails to return for the next term, the participant will be administratively withdrawn from the program. Also, a participant who simply stops attending classes (i.e. four weeks consecutively or four consecutive classes from an individual discipline) will be administratively withdrawn from the program. Any administratively withdrawn participant must contact the Graduate Admissions office to be considered for readmission. Queens University of Charlotte reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of a participant whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

Transfer of Courses
No courses are considered for transfer credit. Should a participant withdraw from the program and wish to attempt to transfer his or her completed course progress to another institution, a credit-hour description of the participant's completed course work can be made available through the Executive MBA office.

Time Limit
The EMBA is normally completed in twenty months. If a student cannot complete the program in twenty months he/she may apply for an extension. In all cases completion must be in six years.

Graduation Requirements
EMBA students may receive a degree only after completing the entire twenty month sequence of courses including the summer term and all special project assignments.

MSB Student Qualifications Committee (SQC)
The McColl School faculty determines the academic standards, which are administered by the McColl Student Qualifications Committee. This committee reviews each case of academic difficulty to determine the appropriate action and academic status for the participant.
Academic Probation and Dismissal
Continuation in the McColl Executive MBA program is based on the qualitative recommendation of the program faculty based on the participant's individual performance as outlined under "Evaluation System." Should the program faculty evaluate a participant's performance as unacceptable; the faculty will refer the evaluation to the McColl Student Qualifications Committee with a recommendation that the participant be placed on academic probation. The entire program faculty will review a participant on academic probation by the end of the subsequent term. The McColl Student Qualifications Committee, on the recommendation of the program faculty, approves removal from probation. Participants who do not receive a recommendation from the program faculty for removal from probation will be subject to dismissal from the program.

Variations in Degree Requirements
Any change in degree requirements must be approved by the McColl Student Qualifications Committee.

Master of Science (MS) in Executive Coaching

The Master of Science in Executive Coaching (MSEC) program is designed to meet the needs of working professionals and provides a low residency schedule using adult learning principles and various mediated learning technologies. Students participate in a cohort group designed to complete the program of study in two years.

Program residencies are scheduled in August, January, and May. Students are required to participate in all residency sessions to complete work independently, and to take part in work teams. Following the residencies, students and faculty continue to engage online to complete the course work.

The program curriculum is based on the Graduate School Alliance for Executive Coaching (GSAEC) curriculum standards guidelines, the International Coach Federation’s (ICF) coaching competencies, and Board Certified Coach certification requirements.

ADMISSION
In order to be considered for admission as a degree candidate to the program, an applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and have seven years of professional work experience.

Applications must include:
- a completed graduate application form including essays
- a resume
- two letters of reference
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Student Status
Students are admitted to the executive coaching program with full degree status.

Admission on academic probation
When an applicant to the program presents a marginal undergraduate record or less than seven years of professional work experience, the admissions committee may admit that person on academic probation. Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of probation set by their admission letter in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

Admissions eligibility
Applicants are expected to begin the program with the first residency of a cohort. If the applicant is unable to begin as expected, he/she must wait for the next cohort to begin at which time he/she is subject to the admissions standards and curriculum requirements in the subsequent catalog of entry.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
The graduate program in Executive Coaching is a 36 credit hour program leading to the Master of Science (MS) degree.

Course Sequence
In the unusual circumstance in which a student misses a term of study, the Program Director will coordinate the sequence of re-entry as some courses are taught in sequential order - e.g., MSEC 605 must be completed before taking MSEC 630; MSEC 630 must be completed before MSEC 645; MSEC 615 must be completed before taking MSEC 625; and MSEC 675 should be the last course taken. No elective courses are offered.

Required Courses:
All courses are 3 credit hours except MSEC 675 which is 6 credit hours.
MSEC 605 Coaching Theories and Practice
MSEC 610 Human Development and Leadership
MSEC 615 Understanding and Applying Research
MSEC 620 Interpersonal & Cross Cultural Communication
MSEC 625 Applied Assessments & Measurement
MSEC 630 Adv Coaching Theories & Practice
MSEC 635 Group and Team Dynamics
MSEC 640 Business Acumen
MSEC 645 Executive Coaching Practicum
MSEC 650 Practice Development & Management
MSEC 675 Capstone in Executive Coaching

Academic Policies
The catalog section of Graduate Academic Policies applies to all graduate students. The following policies supplement or modify those policies for students in the MSEC program.

See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities
Undergraduate Enrollment
An undergraduate student may not enroll in an MSEC course.

Satisfactory Academic Progress
Students must show progress toward completion of the degree requirements.

Graduation Requirements
Students in the executive coaching program may receive a degree only after satisfactorily completing all of the program requirements including all residencies and all special project assignments. A grade point average of 3.0 or better is required. No course with an assigned grade below C may apply toward degree requirements.

MSB Student Qualifications Committee (SQC)
The McColl School faculty has established standards of satisfactory academic progress, which are administered by its Student Qualifications Committee (SQC). At the end of each term the committee reviews the academic record of each student who is in academic difficulty.

Academic Probation and Dismissal
A student who earns an “F” in any course or three (3) C’s will be subject to dismissal from the program and from the University. A student will be placed on probation if his/her grade point average falls below 3.0. The records of students placed on academic probation will be reviewed by the SQC at the end of each term. To be removed from probation the student must meet the requirements stated in the notice of probation. If the student cannot be removed from probation, the student is subject to dismissal from the program. Extension of probation is by special permission and only due to extenuating circumstances.

If a satisfactory agreement is still not reached, a meeting with the Dean of the McColl School should be scheduled.

Withdrawal from the Program
A participant who wishes to withdraw from the program should notify the MSEC Program Director in writing. Upon withdrawal from the program, the status for the term in progress will be recorded as W (Withdrawal). At the discretion of the McColl SQC, a participant who withdraws may be permitted to return to the program within one calendar year.

Administrative Withdrawal
If a participant fails to attend a term, the participant will be administratively withdrawn from the program. Also, a participant who simply stops attending classes during the residency session or stops participating in distance learning programs will be administratively withdrawn from the program. Any administratively withdrawn participant must contact the Graduate Admissions office to be considered for readmission. Queens University of Charlotte reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of a participant whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

Time Limit
The executive coaching program is normally completed in 24 months. If a student cannot complete the program in 24 months he/she may apply for an extension. In all cases completion must be within six years.

Transfer Courses
Due to the nature of the program, graduate credits may not be transferred from another institution.

Incomplete Status
A faculty member may agree to assign a status of Incomplete (I) when the student is passing the course and has a compelling reason why he/she cannot complete final assignments before the end of the term. After discussion with the student, if the faculty member agrees to assign a grade status of Incomplete the student must sign the appropriate form filed with the Registrar. This status must be changed within one year of the end of the term in which the status was recorded. The student has until this time to complete the missing work. After this time the student will be assumed to have abandoned the class and the instructor or the Registrar will change the status as appropriate. Neither credit hours nor grade points are awarded for a course whose status is “I”. A student with a status of “I” in a course sequence required course will not be allowed to register for the next course in the sequence (See “Course Sequence” section).

Master of Science (MS) in Organization Development

The Master of Science in Organization Development (MSOD) program is intended for working professionals who are interested in designing and leading organizational change. Grounded in the behavioral and management sciences, the MSOD program provides students with an understanding of the dynamics of organizational culture change in organizational systems.

The McColl School of Business Graduate Admission offices are located in the Sykes Learning Center on the Queens campus. Applications and further information can be obtained at www.mccollschool.edu or by calling 704 337-2525. To contact the school by mail, write to McColl School Graduate Admissions, McColl School of Business, Queens University of Charlotte, 1900 Selwyn Avenue, Charlotte, NC 28274.

ADMISSION

In order to be considered for admission as a degree candidate to the MSOD program, an applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and have five years of professional work experience.

Applications must include:
• a completed graduate application form including essays
• a resume
• an official score from the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) or Graduate Record Examination (GRE) taken within the last five years
• two letters of reference
• official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
• a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
• an admissions interview

Student Status
Full degree status is assigned to students who are pursuing a degree and who have met all admissions requirements, including a satisfactory undergraduate grade point average and an acceptable GMAT/GRE score.

Post-baccalaureate status
Post-baccalaureate status is accorded for one term only to those who have not yet submitted an acceptable GMAT or GRE score. A post-baccalaureate student is subject to the following policies:

- A post-baccalaureate student must complete the same admissions procedures as other graduate applicants and must meet the standards for general admission into the MSOD program except for submission of the GMAT/GRE score. Post-baccalaureate students are subject to the academic regulations and standards required of full degree students.
- An acceptable GMAT or GRE score must be submitted in order to be changed to full degree status and continue in the program.
- The post-baccalaureate classification is a non-degree status which carries with it no implication that a student will be admitted to the MSOD degree program.

Non-degree graduate status
Non-degree graduate status is assigned to students not pursuing a degree who are normally admitted for one term only. Non-degree graduate applicants are not required to submit essays, test scores or references. If a nondegree student later applies for, and is admitted to full degree status, courses taken in non-degree status may be applied to the degree program to which the student is admitted.

Non-degree applications must include:
- a completed graduate application form
- a resume
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview

Admission on academic probation
When an applicant to a program presents a marginal undergraduate record or test score, the admissions committee may admit that person on academic probation. Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of probation set by their admission letter in order to be allowed to continue in the program.
DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
The Master of Science in Organization Development is a 36 credit hour program including 27 credit hours of core courses and 9 credit hours of electives.

Course Sequence
ODEV 675 may be taken only after all other core courses are completed. It may be scheduled with an elective, but it may not be taken with any other core course. A student generally should meet with his/her advisor to develop a plan of study. This will ensure that the courses are taken in proper sequence.

Core Courses

UNDERGRADUATE ENROLLMENT
An undergraduate student may not enroll in an MSOD course.

PASS/FAIL
Some MSOD classes may be offered on a Pass/Fail basis. Pass in a graduate course is equivalent to a B or better. Course work evaluated below the equivalent of a B receives a grade of F.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS
Students must show progress toward completion of degree requirements.

GRADE APPEALS
The substantive judgment of a faculty member about a student’s work (grades or other evaluation of assignments) is not within the scope of hearings regarding academic grievances. A student may challenge only the actual and objective elements of the content of student records (discrepancies in computation and the transcription of grades), not the qualitative and subjective elements of grading.

If there is a possible error in the computation or transcription of a grade and satisfactory agreement between the student and the instructor is not reached, the student should ask to meet with the Director of the MSOD program. If a satisfactory agreement is still not reached, a meeting with the Dean of the McColl School should be scheduled.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS
MSOD students receive a degree only after meeting all of the program requirements. A grade point average of 3.00 or better is required. No course with an assigned grade below C may apply toward degree requirements.

MSB STUDENT QUALIFICATIONS COMMITTEE (SQC)
The McColl School faculty has established standards of satisfactory academic progress which are administered by its Student Qualifications Committees (MSB SQC). At the end of each term, the committee reviews the academic record of each student who is in academic difficulty.

ADMISSION ON ACADEMIC PROBATION
Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of their letter of admission in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

ACADEMIC POLICIES
The section Graduate Academic Policies applies to all graduate students. The following policies supplement or modify those policies for students, whether degree or non-degree, in the MSOD program.

See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities
Academic Probation and Dismissal
An MSOD student who earns an “F” in any course or three (3) C’s will be subject to dismissal from the program and from the University.

A student will be placed on probation if his/her grade point average falls below 3.000. The records of students placed on academic probation will be reviewed by the SQC at the end of each term. To be removed from probation the student must meet the requirements stated in the notice of probation. If the student cannot be removed from probation the student is subject to dismissal from the Program. Extension of probation is by special permission and only due to extenuating circumstances.

Non-Degree Coaching Certificate Program

The coaching certificate program is designed for those seeking to develop knowledge, skills and abilities in coaching either in a non-degree program of study, or in conjunction with a masters degree at Queens. The certificate program is intended for the individual who already holds a baccalaureate, masters or doctoral degree.

The program curriculum is based on the Graduate School Alliance for Executive Coaching (GSAEC) curriculum standards guidelines, the International Coach Federation’s (ICF) and Board Certified Coach competencies and certification requirements. The required courses focus on coaching theories and practice, the methods of coaching and the skills needed to coach individual and/or groups. The certificate may be earned on a non-degree basis, or as part of the MSOD, MSEC, or PMBA program at Queens.

Degree candidates in a master's program at Queens should contact the McColl Graduate Admissions Office for information about completing the Coaching Certificate. Individuals who wish to complete only the Coaching Certificate should apply to the McColl School of Business as non-degree graduate students.

Admission to the Coaching Certificate Program

In order to be considered for admission as a non-degree student in the coaching certificate program, an applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and have five years of professional work experience.

Applications must include:
- a completed graduate application form
- a resume
- two letters of reference
- official transcript(s) of all academic work beyond high school sent directly from the institution to the McColl Graduate Admissions Office
- a $75 application fee (non-refundable)
- an admissions interview
Coaching Certificate - MSOD Track
The MSOD track is done in conjunction with the Master of Science in Organization Development.

The courses can be completed in three to five terms, depending on the number of courses taken in a term. Requirements for the Coaching Certificate include completion of 9 credit hours in theory, practice, methods, and skills required for coaching and 6 credit hours of electives for a total of 15 credit hours.

Required Courses - 9 Hrs.
ODEV 640 Intro to Coaching Theories & Application
ODEV 645 Adv Coaching Theories and Practice
ODEV 650 Coaching Practicum

Electives - 6 Hrs.
6 credit hours from MSOD courses or electives from other programs with approval.

Coaching Certificate - PMBA Track
The PMBA track can be done as a concentration within the Master of Business Administration program. The requirements can be completed in three to five terms, depending on the number of courses taken in a term. The requirements for the concentration include completion of 9 credit hours in theory, practice, methods, and skills required for coaching. Six credit hours from the core PMBA courses are used as electives for a total of 15 credit hours.

Required Courses – 9 hours
BUSN 672 Intro to Coaching Theories & Application
BUSN 673 Adv Coaching Theories and Practice
BUSN 674 Coaching Practicum

Electives – 6 Hrs

The James L. Knight School of Communication
Graduate Programs

Master of Arts (MA) in Communication

Consistent with Queens’ liberal arts tradition, the mission of the Knight School Master of Arts in Communication program is to prepare consumers and creators of communication messages to become engaged citizens, advocates and leaders in the communities they serve.

The last decade brought dramatic change to human communication. A hyper-connected global environment with ever-evolving digital and mobile forms of communication has transformed individuals, organizations, and societies in almost every industry and country. We are faced with unanticipated communication challenges and opportunities.

Curiosity, passion, innovation, and an entrepreneurial spirit are needed to solve today’s communication problems and envision tomorrow’s possibilities. By integrating multidisciplinary and boundary-breaking conceptions of communication, the Knight School MA in Communication program provides students with the knowledge, skills, and critical thinking needed to explore a variety of communication issues and achieve greater rewards in their chosen futures.

The Knight School believes that the ability to ask the best questions and know where and how to look for evolving answers is the best way to prepare our graduates to contribute and succeed in today’s complex world. Success in the MA in Communication program is not about finding the “right” answer, but about asking the right questions and developing the skills and approaches needed for continued and engaged learning throughout life.

We actively engage students in the classroom through an intimate, safe learning environment in which they can ignite personal passions, gain valuable skills, and incubate new ideas. In their required courses, MA in Communication students hone their ability to access information, analyze and evaluate messages and texts, create content, reflect on social and ethical considerations, and engage in communities across all communication platforms. Then, students choose among context-specific electives to create an individualized plan of study that meets their interests and goals and allows them to develop mastery in a particular area. Students gain skills communicating with diverse audiences using a variety of traditional and digital platforms and examine topics such as interactive media, strategic communication with a global audience, organizational image and branding, and visual communication. Students also investigate a range of communication dynamics such as culture in a networked society, creativity and innovation, leadership and the management of meaning, and social entrepreneurship. Regularly scheduled special topic courses focus on emerging issues and technologies, allowing students to stay current with cutting-edge knowledge and skills. As part of its Knight Foundation grant, the Knight School is committed to providing students critical skills in accessing, analyzing, and creating content on a variety of digital platforms.

MA in Communication students complete the program by translating a personal passion into practice with a year-long project. They develop an original inquiry question about an important communication topic and/or challenge, allowing them to graduate with a completed project or initiative ready for implementation. Knight School MA in Communication students graduate prepared to make a difference, whether it is increasing organizational success, launching an entrepreneurial endeavor, or addressing a community or societal problem or need.

The program includes 36 credit hours of coursework. A student completes 18 credit hours of course requirements and an additional 18 credit hours of coursework of his or her choosing.

Online MA in Communication
In addition to the traditional on-ground program, the MA in Communication is also offered online. The online curriculum includes the same 18 credits of core requirements as the on-campus program, plus a set track of 18 additional credits.
ADMISSION

The Wayland H. Cato, Jr.
School of Education
Graduate Programs

The Cato School of Education’s graduate programs at Queens support the University’s mission of providing educational experiences that transform students’ lives and foster personal and professional success. Queens University of Charlotte believes that each individual has a responsibility to society at large which is exercised through personal service as expressed in the Queens motto: “Not to be served, but to serve.”

Graduate programs include the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) (K-6), the Master of Education in Literacy (MED) (K-12), the Master of Arts in Educational Leadership, (MEL) and post-baccalaureate licensure programs in Elementary Education (K-6); Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics, Social Studies (9-12); and French and Spanish (K-12).

Degrees & Licensure Areas
Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) K-6
Master of Education (MED) in Literacy K-12
Master of Arts (MA) in Educational Leadership K-12

CATO SCHOOL OF EDUCATION’S CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK: INDEPENDENT LEARNER

The goal of Queens University of Charlotte’s teacher preparation program is to ensure candidates demonstrate the characteristics of a Queens graduate. Thus, the conceptual framework of the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education is fully aligned with the University’s mission to nurture intellectual curiosity, promote global understanding, encourage ethical living and prepare individuals for purposeful and fulfilling lives.

Our conceptual framework reflects a social constructivist view of learning. This is often conceptualized as a spiral in which learners continuously reflect on their experiences and develop increasingly stronger abilities to integrate new information at more complex levels. We believe that the education of teachers is multifaceted and should reflect the social context of learning as individuals create meaning through their interactions with each other and with the environment in which they live.

Retention in the Program
Retention in the program is based on the expectation that students demonstrate the characteristics and dispositions of and conduct themselves as members of the teaching profession. Students may be removed from the program upon receiving a negative Disposition Assessment from a faculty member or showing professional incompetence. A deficiency in one or more of the following areas is evidence of professional incompetence:

- knowledge of subjects taught
- ability to impart that knowledge
- grades of C or better in all education courses
- the manner and efficacy of discipline in the classroom
- rapport with students, as well as parents, faculty, administration and staff
- physical and mental ability to perform the essential functions of a teacher
- positive Disposition Assessments from faculty members

Professional incompetence or negative Disposition Assessments are grounds for program dismissal and failure to recommend for licensure.

STATE LICENSURE
Queens University of Charlotte must meet all national and state mandates in order to retain program approval. Candidates must fulfill all national and state requirements in place at the time of application for licensure. In order to meet the requirements for licensure in the state of North Carolina, the student must complete their program and also meet additional requirements mandated by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

ACADEMIC POLICIES
The section Graduate Academic Policies applies to all degree and non-degree graduate students in the Cato School of Education. See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities

Foliotek Requirement
Students admitted to any Graduate Education Program must register and pay for Foliotek, our assessment and portfolio management program.
Student assignments and evidences will only be accepted in Foliotek.

Admissions Requirements for all Graduate Education Degree Programs

1. Baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution (MAT applicants: degree must NOT be Elementary Education)
2. Completed Graduate Admission Application
3. Official transcript(s) of all post-secondary academic course work
4. Cumulative grade point average of 2.500 or better on a 4.000 scale on all post-secondary course work
5. Written statement describing professional and personal goals and objectives
6. Two letters of recommendation from current or previous supervisors, or a letter of nomination from candidate’s school system, showing proof of required teaching experience (MAT-n/a, MED-2 years, MEL-5 years upon completion of program)
7. Optional Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADMISSION

International students applying to a graduate program must meet all academic requirements as well as any additional requirements as outlined by the individual program. If you attended a college or university outside the U.S., you must submit a course-by-course evaluation from World Education Services (WES, www.wes.org). A minimum score of 550 (written test), 213 (electronic test), or 79 (internet based test) on the TOEFL is required for admission. A minimum composite score of 6.5 on the IELTS is required for admission. Also, in lieu of the TOEFL, Queens will accept successful completion (level 12) of the ELS Language Centers English language program.

International students are also required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to submit a confidential certified financial statement indicating the amount of funds available for their education in the United States.

Full admission to the University is required before an I-20 may be issued. Graduate international students must be enrolled in at least 9 credit hours each in the fall and spring terms to be eligible for an F-1 student VISA.

STUDENT STATUS

Full Admission
Is accorded applicants who have met all admissions requirements, including a satisfactory undergraduate grade point average, acceptable test scores and the satisfactory completion of any required preparation or licensure required courses.

Provisional Admission
Students who are provisionally admitted to the University must meet the requirements for full admission in order to continue taking courses at Queens. Provisional admission is granted for ONLY ONE TERM to a student who is missing one or more admissions requirements but shows academic promise.

Probationary Admission
Students accepted on probation must meet the requirements outlined in their acceptance letter in order to continue enrollment at Queens.

NON-DEGREE ADMISSION

Non-Degree Graduate Status
A student who wishes to take graduate courses for teaching license renewal or other personal reasons, but not for a degree, will be classified as having non-degree graduate status. To be admitted as a non-degree graduate student, an individual must complete the same admissions procedures as other graduate applicants and meet the standards for general admission into a graduate program. Unless enrolled in a specific program, a non-degree graduate student may not take more than nine credit hours. After completion of nine credit hours, the student must apply as a degree candidate or receive special permission in order to continue.

Non-Degree Transient Status
A student who wishes to take a graduate course to transfer to another institution will be classified as a transient student. Generally, a transient student is admitted for one term only. Transient students must complete a graduate application, submit a copy of a transcript and a letter of good standing from their home institution, and receive special permission from the Cato School of Education.
Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) K-6

The MAT program is designed to offer North Carolina licensure in Elementary Education to those who have undergraduate degrees in majors other than Education. Queens University of Charlotte has a long-standing commitment to provide educators with the skills necessary to deal with the complexities of today's 21st century classroom setting. Faculty provide opportunities for candidates to develop insights into the understanding of the theoretical and philosophical bases for educational practices in the elementary school, the elementary curriculum, the interrelationship of subjects and major curriculum issues and trends. Faculty ensure candidates develop the ability to use and synthesize data to provide a developmentally appropriate learning environment for elementary students. The faculty ensures every candidate has ample opportunities to implement newly learned strategies in the classroom and then are provided with immediate, constructive feedback. This practice scaffolds candidates' learning while helping them to develop knowledge and understanding of theories and principles of human growth, development and learning and their implications for providing learning environments appropriate to the physical, cognitive, social and emotional needs of elementary school children.

Candidates earning their MAT licensure at Queens commit themselves to a productive career and a noble life in teaching. They recognize the vital role of the educator in guiding, nurturing and shaping the lives of children.

GOALS
The MAT program will:
• Provide opportunities for the teacher to develop insights into the understanding of the theoretical and philosophical bases for educational practices in the elementary school, the elementary curriculum, the interrelationship of subjects and major curriculum movements and trends
• Develop the teacher's understanding of the nature of the learner, the learning process and the evaluation of learning
• Assist the teacher in gaining insights and skills in the use of techniques of research and in designing and carrying out research projects
• Provide the teacher with a concentrated study of the instructional areas of the elementary curriculum
• Develop the teacher's ability to synthesize information and resources to provide a developmentally appropriate living/learning environment for elementary children
• Promote increased understanding of advanced computer skills and integrate technology into the curriculum

OBJECTIVES
The MAT program will:
• Develop knowledge and understanding of theories and principles of human growth and development and learning and their implications for providing learning environments appropriate to the physical, cognitive, social and emotional needs of elementary school children
• Develop an understanding of the basic principles of curriculum planning and implementation of a developmentally appropriate, comprehensive integrated classroom program
• Develop knowledge of learning strategies and models consistent with the developmental needs of elementary school children and reflective of proven educational practice and research
• Develop knowledge of effective instructional practices and assessment strategies which apply language and literacy research and theory to the planning of an integrated literature and communication process throughout the curriculum
• Develop knowledge and understanding of the mathematical concepts and processes and their implications for developing learning environments which focus on the importance of learning through concrete and manipulative experiences and on fostering positive attitudes towards Mathematics
• Develop knowledge of science concepts, principles, and experiences that will enable teachers to provide integrated, discovery-centered, teacher-facilitated classroom science programs which are developmentally appropriate for elementary school children
REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING

Professional Course Work
The MAT is a two phase program consisting of 42 hours of graduate professional education course work in Phase I and 9 hours of graduate professional education course work in Phase II. All students must earn a grade of C or better in all courses. A 12 credit hour student teaching internship in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School System (CMS) is required. This experience is the capstone of Phase I. Enrollment in EDUC 499 Professional Internship takes place only after the completion of all Phase I course work.

Program of Study
The MAT program is designed to offer North Carolina licensure in Elementary Education to those who have undergraduate degrees in majors other than education. The program is structured in two phases. At the end of Phase I, candidates apply for initial Standard Professional I A level licensure. Courses in Phase II cannot be taken prior to finishing Phase I or prior to obtaining the A initial level license. At the end of Phase II, candidates earn the MAT and upgrade to an advanced masters level license. (Standard Professional II).

Suggested Course Sequence
Students may begin the MAT program in any term-fall, spring or summer. A sequence of courses can be developed for individual students by the Education Advisor.
EDUC 518 Foundations and Curriculum in Elementary Education should be taken as early in the program as possible.
EDUC 527 Teaching Reading & Other Language Arts should be taken before EDUC 524 Diagnostic and Corrective Reading Techniques.

Transition Points in the Teacher Licensure Program

Application to the Teacher Education Program
Students must apply and be admitted to the Cato School of Education for admission to the Teacher Education Program prior to completing four courses in the MAT Program.

Requirements for TEP admission:
• completed TEP application and essay

• positive Disposition Assessments by two Queens faculty members
• completed Disposition Self Assessment Form
• cumulative grade point average of 2.75
• acceptable scores on the ACT, the SAT, or Praxis I
• registration/payment in Foliotek (5 year subscription)
• approval of the Teacher Education Committee

Retention in the Program
Retention in the program is based on the expectation that students demonstrate the characteristics and dispositions of and conduct themselves as members of the teaching profession. Students may be removed from the program upon receiving a negative Disposition Assessment from a faculty member or showing professional incompetence. A deficiency in one or more of the following areas is evidence of professional incompetence:
• knowledge of subjects taught
• ability to impart that knowledge
• grades of C or better in all education courses
• the manner and efficacy of discipline in the classroom
• rapport with students, as well as parents, faculty, administration and staff
• physical and mental ability to perform the essential functions of a teacher

• positive Disposition Assessments from faculty members

Professional incompetence or negative Disposition Assessments are grounds for program dismissal and failure to recommend for licensure.

Application for Student Teaching
Students must apply for student teaching in the term preceding their planned student teaching semester (EDUC499). All course work required for the MAT Program must be completed before the student teaching semester.

Requirements for Student Teaching:
• Student Teaching Application and essays
• cumulative grade point average of 2.75
• grades of C or better in all education courses
• positive Disposition Assessments from faculty
• good standing with the University
• approval of the Teacher Education Committee
State Mandated Test
To be licensed in North Carolina, candidates must pass the Elementary Education specialty area of the PRAXIS II Examination. Information and registration bulletins are available in the Cato School of Education. Currently in North Carolina, the required test for elementary education is: Elementary Education: Curriculum, Instructional Practices and Applications (Test Code 0015 or 5015)

Technology Portfolio
To be licensed in North Carolina, candidates must demonstrate computer competencies through portfolios. Information about the portfolio is distributed in EDUC 514 Educational Technology. This is required for initial licensure only.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

MAT PHASE I
The course of study for Phase I provides candidates with teaching competencies identified by The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI).
EDUC 504 Classroom Management & Conflict Resolution
EDUC 510 Educational Psychology
EDUC 513 Mathematics Methods in Elem Ed
EDUC 514 Educational Technology
EDUC 518 Foundations & Curriculum in Elem Ed
EDUC 524 Diagnosis & Correction of Reading Difficulties
EDUC 527 Teaching Reading & Other Language Arts
EDUC 533 Science Methods in Elem Ed
EDUC 540 Social Studies Methods & Materials in Elementary Schools
EDUC 548 Content and Vocabulary Development in Elem Ed
EDUC 499A Professional Internship Elementary (12 hrs) or EDUC 498A Supervised Internship

Field Experiences
In conjunction with course requirements, the program requires field experiences in a variety of grade levels in CMS in diverse K-6 settings. Field experiences related to methods courses will be arranged with the course instructor. Each candidate is responsible for completing the field hours required in the methods courses. Each field experience placement consists of opportunities for candidates to:
• Observe students and teachers in a learning environment
• Assist teachers with professional responsibilities
• Provide direct teaching and management experience in one-on-one, small group and whole class settings

MAT PHASE II
Phase II courses may not be taken before the completion of Phase I. Only candidates who have been recommended for licensure by Queens and who have received A level licensure may enroll in Phase II. The course of study for Phase II is designed to extend NCDPI competencies and match the core competencies required for advanced licensure.
EDUC 503 Educational Research and Evaluation
EDUC 525 Diversity in Schools
*EDUC 551 Teacher as Researcher
*EDUC 552 Seminar and Reflective Practice

*NOTE: EDUC 551 and EDUC 552 are co-requisites. Students enroll in EDUC 551 and EDUC 552 in the fall semester; however, these classes continue through the spring semester and final grades are awarded at completion of these courses in May. Once the degree is conferred, a student applies for advanced level M licensure.

Additional Phase II Requirements:
• The Action Research Project is the culminating activity for Phase II. Candidates conduct original research as part of EDUC 551 Teacher as Researcher and report it as a publishable paper, and present it at an Action Research Symposium.
• The Comprehensive Examination allows candidates to demonstrate their ability to synthesize program knowledge. The examination is evaluated on a pass/fail basis.
Master of Education (MEd) in Literacy K-12

Teachers need more than exceptional teaching skills to provide students with an experience that will help them to be successful readers. They need to possess the ability to use a variety of assessments and data to plan developmentally appropriate lessons for all students in all facets of a balanced literacy approach. In keeping with the University’s long-standing commitment to provide educators with the skills needed to deal with the complexities of today's 21st century classroom setting throughout the M.Ed. in Literacy K-12 program, specific strategies are taught through a hands-on, authentic literacy approach. The faculty ensures every candidate has ample opportunities to implement newly learned strategies in their own classroom and then are provided with immediate, constructive feedback. This practice scaffolds candidates' learning while helping them develop a balanced literacy approach and perspective of teaching in order to ensure a positive impact on student literacy knowledge.

Candidates earning the M.Ed. in Literacy at Queens commit themselves to a productive career and a noble life in teaching. They recognize the vital role of the educator in guiding, nurturing, and shaping the lives of children.

The Master of Education in Literacy prepares candidates to become leaders in literacy education. Satisfactory completion of the degree program requirements prepares candidates for an M level North Carolina License in Reading (K-12).

The program includes a culminating experience working in an intensive one-on-one setting after completing the majority of coursework for the degree. This clinical experience provides candidates with a unique opportunity to apply their newly acquired knowledge in a supervised setting, helping them strengthen their skills to become the most successful Reading Specialist, Literacy Facilitator, or Literacy Coach. Prior to engaging in the experience, candidates have demonstrated understanding of a balanced literacy approach, implementing individual assessments, diagnosing literacy needs, developing plans to meet the needs of students, and providing instruction to meet established literacy goals.

Retention in the Program
Retention in the program is based on the expectation that students demonstrate the characteristics and dispositions of and conduct themselves as members of the teaching profession. Students may be removed from the program upon receiving a negative Disposition Assessment from a faculty member or showing professional incompetence. A deficiency in one or more of the following areas is evidence of professional incompetence:
• knowledge of subjects taught
• ability to impart that knowledge
• grades of C or better in all education courses
• the manner and efficacy of discipline in the classroom
• rapport with students, as well as parents, faculty, administration and staff
• physical and mental ability to perform the essential functions of a teacher
• positive Disposition Assessments from faculty members

Professional incompetence or negative Disposition Assessments are grounds for program dismissal and failure to recommend for licensure.

Application for Student Teaching
Students must apply for student teaching in the term preceding their planned student teaching semester (EDUC499). All course work required for the Education major must be completed before the student teaching semester. (Major and minor course work must be completed for Secondary students.)

Requirements for Student Teaching:
• Student Teaching Application and essays
• cumulative grade point average of 2.75
• grades of C or better in all education courses
• positive Disposition Assessments from faculty
• good standing with the University
• approval of the Teacher Education Committee

STATE-MANDATED TEST
(Elementary Education Only)
To be licensed in North Carolina, candidates must pass the Elementary Education specialty area of the PRAXIS II Examination. Information and registration bulletins are available in the Cato School of Education. Currently in North Carolina, the required test for elementary education is:
Elementary Education: Curriculum, Instructional Practices and Applications (Test Code 0015 or 5015)

Technology Portfolio
(Elementary and Secondary Licensure)
To meet Queens licensure requirements, candidates must demonstrate computer competencies through portfolios. Information about the portfolio is distributed in EDUC 270/514 Educational Technology. This is required for initial licensure only.

POLICIES
The sections Graduate Academic Policies and Student Rights and Responsibilities apply to degree and non-degree graduate students in the Cato School of Education.

Post-Baccalaureate students in the Cato School are also subject to the following additional policies:
• The post-baccalaureate classification carries with it no implication that a student will be admitted to a degree program.
• Once a student elects to enroll in the post-baccalaureate elementary teacher licensure program, he/she may not transfer into the graduate MAT program.
• Post-baccalaureate students must successfully complete all EDUC course work at Queens and NO transfer credit will be accepted.
• Students who successfully complete all licensure requirements, including student teaching, are recommended for licensure by Queens University of Charlotte.
• Post-baccalaureate students may take up to 9 credit hours of licensure requirements at the graduate level.
• Post-baccalaureate students must submit satisfactory scores on the PRAXIS II Test Code 0015 or 5015 to be recommended for licensure in Elementary Education.
• Post-baccalaureate students must submit a Technology Portfolio.
• Each candidate for teacher licensure must meet with an advisor to plan an individual schedule of courses. Students should thereafter meet with their advisor on a regular basis.
• The student may register for any course for which the prerequisites have been satisfied.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Course Requirements for Elementary Education (K-6)
EDUC 224 or EDUC 518 Foundations and Curriculum in Elementary Schools
EDUC 270 or EDUC 514 Educational Technology
EDUC 310 or EDUC 510 Educational Psychology

Academically and Intellectually Gifted Add-On Licensure Program
The AIG Add-On License is available to CMS nominated teachers only. Preparing AIG students to become productive and capable contributors to global society presents a unique challenge for classroom educators. In order to be successful, teachers must have a deep understanding of the social, emotional and cognitive needs of those students as well as the skills necessary to effectively deliver a curriculum that meets their complex and diverse needs. They must be aware of seminal legislation and policies guiding AIG instruction as well as keeping abreast of current trends and issues.

Queens University of Charlotte has developed an add-on licensure program that not only aligns with State Standards for AIG Teacher Candidates, but with the North Carolina Professional Teaching Standards as well.

ANDREW BLAIR COLLEGE OF HEALTH

The Presbyterian School of Nursing Graduate Programs

Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)

The Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) program is designed to prepare nurses as interdisciplinary, collaborative nursing leaders and educators. Students acquire advanced knowledge of nursing theory, research, informatics, and health policy in addition to specialized knowledge in an academic/role "track" within the program. Integral to the program are interdisciplinary educational experiences.

Health Systems Management students have opportunities to synthesize nursing and business knowledge in diverse settings and through application of the research process. Graduates will be prepared to function as members of interdisciplinary executive level teams. The Health Systems Management Track is offered on campus.

Nurse Educator Practices students learn about curriculum development, teaching strategies and methods for student and program evaluation. Graduates are prepared to teach in academic or clinical settings. The Nurse Educator Practices track is offered on campus.

Clinical Nurse Leader® students learn to care for patients with complex conditions and work with interdisciplinary teams to improve quality outcomes and efficiency of care for patient groups. Graduates are eligible to take the national certification exam for Clinical Nurse Leader®. The MSN with the Clinical Nurse Leader® track is offered on campus and online.

ADMISSION
Applications are accepted on a continuous, year-round basis. It is the applicant's responsibility to submit all application documents to allow sufficient time for review prior to the intended term of admission. The following are required to be considered for admission to the MSN program:
1. Completed Graduate Application
2. Official transcripts of all post-secondary academic course work, indicating evidence of:
   a. BSN degree earned at a regionally accredited institution and nursing program accredited by ACEN or CCNE. RNs with other bachelor's degrees will be considered on an individual basis.
   b. Evidence of a cumulative GPA and upper division nursing coursework GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale. Upper division course work is the junior and senior year of a traditional BSN program, all nursing course work in an accelerated BSN program, and nursing courses taken to complete the BSN portion of a RN-BSN program.
3. A statement of purpose for graduate study. The statement should include your reason for wanting to obtain an MSN degree at Queens and your professional plans following completion of the program. The expectation is that the statement of purpose provides an example of the candidate’s ability to articulate in a clear and concise manner. The statement should be double spaced and not exceed 1 page.
4. Evidence of a current unrestricted license to practice nursing in the state in which you will complete any practicum requirements of the program.

Degree Requirements
The Master of Science in Nursing with a concentration in Nurse Educator Practices, or Health Systems Management consists of 36 credit hours at the graduate level, including 15 credit hours in nursing core courses, and 21 credit hours in Specialty courses. The Master of Science in Nursing with the Clinical Nurse Leader® concentration consist of 38 credit hours, 15 credit hours in the nursing core courses and 23 credit hours in specialty courses.

MSN Core Courses (required for all tracks):
NURS 612 Theoretical Foundation (3 Hrs.)
NURS 624 Health Policy (3 Hrs.)
NURS 628 Informatics in Health Care (3 Hrs.)
NURS 630 Data Interpretations (3 Hrs.)
NURS 632 Research Methods (3 Hrs.)

Health Systems Management Track Specialty Courses
BUSN 605 Law and Ethics (3 Hrs.)
BUSN 615 Economics for Managerial Decisions (3 Hrs.)
NURS 546 Financial Management in Healthcare Organizations (3 Hrs.)
NURS 616 Health Care Administration (3 Hrs.)
NURS 634 Health Care Practicum (4 Hrs.) 168 clinical hours
NURS 655 Integrative Clinical Concepts (3 Hrs.)
NURS 670 Nursing Capstone Project (2 Hrs.)
NURS 671 Nursing Capstone Continuation (1-2 Hrs. if needed)

Nurse Educator Practice Track Specialty Courses
NURS 620 Curriculum Building & Evaluation (3 Hrs.)
NURS 633 Teaching & Learning in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
NURS 636 Assessment & Evaluation in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
NURS 638 Leadership in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
NURS 644 Nurse Educator Practicum (4 Hrs.)
NURS 655 Integrative Clinical Concepts (3 Hrs.)
NURS 670 Nursing Capstone Project (2 Hrs.)
NURS 671 Nursing Capstone Continuation (1-2 Hrs. if needed)

Clinical Nurse Leader® Track Specialty Courses
NURS 651 Professionalism and Ethics in Clinical Leadership (3 Hrs.)
NURS 652 Management of Clinical Outcomes (4 Hrs.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 653 Management of the Care Environment (4 Hrs.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 654 Clinical Nurse Leader Residency (6 Hrs.) – 300 clinical hours
NURS 655 Integrative Clinical Concepts (3 Hrs.)
NURS 656 Integrative Clinical Concepts Practicum (1 Hr.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 670 Nursing Capstone Project (2 Hrs.)
NURS 671 Nursing Capstone Continuation (1-2 Hrs. if needed)

*Online students refer to the PSON Student Handbook for information about clinical sites and agreements.

MSN-MBA Combined Program
Students who plan to complete a dual degree must meet the requirements for both the MSN and MBA. MSN courses taken in the McColl Graduate School of Business apply toward the MBA. Call 704-337-2224 for information.

ACADEMIC POLICIES
The section Graduate Academic Policies applies to all degree and non-degree graduate students in the Presbyterian School of Nursing.

See also important additional policies in Student Rights and Responsibilities

Nursing Specific Policies and Procedures
Please see the current edition of the PSON Student Handbook for details on the specific policies and procedures for MSN students.

Full-Time Status for the NC Nurse Scholars Program
For purposes of the NC Nurse Scholars Program, the student taking 18 credit hours annually (6 credits each fall, spring and summer term) is regarded as full time for that program.
Non-Degree Programs
Graduate Certificate Programs in Nursing

ADMISSION
To be admitted as a non-degree graduate student, an individual must meet all MSN admission requirements. Normally a graduate student may not take more than nine hours as a non-degree student.

Admission Requirements for Non-Degree Candidates:
1. Complete an application to the nursing graduate program
2. Provide official transcripts from all universities/colleges previously attended.

Health Systems Management Certificate
Non-degree students may enroll in the certificate option, which includes five courses designed to equip them with basic principles of management. These courses qualify for the continuing education component of the ANCC certification exam for nurse executive and nurse executive, advanced.

The five required courses are:
BUSN 605 Law and Ethics (3 Hrs.)
BUSN 610 Management of Organizations (3 Hrs.)
BUSN 615 Economics for Managerial Decisions (3 Hrs.)
NURS 546 Financial Management in Healthcare Organizations (3 Hrs.)
NURS 616 Health Care Administration (3 Hrs.)

Post Masters Certificate in Clinical Nurse Leader®
Registered nurses who already have an MSN and meet admission requirements are eligible to take the seven specialty courses for the Clinical Nurse Leader® concentration and receive a post masters certificate. Completing the certificate makes the student eligible to sit for the nation CNL® certification exam.

The seven required classes are:
NURS 651 Professionalism and Ethics in Clinical Leadership (3 Hrs.)
NURS 652 Management of Clinical Outcomes (4 Hrs.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 653 Management of the Care Environment (4 Hrs.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 654 Clinical Nurse Leader Residency (6 Hrs.) – 300 clinical hours
NURS 655 Integrative Clinical Concepts (3 Hrs.)
NURS 656 Integrative Clinical Concepts Practicum (1 Hr.) – 75 clinical hours
NURS 670 Nursing Capstone Project (2 Hrs.)
NURS 671 Nursing Capstone Continuation (1 – 2 Hrs. if needed)

Post Masters Certificate in Nurse Educator Practices
Registered nurses who already have an MSN and meet admission requirements are eligible to take the five theory specialty courses for Nurse Educator Practices and receive a Post-Masters Certificate.

The five required courses are:
NURS 615 Issues and Trends for the Nurse Educator (3 Hrs.)
NURS 620 Curriculum Building and Evaluation (3 Hrs.)
NURS 633 Teaching and Learning in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
NURS 636 Assessment and Evaluation in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
NURS 638 Leadership in Nursing Education (3 Hrs.)
Recommended: NURS 644 Nurse Educator Practicum (4 Hrs.)

Graduate Academic Policies

See important policies under Student Rights and Responsibilities

The following policies generally apply to all graduate students. However, students may have additional or modified policies as noted in their academic program’s section of the Catalog. Program policies may take precedence.

The Honor Code
The Honor Code is binding on all members of the University community and applies to all phases of life at the University. The student’s signature on the application for admission to the University indicates understanding and acceptance of the Honor Code: As a member of the Queens community, I will endeavor to create a spirit of integrity and honor for its own sake at Queens University of Charlotte. Academic Pledge: I pledge truthfulness and honesty in the performance of all academic work. Community Pledge: I pledge to be truthful at all times, to treat others with respect, to respect the property of others, and to adhere to University policies. Accepting both the privileges and responsibilities of living by this code of honor, I resolve to uphold this code and not to tolerate any violations of its spirit or principles.

Violations of the Honor Code include, but are not limited to, cheating, lying, theft, unprofessional behavior and academic dishonesty.

Academic Responsibility
While Queens University of Charlotte makes every effort to advise and counsel students on their academic programs and academic requirements, it is the student who is ultimately responsible for fulfilling all requirements for his or her degree.

Academic Advising
An academic advisor is assigned to help the student with this responsibility. It is the student’s responsibility to schedule advising appointments with the designated advisor as necessary to plan a course of study to complete a graduate program, or to discuss current academic questions and problems.

Catalog of Entry
A student must fulfill the degree requirements set forth in the Catalog current during the student’s first term enrolled in a graduate program at Queens. Academic policies amended while a student is enrolled at Queens may be deemed to apply regardless of the policies stated in the Catalog at time of entry. The University reserves the right to modify degree requirements from those listed at the time of entry due to curricular exigencies. If a student is readmitted he/she re-enters under the Catalog in effect at the time of readmission.

Full-Time Part-Time Status
A graduate student enrolled in at least six credit hours is considered a full-time student. A graduate student enrolled in fewer than six credit hours is considered a part-time student.

Admissions Eligibility
Admission to a graduate program will remain effective for twelve months following the beginning of the term for which the acceptance has been made. Individuals who wish to enter after this period are required to reapply. The subsequent admission decision will be based on the admission standards at the time of reapplication.

Time Limits for Degree Completion
The degree must be completed within the time period specified for the specific program. Any exceptions to the time limit must be granted by the program’s Graduate Student Qualifications Committee.
In the College of Arts and Sciences
For the Master of Arts in Music Therapy all course work must be completed within seven years of matriculation, or for equivalency students, within six years of obtaining Board Certification. For the Master of Arts in Interior Design, all course work must be completed within five years of matriculation.

In the McCall School of Business
For the Professional Master of Business Administration (MBA) and Master of Science (MS) in Organization Development, all course work must be completed within seven years of matriculation. For the Executive Master of Business Administration (MBA) and the Master of Science (MS) in Executive Coaching, all course work must be completed within six years.

In the School of Communication
For the Master of Arts (MA) in Communication, all course work must be completed within seven years of matriculation.

In the Cato School of Education
For the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT), Master of Education (MEd) in Literacy, and the Master of Arts (MA) in Education Leadership, all course work must be completed within seven years of matriculation.

In the Presbyterian School of Nursing
For the Master of Science in Nursing all course work must be completed within six years of matriculation.

Variations in Degree Requirements
Any change in degree requirements must be approved by the program’s Graduate Student Qualifications Committee.

TRANSFERRED COURSES

At Admission
No more than six credit hours of graduate work may be transferred from another regionally accredited institution. Only graduate courses with a grade of B or better will be considered for transfer credit. Courses considered for transfer credit must have been completed within the three years immediately preceding admission into the graduate program. Granting of transfer credit is dependent upon the specific course under consideration, which will be evaluated in terms of content, level and equivalency to a course in the graduate program.

After Admission
After students have been admitted to a graduate program, they must receive prior approval from their graduate student advisor to take a course at another institution with the intent of transferring those credit hours back towards their Queens degree. Normally, graduate students may take courses at another regionally accredited institution for transfer if the courses are equivalent to, or supplemental to, those offered in Queens' graduate programs. Courses are accepted for transfer only with prior approval and with a grade of B or better.

Ordinarily, no more than six hours of graduate credit are accepted in transfer work. An official transcript of work done at another institution must be sent to the Registrar for any course taken at another institution. Any grade received from another institution will not be included in the Queens grade point average.

REGISTRATION
A student should confer with his/her academic advisor prior to registration. All students are expected to register each term at the time and in the manner specified by the Registrar.
Taking Undergraduate Courses
Graduate students may also take any undergraduate course for which they have met the prerequisites unless there are restrictions on the undergraduate course. Graduate students should register for these classes at the same time as they register for their graduate classes. Graduate students are expected to follow the calendar and policies of the undergraduate program in which they enroll.

Drop and Add
The drop and add period is limited, and is designated for each term by the Registrar on the official academic calendar. The official academic calendars are published on the Registrar’s Web site.

When a course is dropped during the Drop/Add period that course is not reflected on the student’s transcript. A student who drops all courses at Queens in his or her first semester of attendance will not have matriculated into the University. After the drop/add period has ended, a student must withdraw from any course he or she does not intend to complete in order to receive a status of "W."

Withdrawal from a Course
After the drop/add period has ended the student who does not wish to continue in a course must Withdraw from the course. The withdrawal period is limited, and is designated for each term by the Registrar on the official academic calendar. The official academic calendars are published on the Registrar’s Web site: www.queens.edu. A status of "W" will be recorded if a student withdraws during the withdrawal period. See Withdrawal and Financial Obligations

Abandoning a Class
A student who simply stops attending class after the drop and add period will receive a grade of “F” for the course and will be financially responsible for all charges associated with the class. In that case the Registrar, in consultation with the faculty involved, will determine the last date of class attendance. See Withdrawal and Financial Obligations

GRADING
Grades are based on the quantity and quality of the student’s work. Graduate programs use the following system of grades and grade point values per credit hour.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Quality Points</th>
<th>Interpretation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.000</td>
<td>Excellent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.000</td>
<td>Satisfactory</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.000</td>
<td>Poor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>0.000</td>
<td>Failing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>P</td>
<td>0.000</td>
<td>Passing</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Course Status Interpretation (Has no effect on Quality Points)
I    Course Work Incomplete
W    Student Withdrawn
Z/NR No record is made on the transcript
K    “K” is a temporary grade given at end of first term of a two-term course to indicate satisfactory progress, and will be replaced by letter grade upon completion of the second-term of the course. It has no effect on grade points.

Grade Point Average
The grade point average in the program is used to determine eligibility for admission and graduation. It is calculated by dividing the total number of quality points by the total number of graded credit hours attempted. Graded credit hours include all courses with grades of A, B, C and F. Courses with grades or status of P, W and I are not figured in the grade point average. In addition, a student’s cumulative grade point average at Queens is based solely on academic work at Queens, and is not affected by course credit earned at another institution.
Pass / Fail
Some graduate classes may be offered on a Pass/Fail basis. Pass in a graduate course is equivalent to a B or better. Course work evaluated below the equivalent of a B receives a grade of F.

Pass / No Record
Some graduate classes are offered on a Pass / No Record basis. Pass in a graduate course is equivalent to a B or better. Course work evaluated below B is considered No Record and the Z designation is used on the student's grade report, but the course is not recorded on the student's permanent academic record and does not affect the student's cumulative grade point average. A graduate course may not be taken on a Pass / No Record basis unless this status is specified in the course description.

Incomplete Status
A faculty member may agree to assign a status of Incomplete (I) when the student is passing the course and has a compelling reason why he or she cannot complete final assignments before the end of the term. After discussion with the student if the faculty member agrees to assign a grade status of Incomplete the student must sign the appropriate form filed with the Registrar. This status must be changed within one year of the end of the term in which the status was recorded. The student has until this time to complete the missing work. After this time the student will be assumed to have abandoned the class and the instructor or the Registrar will change the status as appropriate.

Neither credit hours nor grade points are awarded for a course whose status is “I.” A student with a status of “I” in a required course may not receive a degree.

Grades
Students can obtain final course grades online through MyQueens.

Grade Appeals
The substantive judgment of a faculty member about a student's work (grades or other evaluation of assignments) is not within the scope of hearings regarding academic grievances. A student may challenge only the actual and objective elements of the content of student records (discrepancies in computation and transcription of grades), not the qualitative and subjective elements of grading.

Students who believe they have detected an error in the computation or transcription of a grade should initiate the challenge process by the end of the first month in the following term in which the disputed grade was given, by consulting with the faculty member concerned. If a satisfactory agreement is not reached, the student should consult with the chair of the department in which the dispute occurred. If a satisfactory agreement is still not reached, the student should consult with the faculty member’s dean.

STUDENT QUALIFICATIONS
The faculty has established standards of satisfactory academic progress which are administered by its Student Qualifications Committees. Each graduate program has a Student Qualifications Committee (SQC). At the end of each term, the committees review the academic record of each student who is in academic difficulty.

Admission on Probation
Students admitted on academic probation must meet the terms of their letter of admission in order to be allowed to continue in the program.

Academic Probation and Dismissal – See also each academic program’s unique policies
A graduate student who earns an “F” in any course will be subject to dismissal from the University. A student will be placed on probation if he/she earns a grade of C in two graduate courses, or if the grade point average falls below 3.000. The records of students placed on academic probation will be reviewed by the SQC at the end of each term. To be removed from probation the student must meet the requirements stated in the notice of probation. Generally the student's cumulative record must be at least 3.000 and the student must not have more than two grades of C on their academic record. If the student cannot be removed from probation the student is subject to dismissal from the University. Extension of probation is by special permission and only due to extenuating circumstances.

Probation and Federal Financial Aid
A student admitted or place on probation may only receive federal financial aid for one term.

Satisfactory Academic Progress
All graduate students must show progress toward completion of degree requirements.

Readmission after Dismissal
A student dismissed from a graduate program may apply for readmission after an absence of at least one term. An application for readmission, a personal statement concerning the student’s goals and accomplishments since leaving Queens and expectations of future success at Queens, and any other materials required by the program must be submitted to the graduate admissions office. The Student Qualifications Committee for that program will then review the application. A student readmitted to their program following academic dismissal is normally readmitted on academic probation.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY
See also Withdrawal and Financial Obligations

By the Student
A student who wishes to withdraw from the University should notify the academic advisor and must submit the form Official Withdrawal from Queens University of Charlotte to the Registrar. The form is available from the Registrar’s Office. The effective official withdrawal date will be the date the form is received by the Registrar. The date of withdrawal will affect tuition refunds and/or financial aid funding. If documentation from the attending physician is presented with the Official Withdrawal Form a “medical withdrawal” will be granted. Upon withdrawal from the University the Registrar will drop (during add/drop period) or withdraw (after the drop/add period) the student from all classes enrolled. The student will receive written confirmation that the courses have been dropped/withdrawn.

By the University
A graduate student does not have to maintain continuous enrollment to remain an active student, but may be absent for one term if the student returns in the following term. If the student is absent for two consecutive terms, including summer term, he/she will become an inactive student and must apply for readmission in order to return. In addition, the University reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of any student whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

Leave of Absence
A graduate student may request a leave of absence not to exceed 12 months. The student must notify the academic advisor and complete a Leave of Absence request form, which must be filed with the Registrar. A student who returns on the agreed-upon date re-enters the program with the same status held at the time he/she left. A students who does not obtain a formal leave of absence, or who does not return in the agreed-upon time, shall be considered withdrawn from the University and will have to reapply to return.

Readmission after Withdrawal
A student who withdraws or is withdrawn from the University must apply for readmission to their program in order to return. If readmitted the student will then be bound to the Catalog in effect at the time of readmission.

GRADUATION

Graduation Requirements
Students may receive a graduate degree only after meeting all of their program requirements. A grade point average of 3.000 or better is required in all graduate coursework. No course with an assigned grade below C may apply toward degree requirements.
Application for Graduation
It is the student’s responsibility to be aware of progress toward the degree and to file a completed Application for Graduation form in the Registrar’s Office by the deadlines posted on the Registrar’s web site. Students should apply on-line through the Registrar's Office web site.

Commencement Exercises
Commencement exercises are held in May of each year for all graduates who have completed degree requirements in the previous summer and fall terms, and in the current spring term. The degree awarded is posted on the student’s transcript at the end of the term in which all requirements have been completed.

Diplomas
Students who complete their requirements during a summer or fall term will receive their diplomas by mail. Students who complete their requirements in a spring term and have been cleared by the Student Financial Services Office can receive their diploma after the May commencement ceremony. All students, including those who complete a degree in a preceding summer or fall term, are encouraged to attend the May commencement ceremony.
Course Descriptions

Organization
Courses are listed in order by course prefix (e.g. ENGL) and then by course number. Within a prefix, undergraduate course descriptions are followed by graduate course descriptions.

Course Level
Courses numbered from 100-499 are undergraduate courses. Courses numbered 500 and above are restricted to graduate students. In general courses numbered 100-299 are primarily for freshmen and sophomores; those numbered 300-499 are primarily for juniors and seniors. In specific cases, however, an undergraduate's ability and background rather than class standing will determine the appropriate level of work.

Prerequisites / Corequisites
Any prerequisite or corequisite courses are included at the end of the course description.

Grade Status
Unless otherwise noted at the end of the description, each course has a regular grade status. Courses that have a special grade status of Pass/No Record or Pass/Fail are noted in the description.

Course Changes
The University reserves the right to change the course offerings indicated in the Catalog without prior notice. Every effort is made to provide a suitable arrangement to help the student affected by a course change.

ANTHROPOLOGY

ANTH 201 Cultural Anthropology
Cultural Anthropology: Emphasizes the heritage and diversity of human culture throughout the world through the study of human societies, language and culture, cultural change, social groups and relationships, ideology, ritual and symbolism. 3 hrs.

ANTH 320 Anthropology of Latin America
Anthropology of Latin America: This course examines Latin American societies and cultures from an anthropological perspective. Latin America includes Mexico, Central America, South America and the Caribbean. Using a comparative approach, students explore cultural diversity within and between Latin American nations. A grassroots perspective focuses on local communities as they adapt to change. Students study the types of problems facing Latin Americans today by examining how the past has influenced the present. Prerequisites: ANTH 201 or SOCI 203. 3 hrs.

ANTH 330 American Ethnic Communities
American Ethnic Communities: Students read and discuss book-length ethnographies set in ethnic communities in the contemporary United States. Ethnographies are in-depth portraits of particular communities based on systematic, long-term participant observation. They are the building blocks for ethnology, the comparison of communities to interpret and explain American ethnicity. Included are studies of recently arrived, immigrant communities along with well-established American ethnic communities. We examine the history, social organization, cultural values and customs of each community, looking for similarities and differences in the American experience of community life. Prerequisites: ANTH 201 or SOCI 203. 3 hrs.

ANTH 340 Directed Individual Study
Directed Individual Study: Independent reading and investigation of the literature relevant to a specific topic in anthropology. Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing, permission of the instructor, minimum GPA of 3.00. 1-3 hrs.

ANTH 350 Topics in Anthropology
Topics in Anthropology: Investigation of a single topic or area in anthropology. The topic may vary from term to term. May be taken more than once with different subtitles. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 3 hrs.

INTERIOR DESIGN

ARDE 203 Color, Light and Sound
Color, Light and Sound: This course explores the study of color and light as elements of interior design. The course will include the psychology of color and its application as well as its function. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 210, and ARDE 211. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 208 Fundamentals of Interior Design
Fundamentals of Interior Design: This course introduces students to the discipline of interior design. Students will be required to use critical thinking in applying principles of design in an introductory level class to the history of furniture, architecture, and space planning. The course will also explore the physical needs and social dynamics of interior design. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 210 Drawing for Interior Design
Drawing for Interior Design: This course covers scale, architectural perspective, and elevation drawings for interior design. Topics include sketching, detailed working drawings, and wet and dry media. Upon completion, students should be able to produce a pictorial presentation. Prerequisite: ARDE 208. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 211 Computer Aided Design
Computer Aided Design: This course covers the application of computer program-aided interior design. The course is taught in a lecture/lab format. Floor plans, furniture layout, elevations, and perspectives are some of the topics covered. Upon completion, students will be able to generate and manage CAD drawings and models to produce engineering documents. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 310. 3 hrs.

ARDE 301 Textiles in Interior Design
Textiles in Interior Design: This course covers the elements and principles of design within a textile. It involves hands on studio exercises using textiles as the art form, through the advanced exploration of printed and woven fabrics. Prerequisites: ARDE 208. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 305 Sustainable Methods and Materials
Sustainable Methods and Materials: This course introduces students to the concepts of sustainable design. Students will learn to integrate environmental responsibility into the design process. It will also include the study of LEED practices and sustainable products and technologies. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 210, and ARDE 211. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 325 Hist of Architecture & Interiors
History of Architecture and Interiors: This course covers the major movements in architecture and furniture. The important architects and designers from the Renaissance period to the Modern era are discussed. Emphasis is placed on vocabulary, architectural styles and chronology. Upon completion, students should be able to identify and use correct terminology regarding the history of architecture and furniture. 3 hrs.

ARDE 329 Bus Practices for Int Designers
Business Practices for Interior Design Professionals: This course introduces contemporary business principles for interior designers. Topics include business formations, professional associations, contracts and correspondence, and means of compensation. Upon completion, students will be able to describe the basic business formations and compose effective letters and contracts. Prerequisite: ARDE 208. 3 hrs.

ARDE 330 Study Tour Prep in Interior Design
Study Tour Preparation in Interior Design: This preparatory lecture class in Interior Design explores the art, culture, history and design of a particular city. Open only to students enrolled in the appropriate study tour ARDE 465. Prerequisites: ARDE 208 & ARDE 325. 3 hrs.

ARDE 360 Residential Studio 1
Residential Studio 1: Introductory studio class focuses on application of design principles and elements in shelter interiors. Provides practical application to design and drawing skills learned in the fundamentals and drawing classes. Emphasizes critical thinking, space planning, circulation, and spatial analysis. Typical projects may include small to medium-scale residential and multi-family interiors with a focus on kitchen and bath design. Prerequisites: ARDE 208 Fund of ID, and ARDE 210 Drawing for ID. 3 hrs.

ARDE 401 Product Design
Product Design: This course will require a student to resolve a functional design problem related to an interior space. Students will work through the problem using working drawings that will result in a three dimensional product. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 310, and ARDE 311. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ARDE 402 Human Environments
Human Environments: This course serves as an exploration of the relationship between humans and their environments through the study of personal and social use of space, proxemics, spatial analysis, and the effects of the environment on human behavior. This course will also focus on and address the realities of universal design. Universal design is an approach to the design of all products and environments to be as usable as possible by as many people as possible regardless of age, ability, or situation. Pre-requisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 325 or permission of the instructor. 3 hrs.

ARDE 403 Construction Documents
Construction Documents: This course introduces the constraints and possibilities of design solutions as affected by the architectural envelope, particularly its construction. Students will become familiar with structural and non-structural systems as well as building methods and laws, codes, and standards impacting fire and life safety. Contract documents are prepared using CAD, combining knowledge of architectural, structural, environmental systems, interior construction detailing, architectural millwork and furniture design and detailing. Drafting theory and processes are explored and supported by the exploration of material technology, constructions processes, and finish systems research. 3 hrs.

ARDE 410 Advanced Studio - Residential
Advanced Studio - Residential: This course permits advanced individual exploration of techniques and principles introduced in the 200 level studio courses. The focus varies from semester to semester between two- and three-dimensional approaches, with thematic topics such as the human figure, still-life, and collage/ assemblage. Prerequisites for Advanced Lab in Interior Design: ARDE 208, ARDE 210, and ARDE 211. Prerequisites for Advanced Lab in Studio Art: ART 204, ART 223, ART, 302, ART 303, ART 304. Prerequisites for Advanced Lab in New Media Design: ART 204, ART 235, ART, 210, ART 311. Lab fee may apply. Repeatable for a total of 12 hrs. 3 hrs.

ARDE 430 Advanced Graphics for Interiors
Advanced Graphics for Interiors: Advanced communication skills are developed through sketching, delineation, drafting, and rendering techniques specifically geared toward effective design presentations. Various rendering techniques and media are explored with an emphasis placed on the effective graphic communication of design ideas in plan, section, elevation, and 3D. Prerequisites: ARDE 208 Fund of ID, and ARDE 210 Drawing for ID. 3 hrs.

ARDE 450 Indep Study in Interior Design
Independent Study in Interior Design: This course allows a student to explore a topic with a faculty member. Open to juniors or seniors with a grade point average of 3.0 or above. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 301, ARDE 302, ARDE 310, and ARDE 311. Lab fee may apply. 1-3 hrs.

ARDE 460 Capstone, Senior Project
Capstone, Senior Project: Student is assigned a project to be completed during this course incorporating major areas of the field of study. Upon completion, students should be able to complete the graphics, client folder and all schedules for a professional portfolio. Prerequisites: Interior Design major, senior standing, last semester. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.
ARDE 496 Internship in Interior Design
Internship in Interior Design: This course enables students to make a strong connection between theory and practice. This internship in fieldwork in the industry covers a topic of special interest to the student, pre-approved by the program director. Prerequisites: ARDE 208, ARDE 301. 3 hrs.

GRADUATE COURSES

ARDE 502 Spatial Analysis and Theory
Spatial Analysis and Theory: This course stresses the analytical, conceptual and applied aspects of programming and space planning by analyzing and researching a design project. Students will be able to assimilate and synthesize the solutions of the design process in a commercial setting. 3 hrs.

ARDE 505 Commercial Design Studio 1
Commercial Design Studio 1: This studio design course focuses on designing office and educational environments. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, programming, design development, barrier-free, and universal design considerations. Students will utilize visual communication, code compliance, materials selection, and FF&E specifications. 3 hrs.

ARDE 508 Codes and Regulations
Codes and Regulations: This course is an overview of laws, building codes, and ordinances as related to interior environments with emphasis on the interrelationship between interior and exterior materials. Online course. 3 hrs.

ARDE 510 Global Issues & The Built Environment
Global Issues and The Built Environment: A cross-cultural study of the built environment in a global context. Students will research cultures and find out what special considerations need to be given to the problems of housing the world’s population and to building responsibly in a time of changing cultural patterns and increasingly limited natural resources. 3 hrs.

ARDE 512 Advanced 3D CAD for Interior Design
Advanced 3D CAD for Interior Design: Using Revit and software, this studio course explores the use of current computer software as a means for graphic design communication using Building Information Modeling (BIM) to produce scaled three dimensional interior drawings with attributes. 3 hrs.

ARDE 513 Architectural and Interior History II
Architectural and Interior History II: This course is an overview of architectural trends and theories, styles in interiors and furnishings, and prominent architects and designers from the rise of the English Arts and Crafts Movement in the midnineteenth century through today’s developments. This class will also include a 4 day trip to a prominent US city to see its architecture first hand. Hybrid online with travel tour. Lab fee required. 3 hrs.

ARDE 518 Project Management/Historic Preservation
Project Management/Historic Preservation: This course provides a detailed exploration of the various phases of an interior design project. Starting with the designer/client contract, this course covers the construction/implementation process, estimating, scheduling, risk avoidance, and staffing issues. The project focus of this class is on historic preservation and the complex balance that exists between designing and implementing renovations. Pre-requisite ARDE 508, co-requisite ARDE 522, Hybrid online. 3 hrs.

ARDE 520 Global Design Studio
Global Design Studio: This studio design course focuses on designing hospitality and restaurant interior environments. Emphasis is placed on global critical thinking, programming, and design development. Students also study effective visual communication, cultural considerations and research. Project will apply code compliance, materials selection, and FF&E specifications. Prerequisite: ARDE 502. 3 hrs.

ARDE 522 Construction & Environmental System
Construction & Environmental System: This class provides an overview of common building systems as they relate to built architectural environments, including: structural systems, methods of construction, current trends in building materials and their applications, installation methods, mechanical systems, and environmental concerns. Pre-requisite ARDE 508, Hybrid Online. 3 hrs.

ARDE 525 Commercial Design Studio 2
Commercial Design Studio 2: This studio design course focusing on designing healthcare and public interior environments. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, programming, design development, barrier-free, and universal design. Students also apply considerations effective visual communication, code compliance, materials selection, and FF&E specifications. Pre-requisite ARDE 502, 505, and 508. 3 hrs.

ARDE 527 Portfolio
Portfolio: In this course students will refine their existing portfolios and focus on the development of an electronic portfolio appropriate for the interior design field. Students will research portfolio options and technologies and document existing and current work. Students will be critiqued on their developing portfolio and are required to show completed portfolios. 1 hr.

ARDE 530 Advanced Internship in Interior Design
Advanced Internship in Interior Design: An internship with a firm that focuses on commercial interior design, which can include office, hospitality, healthcare or education. 3 hrs.

ARDE 535 International Academic Study Tour
International Academic Study Tour: This 10 day summer study tour is similar to the JBIP program but is geared especially for Interior Design graduate students. The location of the tours will vary annually but focus on learning and experiencing interior design at its best throughout the world. Lab fee may be required. 6 hrs.

ART

ART 101 Introduction to Art
Introduction to Art: Designed for the student with little or no art experience who wishes to gain understanding of the language of art (composition, line, space, color, etc.) and art’s significance in human terms. Involves slide presentations and classroom discussions of art works within a historical context. 3 hrs.

ART 102 Foundations I of Art & Design
Foundations I of Art & Design: Required studio art foundations class for all students who may be interested in art or design. Foundations I will establish the vocabulary of that fold into three-dimensional shapes to then be arranged in space. 3 hrs.

ART 218 Foundations II
Foundations II: Foundations II will expand on the vocabulary established in Foundations I and connect it to advanced design problems and issues of time, space, and environment. A variety of media will be sampled while exploring art and design applied to daily life, to one’s community, to ecological systems, and to a world of digital communication. Students will be empowered by the identity of the artist and the designer in examples applicable to their current situation and their future. 3 hrs.

ART 223 Ceramics
Ceramics: Fundamentals of both hand building and throwing on the potter's wheel. Hand-building techniques will include pinch, coil and slab construction. Glaze instructions will stress the relationships between form and color. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 226 Digital Photography I
Digital Photography I: This course introduces digital photographic equipment, theory and processes. Students will be instructed in camera operation, composition, computer photo manipulation and creative expression. Students will also learn the concepts and processes of photo manipulation through complex composite images, special effects, color balancing and image/text integration. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 227 Film Photography I
Film Photography I: Photography used as an expressive medium and as a tool for exploring visual experience. Emphasis will be on selection and treatment of subject matter. Students will learn necessary skills in photographic technique and be acquainted with the historical development of photography. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 237 Digital Video Art
Digital Video Art: This course explores the role of motion media and digital video production in art and design. Students will work hands on with digital video cameras, non-linear video and audio editing systems and visual effect tools to create art films, video and audio installations and other fine art and design projects. 3 hrs.

ART 250 Intro to Arts Leadership & Admin
Introduction to Arts Leadership and Administration: An introduction to the field of arts and non-profit leadership and administration, including an overview of the components of arts leadership, arts advocacy, possible careers, and the necessary managerial and creative skills. Open to any undergraduate student but suggested for freshmen and sophomores prior to or soon after declaration of the Arts Leadership & Administration major. 3 hrs.

ART 301 Digital Photography II
Digital Photography II: This course advances on the techniques students have acquired in Digital Photography I, by exploring photography as a creative medium. Prerequisite: ART 226. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 302 Painting
Painting: Studies in basic structure and color with emphasis on pictorial elements interpreted through the media of painting. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.
ART 303 Sculpture
Sculpture: The exploration of basic elements of three-dimensional form and space with special emphasis on the exploration of various styles, materials and techniques. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 304 Printmaking
Printmaking: This course introduces traditional techniques of Intaglio. Assignments address specific problems in Intaglio. Students are encouraged to explore their artistic voice. Emphasis will be placed on balancing technique with subject matter. 3 hrs.

ART 306 History of Design
History of Design: This course follows the quest to give form to ideas as traced from the pictographs painted on cave walls to the latest imaginative computer-generated designs. Students will be exposed to the creative thinkers, important innovations and breakthrough technologies that have shaped the evolution of visual communication. 3 hrs.

ART 308 19th Century Art: Rise of Modernism
19th Century Art: Rise of Modernism: This course explores developments in the painting and sculpture of Europe and America from the late 18th century age of “political revolution” to the early 20th century age of “artistic revolution.” Artists like David, Gericault, and Delacroix will be explored in the light of Enlightenment theories and revolutionary politics, followed by the socialist theories of the Realists Courbet and Daumier and concluding with the artistic innovations of Manet, Monet and Cezanne. 3 hrs.

ART 309 Ancient Art: The Birth of Art
Ancient Art: The Birth of Art: This course will examine ancient artistic traditions in the Near East, Egypt, Greece and Rome. Special emphasis will be placed on expressive contrasts between the cultures of the Near East and West. 3 hrs.

ART 311 Typography
Typography: This course extends typographical techniques taught in Fundamentals of Graphic Design. Students will be required to use critical thinking in applying principles of design in intermediate level traditional and experimental graphic design projects. Prerequisite: ART 210. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 313 Medieval & Renaissance Art
Medieval and Renaissance Art: The course will explore the development of Medieval and Renaissance art in Europe from the 6th to the 16th centuries, exploring stylistic and cultural changes as revealed in sculpture, painting and architecture. 3 hrs.

ART 315 20th & 21st Century Art: Modern Era
20th and 21st Century Art: Modern Era: Critical examination of major trends in the visual arts from c. 1870 to the present, within the context of developments in science, philosophy, religion, and politics. 3 hrs.

ART 316 Baroque & Rococo Art
Baroque and Rococo Art: The Age of Exploration: This course explores the art of Europe and America in the Baroque and Rococo age, which saw religious, scientific, navigational and artistic exploration. Artists like Caravaggio, Bemini, and Rembrandt will be explored in the light of 17th and 18th century theories and discoveries, followed by the Rococo art of Watteau, Boucher and Elisabeth Vigee Le-Brun. 3 hrs.

ART 317 Digital Illustration
Digital Illustration: This course introduces students to the techniques of illustration with digital tools. Students will be required to use critical thinking in applying principles of design in the creating digitally rendered drawings. Projects will have applications within design and the literary and performing arts. Students will explore principles of bitmap and vector graphics, digital color and line, and the four-color digital printing process. Prerequisite: ART 210. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 318 Motion Graphics and Animation
Motion Graphics and Animation: This course introduces students to topics in time based graphic design. Students will be required to use critical thinking in applying principles of design in video and animated applications. Use of video cameras, editing and animation software will be primarily used in this studio. Prerequisite: ART 210 and ART 226. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 319 Interactive and Web Design
Interactive and Web Design: This course introduces students to the techniques of interactive Graphic Design. Students will be required to use critical thinking in applying principles of design in the creating engaging virtual and physical interactive experiences that are usable and user-centered. Students will explore principles of interface design, web and flash scripting and information architecture. Prerequisite: ART 210 and ART 226. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 321 Digital Experience Design
Digital Experience Design: An advanced level studio where students will engage the design and development of interactive digital experiences in physical spaces. The course explores interactive museum exhibitions, digital set design, live visuals for performance, and event multimedia. Students will investigate multimedia development and design, digital sensor systems - non-tactile interaction integration, and collaborative project management. Prerequisites: ART 210 Fundamentals of Graphic Design and ART 319 Interactive and Web Design. 3 hrs.

ART 325 History of Photography
History of Photography: This course explores developments in photography from the earliest forms of photographic exploration with the camera obscura, to early experiments with the daguerreotype and calotype, to its gradual attempt to be accepted as an art form, and its present day experiments with the digital image. 3 hrs.

ART 329 Film Photography II
Film Photography II: Further investigation of photography as a creative medium and the instruction of advanced photographic techniques. Prerequisite: ART 227. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 340 Non-Western Art History
Non-Western Art History: The aim of this course is to demonstrate the use of imagery as it relates to Non-Western religion, society, and politics. This course will enable students to achieve a better understanding of cultures that differ from their own by giving them another avenue for comprehending diversity. 3 hrs.

ART 350 Arts in the World
Arts in the World: A comparative examination of global issues in the arts, including the various ways that cultures view the role of the arts, fund the arts, and celebrate the arts. 3 hrs.

ART 356 Information Design
Information Design: An intermediate level studio that explores infographics via information design theory and the practice of data visualization. Students will explore data analysis, mapping, graph theory, and other visualization techniques in order to produce static, animated and interactive design solutions. Prerequisites: ART 210 Fundamentals of Graphic Design and ART 311 Typography. 3 hrs.

ART 357 Game Design
Game Design: This course explores the design and development of both physical and video games. Students will examine game theory models, the history of game play and create their own games using physical materials and desktop/mobile software. Topics such as character design, level design, game programming and game narrative will be investigated. Prerequisites: ART 210 Fundamentals of Graphic Design and ART 319 Interactive and Web Design. 3 hrs.

ART 400 Art Criticism
Art Criticism: This course is designed to introduce students to various methods of art criticism and research from historical, iconographic and iconological perspectives. 3 hrs.

ART 401 Seminar in Art History
Seminar in Art History: This discussion-based class fosters advanced exploration of art historical time periods, ideas and criticisms introduced in 300 level art history classes. Prerequisites: ART 215 or 216, or permission of instructor. May be repeated once for credit. 3 hrs.

ART 407 Topics in Art History
Topics in Art History: Focus on specific questions of style, traditions and influence as they relate to the emergence and development of art in Europe and America. Topics to be announced annually. 3 hrs.

ART 451 Independent Study: Studio
Independent Study: Studio: Advanced independent work in specialized areas of studio art, interior design and new media design for the mature, academically advanced student. Open to juniors and seniors with a B average in art and approval of the department. 2 Studio Art or design classes. Lab fee may apply. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-3 hrs.

ART 452 Independent Study: Art History
Independent Study: Art History: Advanced independent work in specialized areas of art history for the mature, academically advanced student. Open to juniors and seniors with a B average in art and approval of the department. Prerequisite: ART 215 & 216. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-3 hrs.

ART 497 Senior Critique
Senior Critique: Developing a coherent art-critical position. This requires assembling a portfolio and providing written critical justification of artistic production and aims. To be directed on a rotating basis by department faculty and evaluated by the art faculty. Prerequisite: Art major, senior standing, last semester. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

ART 498 Senior Paper
Senior Paper: This capstone course consists of an independent exploration of interactions between the student’s major and the chosen concentration. The specific topic is to be selected by the student in consultation with his/her art history advisor. To be directed on a rotating basis by department faculty and evaluated by the art faculty. Prerequisite: Art History major, senior standing, last semester. Lab fee may apply. 3 hrs.

BIOL 100 Biology for Non-Majors
Biology for Non-Majors: An introduction to the principles of biology focused on evolution, ecology, modern genetics, and cell structure and function. Understanding the scientific method, the role of biology in modern society, and the application of biological knowledge in daily life will be emphasized throughout the course. This course fulfills the lab science requirement for graduation. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 120 Microbiology for Health Professions
Microbiology for Health Professions: Principles of microbiology with emphasis on the pathogenic bacteria, viruses, rickettsiae and fungi. Laboratory includes methods for cultivation, isolation and identification of the above. Recommended prerequisite: High school chemistry or CHEM 101 or CHEM 111. Lab fees apply. This course may not be counted towards the biology major. 4 hrs.

BIOL 208 Principles of Biology I
Principles of Biology I: A study of general ecological and evolutionary principles, with emphasis on the origins and diversity of living organisms, their interactions, and their environment. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 209 Principles of Biology II
Principles of Biology II: An introduction to the discipline of biology with a focus on molecular aspects. Topics will include cellular structure, division and metabolism, concepts of molecular biology such as DNA, RNA, and protein synthesis, and genetic processes. Laboratory emphasizes the scientific method. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. Recommended prerequisite: High school chemistry or CHEM 101 or CHEM 111. 4 hrs.

BIOL 213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I
Human Anatomy & Physiology I: A study of the structure and function of the human body with focus on cells, tissues and the integumentary, skeletal, nervous and reproductive systems. Laboratory study is designed to demonstrate anatomical structures and basic physiological principles. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. Recommended prerequisite: High school chemistry or CHEM 101 or CHEM 111. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II
Human Anatomy & Physiology II: A study of the structure and function of the human body with focus on the endocrine, muscular, cardiovascular, digestive, immune, respiratory and urinary systems. Laboratory study is designed to demonstrate anatomical structures and basic physiological principles. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 213. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.
BIOL 220 Applied Anatomy and Physiology
Applied Anatomy and Physiology: An introduction to the principles of human anatomy and physiology with a specific emphasis on how certain structures and mechanisms maintain homeostasis. Particular emphasis is placed on the nervous, cardiovascular and respiratory systems with a focus on applications in a variety of clinical settings. This course fulfills the science requirement for the music therapy program. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 304 Ecology
Ecology: Relationship of organisms to their environment; populations and communities; aquatic and terrestrial habitats; statistical methods. Laboratory includes both experimental and field studies. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: Biology 208. 4 hrs.

BIOL 305 Evolution
Evolution: An examination of the process of evolution from the level of molecules to macro-evolution. Among the topics to be covered are origins of life, the fossil record, human evolution, adaptation, mechanisms of speciation, co-evolution, and genetics as a means of understanding mutation, rates of evolution (clocks) and gene flow. Three hours of lecture each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 209. 3 hrs.

BIOL 307 Introduction to Microbiology
Introduction to Microbiology: Survey of microorganisms with emphasis on morphology, metabolism, genetics and identification of bacteria. Laboratory emphasizes basic skills and sterile techniques. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Lab fee $50. Prerequisite: BIOL 208 or BIOL 209. 4 hrs.

BIOL 308 Neurobiology
Neurobiology: This lecture course explores the nervous system from a physiological perspective. Specific topics include classic experiments on ion channel behavior in neurons, mechanisms of synaptic plasticity which underlie memory, development of neural circuits, and repair and regeneration in the nervous system. Some aspects of neuropathology and current advances in neurobiological research will be presented to better understand how disruptions of the neurobiological mechanisms relate to specific diseases. Prerequisite: BIOL 209. 3 hrs.

BIOL 309 Marine Biology
Marine Biology: Introduction to oceanography and marine biology emphasizing the ecology, distribution and classification of marine organisms. Three hours lecture and two required weekend field trips. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: BIOL 208. 4 hrs.

BIOL 311 Botany
Botany: A study of the ecology, physiology, and evolutionary adaptations of plants, with emphasis on local flora. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: BIOL 208. 4 hrs.

BIOL 313 Human Anatomy & Physiology I
Human Anatomy and Physiology I: A study of the structure and function of the human body with focus on cells, tissues and the integumentary, skeletal, nervous and muscular systems. Laboratory study is designed to demonstrate anatomical structures and basic physiological principles. Students must complete dissections, research paper discussions, and a written and oral assignment on a related topic of interest. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 208 or BIOL 209 and CHEM 111. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 314 Human Anatomy & Physiology II
Human Anatomy and Physiology II: A study of the structure and function of the human body with focus on the endocrine, reproductive, cardiovascular, digestive, immune, respiratory and urinary systems. Laboratory study is designed to demonstrate anatomical structures and basic physiological principles. Students must complete dissections, research paper discussions, and a written and oral assignment on a related topic of interest. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Prerequisite: BIOL 313. Lab fees apply. 4 hrs.

BIOL 320 Zoology
Zoology: A survey of the various animal phyla from the protists through the vertebrates. Emphasis is on the phylogenetic history, evolutionary trends and the relationship between structure and function among animals. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: BIOL 208. 4 hrs.

BIOL 322 Introduction to Immunology
Introduction to Immunology: This course will provide an introduction to the components of the immune system and how they work together in an immune response. Specific topics include innate and adaptive immune defenses, properties of antigens, development of immunity, the role of the immune system in transplantation, and how the immune system may respond incorrectly in cases of hypersensitivity and autoimmunity or may respond inadequately in cases of genetic or acquired immunodeficiency. Prerequisite: BIOL 209. Lecture. 3 hrs.

BIOL 330 Field Studies in Biology
Field Studies in Biology: Field studies in selected habitats or of particular groups of plants or animals. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: BIOL 208. 4 hrs.

BIOL 350 Biotechnology Techniques
Biotechnology Techniques: This course provides the foundation and understanding of various molecular biology and biochemistry techniques through a project based laboratory and a supplemental lecture. One hour of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 209, CHEM 111/111L. This course is also cross-listed as CHEM 350. 2 hrs.

BIOL 360 Biology Seminar
Biology Seminar: An introduction to reading and researching scientific literature and research proposal writing. The course also addresses issues dealing with ethical conduct as a scientist. This course fulfills the writing intensive requirement. Prerequisite: BIOL 208 or BIOL 209. 3 hrs.

BIOL 390 Biol Lab Assistant
Biology Lab Assistant: Practical experience as a laboratory assistant in the department. Prerequisite: 12 hours of biology with a grade of B or better and permission of the department. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

BIOL 391 Biol Lab Assistant
Biology Lab Assistant: Practical experience as a laboratory assistant in the department. May be repeated once for
BIOL 400 Cell Biology
Cell Biology: Study of cell structure and physiology. This course focuses on protein processing and regulation, cell signaling pathways, cytoskeleton function, and cell cycle controls. Laboratory emphasizes research techniques used to study cells and proteins. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisites: BIOL 209, BIOL 360 and one year of college chemistry or permission of the instructor. Co-requisite: BIOL 360. 4 hrs.

BIOL 401 Comparative Physiology
Comparative Physiology: Study of the function of vertebrate systems. Comparisons made to invertebrate systems where appropriate. Includes lecture and laboratory experimentation. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: BIOL 209 and BIOL 320 and BIOL 360 or permission of the instructor. 4 hrs.

BIOL 402 Genetics
Genetics: Covers principles of heredity and variation in prokaryotes and eukaryotes. Topics include molecular genetics, genomics, biotechnology, and classical genetics. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisites: BIOL 209, BIOL 360 and one year of college chemistry or permission of the instructor. 4 hrs.

BIOL 403 Developmental Biology
Developmental Biology: A study of the development of animals set within the framework of classical embryology and current molecular biology. Emphasis will be placed on the molecular events which govern the processes of fertilization, cleavage, gastrulation, organogenesis and pattern formation. The laboratory will highlight experimental approaches to studying development. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisites: BIOL 209 and BIOL 360 or permission of instructor. 4 hrs.

BIOL 404 Current Issues in Biology
Current Issues in Biology: An investigation of current topics of interest in biology. Topics may include subject area content or noteworthy issues associated with the conduct of science and its impact on society. Prerequisites: BIOL 360 or permission of instructor. Repeatable for a total of 2 hrs. 1 hr.

BIOL 407 Animal Behavior
Animal Behavior: This course will serve as a comprehensive survey of animal behavior, including both the underlying mechanisms and evolutionary causes of behavior. Topics covered include mechanisms of behavior, learning, foraging, defense against predation, aggression, sensory systems, communication, mating systems and parental care behavior. This course will be useful for students, including those in the social sciences, who are interested in learning how and why animals of all sorts (from ants to humans) do what they do. Prerequisites: BIOL 208 (Principles of Biology I) or its equivalent; BIOL 360 (Seminar); ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences or its equivalent; or the permission of the instructor. 4 hrs.

BIOL 430 Topics in Biology
Topics in Biology: Selected topics based on faculty and student interest in subjects not offered as part of the regular curriculum. May be repeated for credit with different subtitles. Lecture and lab hours may vary with the credit hours and the course taught. Lab fees apply when appropriate. Repeatable for a total of 8 hrs. 1-4 hrs.

BIOL 450 Independent Study in Biology
Independent Study in Biology: Research projects in the area of the student's interest: written report and/or oral examination may be required. Prerequisite: BIOL 208 and permission of the instructor. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-4 hrs.

BIOL 470 Biological Investigation
Biological Investigation: Library research projects are completed in the area of the student's interest. Management Consulting: This course introduces the concepts, methods, skills, and attitudes required for effective consultation in organizations, both from an internal and external role. Beyond a mere knowledge base, the course is designed to develop skill in dialogue and consulting, with a particular emphasis on attitude development through the application of the Action Research and Process Consultation models in an ethical context. Additional focus is on issues of practice development and management such as client identification, marketing, partnering, contracting, and client relationship management. This course is also cross listed as ODEV 656 Management Consulting. 3 hrs.

BUSB 677 Interpersonal & Group Dynamics
Interpersonal and Group Dynamics: This course focuses on the study of the form, process, and function of small groups, with particular emphasis on work teams in the contemporary organization. A variety of theories and models are explored and applied. Students are expected to explore their use or adoption in the context of self as well as groups at a behavioral level. No prerequisites. This course is also cross listed as ODEV 635 Interpersonal and Group Dynamics. 3 hrs.

BUSB 680 Independent Study
Independent Study: This course requires independent reading and investigation of literature relevant to a specific topic or area of business. Students must complete and have approved a proposal for an Independent Study prior to registration for this course. This course may be repeated for a maximum of six credit hours. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-3 hrs.

CHEMISTRY

CHEM 101 General Chemistry I
General Chemistry I: This course includes the structure of the atom; the structure of the nucleus and nuclear chemistry; the Periodic Table; chemical bonding; solids, liquids and gases; stoichiometric relationships; the properties of solutions; colloidal systems; chemical equilibria; and hydrocarbons. Three hours lecture per week. Designed for non-science majors. Corequisite: CHEM 101L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 101L General Chemistry I Lab
General Chemistry I Laboratory: This laboratory introduces the student to elementary glass-working, general laboratory equipment and techniques, the principles of quantitative operations and qualitative analysis. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 111 Chemistry Principles I
Chemistry Principles I: The study of atomic and molecular structures, electronegativity, the relationships of the Periodic Table, covalent, ionic and metallic bonding, molecular orbitals, and enthalpy. Three hours lecture per week. Designed primarily for science majors. Corequisite: CHEM 111L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 111L Chemistry Principles I Lab
Chemistry Principles I Laboratory: This laboratory introduces students to general laboratory equipment and techniques and the principles of gravimetric analysis. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 112 Chemistry Principles II
Chemistry Principles II: The study of chemical equilibria, reaction rates, free energy, electro-chemistry, acids, bases and pH and an introduction to carbon chemistry. Three hours lecture per week. Designed primarily for science majors. Prerequisite: CHEM 111 or its equivalent. Corequisite: CHEM 112L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 112L Chemistry Principles II Lab
Chemistry Principles II Laboratory: This laboratory introduces buffers, colligative properties, semi-micro techniques and volumetric and qualitative analysis. Lab fees apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 300 Research Methods
Research Methods: A course designed to prepare students to conduct independent research projects in their senior year. This course will develop skills in research planning; experimental design; use of laboratory and computer techniques; preparation, criticism, and oral presentation of research plans; and communication of research findings. Students may elect to take this course as ENST 300 or ENVR 300. Prerequisite: CHEM 303. 3 hrs.

CHEM 303 Organic Chemistry I
Organic Chemistry I: Introductory course including an integrated survey of the more important compounds of the aliphatic and aromatic series; emphasis on problems in organic synthesis. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 112 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: CHEM 303L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 303L Organic Chemistry Lab I
Organic Chemistry Laboratory I: This course introduces the student to the basic experimental techniques of chemical synthesis of organic compounds. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: CHEM 112L. 1 hr.

CHEM 304 Organic Chemistry II
Organic Chemistry II: Theoretical course treating the mechanisms of organic reactions in terms of modern structural theories. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 303 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: CHEM 304L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 304L Organic Chemistry Lab II
Organic Chemistry Laboratory II: A continuation of Laboratory 303L and the introduction of the student to organic qualitative analysis. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: CHEM 303L. 1 hr.

CHEM 305 Quantitative Analysis
Quantitative Analysis: Introduction to the theory and practice of quantitative analytical chemistry. Topics include volumetric analysis, spectroscopy, electrochemistry and chromatography. Three hours lecture per week. This course fulfills the writing-intensive course requirement. Prerequisite: CHEM 112. Corequisite: CHEM 305L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 305L Quantitative Analysis Laboratory
Quantitative Analysis Laboratory: This laboratory introduces the student to the techniques of making accurate and precise measurements in the laboratory, with an emphasis on volumetric, gravimetric and electrochemical analysis methods. Three hours of laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 307 Instrumental Analysis II
Instrumental Analysis II: A second course in analytical chemistry, treating the theory and operation of electronic instrumentation. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 305 or permission. Corequisite: CHEM 307L. 3 hrs.
CHEM 307L Instrumental Analysis Laboratory
Instrumental Analysis Laboratory: This laboratory introduces the student to design, construction and operation of chemical instruments, as well as the proper selection of analytical techniques for solving chemical problems. Three hours of laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: CHEM 305. 1 hr.

CHEM 308 Physical Chemistry I
Physical Chemistry I: Study of the structure of gases, the physical properties of matter, the laws of thermodynamics and the principles of equilibria. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisites: CHEM 112, PHYS 101, MATH 121, 122 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: CHEM 308L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 308L Physical Chemistry I Lab
Physical Chemistry I Laboratory: Introduction to basic devices for precise physical and chemical measurements. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 309 Physical Chemistry II
Physical Chemistry II: Application of physical and mathematical principles to chemical systems: quantum mechanics, atomic structure, molecular structure, computational methods, and spectroscopy. Prerequisite: CHEM 308. Corequisite: CHEM 309L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 309L Physical Chemistry II Lab
Physical Chemistry II Laboratory: This laboratory introduces methods in computational chemistry and advanced spectroscopy. Corequisite: CHEM 309. 1 hr.

CHEM 320 Adv Inorganic Chemistry
Advanced Inorganic Chemistry: A study of the reactions and properties of inorganic elements based on electronic structure and periodic properties. Prerequisite: CHEM 304. 3 hrs.

CHEM 350 Biotechnology Techniques
Biotechnology Techniques: This course provides the foundation and understanding of various molecular biology and biochemistry techniques through a project based laboratory and a supplemental lecture. One hour of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 209, CHEM 111/111L. This course is also cross-listed as BIOL 350. 2 hrs.

CHEM 390 Chem Lab Assistant
Chemistry Laboratory Assistant: Practical experience as a laboratory assistant in the department. Chemistry 390 may be repeated once. Prerequisites: 8 hours of chemistry with a grade of B or better and permission. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

CHEM 391 Chem Lab Assistant
Chemistry Laboratory Assistant: Practical experience as a laboratory assistant in the department. Prerequisites: 8 hours of chemistry with a grade of B or better and permission. Pass/No Record. Repeatable for a total of 2 hrs. 1 hr.

CHEM 401 Biochemistry

CHEM 401L Biochemistry Lab
Biochemistry Laboratory: This laboratory is an introduction to modern biochemical techniques with an emphasis on protein and nucleic acid methods. Co-requisite: CHEM 401. 1 hr.

CHEM 403 Advanced Biochemistry I
Advanced Biochemistry I: Study of protein conformation and function; mechanisms and regulation of enzyme action; generation and storage of metabolic energy. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 303. 3 hrs.

CHEM 403L Advanced Biochemistry I Lab
Advanced Biochemistry I Laboratory: Basic principles and techniques of biochemistry laboratory investigation introduced; work is quantitative in nature. Three hours laboratory per week. Lab fees apply. Prerequisite: CHEM 303L or permission of the instructor. 1 hr.

CHEM 404 Advanced Biochemistry II
Advanced Biochemistry II: Study of the metabolism of biomolecules: biosynthesis of macromolecules; storage, transmission and expression of genetic information. Prerequisite: CHEM 403 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: CHEM 404L. 3 hrs.

CHEM 406 Environmental Chemistry
Environmental Chemistry: In this course students will apply fundamental principles of chemistry to understand the source, fate and reactivity of compounds in the environment. The course will focus on the chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere and lithosphere. Environmental issues that will be discussed include climate change, air pollution, pollution and treatment of soil and water resources and the environmental fate and utilization of pesticides and other anthropogenic compounds. 3 hrs.

CHEM 406L Environmental Chemistry Lab
Environmental Chemistry Laboratory: This laboratory allows students to apply experimental and analytical techniques to help study, describe and solve environmental problems. This is a problem solving course that will rely on fundamental principles of chemistry including equilibrium, reaction kinetics, solubility, partitioning and computer modeling. Students will learn basic analytical techniques required to analyze compounds in environmental samples including air, water and soil at concentrations as low as part per billion. Lab fee may apply. 1 hr.

CHEM 430 Topics in Chemistry
Topics in Chemistry: This course provides the opportunity for a faculty member and a group of interested students to study a subject that is not offered on a regular basis in the curriculum. Topics are announced annually. May be repeated for credit under different subtitles. Prerequisites: Vary with topic. 1-4 hrs.

CHEM 450 Directed Individual Study
Directed Individual Study: Individual research conducted by the student. Three, six or nine hours of consultation and laboratory work per week. Prerequisite: Open to advanced students by permission of the instructor. 1-4 hrs.

CHEM 470 Senior Project
Senior Project: The course consists of an independent research project. The topic and scope of the project are determined by the student in consultation with a faculty member. A written report and an oral presentation are required. Senior project may be taken twice for projects that span two semesters. Prerequisite: CHEM 300. Repeatable for a total of 4 hrs. 2 hrs.
CIS 110 Fundamentals of Microcomputers
Fundamentals of Microcomputers: This course introduces the fundamentals the personal computer (PC) with emphasis on the use of the PC to improve personal productivity. Application topics include word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation graphics and communication software. 3 hrs.

CIS 120 Advanced Microcomputer Fundamentals
Advanced Microcomputer Fundamentals: This course provides advanced instruction in personal productivity applications using word processing, spreadsheet, database and presentation graphics software. Prerequisite: CIS 110 or permission of the department. 3 hrs.

CIS 131 Scientific Computer Programming
Scientific Computer Programming: Problem-solving processes, algorithmic design, structured programming in a procedural language, debugging and testing techniques. 3 hrs.

CIS 230 Introduction to the Internet
Introduction to the Internet: An overview of the Internet from an end-user perspective. Topics include the structure and uses of the Internet, use of web browser software and creating personal web pages. Prerequisite: CIS 110 and sophomore standing or permission of the department. 3 hrs.

CIS 270 Intro to Information Systems
Introduction to Information Systems: An overview of the nature and uses of information systems in today's society. Topics range from hardware and software technologies to issues of privacy and ethics. Intended for both IS and non-IS majors. 3 hrs.

CIS 290 Introduction to Digital Multimedia
Introduction to Digital Multimedia: An introductory study of the computer technologies, creative skills and software tools employed in the digital arts. Topics include graphics, sound, and video. Concepts will be applied through an introductory examination of digital arts software. Emphasis is on the use of multimedia technologies rather than the computer science of multimedia technologies. This course is intended for all majors. Prerequisite: Basic familiarity with personal computer systems. 3 hrs.

CIS 300 Info Systems in Global Enterprise
Information Systems in Global Enterprise: This course focuses on IT environments around the world, national infrastructures and regulatory regimes, global IT applications, global IS development strategies, global management support systems, and global IT management strategies. The course provides an in-depth understanding of managing information resources across national borders, time zones, cultures, political philosophies, regulatory regimes, and economic infrastructures. 3 hrs.

CIS 310 Applications Programming I
Applications Programming I: An introduction to software engineering methodologies and the development of software applications using RAD tools. Topics include interface design, structured programming and file input/output. Programming concepts are applied using a current software development environment. Prerequisite: MATH 209. 3 hrs.

CIS 315 Management Information Systems
Management Information Systems: All types of business, both large and small, are using information systems, networks, and Internet technology to conduct more of their business electronically, achieving new levels of efficiency and competitiveness. This course is an investigation of information systems within organizations. The course studies information systems from both technical and behavioral perspectives and the changes information systems are bringing to organizations and management. 3 hrs.

CIS 330 Applications Programming II
Applications Programming II: Extension of the concepts and skills presented in CIS 240. Topics include object oriented programming, database connectivity, client-server software development and an overview of software development systems. Programming concepts are applied using a current software development environment. Prerequisite: CIS 310. 3 hrs.

CIS 350 Systems Analysis & Design
Systems Analysis and Design: Concepts, principles, tools and techniques of information systems analysis and design. Students will complete a significant systems analysis and design project. Prerequisite: CIS 310. 3 hrs.

CIS 370 Database Management Systems
Database Management Systems: Design and development of database management systems. Topics include file systems, the relational database model, structured query language and normalization and database design. Students will complete the detailed physical design and implementation of a database system. Prerequisite: CIS 350. 3 hrs.

CIS 410 Networking and Telecommunications
Networking and Telecommunications: In-depth coverage of telecommunications fundamentals, including voice-video-data for LAN, MANN and WAN network systems. Topics include data communication and telecommunication concepts, models, and standards. Installation, configuration, systems integration and management of the technologies will be practiced. Prerequisite: CIS 350. 3 hrs.

CIS 450 Project Management and Practice
Project Management and Practice: Factors necessary for successful management of major projects. Topics include both the technical and behavioral aspects of project management and the project management body of knowledge (PMBOK). Intended for both Business and IS majors. Prerequisite: CIS 350 or permission of the department. 3 hrs.

CIS 470 Senior System Project
Senior System Project: Advanced IS majors engage in and complete the design and implementation of a significant information system. Project management, management of the IS function and systems integration are components of the project experience. Prerequisite: CIS 350. 3 hrs.

CIS 490 Current Issues in Comp Info Systems
Current Issues in Computer Information Systems: An advanced readings course dealing with relevant issues in the IT industry. Topics include current and evolving standards, current and emerging technologies, government regulation, e-commerce, IT workforce management, security, ethics and privacy. Prerequisite: CIS 370. 3 hrs.

<tr>
<td>COMM 306</td>
<td>Integrated Strategic Communication</td>
<td>Strategic communication refers to the totality of an organization's efforts to lead, motivate, persuade, and inform its various publics, which include consumers, investors, employees, and the media. This course provides students with information and insights about strategic communication: how messages are created and framed, why we respond to messages the way we do, and how to employ communications strategies to advance organizational goals. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 309</td>
<td>Media Aesthetics</td>
<td>Media Aesthetics: This course focuses on the fundamental components of mass media and how they serve message-makers, help influence audiences and structure industries. Students will explore light, color, framing, space, time, motion, sound, editing and words--alone and in concert--as a path to creating and evaluating content. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 310</td>
<td>Advanced News Writing: Broadcast</td>
<td>Advanced News Writing: Broadcast: This course explores broadcast journalism, examining the history of the industry, the structure of television newsrooms, changing professional environments and career opportunities in the field. Further, it gives students experience in writing and announcing radio and television news scripts. Prerequisites: COMM 204. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 311</td>
<td>Media Criticism</td>
<td>Media Criticism: This course introduces multiple perspectives in media analysis by requiring students to engage media texts (from news to advertising, on radio, television, and websites) as the objects of critical socio-political analysis. Students will explore theoretical vocabulary and resources that will enable them to analyze media artifacts from the multiple perspectives of message senders, message receivers, media technologies and media industries. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 312</td>
<td>Nonverbal Communication</td>
<td>Nonverbal Communication: This course examines the various theories and applications of nonverbal communication in both personal and professional contexts. Topics include: body movement and gestures; clothing and personal artifacts; facial expression and eye behavior; use of space and territory; touching behavior; paralanguage and voice characteristics; and deception detection. The elements of nonverbal communication will be examined in the contexts of interpersonal relationships, the workplace, and cultural differences. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 313</td>
<td>Community Media Ecosystems</td>
<td>Community Media Ecosystems: This course provides an applied perspective on the local information ecosystem, and the intersections between media systems, communities, and civic and industrial agencies. 1 hr.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 314</td>
<td>Multimedia Writing &amp; Reporting</td>
<td>Multimedia Writing and Reporting: Teaches the skills and understanding necessary to produce news stories across media platforms—print, broadcast and online. As the technical boundaries among media become less distinct, students must be prepared to enter the rapidly changing media environment. Prerequisite: COMM 204. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 315</td>
<td>Layout and Design</td>
<td>Layout and Design: This course introduces the forms and functions of typography and layout techniques. Students apply their knowledge to manipulate print and image in effective and creative webpage and print design. Prerequisite: COMM 204. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 316</td>
<td>Community Journalism &amp; Public Affairs</td>
<td>Community Journalism and Public Affairs: Instruction and experience covering government, school, the courts and other major institutions. Critical analysis of examples of public affairs reporting. Projects in investigative reporting. Prerequisite: COMM 204. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 317</td>
<td>Gender &amp; Communication</td>
<td>Gender and Communication: This course applies theories of gender studies to various communication contexts. Topics include gender roles and stereotypes; gender differences in verbal and nonverbal communication; gendered processes of socialization; images of gender in the media; and mixed vs. same sex group interactions. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 318</td>
<td>Photojournalism</td>
<td>Photojournalism: A practical and critical overview of photojournalism through exploratory photo essays, with an emphasis on multimedia applications. Training in still camera and digital media, with a consideration of the basic principles and ethics of visual journalism and its role in social and political change. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 319</td>
<td>Multimedia Storytelling</td>
<td>Multimedia Storytelling: This course examines the processes and tools for producing multimedia stories, the fundamental components of storytelling structure, and the impact of digital technologies on narrative form. The course explores the principles of interactivity and multimedia production by introducing students to a range of digital storytelling tools. Prerequisite: COMM 210. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 320</td>
<td>Communication Research</td>
<td>Communication Research: Students will study quantitative and qualitative approaches to communication research. Students will apply an appropriate approach to investigate a topic in depth for their term research paper. Prerequisites: COMM 101, COMM 202, COMM 250. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 321</td>
<td>Audio Production</td>
<td>Audio Production: Comprehensive overview of the basics of using digital audio equipment in a studio environment to record and edit audio. Students are introduced to audio systems, audio/video post-production, audio editing and surround sound mixing using software packages. Sound design theory is covered. 3 hrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>COMM 322</td>
<td>Interpersonal Communication</td>
<td>Interpersonal Communication: The study of communication as it affects the individual's interaction with other people in relationships. The course includes consideration of such concepts as self-concept analysis, perception, self-disclosure, gender roles in communication, nonverbal communication, listening behavior, dyadic interaction and interpersonal. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.</td> and applied training in the mechanics of mobile platforms, with significant attention to the design and analysis of serious games, the theory and method of user-centered design, the principles of gameplay, and the role of games in social change. Prerequisite: COMM 210. 3 hrs.

COMM 324 Studies in New Media
Studies in New Media: This course examines the key theoretical works and arguments in the field of new media and considers moments of collision and convergence between media forms. Subjects to be considered include: computer culture, digital imaging technologies, interactivity and simulation, digital cinema, digital space, digital media, virtuality, cyberspace, online identity, social networks, collective intelligence, and new media communities. 3 hrs.

COMM 325 Global & International Media
Global and International Media: This course will introduce students to various issues in the field of international communication, such as media ownership and concentration, global digital divide, conditions of production of news and information, and global information and communication flows. All these issues will be explored from a critical perspective. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 326 Health Communication
Health Communication: This course examines the role of health communication in our everyday lives, with a focus on communication strategies that inform and influence individuals, families and communities. The course explores the dynamics and impact of health communication between individuals and the health care system such as doctor-patient communication, dissemination of health related information and the role of mediated communication in examining health communication. 3 hrs.

COMM 327 Intercultural Communication
Intercultural Communication: This course examines the relationship between communication and culture. Defining cultural media and their challenges. Other topics include acculturation, prejudice, stereotyping, and cultural competence. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 328 Video Game Studies
Video Game Studies: An overview of the interdisciplinary academic study of video games, analyzing games as interactive media, rule-based systems, cultural and social texts, designed learning spaces, arenas of play and products of industrial discourse and design. 3 hrs.

COMM 329 Sports Reporting
Sports Reporting: Sports reporting takes specific kinds of news collection and analysis skills, whether stories are delivered through still or motion digital production, audio production, or print-driven media. This course will identify the kinds of stories sports generate, whether amateur or professional, from heartening to criminal. The course examines how to cover the sports beat, tell sports stories, and support multimedia sports stories with digital media, photos, and video. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 204. 3 hrs.

COMM 332 Conflict Management
Conflict Management: This course examines the nature of conflict and the impact that conflict has on our professional lives. The focus of the course is on self-assessment and the effect that different styles of conflict management have on the parties involved. Specific strategies for managing conflict, including verbal and nonverbal communication, active listening, and negotiation are explored. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 333 Family Communication
Family Communication: This course reflects the trends in theory and practice in developing an understanding of the frameworks of communication as it relates to the family unit. Communication issues include autonomy and intimacy, roles; power management; decision making; dialogue; conflict resolution; communication rituals and patterns. Students will be able to identify communication problems and/or processes taking place within a family and will be able to analyze their own family experiences. 3 hrs.

COMM 334 Family Communication
Family Communication: This course reflects the trends in theory and practice in developing an understanding of the frameworks of communication as it relates to the family unit. Communication issues include autonomy and intimacy, roles; power management; decision making; dialogue; conflict resolution; communication rituals and patterns. Students will be able to identify communication problems and/or processes taking place within a family and will be able to analyze their own family experiences. 3 hrs.

COMM 335 Persuasion
Persuasion: Grounded in rhetorical theory, the art of persuasion has reemerged as a critical skill in both personal and mediated communication contexts. This course examines the strategies individuals and organizations use to persuade people to take a particular side in decisions that rely on opinion. Topics include the importance of credibility, logic, and emotion with regard both to evaluating and creating persuasive messages. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 336 Health Communication
Health Communication: This course examines the role of health communication in our everyday lives, with a focus on communication strategies that inform and influence individuals, families and communities. The course explores the dynamics and impact of health communication between individuals and the health care system such as doctor-patient communication, dissemination of health related information and the role of mediated communication in examining health communication. 3 hrs.

COMM 337 Mass Communication
Mass Communication: In this course students will analyze the forms, messages, social impact and economic structures of the mass media. Topics include the changing structure of the mass media; the role of media in public perceptions of ideas, events, institutions and people. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 338 Group Dynamics & Team Building
Group Dynamics and Team Building: This course analyzes the processes of small group communication, particularly in the context of task-oriented and decision-making bodies. Topics include the stages of group development; the dynamics of group interaction, productivity and satisfaction; team-building leadership and other group roles; decision-making; and managing conflict. 3 hrs.

COMM 339 Communicating Across Generations
Communicating Across Generations: This course will examine the landscape of today's organizations as challenges arise from generational differences. We will explore each of the four generations: Traditionalists, Baby Boomers, Gen X and Millennials (Gen Y); their distinct social values; communication styles; work attitudes; lifestyle characteristics; consuming behavior and how each is portrayed in the media. We will also explore how the generations relate to and think about each other in families, the workplace and society. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 346 Middle East Media
Middle East Media: This course builds on developments in media and social change and contemporary analyses of the Middle East toward a consideration of how communication technologies are being used in strategic transition in the region. The course considers strategic transition in democratic, liberalization, and commercial reforms, in domestic, transnational, and new media systems in the Middle East. The course also explores the role of Middle Eastern media in political action, as a potential tool for negotiation or resistance. It takes a critical look at how media technologies are assumed to facilitate or impede political, economic, social and cultural transitions in the Middle East. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 348 Communication & Popular Culture
Communication and Popular Culture: Popular culture is the culture known and shared by most people in a society. In this course, students will investigate the mass media and contemporary forms of popular culture in the United States and what these say about American society, will look at the elements of American popular culture that have made their way into other societies across the globe, and will come to understand what popular culture says about values, beliefs, and norms of American culture and others. 3 hrs.

COMM 350 Independent Study
Independent Study: Students may investigate a communication topic in depth with a faculty mentor. Open to communication majors with junior or senior standing and a 3.0 grade point average. 1-3 hrs.

COMM 351 Film: Process & Product
Film: Process and Product: This course examines the creation and consumption of films. Students will evaluate how art, popular, documentary and/or corporate filmmakers use visual and structural methods such as editing, frame composition, and signs and codes to inform or move members of target audiences. 3 hrs.

COMM 352 History of American Journalism
History of American Journalism: This course explores the history of journalism in America from the colonial period to the present. Though it will focus on print journalism, it will consider as well the revolutionary significance of electronic journalism. This course will trace the continuities and changes in the ways in which news is defined, gathered, produced, and critiqued in American life and politics; and it will investigate in detail the lives and times of some of America's more intriguing journalists, from Peter Zenger to William Lloyd Garrison; from Ida Tarbell and the "Muckrakers" to H.L. Mencken; from early radio to TV news to the World Wide Web. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 356 Sports Communication
Sports Communication: Sports communicate societal values and norms. This course will analyze the history of sports and its relationship to culture. Specific topics may include the functions of sports for the identities of individuals, groups, teams, and society, as well as the relationship between sports, media, and culture. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 357 Sports Promotion & Publicity
Sports: Promotion and Publicity: This course surveys the strategy, techniques and communication media employed by public relations, marketing and promotion professionals to the unique application of the sports industry. Students will learn how to analyze sports audiences, develop promotion strategies, plan sports publicity events and understand the role of sponsorship. Students will also examine sports-related corporate social responsibility and community relations initiatives in local, national and international settings. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 358 Interpersonal Relations in Sports
Interpersonal Relations in Sports: This course explores interpersonal relationships in various sport contexts. Students will examine the relationship of the coach with players and parents, youth/peer relationships in sports, team cohesion, motivational climate, personal perception and sport performance, the role of agents and agency and cultural influences on sport relationships. Students will investigate the dynamics and conflict in these relationships as well as practice skills to improve them. Students are advised to elect either COMM 322 (Interpersonal Communication) or this course, but not both. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 359 Sports: Ethics, Law, & Media
Sports: Ethics, Law, & Media: The relationship between media and sports is long and complex. From documenting the physical artistry of a range of human endeavors to the tension and release of competitive games and events, sport activities provide the kind of stories and spectacle that drives audiences to media. Sports: Ethics, Law, & Media may examine the legal and ethical dimensions of issues such as the decline of "Sportsmanship;" the comparision of "amateurism" to "professionalism;" the history and consequences of Title IX and other gender and diversity issues; relationships between reporters and athletes; the parallels between the culture of sport and the culture of business; and the issues of aging. Prerequisite: COMM 101. 3 hrs.

COMM 360 Topics in Communication
Topics in Communication: Intensive consideration of a single topic in communication. The topics for the course will vary from offering to offering and may range from considering the work of a single individual to a study of a general movement. May be taken twice with different titles. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-3 hrs.

COMM 364 Media Law & Ethics
Media Law and Ethics: This course analyzes media policies and practices with respect to their political or practical generation, ethical enactment and social impact, including such topics as government regulation of the media, the influence of pressure groups, media influence, and libel and privacy laws. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 370 Advanced Digital Media Production
Advanced Digital Media Production: This course provides advanced communication students with the opportunity to study and produce digital media. Students will produce and maintain a blog that will include digital still images, digital audio files and digital video. Students will participate in group activities that will enhance the knowledge and skills necessary to produce web-based multimedia. This is a hands-on, labor-intensive course. The course requires that students have experience planning and producing digital media. Prerequisite: COMM 210. 3 hrs.

COMM 401 Communication Seminar
Communication Seminar: The seminar course is a smaller, seminar setting in which students will investigate a specific communication topic or trend related to a current market trend, communication event, or other intensive discussion topic. Admission to each seminar course has a unique set of prerequisites based on the course material. Communication Seminar may be taken twice with different
COMM 405 Journalism and Media Innovation
Journalism and Media Innovation: Practical instruction in the technologies and techniques that are informing contemporary journalism, with a review of community news and information-gathering experiments, and case work with new delivery platforms. Prerequisite: Senior Standing. 3 hrs.

COMM 410 Media Industry Workshop
Media Industry Workshop: Field work in digital media production. Students are assigned a media industry partner, and engaged as part of a research and development team in the local entrepreneurial technology sector. Prerequisite: Senior Standing. 3 hrs.

COMM 465 International Experience
International Experience: During this course, students participate in a hands-on exploration of the communication environment of a country or countries in Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America or North America, with particular attention to the effect of the communication culture on organizations. Course requirements include attendance at pre-trip seminars and completion of all course assignments after the conclusion of the travel experience. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 218. 3 hrs.

COMM 495 Communication Capstone
Communication Capstone: Taken in the semester in which students expect to graduate, students will engage in a culminating experience by preparing a project in their chosen programs of study under the supervision of a faculty member. The capstone is intended to showcase student work in the program up to this final semester. Prerequisites: Senior Standing and COMM 202, COMM 250, and COMM 320; or Senior Standing and COMM 204, COMM 218, and COMM 313. 4 hrs.

COMM 601 Communication Fluency
Communication Fluency: This introductory course exposes students to the practice of communication as a discipline and begins the process of improving each student’s communication literacy. Communication literacy is the ability to access information, analyze and evaluate messages and texts, create content, reflect on social and ethical considerations, and engage in the community across all communication platforms with a variety of audiences (Hobbs, 2010). In this course, students gain an understanding of the paradigms of knowledge from a communication perspective as well as essential communication theory. The course demonstrates how to develop original inquiry into a communication topic. Students will identify and articulate a communication problem, strategy, or initiative to be analyzed and evaluated, aggregate and apply credible research, and compose and support arguments using a theoretical framework. In addition, students will begin to create and evaluate content on a digital platform related to a specific communication initiative and audience using an appropriate citation style. Students completing the course will walk away with skills to succeed in the program: how to locate credible research, analyze and evaluate a variety of texts, ask good questions, create content on digital platforms, and generally participate in the conversation within the communication discipline. 3 hrs.

COMM 602 Communication & Culture in a Network Society
Communication and Culture in a Networked Society: This course addresses how digital connectivity in a networked society has changed and transformed culture. In particular, this course critically investigates how networking (i.e., blogs, video blogs, podcasts, streaming, tweeting, etc.) affects traditional conceptions of knowledge and information creation, production, transmission, and censorship. In addition, this course focuses on how traditional conceptions of organizational boundaries and influence, civic engagement, and organizational participation are evolving amidst an information technology revolution. 3 hrs.

COMM 604 Leadership, Empowermt & Mgt of Mean Leadership, Empowerment, and the Management of Meaning: This course surveys the essential relationship between leadership and communication. Examining leadership from a communication perspective, this course focuses on leadership as meaning management; namely how to create, frame, and communicate one's own “realities” to others. Moreover, this class examines leadership as encompassing symbolic acts of creation and interpretation by drawing on communication theories (i.e., social construction of reality and coordinated management of meaning) that illustrate the symbolic capacities, limitations, and ethics of meaning making. Finally, the course focuses on practicing the skills of meaning making as it pertains to creating, using, interpreting, and critically evaluating moments of leadership in “everyday” acts of communication. 3 hrs.

COMM 634 Orgs, Tech & Changng Nature of Work Organizations, Technology and the Changing Nature of Work: This course explores how organizational technology necessitates a cultural reexamination of traditional definitions of “work,” organizational boundaries, and employee expectations and experiences. Specifically, this class addresses the relationship between technology and organizational communication from both macro and micro perspectives of analysis. From a macro perspective, this course investigates how organizational technologies shape employer and employee expectations and creates “new” ways of interpreting, acting, and responding to information and other voices. Finally, from a micro perspective, this course addresses particular workplace technologies, with special attention given to aesthetics, user-interface design, efficacy, and critical and ethical implications. 3 hrs.

COMM 638 Strategic Comm for Global Audiences Strategic Communication for Global Audiences: This course explores various strategic communication issues and challenges with a diverse, global audience. The increased global climate necessitates new thinking habits and strategies to best craft targeted, integrated messages to a particular audience, whether it be global, national, or local. This course investigates strategies for successful audience analysis, community development and dialogue, image and branding, innovation, marketing, public relations, and risk and crisis management for global and multinational audiences. 3 hrs.

COMM 642 Interactive Media & Storytelling Interactive Media and Storytelling: Even in the digital age, the stories we tell about ourselves and the stories that are told about us are narratively (re)constructed and evaluated. This class draws upon media theory (e.g., Marshall McLuhan) and narrative theory (e.g., Walter Fisher’s narrative paradigm) as it pertains to creating, interpreting, and evaluating stories in the digital age. In particular, this course addresses the opportunities and challenges of creating stories for different media, and an understanding of how audiences interpret and evaluate stories across different media platforms. 3 hrs.

COMM 646 Engaging Community in Digital Age Engaging Community in the Digital Age: Society today faces many unanticipated, unexplored problems and challenges, and communities can come together to develop innovative solutions for a better tomorrow. As part of the Knight School of Communication mission to enhance digital and media literacy in Charlotte, in this course, students work together or in small groups to develop a digital community engagement project that aims to foster community and produce a solution to a particular social, civic, fiscal, or environmental problem or issue. The group nature of the course allows students to also explore group and team communication principles and practices, such as roles, norms, power, leadership, decision-making and problem-solving processes, and conflict. 3 hrs.

COMM 650 Independent Study Independent Study: A student collaborates with a supervising professor to develop a program of directed readings and a research project that allows him or her to independently explore a particular area of interest that is not specifically covered within the existing curriculum. This course requires approval of the supervising professor and director of graduate programs. 3 hrs.

COMM 655 Mediated Self & Changing Relatnshp The Mediated Self and Changing Relationships: This class investigates how specific digital and mediated platforms affect our understanding of essential interpersonal constructs such as relationality, interconnectivity, and community. Specifically, this class addresses the relationship between technology and organizational communication from both macro and micro perspectives of analysis. From a macro perspective, this course investigates how organizational technologies shape employer and employee expectations and creates “new” ways of interpreting, acting, and responding to information and other voices. Finally, from a micro perspective, this course addresses particular workplace technologies, with special attention given to aesthetics, user-interface design, efficacy, and critical and ethical implications. 3 hrs.

COMM 658 Creativity and Networks Creativity and Networks: This course explores both traditional and cutting-edge approaches to innovation. Creativity, collaboration, and design are still essential, yet contemporary organizations are realizing the potential of new ways of thinking, such as right-brain approaches to organizing and open innovation using digital and mediated tools. By building an authentic, collaborative relationship among a community, organizations can tap into the creative potential of the crowd and harness the distributed knowledge of many. This course investigates how shifting communication practices have shaped knowledge, networks, and innovation. The course also explores how creativity and innovation can be fostered through curiosity, play, passion, connection, dialogue, experience, storytelling, and failure. 3 hrs.

COMM 662 Mediated Constrn of Life Cycle Mediated Constructions of the Life Cycle: The goal of this course is to help students become better critical “readers” (i.e., consumers) of mediated texts by employing a variety of techniques of critical and cultural analysis. Much of what we know and understand about our world is symbolically re-presented in mediated texts. This class explores mediated constructions of critical life experiences (e.g., work-related milestones such as hiring, promotion, unemployment, and retirement, health diagnoses, birth, dying and death, relationship milestones) to highlight how and in what ways these mediated life experiences shape our conception of what is good, bad, desirable, and undesirable. 3 hrs.

COMM 664 Organizational Identity & Brand Organizational Identity and Brand: This course explores the ways organizations today craft and communicate an authentic brand identity. As the marketplace has changed, organizations have had to find ways to differentiate and gain the competitive edge. Connecting with stakeholders through a clear and consistent identity that aligns with organizational values and mission can increase profits as well as customer and employee loyalty. This course highlights the most effective ways to craft brand identity through authentic, strategic messages and visual presentation disseminated through both traditional and mediated platforms. The course also investigates how social networks have changed and challenged efforts to craft organizational identity and brand, as well as the ways employees’ personal identities are ultimately interdependent with organizational identity.  3 hrs.

COMM 665 International Experience
International Experience: During this course, students participate in a hands-on exploration of the communication environment of a country or countries in Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America, or North America, with particular attention to the effect of the communication culture on organizations. The course requires attendance at pre-trip seminars and completion of all course assignments after the conclusion of the travel experience.  3 hrs.

COMM 668 Special Topics in Communication
Special Topics in Communication: This course intensively considers a single topic related to communication. Topics and prerequisites vary depending on the topic and instructor. Repeatable as needed.  3 hrs.

COMM 670 Directed Topics in Comm
Directed Topics in Communication: Topics vary each term. Check the term schedule for specific topic descriptions. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs.  3 hrs.

COMM 674 Social Entrepreneurship
Social Entrepreneurship: This course explores social entrepreneurship as a new model of corporate and civic social responsibility. While the corporation-society relationship has been debated for more than a century—with some arguing that asking organizations to be socially responsive is against capitalist notions of free enterprise—most today recognize the organizational and societal benefits to a business model that aims to benefit the triple bottom line—profit, people, and planet. This course investigates how entrepreneurial business principles, such as new ventures, risk, initiative, team building, and social networking can be leveraged to achieve social and environmental change while still creating financial gain. Programs such as micro or peer-to-peer lending and philosophies such as “paying it forward” and leveraging the social capital of the Internet are considered as viable means to evoke change.  3 hrs.

COMM 675 Capstone Seminar in Comm
Capstone Seminar in Communication: This course is the final course for students admitted prior to the 2012-2013 academic catalog. It requires students to integrate the major theories and principles from all of their courses so that the graduating student creates a defining perspective of the entire program of study. The course requires students to prepare and present a written comprehensive exam and an integrative project. Prerequisites: All other core courses from their catalog of entry (12 hours) and an additional 21 hours of course work.  3 hrs.

COMM 676 V. Rhetoric & Influence Aesthetic
Visual Rhetoric and the Influence of Aesthetics: This course explores the ways visual attributes such as composition, color, images, information design, video, and user generated content influence the subjective consumption of messaging, including attention, feelings, and behaviors. Whether it be website design, graphic design, signs, art, cultural objects, or architecture, the course explores how best to create a positive interaction experience between the message creator and consumer.  3 hrs.

COMM 680 Expanding Communication Boundaries
Expanding Communication Boundaries: This course kicks off a year-long process during which students reflect and integrate program learning into an articulated specialty area. First, students will reflect on the knowledge and skills gained from the program by creating a digital portfolio that showcases course projects that demonstrate their mastery of a particular area of communication. Prerequisite: Successful completion of COMM 681 with a B or higher and approval of a final project proposal.  3 hrs.

CORE PROGRAM IN THE LIBERAL ARTS

CORE 112 Noble Lives
Noble Lives: Today’s students live in a diverse and multicultural world that makes it increasingly challenging to understand what it means to be a noble person. This course explores the lives of several noble persons and the cultures and experiences that shaped them. CORE 112’s Defining Questions: What does it mean to live a noble life? What can pre-modern traditions teach us about nobility today? What can “nobility” mean in an increasingly democratic, twenty-first century world? How do noble people inspire us to act?  4 hrs.

CORE 122 Modern Citizenship
Modern Citizenship: Building on examples of noble lives from the first semester, this course will explore what it means to apply those lessons in the American context. In particular, students will experience what it means to be an active and responsible citizen in the modern world. CORE 122’s Defining Questions: What are the rights and responsibilities of American citizenship? How have the definition and cultural meaning of citizenship changed over time? How do the economic, technological and globalization transitions of the modern era challenged the practice of citizenship? How can we sustain and remain shared. The course investigates the ways visual attributes such as composition, color, images, information design, video, and user generated content influence the subjective consumption of messaging, including attention, feelings, and behaviors. Whether it be website design, graphic design, signs, art, cultural objects, or architecture, the course explores how best to create a positive interaction experience between the message creator and consumer.  3 hrs.

COMM 681 Launching Passion into Practice
Launching Passion into Practice: In this course, students complete the communication inquiry project proposed and approved in COMM 680. Students will continue to harness their curiosity, program learning, and passion to create an original project related to a specific communication topic. Students will aggregate theoretical, research, and digital and media literacies with new ways of thinking to develop an innovative project that showcases their mastery of a particular area of communication. Prerequisite: Successful completion of COMM 680 with a B or higher and approval of a final project proposal.  3 hrs.
active American citizens in a rapidly changing and expanding society? 3 hrs.

CORE 222 Global Citizenship
Global Citizenship: During the sophomore year, students will explore what it means to be a noble person who is actively engaged in the world. In particular, students will investigate the political, economic, and social issues shaping other nations and the world. Using this new perspective, students will then seek to understand the responsibilities that accompany citizenship in an increasingly interdependent world. CORE 222's Defining Questions: How can Americans better understand other cultures? What does it mean to be a global citizen? How does a region or nation's place in the world impact its global rights and responsibilities? What are some of the most pressing global issues of our time? How might the world exist? How might a global citizen approach resolving some of these problems? 3 hrs.

CORE 412 Applying Ethics
Applying Ethics: This case-based course refines and applies the powers of critical thinking and ethical judgment developed in earlier CORE Program courses. It begins with an examination of ethical theories and then applies them to a variety of issues. CORE 412's Defining Questions: What ought I do in this or that situation? What kind of person do I want to be? What do I regard as the best possible life? What do I regard as a good or just community? 3 hrs.

DANCE
DANC 200 Introduction to Dance
Introduction to Dance: Surveying different genres, this course will provide an introduction to the creative and analytical components of dance. Through lectures, readings, discussions, viewing and critical writing, students will develop an understanding of the way this art form contributes to social, cultural and historical movements. Satisfies the Cultural Arts distribution requirement. 3 hrs.

DANC 300 Dance Techniques
Dance Techniques: This class will offer an in-depth exploration of the principles and technique of an individual dance or dance form. Students will be prepared by readings and written work. Prerequisite: PHED 131 or PHED 136 or permission of instructor. 3 hrs.

DANC 350 Dance Repertory
Dance Repertory: This class explores the aesthetic and interpretive issues that arise in preparing and presenting dance performance. Student dancers will work with faculty choreographers in the creation or reconstruction of a performance piece for public sharing. Prerequisite: DANC 300 or permission of instructor. 3 hrs.

DANC 360 Dance Composition
Dance Composition: This studio-based class introduces the principle and techniques of dance choreography. Class will explore fundamental concepts related to movement generation, structuring, and performance. Assignments encourage kinesthetic awareness and personal expression. Prerequisite: DANC 300 Dance Technique or permission of the instructor. 3 hrs.

ENGL 209 Professional Writing for the Liberal Arts
Professional Writing for the Liberal Arts: In a 2009 survey of over 300 companies and organizations, 89% of respondents emphasized effective written and oral communication as the most important skill that college graduates should have. This introductory course takes you out of the realm of writing academic papers for your professors to the workplace to focus on writing documents for decision-making professionals. In the last few decades, the skill of writing has crossed both academic disciplines and the borders of countries. You'll learn pertinent skills that professional writers use daily: how to conduct in-depth research, how to tune your style to a particular audience, and how to write clearly and persuasively. You'll write everything from a press release to a proposal, including blog posts, case studies, and white papers, with a focus on actionable results that will sort through options for decision-makers in organizations and present them with clear and logically argued recommendations. As with many advanced writing classes, you'll be an integral part of a workshop. You'll critique each other's work, in speech and on the page. Finally, you'll investigate the new and evolving role of the professional writer. 3 hrs.

ENST 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
Data Analysis for Natural Sciences: An introduction to the statistical concepts necessary for analyzing data generated through research in the natural sciences. This course will introduce the student to data description, the basics of probability, and hypothesis tests using examples from environmental science, biology, biochemistry, medicine. Access to Microsoft Excel is required. Students may elect to take this course as ENVR 220. 4 hrs.

ENST 300 Research Methods
Research Methods: This course is designed to prepare students to conduct independent research projects in their senior year. The course will be organized around a group research project. The course will develop skills in research planning; experimental design; use of field, laboratory, and computer techniques; statistical analysis; preparation, criticism, and oral presentation of study plans; communication of research findings. Students may elect to take this course as CHEM 300 or ENVR 300. Prerequisites: ENVR 101, 102, BIOL 208, CHEM 111, or PHYS 101. 3 hrs.

ENST 301 Geographic Information Systems
Geographic Information Systems (GIS) is a powerful computer tool used not only for making maps, but also for managing and analyzing information shown on the map. Understanding the location and the status of any landscape feature (and how that status might have changed over time) greatly improves our knowledge of how the landscape works. This course aims to provide students a combination of mapping theory and practical knowledge of ArcGIS software. Students may elect to take this course as ENVR 301. 3 hrs.

ENST 320 Environmental Economics
Environmental Economics: Economics depend upon the environment as a source of inputs such as minerals, metals, fossil fuels, and living organisms and as a location for the disposal and dissipation of wastes. This course will examine the intimate intertwining of economic and environmental issues. Topics covered will include introductory economic theory, resource use, externalities, the tragedy of the commons, pollution, cost-benefit analysis, and economic solutions to environmental problems. Some topics will be investigated through case studies of problems and policies in the United States and abroad. Students may elect to take this course as ENVR 320. 3 hrs.

ENST 325 Environmental Philosophy
Environmental Philosophy: This course examines key issues in environmental philosophy including the philosophical nature of the environment, environmental ethics (moral obligations to animals and ecosystems), environmental justice, environmental continental philosophy, and environmental aesthetics. Emphasis is placed on developing the ability to critically think about and articulate positions on these issues. Students may elect to take this course as ENVR 325. 3 hrs.

ENST 460 Environmental Science Seminar
Environmental Science Seminar: Invited guests, faculty and students present oral reports on topics of their specific interest and experience in environmental science and related fields. One hour per week lecture or discussion. May be repeated for credit. Students may elect to take this course as ENVR 460. Prerequisite: BIOL 208, CHEM 101, ENVR 101 or permission of instructor. 4 hrs.

ENST 490 Senior Project
Senior Project: This course consists of an independent research project. The topic and its scope are determined by the student in consultation with a faculty member. Careful research technique, critical evaluation of data, depth of specialized knowledge, independence and originality are cultivated as the project develops. An oral defense before Division of Science and Mathematics faculty and written thesis are required. Senior Project may be taken twice for projects that span two semesters. Prerequisite: ENVR 101 and ENVR 300. Repeatable for a total of 4 hrs. 2 hrs.
ENVR 204 Tropical Island Systems
Tropical Island Systems: Tropical islands, often surrounded by thousands of square miles of ocean, have developed from a careful balance of geologic, climatic, and biologic processes. Human activities, too, have evolved as a part of these tightly connected ecological systems. However, isolation leaves these systems and the people that depend on them vulnerable. This course is intended to provide an overview of the social and ecological processes operating on tropical islands. Specifically, we will examine how islands are formed, how mangrove forest and coral reef ecosystems function, how sustainable development of islands might work, and how island cultural norms affect natural resource management. Special consideration will be given to the islands of Micronesia. No prerequisite. 3 hrs.

ENVR 220 Data Analysis for Natural Sciences
Data Analysis for Natural Sciences: An introduction to the statistical concepts necessary for analyzing data generated through research in the natural sciences. This course will introduce the student to data description, the basics of probability, and hypothesis tests using examples from environmental science, biology, biochemistry, medicine. Access to Microsoft Excel is required. Prerequisites: ENVR 101 or BIOL 208 or CHEM 111 or permission of the instructor. Students may elect to take this course as CHEM 200 or ENVR 220. 4 hrs.

ENVR 250 Topics in Environmental Science
Topics in Environmental Science: This course provides an opportunity for students and faculty to pursue a subject that is not offered on a regular basis in the curriculum. May be repeated for credit under different subtitles. Lecture and laboratory hours may vary. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 3 hrs.

ENVR 300 Research Methods
Research Methods: This course is designed to prepare students to conduct independent research projects in their senior year. The course will be organized around a group research project. The course will develop skills in research planning; experimental design; use of field, laboratory, and computer techniques; statistical analysis; preparation, criticism, and oral presentation of study plans; communication and interpretation of research findings. Students may elect to take this course as CHEM 300 or ENVR 300. Prerequisites: ENVR 101, ENVR 102, BIOL 208, CHEM 111, or PHYS 101. 3 hrs.

HISTORY

HIST 103 U.S. History to 1877
United States History to 1877: This course offers a survey of American history, beginning with an exploration of early Native American cultures and ending with a study of the American Civil War and Reconstruction. The class will focus its attention on the important social, political, and economic issues at play that created the unique tapestry of American cultural life in the colonial, revolutionary, and early national periods of American history. An effort will be made to connect developments in early American history to contemporary events shaping our lives. Students will be introduced to a range of primary source evidence from the American past, including diaries, speeches, laws, fiction, photographs, paintings, statistics and the like. 3 hrs.

HIST 104 U.S. History since 1877
United States History since 1877: This course offers a survey of the meaningful events in America’s recent past that have shaped who we are as a people and a nation today. Special attention will be paid to the themes of race and the reformulation of national identity, the rise of modern nation-state, presidential leadership, and the connection between capitalism, and the rise of a consumer-based popular culture. Assignments include grading the best and worst twentieth century presidents, debating whether the 1920s flapper was a feminist, and advising international leaders on the direction of their foreign policy during the cold war. An effort will be made to connect each topic we examine to current events as they unfold in contemporary American life. 3 hrs.

HIST 107 History of Latin America
History of Latin America: A survey of the forces and events which have shaped Latin America experiences from the sixteenth century to the present. 3 hrs.

HIST 108 Perspectives in Global History
Perspectives in Global History: A survey of the fundamental aspects of human history from around the globe. This course is designed to increase student understanding of world history and provide crucial context for analyzing past and present events. Topical focus may vary from semester to semester, with broad attention to the history of multiple world regions as a consistent element. No Prerequisites. 3 hrs.

HIST 110 Emergence of the West
Emergence of the West: A survey of the history of civilization from the ancient world to the European crisis of the seventeenth century, with emphasis upon the political, social and intellectual development of Western civilization. 3 hrs.

HIST 111 West in the World
West in the World: A survey of the history of civilization from the end of the religious wars and the emergence of the great European powers to the crises of the twentieth century and nuclear age, with emphasis generally upon the political, social and intellectual development of Western civilization. 3 hrs.

HIST 113 East Asian Civilizations, 1400-Pres
East Asian Civilizations, 1400-Present: An introduction to the histories of China, Korea, Vietnam, and Japan from the 15th century to the present. This course examines the social, political, and religious interconnections that shaped East Asia prior to major Western incursion and the ramifications of the West in East Asia from the 18th-century to the present. Despite their geographic proximity, China, Korea, Vietnam, and Japan followed different patterns during much of their history. This course will examine those patterns, with an explicitly comparative approach, in the intellectual, socioeconomic and institutional realms. Readings emphasis secondary scholarship and literature in translation. 3 hrs.

HIST 289 Seminar in US History
Seminar in U.S. History: This introductory seminar in U.S. history engages students in close examination of selected topics, highlights careful analysis of historical evidence, and close readings of selected texts. HIST 311 Research Seminar
Research Seminar: This seminar engages students in the research techniques and writing styles used by historians, attorneys, legal researchers, and others engaged in the systematic reconstruction of past events. Students will work with both primary and secondary materials, and will produce an originally researched project at the end of the semester. This course fulfills the writing-intensive course requirement for the history department. Prerequisite: none. 3 hrs.

HIST 320 Inventing the American Economy
Inventing the American Economy: After the American Revolution, the United States lacked a truly domestic economy and remained financially dependent on Great Britain. Yet, by the end of the nineteenth century, America had become the most productive and prosperous nation in the world. This course will explore the economic and political developments that fueled this transition and led to the invention of a uniquely American economy. In particular, we will investigate the rise of capitalism, the creation of a market economy, the public debates over capital and labor, as well as the political discussion of the proper relationship between government and economic development. Prerequisites: none. 3 hrs.

HIST 324 Immigration & Making of America
Immigration and the Making of America: This course will explore the major themes and debates in American immigration history. Topics will include key migration waves, immigration policy, acculturation and attitudes towards immigrants, with an emphasis on the post-Civil War period. Methodological issues in researching immigrant history will also be explored. No prerequisites. 3 hrs.

HIST 329 French Revolution & Napoleon
French Revolution & Napoleon: The guillotine! The Marseillaise! Revolutionaries! Romanticism! Louis XVI & Marie Antoinette; Napoleon; and Josephine; Beethoven; Wordsworth; Goethe; Goya; Mary Wollstonecraft; Horatio Nelson, Wolfe Tone, and Toussaint L’Ouverture - all this and much else rushes through the volcanic moment in French and European history that runs from the beginning of the French Revolution in 1789 to the collapse of Napoleon in 1815. This course will come from all across Europe, from Dublin to Berlin, from Copenhagen to Rome, from Madrid to Moscow. No prerequisites. 3 hrs.

HIST 335 The American Revolution
The American Revolution: This course is designed to explore the political, social, and economic developments in British North America between 1760 and 1800. Students will study the events that precipitated the imperial crisis, the war itself, and the ideas and circumstances that shaped the nation-building effort following the military victory. Through an examination of both primary and secondary sources, students will be encouraged to investigate why British colonials chose independence, to understand the Founders' definition of nationhood, and to consider why such lofty principles and ideals failed to have a broader social impact. No prerequisites. 3 hrs.

HIST 337 Invasion of the Americas
Invasion of the Americas: This course investigates the European discovery, conquest, and settlement of the Americas, from the mid-fifteenth century through the later seventeenth century, from the voyages of Columbus, through the Spanish "conquistadores," to the English and French settlements of North America. Prerequisite: none 3 hrs.

HIST 340 African-American History
African-American History: This course concentrates on the history of African Americans from the colonial period to the present. It introduces students to the historical literature concerning the course of slavery in the United States, its abolition and aftermath, as well as the experience of free blacks in the North and South. It focuses on the institutionalization of segregation and African American efforts to achieve equality in an unequal system, culminating in the civil rights movement of the recent period. Cultural history art, literature and music are integral to the course, as is the experience of African American women. 3 hrs.

HIST 341 Civil Rights Movement
Civil Rights Movement: In 1903, W.E.B. DuBois argued that "the problem of the twentieth century is the problem of the color line." This course explores the unraveling of the color line in postwar America. Central to the task will be an analysis of the strategies and tactics grass roots activists employed in their assault on segregation. The class will also assess the tensions which emerged between a civil rights movement based on the principle of integration and a black liberation movement which emphasized self-separation. At the same time, the course will examine the creation of an African-American "movement culture" that found expression in music, literature, and the arts. Prerequisite: none 3 hrs.

HIST 344 Cold War America
Cold War America: The Cold War lasted for more than three decades. In that period the landscape of American politics, culture, and technology underwent dramatic change. This course will examine the Cold War (1945-1980) through the lenses of national and international policymaking, popular and social history, and new scientific technologies. From atomic birthday cakes and McCarthyism to anti-colonialism and civil rights, students will examine the Cold War as an era that re-shaped the political and social fabric of the United States and created questions that continue to inspire debate in American society to the present. No prerequisites. 3 hrs.

HIST 349 Civil War America
Civil War America: The American Civil War was one of the defining moments in American history. In this course, students will explore the road to secession, the war itself, and the political effort to reunite the Union after four years of bloody conflict. Through the examination of both secondary and primary sources, students will also examine the meaning of this important event from a national, sectional, racial, constitutional, individual, social, political and moral perspective. No prerequisites. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 3 hrs.

HIST 350 Youth Revolution in China
Youth Revolution in China: This course examines the role young people played in shaping China’s modern revolutionary period (1850-present). It introduces students to important discussions concerning the formation of modern Mexican society and culture. INTE 498 Professional Internship I Professional Internship I: This course enables students to make a strong connection between theory and practice, study and work. To enroll in INTE 498, students complete and sign a learning contract with a chosen internship site. Requirements include the completion of 86 work hours, reflective papers, and class meetings. This course should normally be taken in the fall semester of the junior year, but as long as a student has successfully completed INTE 297 they are eligible for this course. Pass/Fail. 2 hrs.

INTE 499 Professional Internship II
Professional Internship II: For most students, INTE 499 is a follow up course to INTE 498, completed at the same internship site. Requirements include completion of 86 additional work hours, reflective papers, class meetings, and an oral presentation at the end of the semester. Students may choose to enroll in INTE 499 at the same time as INTE 498, or may take it separately in a semester following the completion of INTE 498. Pass/Fail. 2 hrs.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

INTS 303 Topics in International Studies
Topics in International Studies: A rotating topics course that would permit more in-depth studies of a topic, issue or area within international studies. Course may be repeated for credit with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 9 hrs. 3 hrs.

JOHN BELK INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

JBIP 210 Study Tour Preparation
Study Tour Preparation: An interdisciplinary and interactive study of the culture, history, politics, geography, economy, society and language of the area upon which the study tour focuses. Students must make not lower than a C- (an average of 70) in this course in order to be eligible to participate in the JBIP study tour. Open only to students enrolled in the appropriate study tour. Prerequisite to participation in the study tour. Prerequisite: Junior standing and a 2.00 cumulative grade point average. 2 hrs.

JBIP 220 Study Tour
Study Tour: The opportunity for the student to study and experience the many facets of a foreign culture through a study tour program arranged by the Belk Program Office and led by Queens faculty. Study Tours, like JBIP 210, are interdisciplinary in nature and are open to all qualified students no matter their intended major. Prerequisite: JBIP 210. Pass/Fail. 2-3 hrs.

JBIP 270 Independent Study Tour
Independent Study Tour: This course offers students an opportunity to study and experience a foreign culture to those who, due to special circumstances, are unable to participate in JBIP 220. A course of study, itinerary and evaluation plan must be approved by the JBIP Director. Students will be responsible for making their own arrangements for travel, accommodations and visiting sites. Students who have been approved may apply for the Belk Scholarship. Prerequisites: students approved for this course must take a corresponding JBIP 210 course in the semester prior to their international travel. Pass/No Record. 1-3 hrs.

KINESIOLOGY

KINS 210 Introduction to Sport Management
Introduction to Sport Management: This course explores the diverse, expanding field of sport management and is designed to provide a comprehensive examination of the basic organizational structures found in the sport industry. Students will study applications of managerial concepts and processes, and the ways in which organizations interact with internal and external agencies. 3 hrs.
KINS 220 Foundations of Exercise & Sport Sciences
Foundations of Exercise and Sport Sciences: Students will examine the historical and cultural aspects of the disciplines of exercise and sports sciences, including an introduction to the major sub-disciplines. 3 hrs.

KINS 340 Sport History
Sport History: This course explores the history of American sport, emphasizing its interactions with political, economic, social, and cultural forces; introduces aspects of historical methodology. 3 hrs.

KINS 346 Fitness Training Principles & Application
Fitness Training Principles and Applications: The purpose of this course is to prepare the student in graded exercise testing and exercise prescription for the apparently healthy as well as the diseased adult population. 3 hrs.

KINS 360 Sport Marketing and Sales
Sport Marketing and Sales: This course examines fundamental marketing theories and principles applied to selling of sports, focusing on the concepts and practices forming the knowledge base for effective marketing strategies in sports. Prerequisites: BUSN 207 and BUSN 340. 3 hrs.

KINS 420 Policy and Ethical Issues in Sport
Policy and Ethical Issues in Sport: This course instructs students about strategic management planning for handling policy issues within an ethical framework. This course prepares students to assess and resolve complex strategic planning and policy issues in an ethical manner. This course examines how chief executive officers of sport organizations ethically choose, maintain, or redirect the strategic positions of their organizations within ever changing environments. Students will explore their values and consider their ethical code in relation to professional conduct and best practices. 3 hrs.

KINS 432 Exercise and Sport Physiology
Exercise and Sport Physiology: This course examines the application of principles of physiology to study the effect of aging, obesity, and exercise on the skeletal muscle, cardiovascular systems, and metabolic systems, and the effect of training and environment on performance. Prerequisites: BIOL 213 & 214. 3 hrs.

KINS 446 Nutrition for Exercise and Sport
Nutrition for Exercise and Sport: This course is designed to provide the student with an understanding of how to enhance exercise and sport performance with proper nutrition. Students will examine principles of nutritionally sound diets for endurance, speed and strength-related activities. Special nutritional needs will also be discussed (e.g., increasing muscle mass or lowering body fat content). 3 hrs.

KINS 450 Exercise and Sport Psychology
Exercise and Sport Psychology: This course examines how individuals behave in physical activity, exercise, and sport settings. Psychological antecedents and consequences of primary and secondary involvement in exercise sport, and related physical activities will be introduced. Prerequisite: PSYC 201. 3 hrs.

KINS 452 Sport in Cinema and Television
Sport in Cinema and Television: The cinema (film) and television are powerful media that can shape psychosocial perceptions of sports, athletes, and coaches, as well as reflect the roles sports, athletes, and coaches have in our society. This course will investigate the view of sports, athletes, and coaches as presented by film and television. The students will analyze films and television productions, write and discuss criticisms that address the roles of sports, athletes, and coaches as seen by the camera and perceived by individuals and society. Materials will emphasize American cinema and television, but will not exclude foreign and independent productions. Students will acquire an understanding of the language of sport as they focus on the power of the media to impact beliefs, psychosocial issues, and stereotypes related to the individual within the American society. Pre-requisite: None; However, a course in psychology, sociology, sport psychology, and/or sport sociology is recommended. 3 hrs.

KINS 460 Sport Governance and Administration
Sport Governance and Administration: This course provides an overview of the manner sport and athletics are governed in the United States, while also examining how sport policies are formulated and impact the operations of a sport organization. The roles and functions of various governing bodies are discussed. 3 hrs.

KINS 462 Sport Event and Facility Management
Sport Event and Facility Management: This course provides students with an understanding of the challenges involved in major sports events and facilities. Topics usually include the analysis of goals and resources, potential development of the revenue streams, planning and design, scheduling and operations, and the management of personnel. 3 hrs.

KINS 464 Sport Finance and Economics
Sport Finance and Economics: This course provides an examination of principles of economics, budgeting, and finance as it applies to the sport industry. With an emphasis on the receipt, disbursement, and utilization of capital to foster sports business growth, other topics include budgeting, planning, acquisitions and liquidation. 3 hrs.

KINS 466 Legal Issues in Sport
Legal Issues in Sport: This course is designed to introduce and familiarize students with basic knowledge of the legal system and legal issues prevalent in sports and comparable activities. Major focus of the course is on understanding the concept of negligence, where and how negligence occurs and identifying ways in which negligent acts can be reduced or eliminated. Other topics relating to the scope of legal issues will be addressed. This course satisfies the Writing Intensive requirement. 3 hrs.

KINS 470 Sport Sociology
Sport Sociology: This course provides an introduction to the study of sport and its relationship to society and other social institutions. Emphasis is placed on the current relationships between sport and society (i.e., “Sport is a microcosm of society.”). 3 hrs.

KINS 472 Senior Seminar in Exercise/Sport Sciences
Senior Seminar in Exercise and Sport Sciences: This capstone course is designed for study of special topics of current interest and issues in the exercise and sport sciences. Prerequisite; Senior standing or consent of the instructor. 3 hrs.

KINS 474 Senior Seminar in Sport Management
Senior Seminar in Sport Management: This capstone course is designed for study of special topics of current interest and issues in sport management. Prerequisite: Senior standing or consent of instructor. 3 hrs.

KINS 488 Independent Study in Sport Management
Independent Study in Sport Management: Directed, individualized study on specific topics in Sport Management. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor and department chair. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-6 hrs.

KINS 489 Indep Study in Exercise & Sport Sci
Independent Study in Exercise and Sport Sciences: Directed, individualized study on specific topics in the Exercise and Sport Sciences and related fields. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor and department chair. Repeatable for a total of 6 hrs. 1-6 hrs.

LANGUAGES - OTHER

LANG 101 Elementary Foreign Language I
Elementary Foreign Language I: Fundamentals of grammar and phonetics, reading, writing and conversation of target language. This course will be offered on a rotating topics basis as demand and faculty with sufficient credentials dictate. May be repeated with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 36 hrs. 3 hrs.

LANG 102 Elementary Foreign Language II
Elementary Foreign Language II: Fundamentals of grammar and phonetics, reading, writing and conversation of target language. This course will be offered on a rotating topics basis as demand and faculty with sufficient credentials dictate. May be repeated with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 36 hrs. 3 hrs.

LANG 201 Intermediate Foreign Language I
Intermediate Foreign Language I: Review and more advanced study of a language with emphasis placed on structure and written and oral use. Introduction to the country's culture. May be repeated with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 36 hrs. 3 hrs.

LANG 202 Intermediate Foreign Language II
Intermediate Foreign Language II: Review and more advanced study of a language with emphasis placed on structure and written and oral use. Introduction to the country's culture. May be repeated with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 36 hrs. 3 hrs.

LANG 370 Topics in Foreign Lang
Topics in Foreign Language: Course designed to address a specific topic or area of a language and its target culture. Topic will be announced the semester preceding the offering. May be repeated with different topics. Repeatable for a total of 36 hrs. 3-9 hrs.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

LAST 101 Intro to Latin American Studies
Introduction to Latin American Studies: This course will provide students with an interdisciplinary introduction to Latin American Studies. Students will explore Latin America's rich and diverse contemporary culture through an examination of the region's literature, history, politics, religion, music and fine arts. Taught in English. 3 hrs.

MATH 099 Basic Mathematics
Basic Mathematics: This is a developmental mathematics course including topics generally found in high school algebra II. Credit for this course may not be used toward graduation. 3 hrs.

MATH 104 Mathematical Ideas
Mathematical Ideas: The course will explore topics selected from number theory, probability theory, topology and set theory. In addition, such areas as logic, modern geometries, chaos theory and fractals may be addressed. Throughout, unifying concepts of investigation, conjecture, counter examples and applications will be stressed. Note: This course does not prepare the student for subsequent enrollment in Introductory Statistics or Calculus. 3 hrs.

MATH 106 Introductory Statistics
Introductory Statistics: An introduction to data analysis and statistical concepts. Interpretation and calculations for description of single variables and simple regression, basic probability, random variables, confidence intervals and tests of hypotheses. Students may be required to have access to a TI-83 or TI-83 Plus calculator or be required to work with statistics software on the computer. 3 hrs.

MATH 110 Quantitative Business Methods
Quantitative Business Methods: A study of several key topics in mathematics that are applicable to other fields of study. Topics include linear and nonlinear functions, rates of change, mathematical systems, and finding maxima and minima. Emphasis will be placed on critical thinking and problem solving through the study of hypothetical cases and real-world problems. Math 110 and Math 105 may not both be counted toward graduation credit. 3 hrs.

MATH 111 Introductory Statistics
Introductory Statistics: An introduction to data analysis and statistical concepts. Interpretation and calculations for description of single variables and simple regression, basic probability, random variables, confidence intervals and tests of hypotheses. Students may be required to have access to a TI-83 or TI-83 Plus calculator or be required to work with statistics software on the computer. 3 hrs.

MATH 111 Precalculus
Precalculus: Topics include functions and their graphs, exponential and logarithmic functions, trigonometric functions and equations, the theory of polynomials, systems of equations, sequences and analytic geometry. 3 hrs.

MATH 121 Calculus I
Calculus I: An integrated treatment of analytic geometry and limits, continuity of functions, differentiation of algebraic and trigonometric functions, applications of derivatives to extreme values and curve sketching, the fundamental theorems of integral calculus, common integration techniques and applications. Prerequisite: MATH 111 or consent of the mathematics department. 4 hrs.

MATH 209 Discrete Mathematics
Discrete Mathematics: An introductory treatment of relations, functions, set theory, Boolean algebra, logic and methods of proof, the binomial theorem, combinatorics, elements of number theory and recursion. 3 hrs.

MATH 220 Calculus II
Calculus II: The calculus of transcendental functions, indeterminate forms and l'Hopital's rule, improper integrals, infinite sequences and series, further techniques and applications of integration, inverse trigonometric functions, polar coordinates and plane curves. Students will be required to have access to a TI-83 or TI-83 Plus calculator for this course. Prerequisite: MATH 121. 4 hrs.
MATH 221 Calculus III
Calculus III: Vector-valued functions, multi-variable functions and their derivatives, multiple integral, alternate coordinate systems, and the theorems of Green and Stokes. Students will be required to have access to a TI-83 or a TI-83 Plus calculator for this course. Prerequisite: MATH 220. 3 hrs.

MATH 303 Linear Algebra
Linear Algebra: Coordinate geometry, vectors and three-dimensional geometry, matrices and determinants, linear transformations. Prerequisite: MATH 121. 3 hrs.

MATH 304 Geometry
Geometry: Modern approach to the study of Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries, including incidence and affine geometries; designed especially for students preparing to teach. Prerequisite: MATH 121. 3 hrs.

MATH 311 Differential Equations
Differential Equations: This course is designed to introduce the student to differential equations and their applications. In addition to studying the theoretical aspects of differential equations, students will also examine numerical methods and solutions with the use of the existing computer facilities and software. Prerequisite: MATH 220. 3 hrs.

MATH 320 Probability & Statistics
Probability and Statistics: A first course in both probability and statistics. Topics include a rigorous mathematical approach to probability laws, conditional probability, the concept of independence, random variables, discrete and continuous distributions, sampling, statistical inference, central limit theorem, and hypothesis testing. Practical application will be explored using the SPSS computer statistics package. Prerequisites: MATH 220. 3 hrs.

MATH 380 Mathematical Finance
Mathematical Finance: A mathematical approach to the theory of finance including theory of interest, risk and return, insurance models, valuing investments and financial derivatives. Prerequisites: MATH 220. 3 hrs.

MATH 401 Modern Algebra I
Modern Algebra I: Introduction to abstract algebra. Topics include basic properties of integers, permutation groups, subgroups, quotient groups, group isomorphisms and homomorphism, rings and ideals. This course fulfills the writing-intensive course requirement. Prerequisite: MATH 303. 4 hrs.

MATH 410 Mathematical Probability
Mathematical Probability: This course investigates both the mathematical theory behind the study of probability as well as its use in modeling stochastic behavior. Topics include moment generating functions, expectation, stochastic processes, multivariate distributions, variance and covariance. Prerequisites: MATH 221, MATH 320. 3 hrs.

MATH 415 Intro to Real Variable Theory
Introduction to Real Variable Theory: Careful axiomatic development of the real number system, limits of functions and real sequences, continuity, theory of differentiation and integration. Prerequisite: MATH 221. 3 hrs.

MATH 417 Introduction to Complex Analysis
Introduction to Complex Analysis: Development of the theory of complex numbers and functions, power series, Cauchy's theorem and applications, harmonic functions and conformal mapping. Prerequisite: MATH 221. 3 hrs.

MATH 420 Mathematical Statistics
Mathematical Statistics: This course investigates both the mathematical theory behind the study of statistics as well as its use as a tool of inference. Topics include curve fitting, multiple regression, ANOVA, inference tests, properties of estimators and further exploration of the SPSS statistics package. Prerequisites: MATH 221, MATH 320. 3 hrs.

MATH 430 Topics in Mathematics
Topics in Mathematics: This course provides the opportunity for a faculty member and a group of interested students to study a subject that is not offered on a regular basis in the curriculum. Topics are announced annually. May be repeated for credit under different subtitles. May vary with topic. Lecture hours vary with the hours credit and the course taught. 1-4 hrs.

MATH 450 Independent Study
Independent Study: MATH 450 Independent Studies in Mathematics Research projects in the area of the student's interest; written report will be required. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: Open to mathematics majors with at least junior standing. 1-3 hrs.

MATH 490 Actuarial Science
Actuarial Science: This course connects the topics studied in other courses to the discipline of actuarial science by studying various applications. In addition, the course will help to prepare the student for the entry-level actuarial science exam. Prerequisites: MATH 410, MATH 420. 3 hrs.

MATH 496 Senior Thesis Preparation
Senior Thesis Preparation: Each student will be assigned an advisor from the mathematics faculty, whose guidance the student will read in a mathematical area and select the topic for the paper or project to be completed in the following semester. A grade of K will be assigned for MATH 496 until MATH 497 has been completed. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing. 1 hr.

MATH 497 Senior Thesis
Senior Thesis: Each student will complete the project for which preparatory work was done during the previous semester. The project will be presented to an audience of peers and instructors and a written version of the paper may be housed in the library. Prerequisite: MATH 496. 2 hrs.

EXECUTIVE COACHING

GRADUATE COURSES

MSEC 605 Coaching Theories and Practice
Coaching Theories and Practice: This course examines organizational coaching and surveys the foundational disciplines on which the practice of organizational coaching is based, applicable theories and methods. Coaching is explored as an intervention and developmental technology. Students are introduced to the practice of coaching and coaching conversation models as well as coaching-related skills including contracting, listening, questioning, designing actions, planning and goal setting, and managing progress and accountability. Students will develop coaching skills through in-class and out-of-class practice. 3 hrs.
MSEC 610 Human Development & Leadership
Human Development and Leadership: The primary objective of this course is to provide a contextual overview of human development and leadership from historical, intercultural, personal, and practitioner perspectives. The focus will be on human development and leadership theory and practice including adult development and learning, value clarification and ethical decision-making, career development and leadership. The course design is experiential and integrative, building on key knowledge, skills, and competencies by facilitating the development of the students’ own leadership philosophy, style, and demonstrated effectiveness. The course is grounded in the importance of self-awareness in facilitating personal and professional development. 3 hrs.

MSEC 615 Understanding & Applying Research
Understanding and Applying Research; This course serves as an introduction to graduate study in Executive Coaching and provides students with a foundation for scholarly research. This course introduces students to applied research methods, statistics, quantitative and qualitative analyses. Special focus is given to research methods utilized in the social sciences, the philosophy of research, issues in applied and action research, problem formulation, research design, sampling theory, data collection methods, data analysis, the interpretation of quantitative and qualitative data, the organization and presentation of research findings, and report writing. Emphasis is given to evaluating, interpreting, and analyzing published research. 3 hrs.

MSEC 620 Interpersonal & Cross Cultural Comm
Interpersonal and Cross Cultural Communication: This course focuses on the study and application of communication theory in the context of interpersonal interactions-one-on-one, groups, teams as well as in-person, and mediated. Topics to be covered include language usage, nonverbal communication, listening, and conflict management. This course examines the role of communication in creating and maintaining stereotypical differences based on sex, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, and position or role in interpersonal relationships in organizational settings. In addition, this course designed to assist students in acquiring the knowledge and skills necessary to establish rapport and achieve other responses they desire in interactions with people from different cultures and identity groups. 3 hrs.

MSEC 625 Applied Assessments & Measurement
Applied Assessments and Measurement: This course prepares the student to plan, implement, and/or evaluate the results of an assessment for an executive and team coaching interventions. It introduces the variety of assessment methods that are commonly used to understand the leader and the system in which the leader works from a historical, normative, and social perspective. Methods of structured interviews, standardized surveys, 360-degree feedback instruments and interviews, and other organizational assessments are introduced and applied. This course studies administration, scoring, and interpretation of commonly used instruments for the executive and team coaching assessment with emphasis on interviewing, techniques, multi-rater assessments as well as personality, behavioral, cognitive and inventories. Issues to be considered include test design and construction, validity and reliability, criteria for choosing a test, face-to-face versus online administration, cross-cultural and translation factors, ethics, and legality. 3 hrs.

MSEC 630 Adv Coaching Theories & Practice
Advanced Coaching Theories and Practice: A survey of advanced and contemporary theories in the study of organizational coaching and of the leading scholars who have made important contributions to the field. Topics will include formal and informal coaching relationships; internal and external practices; ethical considerations, and advance coaching-related skill development. Students will develop coaching skills through in-class and out-of-class practice. 3 hrs.

MSEC 635 Group and Team Dynamics
Group and Team Dynamics: This course focuses on the form, process, and function of small groups, with particular emphasis on work teams in the contemporary organization. A variety of theories and models are explored in the context of coaching. 3 hrs.

MSEC 640 Business Acumen
Business Acumen: This course provides the student with an overview of essential principals and practices of business by introducing students to financial management, economics, and operations management. This course introduces the “language of business” by providing the basic concepts, principles and analytical techniques. 3 hrs.

MSEC 645 Executive Coaching Practicum
Executive Coaching Practicum: This course provides the opportunity for students to engage in applied coaching efforts in the field. Working independently with clients, students will provide an intensive coaching consultation. This applied field experience is a supervised practicum. 3 hrs.

MSEC 650 Practice Development & Management
Practice Development and Management: This course introduces the concepts, methods, skills, and attitudes required for effective consultation in organizations, both from an internal and external role. Beyond a mere knowledge base, the course is designed to develop skills in dialogue and consulting, with a particular emphasis on attitude development through the application of the Action Research and Process Consultation models in an ethical context. Additional focus is on issues of practice development and management such as client identification, marketing, partnering, contracting, and client relationship management. 3 hrs.

MUSIC

MUSC 010 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Freshmen are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 011 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Freshmen are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 020 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Sophomores are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 021 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Sophomores are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.
MUSC 030 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Juniors are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 031 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Juniors are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 040 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Seniors are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 041 Concert Attendance
Concert Attendance: Seniors are required to attend six recitals or concerts on the Queens campus during the semester. Pass/No Record. 0 hrs.

MUSC 100 Intro to Music
Introduction to Music: Study of the basic materials of music, survey of the important composers and examination of selected masterpieces with reference to cultural background; technical knowledge of music not necessary for enrollment. 3 hrs.

MUSC 103 Beginning Theory and Composition I
Beginning Theory and Composition I: Beginning Theory and Composition presents fundamentals of notation, tonality, scales and modes, interval and triadic structure. Essentials of two-part writing are introduced through a general introduction to Species Counterpoint. Elementary characteristics of melodic form along with four-part writing in a homophonic style using triadic structures introduce students to formal analytic procedures of tonal music. This course is intended for music majors, as part of a four-semester sequence. Must be taken concurrently with MUSC 103L. 3 hrs.

MUSC 103L Theory & Composition Lab I
Theory and Composition Lab I: This laboratory allows students to aurally and visually correlate pitch with music notation through the avenue of keyboard fundamentals. Must be taken concurrently with MUSC 103. Pass/No Record. 1 hr.

MUSC 104 Beginning Theory and Composition II
Beginning Theory and Composition II: Beginning Theory and Composition continues techniques of four-part writing in a homophonic style using triadic structures, seventh chords, non-harmonic tones, modulation, secondary chords. Tonal expansion is introduced through the study of pre-dominant harmonies and more complex chromatic harmonies. Traditional phrase structures are introduced. Prerequisite: MUSC 103. 3 hrs.

MUSC 110 Fundamentals of Music
Fundamentals of Music: Basics of music theory: notation of pitch, rhythm, scales and harmony. Students will learn to music as they begin to distinguish the basic elements and will learn how to write and play some simple tunes on the keyboard. Class activities will include collaboration on a variety of instruments as theory is translated into sound. This course is appropriate for non-music majors. No previous musical experience required. 3 hrs.

MUSC 113 SightSinging & EarTraining I
SightSinging and EarTraining I: Study and application of techniques of music reading and identification of sound. Students will begin to learn the Movable Do method of sight singing, and will work with ear training exercises for intervals, primary chord relationships, and rhythm, melodic, and harmonic dictation at an elementary level. Prerequisite: MUSC 103. Pass/No Record. 1 hr.

MUSC 114 SightSinging & EarTraining II
SightSinging and EarTraining II: Continued acquisition of skills in sight-singing and ear training. Will include the addition of dominant seventh chords, primary triads in first inversion, rhythmic exercises involving unit, division, and subdivision, and sight singing in major and minor keys with multiple sharp or flat signatures. Prerequisite: MUSC 113. Pass/No Record. 1 hr.

MUSC 157 Piano Class I
Piano Class I: Two weekly sessions of 50 minutes in which students are provided with basic introductory instruction in piano, designed to build technique, repertoire, sight-reading, harmonization, improvisation skills and ensemble playing skills. These courses serve as preparation for MUSC 395 and 396 -Functional Piano I and II. Regular practice required. Prerequisites: Courses must be taken sequentially or by permission of the instructor. 1 hr.

MUSC 158 Piano Class II
Piano Class II: Two weekly sessions of 50 minutes in which students are provided with basic introductory instruction in piano, designed to build technique, repertoire, sight-reading, harmonization, improvisation skills and ensemble playing skills. These courses serve as preparation for MUSC 395 and 396 -Functional Piano I and II. Regular practice required. Prerequisites: Courses must be taken sequentially or by permission of the instructor. 1 hr.

MUSC 159 Piano Class III
Piano Class III: Two weekly sessions of 50 minutes in which students are provided with basic introductory instruction in piano, designed to build technique, repertoire, sight-reading, harmonization, improvisation skills and ensemble playing skills. These courses serve as preparation for MUSC 395 and 396 -Functional Piano I and II. Regular practice required. Prerequisites: Courses must be taken sequentially or by permission of the instructor. 1 hr.

MUSC 160 Piano Class IV
Piano Class IV: Two weekly sessions of 50 minutes in which students are provided with basic introductory instruction in piano, designed to build technique, repertoire, sight-reading, harmonization, improvisation skills and ensemble playing skills. These courses serve as preparation for MUSC 395 and 396 -Functional Piano I and II. Regular practice required. Prerequisites: Courses must be taken sequentially or by permission of the instructor. 1 hr.

Financial Assistance

Queens University of Charlotte offers merit and need-based funding. Merit funding recognizes academic achievement, leadership and talent as well as school, church and community involvement. To be considered for need-based financial assistance, students must have been admitted to Queens as degree or licensure candidates and must complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA may be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Students must be accepted for admission to the University prior to being awarded any funding. Additional information concerning terms and conditions of awards is outlined with an official award notification. A complete listing of Federal, North Carolina and University funding opportunities is available online at www.queens.edu/financial.

Applications for financial aid should be submitted by entering full-time traditional students as early as possible after January 1st of their senior year in high school. Students filing before March 1st will receive priority in funding. New per credit hour undergraduate and graduate students are encouraged to complete the FAFSA as early as possible prior to their first term of enrollment. Renewal of need-based financial aid is not automatic. Therefore, continuing students are encouraged to submit a Renewal FAFSA available at www.fafsa.ed.gov no later than April 1st of each academic year. For more information on applying for financial assistance, visit www.queens.edu/financial. Queens University of Charlotte reserves the right to review and modify an offer of financial aid should the recipient receive aid from other sources.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS

All federal programs are subject to funding and congressional action.

Federal Pell Grants are available to eligible degree seeking undergraduate students on the basis of financial need. A student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine eligibility.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG) are available on an annual basis to degree seeking undergraduate students with exceptional financial need. These grants range in value and priority is given to Federal Pell Grant recipients. A student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to be considered for funding.

Federal Work-Study (FWS) Awards are available to degree seeking students with financial need. Awards are based on available federal funding. Each student participating in the work-study program will be paid monthly for hours worked. Availability of campus and community service job opportunities is limited and therefore not guaranteed. To be considered students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Federal Student Loans are available to degree seeking students enrolled at least half-time (6 credit hours per term). Students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and required loan forms to receive funding. For students demonstrating financial need, interest is subsidized (the U.S. government pays the interest while you are enrolled at least half-time (six credit hours) and for six months after graduation (or when attendance drops to less than halftime). Students not demonstrating financial need may borrow an unsubsidized Federal Loan for which they would be responsible for interest payments while in school.

Federal Parent PLUS Loan Program enables parents to borrow for each dependent that is enrolled in school at least half-time as a degree seeking student. Parents may finance up to the full cost of their child’s education each academic year, minus grants and other financial aid the child receives. Although parents do not have to prove financial need, credit checks are mandatory. Applicants with adverse credit histories may not be eligible for PLUS loans.) Repayment on these loans usually begins within 60 days after full disbursement. If for any reason the PLUS application is denied, the dependent may be able to borrow additional funds through the Unsubsidized Federal Loan Program. The student and his/her parent(s) must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and required loan forms to receive funding.
Federal Graduate/Professional PLUS Loan Program allows degree seeking graduate students to borrow under the PLUS Loan Program up to their cost of attendance minus other financial assistance. The terms and conditions applicable to Parent PLUS Loans also apply to Graduate/Professional PLUS loans. Applicants for these loans are required to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). They also must have applied for their maximum annual loan eligibility under the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan Program before applying for a Graduate/Professional PLUS loan.

NORTH CAROLINA PROGRAMS

All state programs are subject to revision of funding or regulation by the North Carolina General Assembly.

The North Carolina Need Based Scholarship will be awarded to North Carolina residents pursuing their first undergraduate degree who are enrolled in at least nine hours. Awards are calculated using the families estimated family contribution as calculated on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and are subject to availability from the state.

The North Carolina Forgivable Education Loans for Service Program provides financial assistance in the form of forgivable loans to qualified students who are committed to working in North Carolina to lessen identified critical employment shortages; initially teachers, nurses and allied health professionals. Students must be residents of the state of North Carolina and meet loan eligibility requirements to qualify. Please visit www.cfnc.org/fels for more information.

QUEENS UNIVERSITY OF CHARLOTTE PROGRAMS

The scholarship application for a variety of merit, talent and civic scholarships will be made available to students in the fall preceding their freshman year at Queens. Qualified candidates will be invited to attend a scholarship program. Listed below are examples of the scholarships a qualified candidate may receive.

Presidential Scholarships are the most prestigious merit scholarships at Queens University of Charlotte, and are awarded annually to graduating high school seniors based on superior academic and leadership achievement. These full tuition scholarships are for four years of study in the traditional undergraduate program and renewable for four years with specific GPA requirements.

Byrum Scholarships are the university’s second most prestigious merit scholarships and are awarded annually to graduating high school seniors based on superior academic and leadership achievement. The scholarships vary in amount and awarded for four year of student in the traditional undergraduate program.

Queens University Scholars are awarded to graduating high school seniors enrolling in the traditional undergraduate program. These scholarships are based on a student’s overall academic record, including GPA, and standardized test scores, submitted at the time of admission. Students are awarded funding at three levels: Trustee, Deans’ and Alumni.

Reece A. Overcash Scholarships are awarded to graduating high school seniors enrolled in the traditional undergraduate program. Up to two students annually are awarded an Overcash Scholarship in the amount of $5,000. The scholarships are offered on a competitive basis to students who exhibit an interest in and capacity to find creative relationships between the humanities and math, science and technology and are available for four years of study.

Charles A. Dana Scholarships are awarded annually to full-time students in each of the rising sophomore, junior and senior classes enrolled in the traditional undergraduate program, who maintain an outstanding record for scholarship and leadership. Recipients are selected at the recommendation of the Faculty Honors Committee.
Music/Theater/Art Scholarships are awarded during the admissions process to students who plan to major or minor in music, drama or art; or major in Music Therapy. These scholarships are awarded to full-time degree-seeking students enrolled in the traditional undergraduate program and are based on a student’s overall academic record, talent and degree of advancement. An audition or portfolio review is required. Awards are based on faculty recommendations and are available for four years of study. Students must schedule an audition or submit portfolio to receive scholarship consideration.

Ministerial Tuition Remission is available for a dependent or spouse of an active Presbyterian minister who is enrolled full-time in our traditional undergraduate program of study. Dependents or spouse of active ministers of the Presbyterian Church (USA) Mid-Atlantic Synod receive a 20% tuition remission. Dependents or spouse of active ministers in all other synods of the Presbyterian Church (USA) receive a 15% tuition remission. Remission forms are available from the Office of Student Financial Services.

Cato School of Education Fellows - are awarded on a competitive basis to graduating high school seniors majoring in education. Cato School of Education Fellows have the option to obtain North Carolina teacher licensure in one of the following programs offered through the Teacher Education Program in the School of Education: elementary education, special subject areas for grades K-12 (French and Spanish), and in high school subject areas of English, history, math, biology and chemistry.

McColl Case Competition Scholarships are awarded to graduating high school seniors enrolling in the traditional undergraduate program. Prospective McColl School undergraduate business majors choosing to participate will have the opportunity to analyze a business case and present their findings and recommendations in a two round competition. Round one is a written case analysis (no more than four pages). In round two, each finalist is required to visit campus and present to a panel of McColl School faculty, alumni, local business leaders and finalists from the previous year. Awards for the competition are as follows:

Knight Scholarship Program- The James L. Knight School of Communication awards competitive scholarships for students who engage the community in digital and media literacy initiatives. These scholarships are awarded to entering freshmen and are renewable for up to four years. A Knight Scholar is expected to participate in service initiatives over their first two years. Upon entering their third year, they will propose a unique service project on their own to be completed by their fourth year. To apply for the scholarship, a student must be a first –time freshman and be a full-time degree-seeking student living on campus with an interest in majoring in communication.

Athletic Scholarships are awarded according to NCAA Division II and conference policies and are based on the recommendation of the athletic department in the following sports:

Hayworth Merit Scholarships are awarded to degree seeking undergraduate students enrolled in Hayworth College. Students must meet the academic and enrollment qualifications to receive funding. For more information, please contact the Hayworth College admissions office.
Pauline Lewis Fellowships are awarded to degree seeking undergraduate students enrolled in Hayworth College. Fellowships are awarded to students during the admission process. Selection is based on potential for academic success and campus leadership. For more information, please contact the Hayworth College admissions office.

Pat and B.D. Rodgers Fellowships are awarded to degree seeking students enrolled in Hayworth College. Fellowships are awarded to students during the admission process. Selection is based on demonstrated financial need, potential for academic success, character and leadership potential. For more information, please contact the Hayworth College admissions office.

Hershel H. and Cornelia N. Everett Fellowships are awarded during the admission process to students enrolling in graduate programs in the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education. Recipients must have established North or South Carolina residency. Selection is based on academic promise, personal achievement, leadership potential and character. The Everett Fellowships are also available on a one-time basis to students who have suffered job loss or other financial difficulties. For more information, please contact the Wayland H. Cato, Jr. School of Education.

McColl School MBA Fellowships are awarded to new degree candidates in the Professional MBA and the Executive MBA programs. For additional information contact the McColl School MBA Admissions Office.

Professional MBA: Several funds provide academic fellowships for new degree candidates in the Professional MBA program. Financial need is not a factor in the selection.

Executive MBA: Several need-based scholarships are available to first time degree candidates admitted to the Executive MBA program. The Executive MBA program also has fellowships available for non-profit senior managers and promising entrepreneurs. Additional named scholarships are awarded by the University on the basis of academic merit and/or financial need. There is no scholarship application necessary for these funds. Academic information and/or the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) are all that is required.

STUDY ABROAD
Students who wish to study abroad should first contact the The Center for International Education office. Students wishing to receive financial assistance for studies outside the United States must contact the Office of Student Financial Services at least three months prior to their departure.

Federal financial aid is available for approved study abroad programs. University funding can be used for study abroad if the student pays tuition, room and board directly to Queens University of Charlotte and the University makes payment to the participating study abroad University. Financial aid is not disbursed until after the term begins. Therefore, financial aid funding is not available in time to pay upfront costs such as deposits and plane fare.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS FOR FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY

Satisfactory Academic Progress
To be eligible for federal, state, and institutional funding, students must meet both the qualitative and quantitative criteria indicated below.

Qualitative Requirement

Undergraduates Each student must maintain the following minimum GPA based on credits earned:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total hours earned</th>
<th>Minimum GPA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0-12</td>
<td>1.500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13-37</td>
<td>1.800</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>38-70</td>
<td>1.900</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>71 or more</td>
<td>2.000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Graduate Students Each student must meet the academic standards for enrollment in his or her school or program in order to continue to receive financial assistance as described in the graduate catalog.

Quantitative Requirement
All students must complete at least 75% of hours attempted. Academic progress is measured at the end of each term by dividing the cumulative hours successfully completed (including transfer hours) by the cumulative number of hours attempted. All attempted hours are counted whether or not financial aid was received, coursework was successfully completed, or any class was repeated.

Maximum Timeframe
Students may not receive financial assistance for more than 150% of their expected program length as measured in credit hours. All attempted hours at any institution, including Queens, are counted whether or not financial aid was received, coursework was successfully completed or any class was repeated.

Example: If your degree requires you complete 122 credit hours, your maximum timeframe would be 122 hours x 150% = 183. Your maximum timeframe to complete your degree would 183 attempted credit hours.

Transfers: Transcripts from the last school of attendance will be reviewed in order to ensure a) the transferring student earned 75% of all credit hours attempted, regardless of the number of transfer credits accepted toward the program of study and b) the cumulative GPA and hours earned at least meet the qualitative standard outlined above.

Second Degree Students: Students who have earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution are eligible to apply for financial assistance. The maximum eligibility will be 150% of the minimum degree requirement plus an additional 60 credit hours.

Grades in Determining Academic Progress
The successful completion of a credit attempted and earned is credit for which a grade of A, B, C, D, or P is received. An incomplete grade (I) counts as credit attempted, but will not count as earned until the recording of a passing grade. A grade of K will not count toward credits attempted or earned.

Financial Aid Warning and Probation
Satisfactory academic progress requirements are assessed at the end of each academic term. Students who fail to meet either or both of the qualitative and quantitative requirements are placed on financial aid warning the following term and will receive a letter informing them of this warning status, the consequences of such status, and the requirements necessary to have the warning resolved. Students may continue to receive financial aid during this warning term. If a student does not meet both conditions at the end of the warning term, the student is considered to be on financial aid probation and all aid will be suspended until he/she once again meets both requirements. Students having financial aid warning and/or probation removed, but who are subsequently placed on financial aid warning in future terms are ineligible for aid.

Appeals
Students ineligible to receive financial aid due to financial aid probation or failure to meet the requirements of their scholarship may appeal such action on a term by term basis. Appeals should be detailed and well written. Letters of appeal must be submitted to the Office of Student Financial Services no later than two weeks before the beginning of the affected semester. Appeals must include an explanation of the circumstances contributing to the unsatisfactory and how these circumstances have been resolved. Supporting documentation, such as letters from physicians or counselors should be included when relevant. Appeals must also include an academic plan set forth by both the student and their academic advisor that outlines how the student will improve their performance for the affected term. Students will be notified in writing via their student email of the appeal decision. If the appeal is granted, financial aid eligibility is restored for the affected term only. If the appeal is denied, the student remains ineligible for aid. Appeal decisions are made by the Assistant VP and Director of Student Financial Services and are final.
Tuition and Fees
While the Board of Trustees reserves the right to adjust the fee schedules at any time, the following basic fees have been established for 2013-2014.

RESIDENCE HALLS & MEAL PLANS

The Residence Halls are designed for full-time traditional age undergraduates. Family housing is not available.

There is a three year residency requirement for all traditional undergraduate students. All residents will be charged the comprehensive tuition rate, the room rate applicable to the student’s dorm assignment and the board rate applicable to the student’s chosen meal plan. Double room residence hall accommodations are available to all full-time students paying the comprehensive rate. If space is available, a student may choose to have a private room at the rates specified for single occupancy.

Damages to rooms, residence halls and community areas are billed directly to student accounts and are due upon receipt. Full details regarding residence halls and meal plans are available in the Housing Contract.

Cable/Internet Access
Each residence hall is equipped with cable television service and internet access. Students need to provide their own personal television and computer to use these services. The cost of these services is included in the basic room charge.

Laundry Machines/Micro-Fridges
Each residence hall room is equipped with a micro-fridge combination microwave-refrigerator freezer appliance. In addition, each residence hall has free state-of-the-art laundry facilities.

Meal plans
All resident students, are required to participate in one of the meal plans provided by the University.

Students residing in North Hall are not required to participate in a standard meal plan but may elect any of the meal plan options above.

Students with special dietary needs should have a physician outline these needs in a letter to the general manager for Chartwells so that the meals can be prepared accordingly.

OTHER TUITION / FEES INFORMATION

REQUIRED HEALTH AND ILLNESS INSURANCE
All full-time students paying the Comprehensive Tuition Rate and all full-time and part-time students in the ASN, BSN and Accelerated BSN programs are automatically billed for a health and illness insurance plan through the University. To decline participation in and to remove charges from a student account for this insurance, students must complete an opt-out verification on-line with the University’s insurance provider the first academic term of every academic year the student is enrolled. Students are encouraged to retain a copy of the opt out verification.

Coverage cost is charged in Fall and Spring for convenience and affordability purposes. Information on coverage, costs and limitations are available through www.uhcsr.com, click on “Find My School’s Plan and select Queens University of Charlotte.

Students who participate in the university’s insurance plan may download their insurance card by creating an account when visiting www.uhcsr.com and finding Queens University of Charlotte by following the “Find My School’s Plan” link.

Student Athletes and Insurance
Student athletes have additional insurance requirements. The student athletic coverage and requirements may be different from the student health coverage requirements. The required process of opting out of health coverage is required for all students and is not eliminated for student athletes. Please contact the Athletics Department for more information.

Charlotte Area Educational Consortium (CAEC)
Full-time degree-seeking undergraduates paying the University’s comprehensive tuition rate may register, on a space-available basis, for a course at any of the institutions in the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium with no additional charge. See Other Educational Opportunities for a list of CAEC member institutions. A student interested in the consortium should contact the Registrar’s Office.

Audited Courses
Students will be charged for an audited course as they would for any other course.

Repeated Courses
A student who chooses to repeat a course will be charged for the course.

2. Payments are paid online through the university intranet, myQueens. Payments using MasterCard, Visa, American Express or ACH are accepted. This is the most secure and efficient means of payment for students. Payments are also accepted at the Student Cashier's office in the Jernigan building. Payments at the Student's Cashier office are required to be in US currency, American Express, Visa or MasterCard. Student choosing credit cards are assessed a convenience fee.

3. Credits for scholarships and financial assistance are divided equally between the fall and spring terms after the drop / add period.

4. Overpayments created by financial assistance will only be refunded to the student and/or parent after charges have been paid in full.

5. Students who do not wish to pay in full at the beginning of each term may be interested in the following programs offered by Queens University of Charlotte.

   (a) 10-payment Planning Document
   For undergraduate students paying the comprehensive fee a 10 month-payment plan is available. The plan has a $50 enrollment fee and no interest charges. The student/parents will be required to complete an individual planning document with their student financial services counselor. Along with the returned document the student/parents must self-enroll at myQueens for an automatic draft of the monthly payment via American Express, MasterCard, Visa or by ACH. If at any time payment is not received, the plan is terminated and the remaining balance due in full. If enrollment begins after the first due date of July 15th the first payment is due immediately.
(b) 3-payment plan (for students enrolled on a per credit hour basis)
Available to students enrolled on a per credit hour basis and seniors paying the comprehensive rate who are graduating in December, the 3 payment plan allows a student to divide their balance into 3 equal installments over the semester. There is a $50 enrollment fee assessed for each term enrolled and this payment should be made by the due date for that term. Enrollment fees may be made online via myQueens with American Express, MasterCard, VISA, or by ACH. Students that do not self-enroll on the payment plan will be administratively placed on a plan and charged $150 enrollment fee. Following the final payment plan due date for the term, the University will begin assessing a $75 dollar monthly late fee for any unpaid balance. The University reserves the right to deny participation in this plan to students on the basis of their payment history with the University.

(c) Tuition Deferment Plan
The Tuition Deferment Plan (TDP) is a deferment plan available to students whose employer will reimburse them for tuition at the end of a term. Under this plan, tuition for fall term is due by January 13th, spring term by May 20th, and summer term by August 20th. Students wishing to apply for this plan must submit the TDP application form to the University Cashier by the tuition due date for that term. A deferment fee of $250.00 is due by the due date for that term and can be made online via myQueens with American Express, MasterCard, VISA or by ACH. Tuition is the only expense that may be deferred. A late-payment penalty is incurred if a payment is not made by the due date. Classes for the semester following the tuition deferred period will be dropped if payment is not received on or prior to the due date. Students graduating must clear their balances prior to approval for graduation (typically 14 days prior to completion of the term). The University reserves the right to deny participation in this plan to students on the basis of their payment history with the University. All tuition deferment plans must be renewed each term for classes that last more than one term and an additional fee paid at renewal.

(d) Unsecured educational loans
There are a variety of student and parent loans available. For information, please visit www.queens.edu/financial. If the posting of Title IV funding to a student account creates a credit balance, a check will be issued by the University to the student/parent.

6. Failure to pay by the due date or to self enroll and pay according to the terms of a payment plan will result in the student being administratively enrolled in a payment plan and charged $150 enrollment fee. Failure to adhere to the terms of the University’s payment plans will result in a monthly late fee until the balance has been paid in full. The student is responsible for all changes assessed against the student regardless of any arrangements or agreements made with other parties.

7. Students that submit payments to Queens for tuition and other related expenses that are returned by the bank for insufficient funds, stop-payments or closed account status will be assessed a $30 returned check fee. The student may be asked to replace the returned check with guaranteed funds.

8. Students are not permitted to attend class until satisfactory arrangements have been made to meet all financial obligations. Continued class attendance is contingent upon maintaining good financial standing with the University throughout the term.

9. Participation in graduation activities and receipt of diplomas, certificates, and transcripts are permitted only when the student’s account has been paid in full. Students using the TDP or payment plans should clear any balance two weeks prior to the end of the term regardless of the due date for the semester they complete their degree requirements.

10. Students that have balances not paid in full prior to the due date for the term will have a hold status on their account. Tuition Deferment Plans will be allowed to register but if left unpaid prior to the due date will result in dropped classes for the next term. The hold will be removed when the account is paid in full. Hold status results in a student's inability to register for the next semester, obtain transcripts or diplomas. Payment Plan due dates are carefully made so that registration does not interfere as long as payments are made on time.

11. Students that become financially delinquent and fail to clear their account by the end of the semester will have their student account turned over to collections. If an account is referred to a collection agency or attorney, the student will be liable for all attorney fees, court costs and collection fees as allowed by law. Students that would like to re-enroll at Queens after having been in collections will be asked to pre-pay all tuition and fees with guaranteed funds before being allowed to register for the upcoming term.

12. Students wishing to apply for financial assistance should visit the Student Financial Services website or call 704-337-2225.
Withdrawal and Financial Obligations

The policies and procedures below apply to all undergraduate and graduate students. Students who enroll in multiple programs must follow that program's calendar for each class. Additional information is available in the Office of Student Financial Services or on the Queens web site.

Dropping a Course

When a course is dropped during the Drop/Add period there is no record of that registration, and no tuition is charged for that course. After the Drop/Add period has ended, a student leaving a class must formally withdraw from the course in order to receive a status of "W." Dropping a course must be done through the Registrar's office.

Abandoning a Course

A student who simply stops attending class after the drop and add period will receive a grade of "F" for the course and will be financially responsible for all charges associated with the class.

Withdrawal from a Course

There is no refund of tuition for withdrawal from an individual course unless the withdrawal results in zero enrolled credit hours. A withdrawal must be done through the Registrar's office.

Withdrawal From All Classes / From The University

Withdrawal-Academic Ineligibility

A student determined by the Student Qualifications Committee to be academically ineligible to return will receive a refund if the student has made payments or has a credit balance toward the next term’s tuition and fees. Such decisions are made at the end of each term.

Withdrawal

Students who withdraw from the University effectively leaving Queens, will have tuition, room and board adjusted. Please see the adjustment schedule below. Student's must withdraw through the Registrar's office for the appropriate adjustment.

Tuition, Room and Board Adjustments

Tuition, Room and Board adjustments will be made according to the following schedule for the standard 16-week undergraduate session and the standard 15-week graduate session. The first week of the semester is the seven-day period that begins on the first day of class as stated on the academic calendar.

WITHDRAWAL AND AID ELIGIBILITY

If a student withdraws from all classes or withdraws from the University, it may be required that all or a portion of the student’s assistance be returned to the originating source. The amount to be returned from all aid sources is determined according to Federal and University regulations and policies. A detailed copy of the refund worksheet is available upon request from the Office of Student Financial Services.

Students who determine that dropping classes or withdrawing from Queens University of Charlotte is necessary should realize that their student account may be impacted. It is highly suggested that they consult with Student Financial Services to determine if the drop or withdrawal will result in the reversal of financial aid. Any balance created as a result of the reversal of financial aid in addition to any existing... student account balance will require payment. Refunds issued to students during the term of withdrawal may be due in part or full to the University as a result of a withdrawal. Student receiving refund checks should contact the Student Financial Services offices to determine if the check should be returned. All balances are due and payable at the time of withdrawal for all students.

APPEALS

Students may send appeals regarding financial obligations to the Financial Policy Committee via fpc@queens.edu. Appeals should be detailed and well written. They must come directly from the student via his or her Queens email. Appeals must be submitted no later than two weeks following the end of the affected semester. Supporting documentation should be included when relevant. The Financial Policy Committee meets on a monthly basis. Students will be notified in writing via their student email of the appeal decision. Appeal decisions made by the Financial Policy Committee are final.
